EDITORIALS.

THE editors of THE CAMPUS have every cause to congratulate themselves upon the loyal support the college paper is receiving from both students and alumni. Of course we should like to think that the increased interest of the students in each succeeding issue, is entirely due to the fact that the paper is coming nearer to satisfying their needs and wishes; yet we are free to admit that the change would be more correctly accounted for in the rapid growth at this university of a spirit which has the interests of the institution first at heart, such a spirit as has always been recommended as a first class thing for college men to possess.

There has been a good deal of talk here at one time and another, about the remarkable lack of college spirit on the part of U. of M. students. But it requires no prophet at present to predict a time in the near future when the need for lectures on this well-worn subject shall no longer exist. Let every student go into the college enterprises with his whole heart, mind and soul, just as he expects to go into his life-work after he leaves college, and there will be no need to wait for the future to bring us college spirit, for we shall already possess it in abundance.

THE present outlook in baseball should not be considered as otherwise than most encouraging in spite of the defeat at the hands of the Bates college team last Saturday. It is easy enough for one to point out where our boys made mistakes in that game, yet the best of teams have their off days, and those who have watched the work of our team this spring know that Saturday was an excellent example of such a day for the University of Maine.

Although the showing made by the boys on the Massachusetts trip terminated somewhat against the hopes of the team and its supporters, it has shown excellent results in the improved work of the men and taken as a whole reflected honor upon the athletics of the college. The games with Bowdoin and Colby were excellent exhibitions of baseball in every way, and were won by superior work at all points of the game.

One of the most pleasing things about the situation at present is the spirit that was shown by the men during the game with Colby, May 23. From the records of the games at other colleges, we judge that not a few teams in the situation which confronted our boys during the first stages of the game at Waterville would have lost heart in the contest, and become spiritless in their playing long before that glorious eighth inning was reached. But not so with Capt. Clark's men. They played the game to win from start to finish, and win it they did, after the most enthusiastic of their supporters had lost hope. It is this spirit to do or die, to give up beaten only after the last man is out, that marks the teams of all the colleges with brilliant athletic records, and it's a long step towards athletic supremacy to see our team playing in the same spirit.

IT would have been pleasing to the alumni who have contributed so liberally towards the funds for the new "gym" could they have seen the dash and vim with which our field and track men went into the various events at the spring meet last week. In spite of the fact that all of the training has to be done out of doors and that the weather this spring has been very unfavorable for such work, the meet was the most successful of any ever held, four college records being broken, and good time made in all the events. We cannot but wonder when records go down under conditions such as have existed this spring what will happen next year when the team will have had the advantages of long and steady training in a "gym." We don't expect to win the Brunswick meet this year, but we do expect to send a team there that will have as much grit and determination as any of them and which will make the champions work hard for every point they get.

SPECIAL ANNOUNCEMENT.

The June 15 issue of THE CAMPUS will be an extra large, illustrated number, containing many special features of interest to its readers. Besides the usual departments, there will be a full report of the Commencement exercises, and the numerous class and fraternity reunions. It will also give short reviews of the work of the athletic teams representing the university during the past year, and of the musical clubs. These will be accompanied by half tone cuts of the members of various college organizations.

This Commencement edition will be bound in very attractive form and will make an excellent souvenir of the Commencement of 1900. Present subscribers to the paper will need extra copies to send to their friends and should not fail to send their orders not later than June 10, to the business manager. Special agents will take orders for copies during the Commencement exercises. The price will be 15 cents per copy.

Raymond Leslie, '01, has left college to accept a position at Millinocket.

D. L. Teriault of the Law school was on the campus recently.

N. A. Chase, '02, has left college for the remainder of the term.

R. H. Sabine was on the campus recently. It is understood that he has a position on a railroad near Lake Michigan.

A number of the students will leave college this week in order to begin their work as census takers.

J. H. Hilliard, '03, is confined to the house on account of sickness.

President Harris returned from Chicago last Saturday night and on Monday noon he left for Fredericton, N. B., to attend the anniversary of the University of New Brunswick. He was accompanied by W. N. Cargill, '00, who represents the students.

The Commencement concert will be given by Pullen's Symphony orchestra, assisted by J. C. Bartlett, tenor soloist, of Boston.

