EDITORIALS.

WE have often heard the complaint from students who spend a considerable portion of their time in the library and reading room, that although they frequently heard it said that large additions had been made to the library in the week or month that had passed, yet no means was provided whereby the class or quantity of the literature that had been added could be learned without the necessity of consulting with the librarian. We note that the ground for this complaint has been entirely removed by the posted lists of new books which are to be found on the library door each week, giving the title and library number of all books received during the preceding seven days. This plan which will permit one to see at a glance as he passes into the library what is to be found there that is new and of interest to him, will be greatly appreciated by those who are in the habit of consulting this source of information.

And while speaking of the above class of students, who has not noticed during the last year or two how rapidly the number of men who regularly use the library in connection with their work has increased? We regret that statistics are not at hand to show how great has been the advancement along this line, but although we may not give exact figures or even make a guess at the matter, there is before us still the fact that whereas not more than four years ago the library was as a rule very quiet and very much deserted, it is now at all times of the day the liveliest place to be found about the university.

How much this increase in the proportion of students who use the library means to their future and to the future of the university it is impossible of course to estimate. We read in one of the leading technical magazines not long since that a man could not be a successful engineer unless posted upon all the latest advances in his profession, both at home and in Europe, in other words, he must "be up with the times." You will find that the majority of students who go through a specialized college training without spending time in the reading and study of standard works relating to their specialty, will not acquire the habit of reading such works after graduation, and will as a result have to spread the few bits of practical information picked up in college over the whole of a life's work. Such men have no chance at all in competition with one who, as a result of much reading while in college, was better prepared at the start and who is adding to his own experience all the time that of better men than himself.

With these facts in mind it would seem a very favorable sign that the percentage of students in this university that are forming a habit of using the library in connection with their work is rapidly increasing.

IT may not be out of place just at this time to speak a word for the college annual which may correct some false impressions among the members of 1904: It is a remarkable fact, due doubtless to the quiet manner in which the volume is published, that there seems to exist in every entering class an impression that the "Prism" is distinctively a class enterprise and that the college in general has nothing to do with it except to sign the blanks of the subscription agent when he shall appear without any grumbling or hesitation.

Such an impression as every upper classman knows from the experience of years past, is entirely wrong and should be discarded at once. It is true that the Prism is especially the work of the junior class and the honor that shall come from having gotten out a good annual is first of all due to that class, yet outside of the college, among the alumni and especially in other colleges and universities where the book will be seen, it will not be judged as a class publication but as a literary production of the entire student body. This fact throws a share at least of the responsibility upon every student connected with this institution, for a good Prism will be an honor to all and though there is no doubt but that 1902 can publish of themselves a creditable annual, it is certain that with the hearty co-operation of all the classes, they will be able to effect far better results.

IT is to be regretted that the calendar which was to have been issued before the Christmas recess by the sophomore class, has been delayed at the printer's and cannot yet be purchased by the students. We understand that the calendar is gotten up in very attractive form and will be an honor to the class and college. So far as we know this is the first instance of a class undertaking an enterprise of this character and the fact that they have met with trials and disappointments in its prosecution should not hinder it from being a grand success or discourage the class from carrying forward similar ideas in the future.

It is refreshing to say the least to see class spirit take some other form than fretting itself over fancied affronts to its majesty, and when a class carries a progressive spirit so far as to attempt enterprises that shall be an honor to the entire student body, it should have their unselfish praise and support. It will be for the best interests of U. of M. that this first attempt at class management of an undertaking of this nature shall be a remarkable success, and it is to be hoped that when the U. of M. calendar shall be ready for distribution there will not be a single student who shall hesitate to show his appreciation to the class of 1903.

THE idea of a college representation to take part in the inaugural parade in Washington, March 4, does not seem to be meeting with very great favor among the institutions of learning throughout this section of the country. Many of the New England colleges have already taken action upon the matter and declined the honor of being represented, while such of the college publications as have considered the matter of sufficient interest for editorial comment have spoken very unfavorably both of the probability of representatives being sent and of the idea itself.

