ANOTHER college year has drawn to a close. It has been one marked by great progress along all lines—a history-making year for the university. With light hearts and strong ambitions the three hundred and fifty sons of U. of M. have gone forth again to battle with the problems of the world,—some for but a few short months before returning to the halls of Alma Mater; others have gone forth for the last time, to take up in earnest the life work for which they have been preparing; to strive for that most elusive of all attainments—success.

The history of the class of 1900 has been a most remarkable one, and its record is well worthy of emulation. From the very beginning it took a deep interest in the welfare of the university and its whole existence as an organization has been marked by high attainments—in scholarship, in leadership and in moral influence. Its breadth and liberality of view towards all questions of interest to the student body have accomplished very much towards establishing that progressive spirit which is now such a strong characteristic of the University of Maine.

Upon us, whose preparation for life work is not yet complete, who are yet in our student days, there comes the duty of upholding the high standard of character and influence which has been maintained by our recent classmates, of nourishing the college spirit, which has so largely grown out of their midst, of allowing no year of U. of M.'s history to be a retrogressive one but each an advance step towards the establishment of that reputation for breadth and liberality which is one day to characterize the University of Maine.

LET no student forget that there is a work that can be done during the vacation that will do just as much towards the building up of the college as the most loyal display of college spirit throughout the year. There is no better way of sustaining the athletic teams, the musical clubs or the general high standing of the college than for the student to work for new men during vacation time. Whenever good athletic, musical or literary ability is found, provided these gifts are accompanied by at least a fair degree of mental capacity, no pains should be spared to convince the possessor that these talents should be cultivated and that the University of Maine is the place in which to do it.

TO all who contemplate teaching after leaving college, a rare opportunity will be presented this fall for an excellent course in training for his vocation. There is no study in a university education in which the personality and experience of the professor in charge is so strong a factor as that of pedagogy. For this reason the course which will be presented next fall by Dr. Fernald will be of exceptional worth, since few men have had his experience, or possess his liberal and practical views upon all phases of the educational problems.

MAINE has had a most pleasing example this year of the advisability of finding a good man for a place and then keeping him there. Mr. Magill had charge of the baseball team of '99 for only a few weeks, but in that short time he developed a championship team, won the respect and friendship of every player, and convinced every man interested in Maine's athletics that he was the coach for Maine's team.

It was with a feeling of surety and satisfaction, therefore, that we heard early this spring that Manager Bird had engaged him for this season. For proof of his wisdom we simply have to look at the record made by the team this year—that alone speaks more emphatically than mere words, of the worth of the man who developed it. But there is much that even such a brilliant record cannot show. A winning team might easily have been developed by many a man for sufficient compensation, yet Coach Magill could have gone into his work this spring with no more dash and enthusiasm had he been the most loyal of U. of M.'s sons. Such a spirit does more than develop ball players—it develops true manhood, and that is just what college baseball is for.

U. of M. may not have a championship team next year. The severe losses which we suffer this year make such a thing almost beyond our hopes, yet we can feel confident that if Coach Magill again has our men in charge, he will develop the very best team possible and a team that will bring honor to us by its manliness and reputation for clean athletics.

IT is to be deeply regretted that when the three college ball teams which composed the Maine league this year were so evenly matched as to arouse more than the usual interest and enthusiasm among all lovers of the national game in this part of the state, a circumstance should have arisen which caused a rupture of the friendly feelings among the members of the league and prevented the great point at issue,—which really was the best team—from ever being settled.

Whether Bates or Colby were right in the position taken by each in regard to the points at issue in the recent trouble is not for us to say. But aside from the rights of the case, there is very much to be said. In fact, it seems to us that this is a case where the question of right, as interpreted by each, should have been waived, and the matter settled in the interest of the many who were in no way responsible for the difficulty, but who have suffered from its settlement.

A prominent Maine daily, in commenting upon the situation at the time Bates withdrew from the league, said in part: "We hope to see a time when the Maine colleges will stop acting like a lot of schoolboys and play ball."

Though such a statement may be unwarranted in this case, it clearly emphasizes the fact that where petty differences are allowed to work such unpleasant results, not only is the friendly relationship between the neighboring colleges weakened, but, worst of all, college athletics are brought into disrepute among the very class of people to whom we look for support. It comes to us that if for no other reason than to have upheld her fair reputation for true sportsmanship Bates should have remained in the league and played out her schedule.

Commencement exercises began on Saturday evening, June 9, with the junior prize themes in the town hall. The attendance was unusually large, the hall being taxed to its capacity. The exercises themselves were of a very high order and each speaker acquitted himself in a most commendable manner. Music was furnished by six pieces of Pullen's orchestra. Following are the names of the speakers: Gertrude Lee Fraser, of Oldtown; Fred Hanson Bogart of Chester, Conn.; Alson Haven Robinson of Orono; George Harold Davis of Auburn; Bertram Clifford Martin of Fort Fairfield; Herbert Henry Seward of Orono; Maurice Barnaby Merrill of Stillwater, and Frank Holt Lowell, of North Penobscot.

BACCALAUREATE SERMON.

The baccalaureate sermon to the graduating class was preached on Sunday night, in the Methodist church at Orono by Rev. George L. Hanscom, of Newark, N. J., a graduate of the university in the class of '85.

