The League of Nations is the great problem of all time. The organization of the nations of the world for peace is a practical political problem for all. It means a new army of public opinion in which the universities are to be the generals.” Captain Chamberlain ended his Massachusetts trip by winning three consecutive track meets, over Harvard, New Hampshire State and Bates.

CO-EDS TO PRESENT
PLEASING OPERETTA

The co-eds for the University will present “A Dress Rehearsal,” a musical comedy, for the benefit of the Y. W. C. A., at 8 o’clock. The plot is simple, but full of fun and frolic. In the first scene a problem important to the schoolroom of Grove House Academy, of which Miss Jones (Minerva French) is the lady Principal, and Miss Epperson (Mabel Thompson) is the French teacher. It is proposed to wind up the term in a grand party and supper, and an addition to the entertainment is a charade, in which the hands of the merry girls becomes a burlesque imitation of “Cinderella.” Mrs. Jarvis (Anna Bean) a retired actress, and now a teacher of elocution, is called in to train the pupils in their parts. As Cinderella (Edith Scott) is practicing her part, Miss Irvinence Finch, (Sarah Crehore) enters, misunderstands the play for real, and hurries out for a policeman. As the play progresses there are many absurd incidents. (Continued on Page Four)

OVERSEAS OFFICER SPEAKS FOR LEAGUE

In what was perhaps as interesting a talk as has been given in chapel this year, Thomas Chamberlain, the 3rd Anti-Aircraft Battalion, U. S. Navy, spoke on the League of Nations and the League of Nations. Captain Chamberlain is a University of California graduate and a member of one of the fraternities named the “Three Smoke.” He has been travelling widely over the United States since his return from France speaking in favor of the League of Nations and has been a member of a party with Ex. President Talt and Ex. President Lowell of Harvard.

He began his talk with an incident which he related to the students. He emphasized the fact that already more than enough senators had expressed themselves as opposed to the covenant that it required to prevent its passage thru the Senate. Then taking past historical examples, he showed how the League of Nations would do all that was claimed to prevent the recurrence of disastrous

Maine Sigma Wins in Opening Game

Saturday evening the twenty-one members of the publishing board of the Maine “Campus” celebrated the opening of the baseball season by a dinner in the evening at 8 o’clock. The Kappa Sigma boys hunched hits early in the game, and in the end won out, classifying for the former team. THE MASSACHUSETTS BASEBALL TRIP

The Massachusetts baseball trip was on the whole a successful one. We lost to two strong teams, to another in close a game and wound up in good shape by winning three straight games, from Harvard, New Hampshire State, and the first game of the States Series with Bates. It is a good start for the State Series.

The Interclass Track Meet Saturday should furnish interesting entertainment and will help to get a line on varsity material. Anyone who competes in the meet will be helping the varsity track team. Get out for this meet.

It may be of interest to the fraternity that on May 1, 1919, the first of the class of 1919 is due for discharge or initiation fee. The following is quoted from the Revenue Act of 1918 (Regulation 6):

"The Revenue Act of 1918 expressly exempts from tax 'All amounts paid as dues or fees to a fraternal society, order or association, operating under the lodge system.'"

LETTERS OF A FRESHMAN

Humphrey H. H.
April 8, 1919

Dear Folks at Home:

Well what do you think I went and done now. I went to church. The man that talked made me think of one of your professors Mr. Ho. He had a coat that was long Ma and pants that didn't match. He wore a nose tie that instead of looking like a cloak of a man was pointed in all directions just like the sign pointing to Stilwater. They called him something else but the way I talked I thought they would call him longer than that. He talked on the best Ma but the only service I know about is at meals. He also spoke about Jeri Mira on the road to Jerico. All that I could think about was Jeri Reardon on the road playing base ball. I guess he got the two mixed up because all he spoke about was leading and inspiring and the men that is war Jerry does. I wish I was a base ball player Ma. I guess I haven't improved any Ma since I used to catch flies for you in the kitchen. You remember how I used to miss them all? Well I'm in the same way now. I was coming up on the car from seeing my girl from Vezie and I heard two men talking. I guess they was sold a new one Ma and after thinking a while I guess I meant a new kind of a baseball league. One of them said that he felt something come in his ear and go down to his feet. He saw me smiling Ma and snapped quick and "Young Man do you know how to Register Distress?" I came right back quick Ma and said, "Sure, by the flag, and I've got a watch on me."