So far as U. of M. is concerned the matter has not been brought before the student body at all, but it is understood that President Harris has declined the invitation. The wisdom of this cannot be questioned when the circumstances are considered. The college has nothing whatever to gain by participating in the parade and owing to the conditions imposed and the distance that must be traveled, it has very much to lose from a financial point of view. If U. of M. was represented it would have to be by a good delegation and this would call for funds from the student body which could be used to much better advantage for some other purpose. The whole scheme has been characterized elsewhere as "mediaeval and childish" and although it is putting the matter pretty plainly, one cannot but admit it is pretty near the truth.

THE results of the notice given in the last issue in regard to competitive work for places on THE CAMPUS board were on the whole very satisfactory but it is very desirable that more names should be added to those that have already been handed in. Especially from the junior class there should be at least four more applicants, for this class will have to carry the burden of the work next year.

The competition will consist of the writing of one editorial of from two hundred to three hundred words on subjects that shall be assigned individually and the contribution of local notes for the Feb. 15 and March 1 issues of the paper. There is already assurance that there will be some good new material on the board of next year, but there is still plenty of room. Think it over, students, talk with the editor about it, and be sure before you let the matter drop that it is not for your best interests to try for a position as editor on THE CAMPUS.

ATHLETICS AT BUFFALO.

The president of the Pan-American Exposition recently appointed a committee on sports, as follows: Jesse C. Dann, chairman; Dr. Charles Cary, J. McC. Mitchell, John B. Olmsted, Charles M. Ransom, Seward A. Simons, Wm. Burnet Wright, Jr.

Soon after its appointment the committee invited the following named gentlemen to act as members of an advisory committee on amateur sports: Hon. Theodore Roosevelt, Walter Camp, C. C. Cuyler, C. S. Hyman, Canada, C. H. Sherrill, A. A. Stagg, Benjamin Ide Wheeler, Casper Whitney. The appointment of this advisory committee emphasizes the desire of the committee to have all amateur competitions occupy the highest possible plane.

The Stadium, with a seating capacity of 12,000, is beautiful in design and promises to be one of the most successful architectural creations of the exposition. It will surround a quarter-mile track with ground area ample for the requirements of all the events proposed.

As to the nature of the athletic events planned, it may be said that amateur sports of all kinds will be encouraged as representing the most desirable of athletic competitions, and the members of the committee on sports, being college graduates, particularly wish to make a special feature of college sports. In the management of intercollegiate events, it is the desire of the committee that the various college associations be invited to undertake as far as possible the arrangement of the necessary details connected therewith.

Although amateur sports will comprise a large part of the program, it is proposed to have such a number of professional events as will allow visitors an opportunity to witness the athletic skill of the best professionals. The character of prizes that will be offered has not yet been definitely determined upon, but assurance may be given that prizes will be awarded of value as lasting souvenirs of athletic success at the exposition.

It is proposed to arrange a number of college baseball and football games, and it is especially desired by the committee that the eastern intercollegiate (I. A. A. A.) track meeting be held in Buffalo next year.

An ideal program might be to hold in the Stadium the eastern intercollegiate meeting, then the western intercollegiate meeting; these to be followed by a Pan-American meeting open to competitors in the two previous meetings and to representatives of other intercollegiate associations.

Other intercollegiate events have been considered, such as a la crosse, cross country running with start and finish in the Stadium, etc.

The committee on sports hopes that the exposition may have a full college representation. It is proposed to hold many other sports in the Stadium, the A. A. U. championship, tennis, la crosse, cycling, association football, water sports, trap and target shooting, etc.

All communication should be sent to Jesse C. Dann, chairman, 433 Ellicott Square, Buffalo, N. Y.

A sigh of relief! Exams. are over. Now for more trouble.

C. A. Murphy, '03, is quite sick, due to a relapse of the grip.

J. R. Talbot, '04, spent the last part of examination week at his home in Machias.

Mr. Goodell was called home suddenly by the death of his father.

On the evening of Jan. 13th, Dr. Fernald delivered an able lecture at the Universalist church at Oldtown upon the subject: Liberty Under Law.

