MAINE WINS FOOTBALL AND CROSS-COUNTRY CHAMPIONSHIPS

University of Maine Hill and Dale Men Out Run Other Maine Colleges---Hard Course Met With Little Difficulty by the Maine Team

Raymond, Maine, Nosed Out of First Place by Bates Runner Although Colby had to Take Last Place---Much Credit is Due Coach Preti for Building up the Maine Team.

The University of Maine cross country team ran true to form in the Maine Intercollegiate Cross Country Meet Friday afternoon over the Colby course and won the title by a wide margin, the teams finishing in the following order:

Maine	27 points
Bates	51 points
Bowdoin	60 points
Colby	87 points

Time 32 minutes and 39 seconds. The big surprise of the race was furnished by Bates. R. B. Buker, of the Garnet team, a dark horse and unheralded as a cross-country runner, finished first in the field of 28 hill and dalers after a gruelling battle with Raymond, the Maine freshman star, who led the Maine pack in the dual meet with Brown. Raymond was looking for Goodwin of Bowdoin as the man to be most feared, which upset his calculations somewhat at the finish.

Captain Emery of Maine ran a gritty race with a bad leg and deserved much credit for the showing he made. He was elected captain by the team last week upon the resignation of Captain Cushman.

G. R. Goodwin, Bowdoin's reputed distance man, who had been picked by many of the talent as a sure winner was run off his feet by Raymond and Buker, and finished third. Goodwin ran a heady race, but his condition was not the best for the gruelling grind of more than five miles over the rough plowed land and thru fences, water and swamps.

In the first ten men to finish were five from Frank Preti's pack of harriers, three Bates men, and one each from Colby and Bowdoin.

The order of finish follows: 1, R. B. Buker, Bates; 2, H. W. Raymond, Maine; 3, G. R. Goodwin, Bowdoin; 4, J. H. Barnard, Maine; 5, W. K. Herrick, Maine; 6, F. Philbrook, Maine; 7, A. Costley, Colby; 8, A. Levine, Bates; 9, R. S. Buker, Bates; 10, N. H. Emery, Maine; 11, L. Hatch, Bowdoin; 12, R. Batten, Bates; 13, Webb, Maine; 14, C. Towle, Bowdoin; 15, R. Cleaves, Bowdoin; 16, Henderson, Maine; 17, H. Hunt, Bowdoin; 18, E. McCormick, Colby; 19, E. Fillmore, Bowdoin; 20, W. Guthrie, Colby; 21, C. Peterson, Bates; 22, G. H. Buker, Bates; 23, L. Mayo, Colby; 24, E. Clifford, Bates; 25, R. Conary, Colby; 26, M. Avery, Bowdoin; 27, H. Marden, Colby; 28, F. Warren, Bowdoin.

The battle for first place between Raymond and R. B. Buker was a thrilling exhibition of grit and stamina, and was in doubt from the time the men got the gun as they left the athletic field until they finished but a few yards apart amid the cheers of the spectators. For three and one half miles Buker paced the pack much of the way. A mile and a half from home, Raymond challenged the leader. Buker kept his place until the gate at the entrance of the field was reached on the return journey. Then Raymond passed him and held a margin of a few yards until they made half the distance around the quarter mile track. Here Buker drew up neck and neck with the Maine runner and with both men putting all their efforts into a dying sprint, Buker passed the line a few yards to the good. Buker is a strong, husky runner of heavy set, and the sheer physical strength gave him the little edge he had on the slender Raymond, who is but 17 years old. Raymond showed great pluck and ran a

Blue Teams End Seasons Saturday

Football Team Plays N. H. State and Cross Country Runs at N. E. I. A. A. Meet

Maine's two state championship teams both make their final appearance of the season Saturday. The football team journeys to Durham, N. H. to battle with the hitherto unbeaten New Hampshire State team which claims the state college championship of New England. About twenty players will make the trip together with Coach Baldwin, Athletic Director Rider and Manager Ham. After the showing made against Bowdoin Saturday Maine men are not worrying to any extent over this game.

The cross country team goes to Boston to run in the New England Championship Race over the Franklin Park course. New Hampshire State with Nightingale and Leath will probably be the strongest team against which Maine will contend but Friday's race showed that it takes more than one or two stars to win a cross country race. It is team work that counts and Coach Preti is optimistic over the outcome. Besides the team, Coach Preti and Manager Foley will make the trip. The race will be run Saturday morning.