The senior class in caps and gowns marched into the church shortly after 8 o'clock, headed by First Marshal A. L. Bird and Second Marshal F. M. Rollins. The class took seats reserved for them in the front of the church. The church was packed to the doors and many had to stand throughout the services. The decorations were simple but effective, and consisted of potted plants banking the altar behind the rail.

The services opened with singing by the male choir composed of students of the university. There was responsive reading and prayer by Rev. C. E. Lund, pastor of the Orono Universalist church.

Pres. Harris said that it was a great pleasure for him to announce that the baccalaureate sermon would be preached for the first time by a graduate of the university, and he introduced Mr. Hanscom, who spoke in part as follows:

"There are two passages in scripture, to which I wish to call your attention; St. Paul, when he wanted to show us what kind of men we should be, took a man a living man, filled with the spirit of the Master, and held him up before the world as an example of what a life should be. And then he shows us the carpenter of Nazareth, the perfect man, and we look at Him until we are lifted up and we strive to become like Him.

"The thing that walks down the street with hair parted in the middle and eye glasses adjusted, calls himself a man and takes offense if we doubt it. Contrast this thing with a sturdy man who sees the practical side of life and strives and struggles with human problems.

"There are three elements which go to make a real man. One is the feeling of real responsibility; a responsible man is a man who commits himself to a high ideal; he is a man who is trying to lead Christ's life, and Christ was the perfect man. No theology has ever been able to refute that.

"In striking contrast is the man who has no responsibility. He is a creature of policy; we have only to turn to a political campaign to find plenty of such men. Ask him to declare his policy before his nomination and see how deftly he turns his words so that they are ambiguous or indefinite. The men we want for statesmen are men who have high ideals and have the strength and are willing to take the responsibility of declaring their opinions, and have the courage to stand by them. It is the striving for excellence that makes a man great.

"Many years ago a child was born to poor parents in Kentucky. Watch that child as he grew to manhood, as he worked as a farmer and a boatman, as a country lawyer, as a statesman, and finally as the chief magistrate of a great nation. It was not because Abraham Lincoln was a rail splitter, or a lawyer, or president of a great republic that his name is honored by all the nations of the earth. It is because in whatever position he was placed he tried to do his whole duty, the duty of a Christian gentleman.

"Another element is reliability. The good boy has too long been the one who sits by the fire, with a book, when his companions were at play. The philosophy of holding back youth is good for nothing. Youth must not be repressed, he must be given a chance to learn, to depend upon himself, and gain knowledge which will open before him rich fields of investigation which will make his life a success and a glory.

"Youth instead of being reprov'd needs to be rightly directed. Again the man of Nazareth is the example to follow. Whether we go out to the farm, the bank or the factory, we should think of this life and strive to follow Him.

"A man's faith in himself and his own integrity makes it possible for a man to follow the right road without surrendering to the wickedness of the world. It enables him to go out into the world and ably champion the right, without being led astray by the many skilfully laid plans of the men who lead the other kind of life.

"The other element is determination. It means more than a simple resolution to succeed. It is purpose. The man who chooses for himself a calling for which he is fitted, has started to make his life a success. Success is not the result of chance. The men of today who occupy positions of trust and responsibility are men who deserve them through their labor and their determination—men who are masters of circumstance, not slaves of it. What could be nobler, grander, more sublime, than the serving of Jesus Christ, whatever a man's calling may be. The principles of Christianity should be applied in everything.

"The belief in God makes it possible to erect a structure which will withstand everything, because it is the belief in the final domination of the truth. Dante was banished from Florence because he was said to be an unfaithful prelate, and ten years after the city begged his ashes. So it has always been, so it will always be. For right is right, and God is God. Faith is the glorious opposite of doubt. We should cherish faith and banish doubt because faith enables man to gain the victory. Let us ever believe our faiths, and doubt our doubts and fear God and keep his commandments."

Mr. Hanscom then turned to the class: "Your preparation for the lives of usefulness has been completed and you owe to the world the very best service that lies in you. Your alma mater, your friends and the world demand it. May your lives be devoted to this demand is my earnest prayer."

CONVOCAATION.

The convocation services began in the chapel at 10 o'clock Monday forenoon, and many friends of the graduating class were present. The opening services were conducted by Pres. A. W. Harris, who led responsive reading from Psalm 103, and read from the scriptures. Rev. G. L. Hanscom of Newark, N. J., who preached the baccalaureate sermon on Sunday evening, led in prayer.

After appropriate introductory remarks by Pres. Harris, the following program was presented:

History.....	Prof. Huddilston
Scientific Expansion.....	Mr. Jackman
Literary Expansion.....	Prof. Harrington
Engineering Expansion.....	Prof. Webb
The Y. M. C. A.....	Mr. Lombard
The "Co-eds".....	Miss Burnham
Athletics.....	Mrs. Hayes

The "Prism".....	Mr. Robinson
The Campus.....	Mr. Bogart
The Fraternities.....	Mr. Bowerman
The Musical Clubs.....	Mr. Grey

The meeting closed with cheering for Maine and the singing of America.

The parts were characterized by their lack of seriousness, all of them being entirely informal and many very witty and pleasing. Especially was this true of the history of the past year by Prof. Huddilston which was an excellent example of fresh and brilliant humor. The "expansive" talk given by Prof. Harrington was also very humorous and called forth much laughter from the audience.