I. E. Treworgy, '03, has returned to college recently.

A large number of the University students celebrated the finishing of examination by attending Jere McAuliffe's popular play, "The Heart of the Storm," on Friday evening at the Opera House, Bangor.

Dr. Lewis delivered a very interesting lecture at the Universalist church at Oldtown, Jan. 20, on the Classic and Modern Drama.

W. B. Thombs, ex-'00, has returned to college.

Quite a number of new students will enter at the beginning of the second term.

An accident to the machinery at the shop caused quite a little excitement there a few days ago. A countershaft between the line shaft in the lighting station and the main shaft of the shop broke in two, and both parts fell to the floor below. No one happened to be near at the time so no harm was done except that the work at the shop was temporarily suspended.

The daughters of the late Hon. William F. Wingate of Bangor have presented to the university a portrait of their father. Mr. Wingate was a member of the board of trustees for many years, retiring on account of the statutory limitation as to age, and was its president for a considerable period. He was among the most earnest friends of the institution and was largely instrumental in securing the adoption of the Orono site; he superintended the erection of the early buildings. The portrait has been hung upon the walls of the lower corridor in Wingate Hall, which building was named in honor of Mr. Wingate.

The library has recently received a gift of about 35 volumes from Prof. A. B. Aubert, mainly on chemical subjects.

A considerable addition has recently been made to the equipment of the biological department, including six Bausch & Lomb B. B. continental microscopes, two Bausch & Lomb improved dissecting microscopes, six Bausch & Lomb laboratory dissecting microscopes, two mechanical stages; two camera lucidas, Abbe's improved form; two kymnographs, with femur clamp, muscle levers, signal magnets, and induction coils, made by the Waltham Clock Co.; one Minot microtome, made by Zimmerman and imported for the university, designed for cutting sections varying from 1-100 to 1-1000 millimeter in thickness.

A telephone pay station has been established in the library. The general instrument at the experiment station has been taken out, so that hereafter all messages to or from individuals at the university must be paid for.

The hour for chapel has been changed from 8.45 to 9.45 a. m., in order that the morning will be divided into two two-hour periods for laboratory work and drawing. The change will be appreciated by any one who was ever so unfortunate as to have studies coming every hour from nine till twelve.

Prof. A. B. Aubert is to offer a new course in industrial chemistry this term. It will cover the following ground: Historical introduction, general processes, fuels, sulphuric acid, soda industries, fertilizers, lime and cement, glass, pigments, gas, petroleum industry, soaps, starch, explosives, textiles (including the paper industry), dyeing calico, printing and tanning. A large amount of illustrative material has been presented to the university by manufacturers and importers. Among the gifts are aniline dyes and chemicals from Pickhardt & Kutroff, Heiler & Merz, and A. Klipstein & Co.; an extensive set of pigments by the F. W. Devoe Co. and C. T. Raynolds Co.; explosives from the Laflin & Rand Powder Co.; specimens illustrating the silk industry and raw wools from H. J. Hanssen; potash salts from the German Kali Works; zinc white and spelter from the New Jersey Zinc Co.; resins and varnishes from Berry Bros.; gelatine and glues from the Armour Glue Co.; oil soluble anilines from A. W. Smith, Limited. Large additions to this list are promised. In connection with this course a laboratory course of 20 hours will be given in dyes and dyeing.

The second week in February is to be observed as a week of prayer for students among the colleges of the country. The Y. M. C. A. of U. of M. will hold special meetings that week to which everyone will be welcome.

L. R. Colcord, '04, who has been confined to his home by sickness since early in the fall, is reported as improving.

According to the Bangor papers the legislators may be expected to visit us in the near future. They are reported as planning to take the trip during the last week in January but nothing definite has been heard here in regard to it.

A large number of students attended the concert given by colored jubilee singers in the Orono Methodist church Saturday evening, Jan. 26.

Ralph Whittier, J. W. Buttman and A. E. Chase spent part of their vacation in New York.

A number of the members of the local chapter of Beta Theta Pi residing in New York city will attend a dinner to be given Friday evening, Feb. 1st, at the Waldorf-Astoria, complimentary to Gov.-elect Odell of New York state.