Maine Chapter of Sigma Delta Chi Reinstated

Eight Men Initiated Friday by Alumni Members

The Maine chapter of Sigma Delta Chi was reinstated Friday afternoon at a meeting held in the Library Building. This chapter was organized in 1915 through the efforts of Professor B. O. McAnney, then in charge of journalism, and continued its activities until cut down by war-time conditions. Sigma Delta Chi is an honorary journalistic society, which takes its membership from the junior and senior classes and admits sophomores in the spring semester.

Active members initiated at this time include Oscar L. Whalen '20, Francis H. Friend '20, Harry Butler '20, George A. Potter '20, Walter S. Tolman '20, Wesley C. Plumer '21, Horace C. Crandall '21.

Honorary members initiated were Professor Harold M. Ellis, of the department of English, and Thomas A. Malloy, telegraph editor of the Bangor Daily Commercial.

Professor Ellis is a graduate of Maine in the class of 1907 and while in college was editor-in-chief of the Blue Book and a member of the Prism board.

Maine won the State Championship last Saturday by defeating Bowdoin 18-0. The game was fast and clean, but Bowdoin was not in it with Maine the ball being in Bowdoin's territory most of the game. By a forward pass and two long penalties Bowdoin had the ball on Maine's 5 yard line but was unable to put the ball across. Bowdoin made first down only once. The Maine line held like a stone wall and it could not be penetrated at any time.

Maine played a slashing, driving game, making long gains around the

Prof. Grover Speaks on Maine Athletics

Gives History of All Forms of Athletics in Chapel last Friday

The various forms of athletic sport occupy such an important part in the college life of America that the consideration of them cannot be overlooked in giving an historical sketch of any one of these educational institutions. It is for this reason that I have been asked to speak to you today on the history of athletics at the University of Maine. In the short time at my disposal, I can give very few details; it will be only a summary.

I will now name the different branches of athletics in which the Maine State College and later the University of Maine has competed with other colleges and universities. There are eight of them. I give them in the order in which they were first taken up by our own institution: baseball, football, track, tennis, basketball, hockey, relay, and cross-country.

When I mention relay, I am speaking in the vernacular of a Maine student. (Continued on Page Three)

Law Club Has Adopted Constitution

Last Wednesday the members of the Law Club met to adopt a constitution and elect officers. The officers chosen are: President, H. W. Hitchings; vice president, Frank P. Preti; secretary, Lina A. Black; and treasurer, Frederick H. Hubbard. The club plans to move some furniture into the clubhouse as soon as possible and hopes to hold some interesting and helpful meetings in the near future.

ends and through the line. Neavling had it all over Dahlgren and Dostie in the punting game and on every punt Maine gained ground. Bowdoin's star backfield was unable to make any long gains. The blue line stopped every rush and it was very rarely that a Bowdoin back got as far as the secondary defence. Beverly and Small acted as if they owned the ball when the white backs tried to skirt the ends.

On the whole Bowdoin fought stubbornly against Maine's attack and played a hard, clean game. If the writer of the letter that was read at the assembly last Friday night witnessed he game Saturday, perhaps he will recognize a clean game when he sees one. He also may recognize the fact that true sportsmen do not play dirty football.

Ginsberg played the star game for Maine. He was a wonder at running back punts and his spectacular end run was one of the features of the game. He handled the team in fine shape and it is impossible to give him all the credit he deserves.

Capt. Stewart played a whale of a game, both on offensive and defensive. Bowdoin thought he was a steam engine by the way he went through their line. His 25 yard run, for a touchdown around left end was another feature of the game. "Don" Coady played a brilliant, dashing game, making some clean tackles, and contributed a touchdown by one of his famous end runs. In recovering a punt he ran through the Bowdoin team for 25 yards and it was just by luck that they got him then. "Fat" Smith played a great game and went through the Bowdoin line for numerous gains. "Ray" Smith played the same hard game that he always does and was a consistent ground gainer. Harvey was right on the job, making several long gains around the ends and picking his holes in fine shape. Doc. Courtney did his bit with several long gains and did some neat work in intercepting Bowdoin's forward passes.