Just before the singing of the closing hymn, Pres. Harris arose and announced the list of prizes that has been taken during the past year, also the honors received by members of the senior and junior classes.

The honors and prizes were as follows:

Kidder Scholarship Prize—Henry Wilmott Chadbourne, Mattawamkeag.

Prentiss Prize (Sophomore)—Edith Mae Bussell, Oldtown.

Prentiss Prize (Junior)—Maurice Barnaby Merrill, Stillwater.

Libby Prize—Leroy Harris Harvey, Orono.

Walter Balentine Prize—Lewis Robinson Cary, Bowdoinham.

Members of the Phi Kappa Phi society were announced as follows:

Walter Neal Cargill, Liberty; Clinton Llewellyn Cole, Pleasantdale; Philip Ross Goodwin, Randolph; James Arthur Hayes, Randolph; Charles Hutchinson Lambert, Portland; John Gardner Lurvey, Portland; Alden Bradford Owen, West Pembroke; Fred Hale Vose, Milltown, N. B.; Benjamin Thomas Weston, Madison; Wallace Augustus Weston, Madison.

The following men completed prescribed honor courses, and having the required standing, were granted special honors:

Benjamin Franklin Faunce and George Harold Davis in physics; LeRoy Harris Harvey in natural history; Clinton Llewellyn Cole, Charles Hutchinson Lombard and Wallace Augustus Weston in civil engineering; Clifford Dyer Holley in chemistry; Thomas Buck in mathematics.

GENERAL HONORS.

The following men attained an average standing of 90 per cent. or more on all studies after the freshman year and were awarded general honors:

Walter Neal Cargill, Clinton Llewellyn Cole, Harry Ashton Davis, Philip Ross Goodwin, James Arthur Hayes, Clifford Dyer Holley, Charles Hutchinson Lombard, Fred Carleton Mitchell, Wilson Grosvenor Stickney, Fred Hall Vose, Benjamin Thomas Weston, Wallace Augustus Weston, Joseph Onon Whitcomb.

SENIOR CLASS DAY.

The seniors' class day exercises took place in the town hall at Orono, on Monday afternoon, beginning at 2.30 o'clock.

Prayer was offered by Rev. Mr. Dukeshire, after which Mr. Cargill, president of the class, made a short address of welcome and introduction. The following program was rendered:

	Music.
History.....	Thomas F. Judge
Poem.....	Leon H. Horner
	Music.
Oration.....	Frank McDonald
Prophecy.....	J. Arthur Hayes
	Music.
Address to Undergraduates...	C. Omer Porter
Valedictory.....	Benjamin F. Weston
	Singing Class Ode.
	Smoking Pipe of Peace.
	Music.

Little can be said of the program as a whole but to praise its excellent character and the smoothness and earnestness with which each part was rendered. Like all class day programs, it had its humorous and its serious parts. Among the former the address to undergraduates by Mr. Porter was perhaps the most pleasing, his ability to play on the meaning of words causing much amusement and often winning generous applause. The oration by Mr. McDonald and the valedictory by Mr. Weston were both of a very high order and exceedingly well rendered. Mr. Weston's address to his classmates was especially impressive. In the time honored custom of "smoking the pipe of peace" an innovation was made by having individual pipes. Much amusement was caused by the vain efforts of some of the inexperienced to "light up."

The hall was decorated with the class colors and palms and potted plants banked the front of the stage. Pullen's orchestra of Bangor furnished music for the occasion.

PHI KAPPA PHI.

Although the organization of Phi Kappa Phi was but recently formed, it has already risen to a position of importance in the university, and should it prove as successful as its short history promises, it will eventually become the national honorary society of the land grant colleges. There has long been a feeling on the part of the men most deeply interested in this class of educational institutions that the various honor systems in vogue should be combined into a single national society. The objection has always arisen that there were already two such societies and that these should be sufficient to supply all needs. But though it may be true that the founding of a third society might for some reasons be unwise, it is equally true that neither of the existing societies supplied the need of the state universities, since there are both classical and technical students of honorary standing in these colleges, and one class of them must be debarred under present conditions from membership in a large organization.

The past year a strong movement has been toward the establishment of an honorary society distinctively for the state universities which should admit both classical and technical scholars to membership and in other respects be especially adapted to its field.

The Phi Kappa Phi was founded at the University of Maine in the month of February, 1900, Prof. Stevens and Prof. Hart being among the leaders in the movement. At present no other societies have been formed, but a number are watching its development here, and are waiting only that its major defects may have been corrected before organizing similar societies. The basis of membership is entirely one of scholarship, the additions to the society from each class being limited to ten, five of whom are appointed at the close of the junior year and five at the beginning of the spring term of the senior year.

The future of the society seems very bright, as already the underclassmen are taking a deep interest in its development, and that attitude of deprecation which has hindered many a good student in the past in working for honors, has almost entirely disappeared.

THE ANNUAL MEETING.

On Tuesday morning the annual meeting of the Phi Kappa Phi was held in the chapel and was largely attended by members from the faculty and visiting alumni. The meeting was called to order at 8.45 by Prof. Stevens and proceeded at once to the important business for consideration. The ten men who had previously been elected to membership from the graduating class were initiated into the society and were presented with certificates of membership. The members from 1900 are:

Walter N. Cargill, Clinton L. Cole, Philip R. Goodwin, J. Arthur Hayes, Charles H. Lombard, John G. Lurvey, Alden B. Owen, Fred H. Vose, Benjamin T. Weston, Wallace A. Weston.