The faculty of the University of Maine deeply regretting the affair which has been distorted from public sources and which has caused so much trouble to the students, the faculty now states that the race question was not the cause of the difficulty and that colored students are welcomed at the university and well treated.

"Members of the freshman class receiving treatment received from Rogers and Samuel Courtney (colored) of Boston, sophomores, determined, as they have been informed, to visit the Courtyards' room. There was a scuffle and the Courtyards escaped. Many negroes came out from the negroes, who had by applying molasses and feathers. Roger Courtney was knocked down and quoted to withdraw from the university for violation of rules.

"The faculty does not condone the affair. It is at one extremely regrettable, but one likely to happen at any time, at any college, the gravest and upon such possibilities of the victim and the notorieties.

HOSPITAL TRAIN MAKES TRANSCONTINENTAL TRIP

For the first time in the history of the army a complete hospital train made the entire transcontinental trip from New York to Los Angeles, Calif., during the last week in March. It carried 136 sick and wounded overseas fighters who had been removed from Debarkation Hospital No. 3 in the old Greenhut Building, Debarkation Hospital No. 5 in the Central Palace, New York, and the Base Hospital at Camp Merritt, N. J. The patients were all men who the far West who were removed to the hospital nearest their home towns.

The men were accompanied virtually the whole length of the trip by Red Cross workers who were on duty in relay cars. At each stop a pair of Red Cross women boarded the train and rode to the next station, where they were relieved by their Red Cross sisters in that town, who took up the work where they left off. This arrangement worked perfectly.

The train was in charge of the Medical Department of the United States Army and in addition to theicauling a large escort detachment of enlisted men of the Medical Department. Towns and cities along the route notified the department of the hospital train and the expected hour of its arrival and the boys re-routed a rousing welcome at every stop. In like manner every Red Cross auxiliary was on hand to regale the heroes with good things to eat and drink and cigarettes.

WEARING THE UNIFORM OF THE UNITED STATES

There is much trouble arising in many places on account of the illegal wearing of the uniforms, both army and navy. When the uniform is given the man on his discharge he may wear it at any time that he sees fit. The uniform is to be worn as such and not to be mixed with other apparel.

At the present time there is too much mixing of the uniform with other articles of clothing on the campus. It is not an uncommon sight to see a man with a pair of blue jeans and a watch cap on for the whole combination probably worn by a watch cap or a freshman hat. For the time the annual government inspection drawing near is for the best interest of the institution to refrain from the illegal wearing of the uniform. The military department has a high standing with the War Department, at the present time. We don't want to see it get in wrong just on account of a few thoughtless individuals. If the inspector should see the men wearing pieces of their uniform he would have a bad impression of the military department, and we know how the command make it disagreeable for our command for allowing such practices to go on. Please refrain from stop mixing uniforms with your civilian clothes.

JAZZ ORCHESTRA FOR MILITARY HOP

The one big formal affair given by the freshman class, this year, was to let us call up "The New Era" and Ailey and see if there is going to be any college today because it is raining.

Your loving Son,

wars, laying special emphasis on the element of delay which is necessary in order to make any peaceful settlement of difficulties possible. He showed how an economic blockade as well as military power was a potent agent in the hands of the League of Nations to insure the carrying out of its judgments.

Captain Chamberlain then applied some of the principles of the 1 Peace Conference to the League of Nations and showed how they should be treated. He then effectually refuted arguments against the plan by concluding by showing how the nation and the soldiers wanted the League and how it was to each of their interests.

He mentioned the fact that the two senators from Maine had both expressed themselves as opposed to the League and asked that everyone who believed in it to write to their senator and tell him of their opinion.

The committee in charge had worked well and faithfully, and promptly at nine o'clock we were ushered into the dining hall, which was tastefully decorated with flowers and flags. Eating was the first thing on the program and was unanimously attended to.

After the good things to eat had been disposed of, came the feast of reason and flow of soul. The toastmaster introduced the speakers with a glowing eloquence that would have startled the English Department. There were many speakers. The essay in "Prohibition" proved to be one of the most popular of the evening.

And even when it is "years after" we will have pleasant "memories" of the banquet of the class of 1922.