Beverly played a grand game at left end, stopping all Bowdoin's attacks around his vicinity for a loss. He also went down on the punts like a whirlwind, nailing the Bowdoin backs in their tracks. Small played the same kind of a game that he always plays, above reproach. "Johnny" Quinn played a strong game at tackle and got his man every time. "Pat" Hussey was right there with the goods and no plays came through his side of the line.

"Jack" Green held down the pivot position in fine shape, and was a plug in the line that could not be disturbed. "Hi" Green played a wonderful game at tackle and booted the ball so high on kick-offs that Bowdoin began to wonder when the ball was coming down. Lunge played a strong game at guard and opened up some good holes. "Tim" Lawry played a slashing game and skirted the ends for many long

CLEAN-UP

You have heard of the year when Maine swept victorious thru the whole series of athletic contests. This year was aptly termed "Clean-up Year." It sounds pretty good, doesn't it?

By winning two state championships on last Friday and Saturday, the cross country and football teams have done their part to inaugurate another "Clean-up Year." No one doubts that the Blue relay, track and baseball teams will do their best when their time comes. It is up to the student body to support these teams when the call comes. Prospects appear favorable but the hearty backing of the student body is needed also. You have heard the saying, "If you wish hard enough for a thing, your wish comes true." So everybody wish and talk up "Clean-up Year" and it will be a fact.

A CRITICISM

The conduct of certain students at the celebration held in the Bijou Theater, after the Bowdoin game has been the subject of considerable unfavorable comment among many of the alumni who attended the celebration. The point under discussion is the unwarranted interference which happened during the vaudeville acts. Possibly those who were the cause of this comment did not care to see the acts but they should have considered the rights of others who had a right to see the show and desired to do so. A celebration is a celebration for all and not for a few.

MAINE CO-EDS

To the Editor:

The position of the co-eds in this institution seems to be misunderstood by a great majority of the student body. Most of the young women who have come to the University have wished for something higher than prep school training. They have considered Maine as the finest college in the state and have come here in preference to attending any other degree-granting institution. The co-eds, young women students of the University of Maine, are loyal to their alma mater. They want to see Maine always winning. They are proud of Maine's spirit, proud of her name, and proud to be helping Maine to reach her ideal. Yes, the majority of the young women of the university do really wish to help Maine grow.

Sometimes it seems that the men of Maine do not realize that they are not fighting alone for the Blue and White. The co-eds are working with them to make Maine a better university. Most of the women of this college are here to work. They came to work and to win. When some students imagine that the co-eds came to college merely to enjoy social life, they are guilty of great injustice. All slighting remarks made against the co-eds should be prohibited, for such remarks are slights against Maine.

Without doubt there are at present women in this university whom the students of Maine will in time be proud to point as representative graduates. The co-eds are loyal and it is the duty of every worthy student of the University of Maine to be loyal to the co-ed, to treat them courteously, to speak of them respectfully, and to remember always that they are working for Maine.

Co-ed.

Maine Chapter of Sigma Delta Chi Reinstalled

Mr. Malloy is also a graduate of Maine in 1907 and while in college was a member of the Campus board and the Blue Book board and editor-in-chief of the Prism.

Mr. A. L. T. Cummings is also pledged to membership but was unable to be present and will be initiated at a later date. Mr. Cummings has had much practical newspaper experience in Portland and in covering Maine for Boston papers and is now in charge of all College of Agriculture publications and publicity.

Maine alumni, former officers of Sigma Delta Chi, who initiated the new members, were John H. Magee, of Bangor, W. B. Haskell, of Auburn, John P. Ramsey, of Portland, and Lloyd I. Edgerley, of Swampscott, Mass.

Maine Night Celebrated at Bijou Theatre

Old Time Victory Celebration Takes Place in Bijou. Maine Band on Stage

Maine Night at the Bijou Theater was a joyous occasion for the followers of the light blue and white, the entire floor of the house being occupied. The cheering was abundant and the good feeling was contagious. From the entrance of the student body shortly after 9, following the parade, until the exit at 10.45, the celebration over the winning of the football championship of Maine was continued in a manner which recalled the previous days when championships were a regular article of diet.

After the Maine Band, stationed on the stage had played, and the students had joined in singing all the Maine songs, and the cheering for the football and cross country teams had been accomplished, the cry went up, "On with the show." To say that the audience helped a little would be to state the case mildly. Like the celebrated heroes of the gridiron, they were in on every play, insisted on joining in all the choruses, and shed a spell of enthusiasm over every act that appeared.