Five new men were elected from the incoming senior class as follows:

O. Merrill Bixby, Fred H. Bogart, Thomas Buck, George H. Davis, Leroy H. Harvey.

ALUMNI BALL GAME.

The alumni ball game took place on the athletic field Tuesday forenoon. The 'varsity team was made up of Lurvey, s; Clark, c; Carr, 1b; Davis, 3b; Webb, lf; Ross, rf; Holmes, cf; Larrabee, 2b; and Cushman, p.

In the alumni team were such well known players as Bass, who pitched on the 'varsity team in '93 and '94, and Charles T. Vose, who was a member of the college team way back in '86 and '87. The alumni team was made up as follows: Noyes, '00, 3b; Grover, '99, c; Crockett, '99, 2b; Bass, '94, p; Vose, '87, lf; Whitney, '03, s; Walker, '96, 1b; Patten, '97, rf; and Bunker, '97, cf. Whitney played third base in order to make up the team, the man for this position having been unable to fill it at the last moment.

Charles S. Bickford, '82, of Belfast, umpired the contest, and at the end of five innings the score stood 9 to 4 in favor of the 'varsity team.

FRATERNITY RECEPTIONS.

THE BETA RECEPTION.

Tuesday afternoon all of the college fraternities held their receptions with a very large attendance. The reception at the Beta house was an elaborate affair and was attended by several hundred people from Bangor, Oldtown and Orono and many of the visitors to the commencement from other parts of the state were present. The house was beautifully decorated for the affair. The guests were received in the large drawing room by Mrs. Merritt C. Fernald, Mrs. James T. Stevens, Mrs. Walter

Ross, Mrs. George T. Thatcher, Mrs. Edwin B. Nichols and Mrs. James E. Dunning, they being presented to the receiving party by members of the fraternity.

Six pieces of Pullen's symphony orchestra under the leadership of Mr. Pullen were stationed on the veranda of the chapter house and rendered a delightful concert program during the festivities. Elaborate refreshments were served by Fox & Adams of Bangor, in the ball room.

Gov. and Mrs. Powers, the members of the board of trustees and faculty were present.

The committee of arrangements consisted of Frank Harvey Bowerman, Samuel Day Thompson and Edwin Bishop Ross.

KAPPA SIGMA'S RECEPTION.

Of the five hundred invitations issued by this society a very large majority were accepted and the verdict of all who attended was that the Kappas were royal receivers. The receiving committee consisted of G. H. Davis, '01, Mrs. S. W. Thaxter, Miss Sargent, Mrs. J. H. Huddilston, Mrs. Briggs, H. F. Drummond, '00.

In the dining room of the chapter house refreshments consisting of punch and fancy crackers were served by the following young ladies: Miss Lena Gray, Miss Abbie Cooper, Miss Mattie Allen, Miss Plaisted, Miss Lord.

An orchestra from Bangor of seven pieces, under the leadership of Robert Drummond, furnished music. The committee of arrangements was G. A. Hersey, '00, G. H. Davis, '01, L. B. Crabtree, '03.

AT THE ALPHA HOUSE.

The reception at the Alpha Tau Omega house was in every respect a very brilliant affair. The decorations were very attractive, representing a large amount of work and reflecting much credit on the committee in charge. The committee was T. F. Judge, W. H. Caswell, F. W. Kallom, W. S. Cole and A. F. Brown.

Those who received were Mrs. Douglass, Mrs. Hooper, Mrs. A. E. Rogers, Mrs. Steward, W. H. Caswell and A. J. Patten. The music was furnished by Wasgatt's orchestra.

Those who served refreshments were Miss Alice K. MacLaughlin, Miss Annie Douglass, Miss Harding, Miss Lillian Gray.

PHI GAMMA DELTA.

The reception at the Phi Gamma Delta house was a pleasant affair. The house presented a very attractive appearance. The committee in charge was: Howard F. Maddocks, B. C. Martin and Alpheus C. Lyon.

The patronesses were: Mrs. Eza L. Sterns, Mrs. Frank Marston, Mrs. W. H. Jordan and Mrs. Harry Butler. The reception committee was Howard F. Maddocks, F. C. Mitchell and F. H. Mitchell.

Those who served refreshments were Miss Rachel Jordan and Miss Dunton.

THE PRESIDENT'S RECEPTION.

A brilliant affair on Tuesday evening was the annual reception given by President and Mrs. A. W. Harris at their handsome residence on the campus. The grounds presented a magnificent appearance. Hundreds of colored electric lights were used in the decorations outside and the interior of the house was one mass of palms, flowers and greens. The attendance was very large and included many people from Bangor, Orono and Oldtown. President and Mrs. Harris were assisted in receiving by Gov. and Mrs. Powers and Hon. and Mrs. Henry Lord of Bangor. A large orchestra under the direction of Dr. O. E. Wasgatt furnished music during the evening and an elaborate lunch was served. L. H. Harvey and G. H. Davis of the junior class acted as ushers and Miss Knowles and Miss Bolan of the sophomore class and E. W. Delano officiated in the upper room. Many of the ladies were handsomely gowned and the scene presented during the reception was a very striking one.