The observatory being built on the high land a short distance northeast of the drill hall is to contain the largest telescope in the state. This will have an eight inch objective, now being constructed for the university by Alvan Clark & Sons of Cambridge, Mass., the firm which constructed the object glasses for the Lick and Yerkes observatories, as well as nearly all the other large telescopes of America. The Maine telescope will be provided with filar micrometer, driving clock and other accessories of the best modern construction. The astronomical apparatus which the state university already possesses includes a vertical circle built for the university by A. Repsold & Son of Hamburg, Germany, which may be used either as a universal or a transit instrument, a sidereal chronometer, two sextants, two artificial horizons, and a theodolite arranged for solar observations.

Prof. J. N. Hart was invited by Prof. T. J. J. See of the Naval observatory to accompany the government party which is to observe the solar eclipse of the sun on May 28, at Barnesville, Ga. This point was selected by the Weather Bureau officials as the point at which it was most probable that weather conditions would be most favorable at this time of any within the eclipse belt, after observation carried on for this purpose during the last three years. Prof. Hart left Orono Monday, May 21, and will be gone for about ten days.

The organization of the University guild was completed at a meeting held in the parlors of the Mt. Vernon House on May 17. Prof. J. H. Huddilston was elected president, C. P. Weston, secretary, and Mrs. K. P. Harrington, treasurer. A board of ten directors was chosen, as were committees on rooms and program and reception and art committees. The object of the guild is to foster interest in art matters and to aid in acquiring an art collection for the University of Maine. Regular monthly meetings are to be held during the college year in which lectures will be given upon art topics. It is not intended to limit membership to university people, but to include a number from Bangor and elsewhere in this vicinity.

Friends of the institution who are to be present during Commencement week will be pleased to learn that the baccalaureate sermon this year will be given by Rev. George L. Hanscom, of Newark, N. J., a graduate of the university in the class of '85.

Prof. Huddilston will offer a course in Italian art next year as an elective in the University of Maine. During the current year he has given a course on Greek sculpture which has proved extremely interesting.

It is announced on good authority that a pipe organ is to be placed in the chapel next year. It is needless to say that such an instrument would add much to the attractiveness of chapel services.

At a recent meeting of the U. of M. Athletic association the following officers were nominated for next year:

Pres., George E. Goodwin.

V. Pres., P. E. McCarthy.

Sec'y, A. F. Wheeler.

Treas., L. B. Peck.

A reception was recently given at the Mount Vernon House by Mrs. Knight, matron of the house, to the members of the senior class. The affair was a most delightful one in every particular.

The last meeting of the Metaphysical and Physical section of the Scientific association was held last Wednesday night in Wingate Hall. The programme was:

The Coming Eclipse.....A. R. Crathorne

Infinitesimals.....H. E. Cole

Some Lantern Experiments....H. G. Dorsey

At a recent meeting of the sophomore class N. A. Chase was elected editor and H. M. Carr, business manager of the Prism for next year.

Observations of the sun's eclipse were made by Mr. A. R. Crathorne on the campus last Monday. The results were very satisfactory. The observations were made for the U. S. Naval observatory at Washington.

D. H. Perkins, '00, returned last week from a business trip through New Hampshire and Massachusetts. While away he visited in Boston and called upon a number of U. of M. men who are employed there.

Senior "exams" were over the first of the week and Monday and Tuesday saw a large number of the class on their way home for a few days' rest before Commencement.

J. O. Whitcomb, '00, is receiving the congratulations of his many friends upon his acceptance of one of the finest positions that have yet come to a member of his class. Immediately after Commencement he will enter the employ of King, Richardson & Co., of Springfield, Mass., with whom he has been so fortunate as to obtain employment. It is a good evidence of Mr. Whitcomb's ability that he has been able to obtain a pleasant and lucrative position with such a conservative firm.

THE WORCESTER MEET.

The University of Maine was represented by eight men at the N. E. I. A. A. meet at Worcester, May 19, and everything considered made a very creditable showing. Although this is but the second year the college has been represented at the New England meet, the team scored eight points, and took sixth place. The day was a most unsatisfactory one, yet in many of the events very fast time was made. Three records were broken, two by Cloudman, of Bowdoin, in the 220 yard dash and the broad jump, and one by Grover, of the University of Maine, in throwing the discus.

The U. of M. track men were severely handicapped by their lack of training, not being able to run in their usual form in the pouring rain which had flooded the track with large pools of water. Partly due to this fact and partly because Rollins, the fastest sprinter on the team, sprained a ligament in his first trial heat, none of the men entered the finals of the track events. In the field events both Grover and Watson won points, the former taking first place and the latter second in the discus throw. In spite of the rain, Grover succeeded in beating his former New England record with the discus by $7\frac{1}{2}$ inches, although he did not equal a Maine record made by him at Brunswick in 1898. The work of Watson was a revelation to his friends, yet those who had watched his hard, conscientious work this spring knew that he might be expected to do something surprising.