Great Weston, impersonator of historic characters, was vainly implored to change his list and add such well known Maine warriors as "Cy" Stewart and "Hi" Greene to his lists, but evidently this was beyond his art. And he didn't even try. Others got the glad hand and those who did not were fully informed as to the reason. Kindly but firmly, they were informed of their delinquencies. It was, however, a Maine night, and the Bijou Theater with the trimmings of light blue and white in honor of the affair was the home of the joy makers on this never-to-be-forgotten Saturday night.

Arts and Science Rally to be Resumed

Wednesday, at chapel time, the students of the College of Arts and Sciences met in the lecture room of Aubert Hall to hear Dean Stevens speak on the subject of resuming the old arts rallies which were held before the war. Dean Stevens stated that, at a recent meeting of the faculty members, it was voted to renew the Arts rallies. The faculty agreed to begin the old custom by giving the first rally. The students will then give the next and invite the faculty. At these rallies the faculty and students can have an opportunity to become better acquainted.

Miss Minerva French was the next speaker. She represented the young women of the college. Her address dealt with her own reminiscences of the last Arts rally, which was held about four years ago and with a description of that rally. She presented to the students the idea that each of the other colleges in the University has some club or society which holds them together, and that the College of Arts and Sciences should be equally well provided.

"Johnnie" Walker spoke for the men. He explained that the rallies are divided into two parts. One night the faculty entertains and the next meeting night, the students entertain. The evenings are spent in social entertainments, games are played and refreshments are always served. Mr. Walker concluded by asking the students if they were willing to back the proposition. The vote in favor of the rallies was unanimous.

The young men and women selected by Dean Stevens to form the committee are: "Johnnie" Walker, "Rex" Buzzell, "Jess" Willard, "Kid" Potter, Minerva French, Barbara Dunn, "Perky" Elliott and "Dot" Stetson.

Wednesday's meeting closed with the old arts and science cheer which was first arranged by Dr. G. W. Thompson, a former professor in the College of Arts and Sciences.

Campus Notes

A meeting of the Commons Council was held in the H. H. dining room Monday evening. It was a short meeting and only the most important questions were discussed. L. S. Hatch '22, secretary and treasurer, reported that a substantial sum of money was in the treasury and that new members were being constantly added to the Council. It was voted to buy material and have the billiard table covered.

A Water Base for the Naval Reserve has been formed in H. H. A large number of freshmen have been on the receiving line.

The following is a list of dorm freshmen who were elected to offices in the freshman class at the election held in Alumni Hall, Monday afternoon:

Niles, President, Curtis, Executive Committee, McKeeman, Executive Committee, Cushman, Hop Committee, McKay, Hockey Manager.

Some of the sophomores held an informal reception for a few of the freshmen in the H. H. recreation room on Thursday evening. This affair was enjoyable to all, especially the sophomores.

Nearly all the freshmen are the proud possessors of new caps.

List of Cadet Officers in U. of M. R. O. T. C.

The R. O. T. C., which has been instituted at the University of Maine under the new plan, proves to be quite a success. Organizations of this kind are in a few others of the New England colleges but from the present outlook the Maine unit has the largest number of cadets. The officers are as follows:

 Capt. Cadet Adjutant, L. E. Merry;
 Battalion adjutant, 1st Lieut. Fred Willard

Company A: R. M. Boynton, captain; R. Lancaster, O. S. Nickerson, 2nd lieutenants; T. A. Aparrow, F. L. Cole, E. M. Synan, sergeants.

Round Table Entertained at Mount Vernon

An exceptionally interesting meeting of the Round Table was held Monday afternoon, November 3, at Balentine Hall. The program was in charge of the Mount Vernon girls. Catherine Carey acted as chairman. Several selections were played by the Mount Vernon House orchestra consisting of Mary Perkins, piano; Lois Mantor, violin; Sarah Wiswell, saxophone; Virginia Averill and Rowena Hersey, mandolins, Virginia Chase, as reader, gave a very good interpretation of one of the stirring poems of the late world war.

After the program was finished, a short business meeting was held. Plans were made for starting a membership drive. There are over two hundred women on the campus and in Orono who are eligible for membership, from the fact that they are either students,

THAT more artists are needed for the 1921 PRISM. If you have any artistic ability see the editor-in-chief or Newton, Phi Gamma Delta.