ALUMNI DINNER.

The alumni dinner was served in the town hall on Tuesday afternoon at two o'clock and was attended by about 200 people. All of the members of the graduating class were there in the caps and gowns and occupied a table in the center of the hall. The members of the faculty, board of trustees and the invited guests, which included Gov. and Mrs. Powers and ex-Gov. Garcelon, of Lewiston, were seated on the stage. The after dinner exercises were opened by President Harris who introduced Prof. W. H. Jordan of the New York experiment station, an alumnus of the University of Maine, and also an ex-member of the faculty, as the toastmaster.

The first speaker called upon was Gov. Powers and he was greeted with applause when he arose to address the party. Gov. Powers made an interesting speech in which he paid many compliments to the success of the institution and to the men who are conducting it.

When he had finished his remarks, Alan L. Bird of the senior class, called for three cheers for the governor and they were given with a will. Then came three rousing cheers for the university and the second speaker, ex-Gov. Garcelon, was announced. This distinguished gentleman spoke at considerable length and he was frequently interrupted by applause.

Col. Charles P. Allen of Presque Isle spoke for the members of the board of trustees and Hon. William T. Haines of Waterville spoke for the alumni of the institution.

Prof. A. E. Rogers spoke for the faculty and Dean Gardner of the Law school spoke for that institution. His remarks were witty and when he took his seat he was given a round of applause. Ex-President M. C. Fernald spoke of the development of the institution and Hon. Louis C. Southard of Boston, a member of the class of '76, made interesting remarks regarding that class which consisted of 19 members when it graduated, four of whom have since died. The last speaker of the afternoon was President A. W. Harris. President Harris is always heard with a great deal of pleasure and on Wednesday afternoon his speech was one that elicited a great deal of interest.

COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES.

The annual commencement exercises were held in the Methodist church on Wednesday morning at 10.30 o'clock.

Never before in the history of the institution has there been so much interest shown in the commencement exercises, and they superseded anything which have occurred for a number of years past.

The exercises were the crowning ones of the week in all respects and as they were proportionately more interesting than any previous exercises of the week, those who did not attend are not able to appreciate what they missed.

Shortly after 10.30 the class marched into the room to music by ten musicians of Pullen's orchestra. The class was preceded by Prof. J. H. Huddilston, who took a position on the stage beside the stand on which were placed the diplomas. The class was followed by Llewellyn Powers, governor of Maine; A. W. Harris, president of the university, and Hon. Henry Lord, president of the board of trustees.

Prayer was offered by Rev. W. B. Dukeshire, pastor of the M. E. church, which was followed by another musical selection.

The speakers were Fred Hale Vose, Joseph Onon Whitcomb, William Gouldsborough Jones, Alden Bradford Owen, Ernest Emery Hobson, Fred Carleton Mitchell, Frank McDonald, Arthur Wellington Price, Charles Omer Porter, and Charles Perley Gray.

Degrees were then conferred upon the graduates as follows:

GRADUATING CLASS AND DEGREES.

Harry Woodward Beedle, B. M. E., in Electricity.

Alan Laurence Bird, B. M. E., in Electricity.

Frank Harvey Bowerman, B. C. E.

William Joseph Burgess, B. M. E.

Agnes Rowena Burnham, B. Ph.

Walter Neal Cargill, B. M. E. in Electricity.

Wilfred Harold Caswell, B. M. E., in Electricity.

Wilkie Collins Clark, B. S.

Ross, Mrs. George T. Thatcher, Mrs. Edwin B. Nichols and Mrs. James E. Dunning, they being presented to the receiving party by members of the fraternity.

Six pieces of Pullen's symphony orchestra under the leadership of Mr. Pullen were stationed on the veranda of the chapter house and rendered a delightful concert program during the festivities. Elaborate refreshments were served by Fox & Adams of Bangor, in the ball room.

Gov. and Mrs. Powers, the members of the board of trustees and faculty were present.

The committee of arrangements consisted of Frank Harvey Bowerman, Samuel Day Thompson and Edwin Bishop Ross.

KAPPA SIGMA'S RECEPTION.

Of the five hundred invitations issued by this society a very large majority were accepted and the verdict of all who attended was that the Kappas were royal receivers. The receiving committee consisted of G. H. Davis, '01, Mrs. S. W. Thaxter, Miss Sargent, Mrs. J. H. Huddilston, Mrs. Briggs, H. F. Drummond, '00.

In the dining room of the chapter house refreshments consisting of punch and fancy crackers were served by the following young ladies: Miss Lena Gray, Miss Abbie Cooper, Miss Mattie Allen, Miss Plaisted, Miss Lord.

An orchestra from Bangor of seven pieces, under the leadership of Robert Drummond, furnished music. The committee of arrangements was G. A. Hersey, '00, G. H. Davis, '01, L. B. Crabtree, '03.

AT THE ALPHA HOUSE.

The reception at the Alpha Tau Omega house was in every respect a very brilliant affair. The decorations were very attractive, representing a large amount of work and reflecting much credit on the committee in charge. The committee was T. F. Judge, W. H. Caswell, F. W. Kallom, W. S. Cole and A. F. Brown.