Though all the points were scored in a single event, every man on the team did his best, and made a creditable showing. U. of M.'s great weakness in lacking a gymnasium was never more apparent, and it is gratifying to think that before another year is past this great handicap will have been removed.

The summary is as follows:

Two hundred and twenty-yard dash—Won by H. H. Cloudman, Bow.; second, C. G. McDavitt, D.; third, A. C. Patterson, W.; time, 22 1-5s.

Never before in the history of the institution has there been as good a prospect of a large attendance of the alumni at Commencement, for at the present time one hundred and sixty-five have signified their intention of being present at the exercises and as many others have stated that they would like to come, but that it was not possible for them to do so.

Two of the classes have already arranged for a general reunion at this time and hope for a full attendance.

Many of the features of Commencement week will be of especial interest to the alumni as can be seen from the program. The Alumni Smoker is an innovation and will give an opportunity to all the alumni present to meet one another informally in a way which no other event of the week permits. An alumni 'varsity baseball game has been talked of for years, but it has hitherto failed to materialize. This year it is to be played and ought to be an attraction for all.

The other features are not new, but will be none the less interesting. We feel certain that anyone who is present will never feel sorry for the effort he made in coming.

During the past two weeks Hon. L. C. Southard of Boston gave several lectures before the U. of M. Law school. In addition to the other topics treated upon, the lectures included a careful discussion of questions arising in the Molineux case, recently tried in New York, and of the use of X-ray photographs as evidence.

'82.

W. R. Howard, who is principal of the Belfast High school, was elected president of the Waldo County Teachers' Association at its recent meeting in Liberty.

'86.

THE CAMPUS recently received from Mr. Edwin D. Graves, president of the Connecticut Civil Engineers' and Surveyors' Association, a one hundred and eighty page volume containing a full report of the proceedings of that society at the summer meeting held in Holyoke, Mass., in July, '99, and the sixteenth annual meeting of the association held at Hartford, Conn., in January, 1900. The book has very little in it to distinguish it as a report, but is largely devoted to reading matter that could not but prove very helpful and interesting to all members of the engineering profession. A notable feature of the book is the amount of space devoted to the discussion of sewage disposal, which is at present one of the most important problems confronting the city engineer. The paper entitled "Notes on Engineering Work at Holyoke, Mass.," is largely devoted to the magnificent piece of engineering, the new Holyoke dam. This paper alone would make the book a valuable possession to any civil engineer.

The work is published by the association, which is one of the largest and most progressive of its kind in this country, due, without doubt, to the deep interest taken by Mr. Graves in all branches of the Association work and his constant devotion to its interests.

90.

W. S. Webb is superintendent of schools at Caribou.

97.

Myron Russell has been employed for some time as mail clerk between Brattleboro, Vt., and New London, Conn.

98.

I. C. Swett attended the Worcester meet.

H. P. Merrill was one of those who gave our athletic team a joyful greeting in Boston on their way home from the games at Worcester.

99.

I. H. Drew was on the campus last Saturday. He attended the U. of M.-Bates game in Bangor.

H. H. Oswold has changed his address from 1728 Wallace St., Philadelphia, to Elmore, Col.

At the U. of M.-Tufts game at Boston more than forty of the alumni were present and gave encouragement to our men by their cheers.

NEWS OF THE COLLEGES.

The inter-fraternity baseball league has been revived at Amherst, ten fraternities being represented. The contest will assume the nature of a tournament, the winners of the first pair to play the winners of the second, and so on until the finals are reached, when the two successful teams will play for the championship.

A protest is begun by Pennsylvania, seconded by other American universities which intend sending teams to the Paris Exposition, against the selection of Sunday dates for the games. Thus far, Princeton and Syracuse have openly declared that if the dates of July 15 and 22 are not changed so that their teams can compete on week days no representatives will be sent to the Olympian games.

Syracuse has further taken the stand that no matter if their events are not scheduled for Sunday, the mere fact that games are called on that day will be sufficient cause for the non-appearance of the Syracuse teams. Unless the dates are changed, some of the world's best athletes evidently will not appear in the Exposition games, and the events will lose much, if not all, of their interest.

The Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, Troy, N. Y., is about to construct a laboratory for the test of electric motors and other electrical devices. It will also contain machines for the tests of materials of engineering. Sixteen electrical machines, including motors, generators, transformers, etc., will be installed in the electrical part of the laboratory. For the tests of materials of construction there will be one 300,000 pound machine, one 100,000 pound machine, one 50,000 pound machine with extensions for long column tests, one 10,000 pound wire testing machine, and a cement testing laboratory thoroughly equipped in the most modern manner. These will be of great value in the courses of engineering and science.

NORTHFIELD CONFERENCE.

The fifteenth annual Northfield Student Conference will be held at East Northfield, June 29-July 8. The general plan of the conference, as outlined in a circular recently issued by the Student Department of the International Committee, is the same as that of previous years. The sessions of the conference proper will be held morning and evening, the afternoons being given entirely to recreation. Addresses will be given daily in the auditorium and on "Round Top." Among the speakers are the following: Mr. Robert C. Speer and Rev. C. E. Jefferson, D. D., of New York City; Bishop J. H. Vincent, D. D., Rev. Wm. R. Richards, D. D., of Plainfield, N. J.; Prof. Dyson Hague, M. A. Wycliffe College, Toronto, and Rev. R. A. Torrey, D. D., of Chicago. Mr. John R. Mott will preside.

A special service in memory of Mr. Moody will be held and it is expected that many of the students who have attended the conference in previous years will be present on this occasion.

It is hoped that the opportunities for personal interviews both with conference speakers and student leaders from the various colleges represented will be a most important feature of the meetings. There will be the usual inter-collegiate base ball and tennis tournament, field day and grand patriotic celebration on July 4.

The students and faculty of the University of Maine have always subscribed very liberally for the Northfield delegation and although the canvass this year is not yet completed, the subscriptions have reached a point which assures the association that four men, as in former years, can be sent. U. of M.'s delegation will doubtless consist of F. H. Bogart, A. M. Watson, J. H. McCready and R. F. Chandler.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES.

The Christian association in this university is at the beginning of a new year of its history as a college organization. Never since the association was founded has the outlook been brighter than it is at present. The past year has been one of progress along all lines of Christian work. The weekly meetings have been interesting and well sustained, the Bible study classes have increased in attendance, and the character of the study has improved. But, even more encouraging than these evidences of advancement, is the marked change in the attitude of the student body towards the association. Whatever may be the faults of the individual members who represent the association, however far some of them may fall short of upholding a pure and Christlike character, it must be freely admitted that the organization as a whole does exert an influence for good in this institution, and therein accomplishes one of the great purposes for which it stands.

During the coming year it shall be the aim of the association to broaden and deepen this influence and to impress all men within its reach of their need of the help it can most surely give them. To accomplish this will require hard, conscientious work on the part of every member, and, moreover, it will need,—though perhaps not require,—the sincere sympathy and respect of every man connected with the institution. Such conditions could only result in a great increase in the ability of the association to be a help to the students, and would ultimately mean a higher standard of moral and religious life throughout the university.

At a recent meeting of the cabinet of the Y. M. C. A., the following chairmen of committees were appointed for the coming year:

- Membership—J. H. McCready, '03.
- Devotional—S. E. Woodbury, '01.
- Bible Study—H. E. Cole, '02.
- Missions—O. M. Bixby, '01.
- Handbook—W. R. Bartlett, '01.
- Finance—A. M. Watson, '02.

The work for new students next September will be in the hands of a special committee, consisting of the president and chairmen of committees, and a more thorough and systematic canvass of the class is planned than has ever before been undertaken.

The following fragments were found among the papers of the late Professor F. L. Harvey of the University of Maine. They are interesting as showing how religious was his nature, how deep his faith in God's love and watchful care. They were found written on scraps of waste paper, and seem to be in the nature of notes intended for further elaboration. Professor Harvey often led the devotional exercises in the college chapel, and his lines seem to have caught the very spirit of the prayer book:

H. M. E.

A PRAYER.

O Thou, who art supreme in earth!
O Thou, who gavest breath and life!
Thou knowest all about our birth,
Thou knowest all our earthly strife,
All ills with which we must contend;
Thy hand must lead us to the end.

A PRAYER.

Most holy and eternal God,
Who holdest in thy strong right hand
Of justice the controlling rod,
I yield myself to thy command;
Relying on thy boundless love,
I calmly leave my case with thee.
* * * * *
And gracious Father, judge thou me.
'Tis only Thou canst read the soul,
And know the motives of this life,
'Tis only Thou canst see the goal,
The refuge safe from storm and strife;
The world and friends may all forsake,
* * * * *
Thou wilt to Thy bosom take.