THAT the freshman caps have at last appeared. When are the winter ones going to arrive?

THAT snapshots and grinds are needed for the PRISM. Drop them in the box in the registrar's office, or give them to Ellis, Phi Eta Kappa.

Alumni Notes

Thomas Shepherd who played full-back on the university football team eight years, took charge of the Trinity College squad as head coach on Thursday. He replaces George Buck, who resigned because of business affairs.

A. D. Libby '98, of the Splitdorf Electric Co., of Newark, N. J., will be on the campus Nov. 8 and will lecture on arc-welding. Mr. Libby is one of our prominent alumni and is president of the New York Alumni Association. He should have a large audience. The lecture is open to the public.

Letters written by Lee Vrooman '18, have been received by his parents and give a most interesting account of the conditions in Asia Minor. He was one of the first two Americans to enter central Asia Minor since the war, going to within 200 miles beyond the farthest British garrison in the Mesopotamia region.

Dr. L. E. Woodman, formerly of the Physics Department, published in a recent number of Science a description of the peculiar rolling snow phenomenon which was witnessed here last winter. Already four letters have appeared in subsequent issues describing similar occurrences.

Thoreau H. N. Thatcher '05 died on Nov. 4 in a Massachusetts hospital after a lingering illness. He was a native of Dexter, Maine, the son of Dr. H. K. Thatcher, one of the best known physicians in this section of the state. He graduated from Dexter High School and from Maine in 1905. While in college he won high marks for scholarship and was prominent in athletics. Besides a widow and father, he leaves three children.

dent because the word relay has no definite meaning to the sporting public at large. To us, it means the annual February competition at the indoor meet of the Boston Athletic Association held in Mechanics' Hall. At this time our team of four men runs in competition with some other Maine or New England college. The distance run by each man is about 390 yards.

It is very natural that the national game should have been the first form of inter-collegiate sport at the Maine State College, because it is the one sport in which a much small institution can successfully compete and often win from a large university. The first game was played with Bowdoin in 1885. Since this date, with the exception of 1892, we have each year met one or all of the other Maine colleges. We have won some state championships often been in doubt. Several of our hips; it would be hard to say just how many because the decision has so graduates have played in the Big Leagues, but we have never produced a Jack Coombs or a Harry Lord as have Colby and Bates.

Our first football game was played with Colby in 1892. The score was Colby 12; Maine, 0. The first college game we ever won was from Bates four years later. Think of playing football four years and never winning a game! Those were truly pioneer days in football. Think of the pandemonium that cut loose on this campus on the afternoon of Oct. 24, 1896, when our team with a series of close mass formations tore thru the Bates line to the tune of 24 to 0; the first football game our teams had ever won. That was in the days of the long-haired football gladiator; when each player boycotted the barber from early June till late November and then sold his crop to some hair-mattress concern.

The first annual met of the Maine Inter-collegiate Athletic Association was held at Waterville on June 8, 1895. The score was as follows:—Bowdoin 94; Maine State College, 16; Colby 11; Bates, 9. Our position of second place in the Maine Meet soon became more or less of a habit of which we were unable to break ourselves for seven long years, but when the shades of evening settled down over Garcelon Field on May 15, 1902, the score stood Maine, 60; Bowdoin, 57; Bates, 8; Colby, 1.

It would not be right to pass by track athletics without mentioning the fact that the University of Maine has been a training school for the leading track coaches and trainers of the country. Jack Moakley of Cornell, Johnny Mack of Yale, Steve Farrell of Michigan, and Tommy Keene of Syracuse have all coached our track teams. Moakley, Mack, and Farrell are today considered top-notchers on their profession.

Maine has never been a star of first magnitude in tennis. We have competed in various Maine inter-collegiate tournaments and have on two occasions produced state champions in singles; H. H. Heywood, '96, and Robie L. Mitchell, '07.

Inter-collegiate basket-ball has never gained a foothold in this state. We have at various times had a University Basket Ball team, and have played

Colby on several occasions. The fact that Bates and Bowdoin have never had teams has made it impossible for us to play anything but professional (Continued on Page Four)

President Alecy was then welcomed on the platform. He emphasized the problems and hardships which the institution had gone through during the previous three years under war conditions, and expressed the belief of the University organizations that the dark days were over, and that the University could again resume its normal functions.