Those who received were Mrs. Douglass, Mrs. Hooper, Mrs. A. E. Rogers, Mrs. Steward, W. H. Caswell and A. J. Patten. The music was furnished by Wasgatt's orchestra.

Those who served refreshments were Miss Alice K. MacLaughlin, Miss Annie Douglass, Miss Harding, Miss Lillian Gray.

PHI GAMMA DELTA.

The reception at the Phi Gamma Delta house was a pleasant affair. The house presented a very attractive appearance. The committee in charge was: Howard F. Maddocks, B. C. Martin and Alpheus C. Lyon.

The patronesses were: Mrs. Eza L. Sterns, Mrs. Frank Marston, Mrs. W. H. Jordan and Mrs. Harry Butler. The reception committee was Howard F. Maddocks, F. C. Mitchell and F. H. Mitchell.

Those who served refreshments were Miss Rachel Jordan and Miss Dunton.

THE PRESIDENT'S RECEPTION.

A brilliant affair on Tuesday evening was the annual reception given by President and Mrs. A. W. Harris at their handsome residence on the campus. The grounds presented a magnificent appearance. Hundreds of colored electric lights were used in the decorations outside and the interior of the house was one mass of palms, flowers and greens. The attendance was very large and included many people from Bangor, Orono and Oldtown. President and Mrs. Harris were assisted in receiving by Gov. and Mrs. Powers and Hon. and Mrs. Henry Lord of Bangor. A large orchestra under the direction of Dr. O. E. Wasgatt furnished music during the evening and an elaborate lunch was served. L. H. Harvey and G. H. Davis of the junior class acted as ushers and Miss Knowles and Miss Bolan of the sophomore class and E. W. Delano officiated in the upper room. Many of the ladies were handsomely gowned and the scene presented during the reception was a very striking one.

COMMENCEMENT BALL.

The annual commencement concert and ball was held in Bangor in City hall Wednesday night and many people from Bangor, Oldtown, Orono and other Maine cities and towns were present. The concert, which was given by 20 pieces of Pullen's symphony orchestra, assisted by J. C. Bartlett, of Boston, tenor soloist, and K. A. Ringwall, of Bangor, accompanist, was one of the finest heard here for a long time. The floor manager was J. Arthur Hayes and the aids were John G. Lurvey, A. L. Bird, H. L. Maddocks, H. B. Cushman, C. Omer Porter, C. W. Stowell and W. A. Cargill.

FRATERNITY BANQUETS.

THE BETA THETA PI BANQUET.

The annual banquet of the Beta Theta Pi fraternity was held at the Beta house Tuesday evening and it brought together a very large number of the alumni members of the fraternity. There was no set program but a general good time was had and remarks were made by many present. Charles S. Bickford, '82, of Belfast, was the master of ceremonies. Among those who attended the banquet were the following: S. J. Buzzell, Oldtown, W. R. Howard, Belfast, Eben C. Webster, Orono and Charles S. Bickford of the class of '82; J. Vernet Cilley of Cruz del Eji, province of Cordova, Argentina, of the class of '83; James D. Lazell, Philadelphia; Charles T. Vose, Portland, of the class of '87; Prof. N. C. Grover, Orono; S. H. T. Hayes, of Baltimore, Md.; A. J. Coffin, of New York, and E. H. Kelley, of Bangor, of the class of '90; H. M. Smith, Bangor, of the class of '93; C. P. Weston, Orono, of the class of '96; E. C. Upton, Orono, of the class of '97; Ralph Hamlin, Orono, of the class of '98; C. W. Crockett, Orono, of the class of '99; R. K. Jones, Orono, of the class of '86; A. P. Webster, Orono, ex-'91; H. G. Dorsey, of the chapter of Dennison university.

KAPPA BANQUET.

The thirteenth annual banquet of Psi chapter of Kappa Sigma occurred at the chapter house on the campus Monday evening. The undergraduate members surrounded by a score of brothers who have graduated from U. of M., were the participants in the occasion on Monday night. At 11 o'clock all gathered around the table. The toasts were as follows: Toastmaster, G. H. Davis; K. K. F., Rev. G. L. Hanson, '85; Kappa Sigma, Dr. J. S. Ferguson, '89; Psi, F. A. Smith, '00; Alpha Rho, H. H. Cloudman, '01, Bowdoin; Psi at the Bar, Hugo Clark, '90; Our Alumni, C. A. Dillingham, '90; Banking, E. J. Noyes, '00; Baseball, H. M. Carr, '02; Football, A. R. Davis, '02; Concrete, Alex Love, '00.

Among the graduates and other members of the fraternity present were the following: C. P. Kittredge, '93; S. J. Heath, '97; C. B. Gould, '88; E. R. Mansfield, '99; Gilbert Totman, '96.

An event of the evening was the initiation of Rev. G. L. Hanscom, '85, into the fraternity. Mr. Hanscom was a member of K. K. F., to which Kappa Sigma granted a charter.

THE PHI GAMMA BANQUET.

In the evening the first annual banquet of Omega Mu chapter of Phi Gamma Delta fraternity was held in the chapter house. The toasts were as follows: Toastmaster, H. M. Estabrooke, '76; The Occasion, F. C. Mitchell, '00; Our Fraternity, Garnet Ryland Richmond, '92; Omega Mu, Frank McDonald, '00; Our New Gym, Perley Walker, '96; Our Faculty, Walter Flint, '82; Our Co-Eds, H. L. Maddocks, '00.