IVY DAY.

The Ivy Day exercises of the class of 1902 were held in the college chapel Friday afternoon, May 25, and were very largely attended by students and their friends from Bangor and vicinity. The exercises were fully up to the standard of other years and reflected great credit upon the class. One cannot well give praise to one speaker without giving it to all, for all did well and not a speaker failed to do honor to his part. The oration by Mr. McCarthy and the presentation speech by Mr. Webb, were both especially commendable and received much deserved applause. The ode by Miss Marion G. Boland was of a very high order and reflected much credit upon the writer. Six pieces from Pullen's orchestra of Bangor furnished music for the occasion. Following is the program:

THE LOCAL FIELD MEET.

One of the most successful field meets ever held by the U. of M. athletes occurred Thursday afternoon, May 24, on the campus.

The battle which should decide the class championship was an interesting one in every sense. Beyond being hotly contested, there were a number of accidents, some of which may put the men out of training for some time.

Weather conditions were highly favorable and every event, with one or two exceptions, proceeded with great snap. The day was veritably a record-breaker. U. of M. records in the mile, two mile, one hundred and twenty yard hurdle and in the broad jump were broken.

Out of the 20 points obtained by the senior class 15 were captured by H. A. Hatch, captain of the 'varsity track team, giving him the individual championship of the meet. The meet was won by the sophomore class having a total of 47 points, the juniors followed with 37 and the freshmen and seniors drew 20 each.

The first heat in the 100 yard dash was between three freshmen and although the time was nothing startling, it was a pretty and closely contested race as one should wish to see. Rollins is unable to run this week owing to injuries sustained at Worcester, hence the finals were run in slow time.

Silver won the half-mile "hands down" and had there been some one in the race to push him he would have made a record, as it was, he came within three seconds of it.

The 120 yard hurdle, won by Thompson, '01, in 16 2-5 seconds was one of the best events of the meet. Thompson lowered the college record by 1 2-5 seconds and the time was only 1-5 of a second more than that which won the event at Worcester last week.

Eight men started in the mile run but only three finished. It was tit for tat between Lyon and Tate for first money, when only a few yards from the cord Tate fouled Buck, who was a few yards behind Lyon, and came in first. Lyon protested and Tate was counted out of the race, giving Lyon first place and lowering the college record by 2 1-5 seconds.

The record of the 220 yard hurdles would have been broken by F. M. Davis had it not been for the fact that when going over the last hurdle he fell and received painful flesh wounds on the arm and leg. He pluckily finished the race and came in second.

It has been the great ambition of all distance men at U. of M. for a number of years past to lower the two mile record, and although he was not in condition, this was done Thursday by H. E. French about 7 seconds faster than at any other time at U. of M.

The record of the broad jump was raised $\frac{1}{2}$ inch by G. H. Davis.

ATHLETICS.

U. OF M., 9; BOWDOIN, 2.

The first game with a Maine college was played at Brunswick Saturday, May 12. Bowdoin was not in it at any stage of the game. Carr did the best hitting for Maine, and Webb and Clark batted well. A base on balls, a three base hit and two singles gave Maine a good lead in the fourth.

That fatal seventh inning lost the game for the University of Maine against Tufts at College Hill, Mass., May 14. Three errors, a three base hit and two singles gave Tufts a good lead in that inning. Maine hit the ball freely but were unable to bunch the hits. The playing of Stiles of Tufts was a feature of the game. He accepted thirteen chances at short stop without an error. Webb, Clark and Davis hit the ball well for Maine.

U. OF M. VS. P. A. C.

The game between U. of M. and Portland Athletic Club in Portland, May 17, was called at the end of the second inning on account of rain. The game was four to two in P. A. C.'s favor when the game was called.

U. OF M., 7; COLBY, 3.

"We won from Colby." That was enough to set the whole campus on fire the night of May 23. We won in this way. The score was three to nothing in Colby's favor at the beginning of the eighth inning. Holmes came to the bat and flied out. Cushman was up next and got a single. Lurvey followed with a double and Carr and Clark hit the ball for singles. This gave Maine three runs and tied Colby. In the ninth, two base hits by Cushman, Lurvey and Carr, and singles by Holmes and Clark gave Maine four runs and won the game. It was a good game and was won by clean hitting.