The next man to stand between the flags was Captain "Cy" Stewart, of the football team. He spoke earnestly on behalf of his men, and guaranteed that they would fight their hardest in the coming game with Bowdoin.

The cross-country team was then seated upon the stage, having just returned victorious from the Maine Cross Country Meet at Waterville. They were given an ovation by the crowd and presented singly with the medals they had won.

A. D. T. Libby '98, related some amusing reminiscences, and proved that although they didn't call it "pep" in '98, they had it just the same.

After several band selections, G. L. Rider, director of athletics, talked of the present athletic ideals of Maine. He said, "We would rather lose the Bowdoin game by fair play than win it unfairly. This is the spirit with which we have always played, and it certainly is the only spirit." He further impressed the audience, especially the alumni, with the importance of interesting students to enter the University of Maine, not to be assisted financially, but to be in a university which will prove its value to them.

J. A. McCusker '17, completed the list of speakers, displaying the rare enthusiasm which made him famous as a cheer leader a few years ago. The meeting was then adjourned to the athletic field, where an immense bonfire was blazing. The following were the speakers there: "Bull" Kriger, "Doc" Cleaves, "Billy" Ballou, "Pat" Hussey, "Jerry" Reardon, Coach Preti of the cross-country team, "Bill" Allen, "Doc" Gordon, "Ike" Webber, "Johnny" Ash, and "Alby" Sherman.

After singing the Stein Song under the stars, around the embers of the bonfire, every one bent his way homeward with a greater love for Maine than ever before.

1921 Prism is Well under Way

The work on the 1921 Prism has started. The contracts for printing and binding will be signed this week. The contract with the engravers was signed a week ago.

This year the Prism board is endeavoring to publish a book that will be different in many respects from the past Prisms. The work has been started early so as to finish the book for early delivery and so that the work need not be rushed, giving to the college a well-designed and well-balanced book.

Pictures of fraternity groups, clubs, societies, etc. will be taken this fall, beginning probably next Sunday. It is hoped to have all the junior pictures taken before Christmas. In order that these pictures may be finished as soon as possible, the Prism board asks the cooperation of all the societies, and arrangements will be made for their pictures as soon as possible.

More artists are needed to design for the book. Whatever class you are in, if you can do artistic work of any kind, step up and help out the Prism.

The grind section in any Prism is one of the main departments. In order to put out a complete and snappy section, more pictures, jokes, cartoons and poems are needed. A box for these will be found in the registrar's office.

Help the Prism board to make this Prism one that the whole college will be proud of.