In addition to the resident graduates belonging to the fraternity, there were present the following: S. S. Bunker, '97; C. C. Whittier, '99; A. W. Stevens, '99; L. C. Southard; A. E. Boynton, '99; W. H. Jordan, '75; Prescott Keyes, '91; A. H. Brown, '80; Joseph Gould, '82; Frank Marston, '96; W. H. Jose, '94; Paul D. Sargent, '98; C. E. Blackwell, Maurice Powell.

THE CORNER STONE LAID.

The exercises in connection with the laying of the corner stone of the new drill hall and gymnasium were held Tuesday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock, in the presence of a large number of people, including Gov. and Mrs. Powers, the members of the board of trustees, the members of the university faculty and others. President Harris made a few remarks regarding the building of the drill hall which is the outcome of the original act of the government when it established colleges during the war of the Rebellion and stipulated that military science should form a part of the curriculum. He spoke at some length upon the prominence which the graduates and members of the university had taken in military matters and made special reference to the representation of the university in the American-Spanish war.

Hon. Henry Lord spoke on behalf of the trustees of the institution and then President Harris introduced Gov. Powers. The governor said that it gave him great pleasure to represent the state at such an interesting ceremony. "The State of Maine," said he, "is under obligations to assist in the erection of this building and I believe that it will." This remark was received with applause.

The governor then took a trowel and after spreading a liberal amount of cement on the foundation, the corner stone was laid. Two verses of America were sung by the assemblage and then at the call of President Harris the students gave the college yell. Cheers were also given for the governor by the students and the entire party led by Mr. Lord gave three rousing cheers at the close of the exercises.

The foundations of the building are now well under way and it will not be but a few weeks before the work on the walls will begin.

The commencement which is just past saw not only the largest class in the history of this institution graduate, but the largest number of alumni that has ever assembled at the exercises. Many of these came from a distance, at a loss of time, which they could ill afford, thus showing the interest they feel in their alma mater. We hope that all felt sufficiently recompensed for the effort they put forth in coming. It gives us pleasure to give as complete a list as possible of those who were present:

The annual meeting of the Alumni association was held in the rooms of the engine company in the town hall immediately after the commencement dinner. The attendance was much larger than usual, and several matters of considerable importance were freely discussed. The following officers were re-elected:

President, George H. Hamlin, '73.

Recording Secretary, Charles P. Weston, '96.

Corresponding Secretary, Ralph K. Jones, '86.

Treasurer, A. H. Brown, '80.

Necrologist, J. N. Hart, '85.

The constitution was amended to provide that the annual meeting shall hereafter be held at 10 a. m. on Commencement Day.

The alumni smoker, held in the rooms of the Ktaadn club Wednesday evening, was a pleasant innovation. Most of the younger alumni were at the ball, but the opportunity to meet with old friends was a greater attraction to those whose dancing days were over. Light refreshments were served by Fox & Adams.

F. L. Scribner has visited Washington Co. with the view of establishing a cattle ranch. He reports that the lowlands bear an abundant crop of grass, and if the highlands were sown to alfalfa, cattle raising might be made a profitable business.

'75.

W. A. Bumps was not at commencement, but attending the meeting of the Maine Medical association at Portland.

L. W. Rogers is a prosperous business man of Atlanta, Ga., and is at present in charge of six stores.

J. W. Weeks, who was formerly an architect in North De Moines, Iowa, has been in Castine for some time on business. He called upon the class of 1900 at their banquet and gave them all a pleasant surprise. Mr. Weeks intends to return to Iowa soon.

'83.

At commencement the degree of Doc. Eng. was conferred upon J. V. Cilley.

'91.

At a meeting held in Honolulu on May 2, at which the leading Republicans of the city were present, and at which Hon. Harold M. Sewall, former United States minister, gave an address, W. R. Farrington was chosen one of the members of the committee from Prunahon district of the city to arrange for a convention of district and territorial Republicans, the latter to meet on May 30 to elect a delegate and alternate to the Republican national convention at Philadelphia on June 19.

Mr. Farrington was engaged in newspaper work in Maine and Massachusetts before going to Honolulu. He is now editor and part owner of the Evening Bulletin, an eight page daily published at the capital.

Cards have been received announcing the marriage of N. C. Grover to Miss Annie Allan of Portland. The couple will come to Orono, after their wedding trip, and reside during the summer in Prof. Stevens' house.

'97.

W. T. Brastow has secured a position with the Keystone Bridge Works at Pittsburg, Pa.

'99.

W. A. Murry has secured a position as assistant engineer on the N. Y. Central R. R. and is located at Buffalo.

H. H. Clark is doing practical work with the General Electric Co. at Lynn, Mass.

A. E. Boynton is assistant inspector with the Metropolitan Water Board of Massachusetts.

C. Blackwell is inspector with the McKay Last Co. Address, 117 Stevens St., Winchester, Mass.

C. C. Whittier, who was assistant engineer on the Boston & Maine R. R., has recently been promoted to engineer in charge of maintenance of way of the northern division. Address, Conway, N. H.

ATHLETICS.