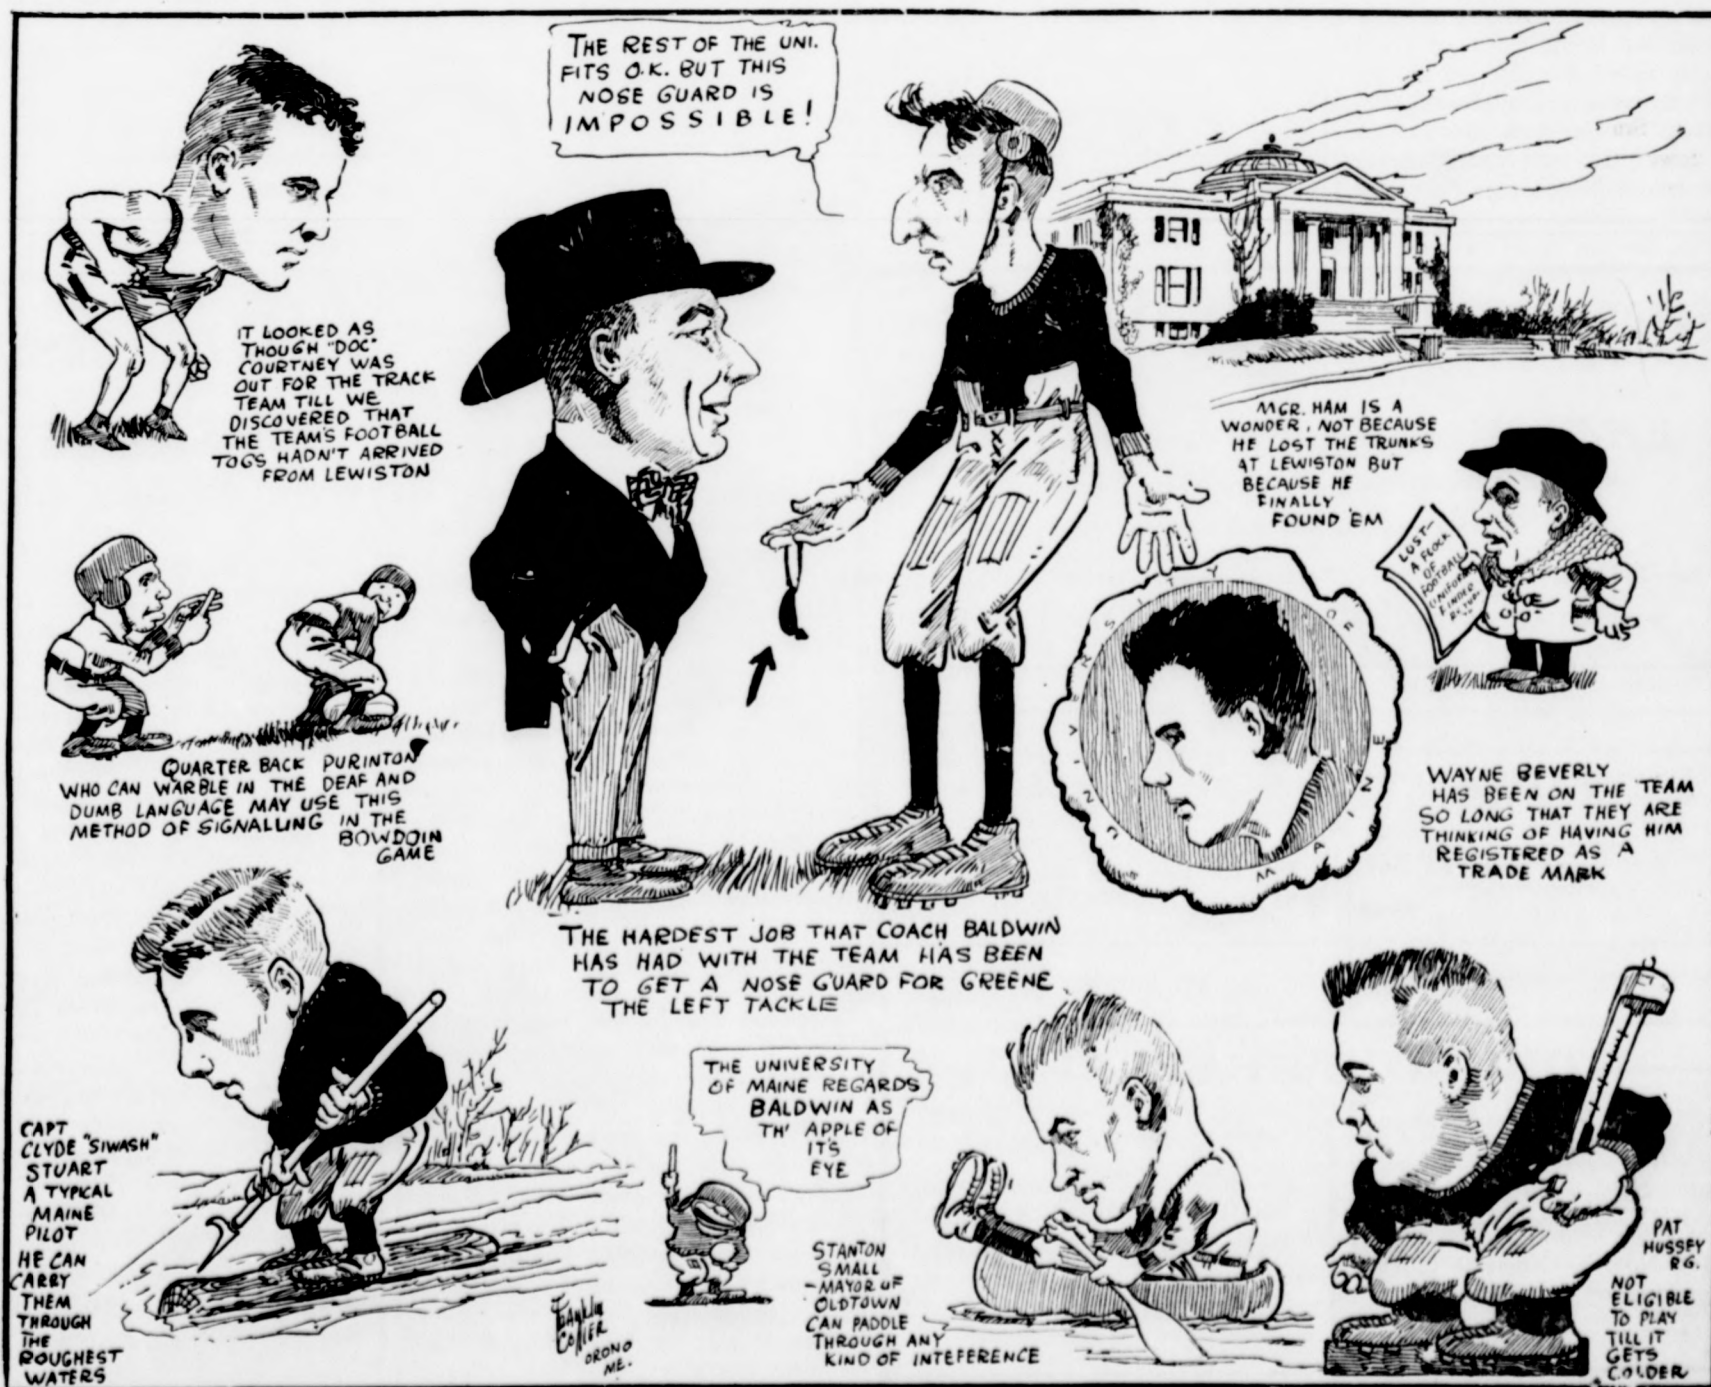

Girls' Student Council
By-Laws Completed

The constitution and by-laws of the Girls' Student Council have been completed by the committee in charge—composed of the members of the Council, the class delegates, and the house presidents. It now has to be approved by President Alecy. If he sanctions it, it will go before the student body of girls for their decision and approval.

Although the constitutions of student councils of other colleges have been used as a working basis, this constitution is wholly adapted to the conditions and needs of this institution. In addition to all the dormitory and college rules and privileges, it contains many new privileges. As the constitution now stands, it covers in its provisions, every possible emergency that might arise in student government.

gains. "Tim" also pulled off a fine forward pass.

Manager Ham should receive a great deal of credit for the condition of the field. The field looked as if "Ham-mie" had beat the weather man in drying it.

Much credit is due Coach Baldwin for the team he has built up. Their style of playing is due to his coaching alone. His work on the interference was one of the factors in winning the state championship. Athletic Director Rider has kept the team in fine condition and he is to be congratulated upon his work. The Scrubs should also receive a great deal of credit for the work and sacrifices they have made. They can be congratulated on the fact that they helped make a championship team.

wonderful race in his first state cross-country run.

As a team, Maine showed far away in the lead, and after the first three men had crossed the line, the blue jerseys came in a cluster, until the necessary five men to score had finished among the first ten runners.

The race was run in a stiff north-west wind and over one of the sportiest of cross-country courses, with 12 fences to hurdle, and swamps, ponds, and quagmires at almost every turn. It was considerably longer than the M. I. A. A. constitutional length of five miles. The Bates men finished in all parts of the field. Most of the Bowdoin men finished in a bunch two-thirds of the way back, with the exception of Goodwin, and the Colby runners, who did not seem quite up to racing edge jogged along the rear. Costley was the exception and ran a good race, finishing on his nerve in seventh place.

teams without making long trips out of the state.

On two occasions, Maine has attempted to start hockey. One game was played with Bowdoin during the winter of '02-'03 on the Stillwater River in front of the campus. Another attempt was made in recent years (I think it was four years ago), when a rink was constructed on the campus; but for various reasons, this was not very successful.

Maine has sent a relay team to the indoor meet of the Boston Athletic Association twelve different years. She has run Tufts, Vermont, Bates, Colby and Bowdoin. Eight of these contests have been won by Maine and four have been won by her competitors.

We certainly have reason to be proud of our cross-country record. Our first race was on Oct. 14, 1911, when we won from Tufts in a dual race at Medford. In all, we have won six dual races; five state championships; four New England championships; and one national championship. The only competition in which we have failed to win first place was the New England intercollegiate race of 1916, when we won a close second.