To support a ball team that wins eight games out of a possible eleven is pleasing to the student body and alumni. That is what the boys did and the team lost only one of the league games. This was with Bates at Bangor and the game was loose on both sides. But this was only one. The team went to Lewiston the next week and Bates was not in it for a minute; we only let them score once while we crossed the plate five times. Probably the most exciting game of the season was with Colby at Bangor. It was a pitchers' battle from the first inning to the last inning and Maine scored one run in the ninth on two errors by Colby.

How did we win all these games this year? In the first place, the team has worked together and played good steady ball during the whole season. Captain W. C. Clark has shown himself to be a first class man to manage the team on the field and he has ever filled the team with snap which is so essential to a winning team. In the second place, the success of this year's team is due to the superior coaching of Mr. Wm. H. Magill. When Mr. Magill arrived this season he needed no introduction to the baseball men and immediately started to develop the winning team as he did the year before. The outlook at the start was rather dubious but as the season progressed the spirit began to increase and everybody thought it impossible for Maine to lose.

Mr. Magill graduated from Brown University in the class of '93. He played third base on the Brown team for four years and two of these years saw Brown the champion of New England. While in college Mr. Magill played on the Atlantic City, N. J., Brattleboro, Vt., and Northampton, Mass., baseball teams during his summer vacations. After graduation he entered the establishment of the Bannigan Rubber Co., with whom he was connected six years. At present Mr. Magill is attending the Cornell Medical School in New York city. It is a noteworthy fact that for the two years that Mr. Magill has coached the University of Maine team it has won the state pennant.

Following are the batting and fielding averages of the several players which were compiled from the score book of Scorer Davis:

U. of M., 3; BOWDOIN, 9.

Bowdoin was too much for the home team at Bangor, May 29. Pratt was a puzzle for our boys to hit and they were able to get only four hits off of his delivery. Cushman pitched a steady game for Maine, but by bunching their hits and aided by a few costly errors, Bowdoin scored two runs in the second, three in the seventh and four in the ninth. Maine scored her three runs in the ninth on numerous errors by the Bowdoin team. Score by innings:

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
Bowdoin	0	2	0	0	0	0	3	0	4—9
U. of M.	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	3—3

Base hits, Bowdoin, 9; Maine 4. Three base hit, Clarke. Two base hit, Harkins. Struck out by Cushman, 2; by Pratt, 4. Base on balls by Cushman, 3; by Pratt, 2. Passed balls, Clark, 3. Hit by pitched ball, Dorticos, Davis, Bacon. Umpire, McGuire of Bangor. Time of game, 2 hours.

U. OF M., 5; TUFTS, 3.

One of the most exciting games of the season was played with Tufts at Bangor, May 31. Crockett, whom Tufts struck so lively at Medford, proved a puzzle for the same men in this game and they were only able to touch him for five hits throughout the game. "Frisk" Davis played his usual good game at third base. Fleming at second base played a star game for Tufts, accepting all of his eight chances. Summary:

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
U. of M.	0	3	0	0	1	0	1	0	x—5
Tufts	2	0	1	0	0	0	0	0	0—3

Base hits, Maine, 7; Tufts, 5. Three base hits, Clark, Davis. Two base hits, Hafford. Struck out, by Crockett, 6; by Foster, 6. Base on balls, by Crockett, by Foster, 5. Passed balls, Clark, Fiske. Umpire, McGuire. Time, two hours.

U. OF M., 5; BATES, 1.

Bates thought that they had a sure thing with Maine at Lewiston, June 1. But they had another guess for they were defeated in a most exciting game. Both teams got ten hits but Bates was able to cross the plate but once. Maine played an errorless game and put more snap into their playing than they ever did before. The summary:

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
Maine	...	0	0	0	0	0	0	4	1	— 5
Bates	...	0	0	0	0	0	0	1	0	— 1

Base hits, Maine, 10; Bates, 10. Struck out, by Cushman, 7; by Hussey, 1. Base on balls, by Cushman, 3, by Hussey, 3. Passed balls, Clark, Stone. Umpire, Kelley. Time, two hours.

U. OF M., 1; COLBY, 0.

The last game of the season was played with Colby at Bangor, June 4. It proved to be the most exciting contest of the season. Not until the ninth inning did either side succeed in scoring and then John Lurvey on an error by Saunders circled the bases and scored the winning run. It was a pitchers' battle throughout and Newenham had a little the best of it but his team gave him poor support. The score:

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
Colby	...	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	— 0

Base hits, Maine, 3; Colby, 7. Struck out, by Cushman, 7; by Newenham, 9. Base on balls, by Cushman, 1; by Newenham, 1. Two base hit, Cushman of Colby. Umpire, Kelley. Time 2 hours, 10 minutes.

TRACK ATHLETICS.

The sixth annual meet of the M. I. C. A. A. occurred at Brunswick, June 2. All four colleges had twenty or more men entered in the events. Bates and Colby have never taken so prominent a part before and they scored a large number of points beside what they have scored in former years. Maine, on the other hand, fell back from 38 points last year to 12½ this year. This was greatly due to the graduation of Captain Grover of last year's team. Watson, '02, won first in the discus; F. M. Davis, '01, second in the high hurdles; Thompson, '01, tied for third in high hurdles; G. H. Davis, '01, third in low hurdles; A. E. Silver, '02, third in half mile, and H. C. French, '02, third in two mile. The points were divided as follows: Bowdoin, 92½; Colby, 17; Bates, 13; U. of M., 12½.