At the last regular meeting of the Mathematical and Physical Section of the Scientific association, held Wednesday evening, Jan. 23, in 22 Wingate Hall, the following programme was carried out:

Elementary illustrations of Vector Analysis
Mr. Packard.
Some Problems in the Theory of Potential
Mr. Buck.
A Proof of the Cosine Theory in Spherical
Trigonometry,
Mr. Wheeler.

These meetings are interesting as well as instructive and are well attended by the students.

Edward W. Delano came over from Augusta Friday night and spent Sunday on the campus.

A reception was given at the Mt. Vernon house Thursday evening, Jan. 24, to out of town people who came to Orono to attend the meeting of librarians, held here Jan. 24 and 25.

Maurice Russell, '04, spent Sunday at his home in Augusta.

Lawrence M. Swasey, '01, is confined to his room, sick with the grip. Quite a number during the last few weeks have had trouble with this popular epidemic.

The regular weekly meeting of the Y. M. C. A. was led on Jan. 23 by H. E. French. The subject was, What Constitutes True Greatness?

S. E. Woodbury, '01, took a trip to Bar Harbor on Saturday, Jan. 26, for the purpose of looking over the lighting station in that town. Later in the year a test will be made of this station by members of the electrical division of the senior class.

At the last meeting of the committee on arrangements on the Junior Promenade, Edwin B. Ross was chosen floor manager and he has named the following men as his aides: H. J. Hinchliffe, H. M. Carr, G. A. Hamilton, H. W. Kneeland and L. C. Peck. The Prom is to take place Friday evening, March 8, in Bangor City Hall. Pullen's orchestra is to furnish the music.

Martyn H. Shute, ex-'03, has received an appointment to West Point.

The musical clubs are planning for a concert to be given at the town hall, Feb. 15; and the next week a concert trip will be taken in the vicinity of Foxcroft. Regular rehearsals will commence soon.

The Athletic association is arranging for a minstrel show to be given in Orono at some date in February. Great preparations are being made for this occasion, and all hope for a grand success. The committee in charge are Dr. Lewis, G. E. Goodwin, P. E. McCarthy, A. H. Robinson, L. H. Harvey, F. L. Martin and F. E. Kallom.

COMING MUSICAL CONCERTS.

Since "exams" closed the Musical clubs have been laboring hard to get in the best possible condition for the Orono concert which is to be given Friday evening, the fifteenth of this month. The Glee club is fast getting into shape under the efficient instruction of Prof. Harrington and will be in good condition by the time of the concert. The Mandolin and Banjo clubs are improving rapidly as a result of the hard work that Leader Baker is putting in with them, and can be depended upon for some good selections. The Glee club will be assisted by Mr. A. C. Morton, ex-'79, one of Bangor's leading tenors, as soloist. Mr. Fred D. Marsh of the freshman class, a graduate of Emerson School of Oratory, will act as reader. Manager Silver is now getting out his advertising matter, and is sparing no pains to make the concert a success in every way. It is understood that the concert will be followed by dancing. A tour of concerts has been arranged for the last week of February, taking in several towns, among which are Brownville, Dexter and Newport.

B. T. P. BANQUET.

The members of the Beta Theta Pi fraternity residing in the state held a banquet at the Fal-mouth hotel in Portland last Friday evening. Edwin S. True, '02, represented the local chapter. Among the University of Maine alumni present were: John Locke, Jr., '78, A. M. Miller, '91; L. J. Brann, '98; A. S. Burnell, '98; C. S. Webster, '98; B. R. Johnson, '98, and H. E. Marks, '98. Edward H. Kelley, '90, was elected president of the Maine Dorg club for the ensuing year. The next meeting will probably be held at Bangor.

BOSTON ALUMNI MEETING.

Next week there will be held in Boston the annual meeting of the U. of M. Alumni association of that city which is the largest and most active association representing the graduates of the university. The letter of announcement which has been sent out during the past week reads as follows:

Fellow Members:

The annual re-union and banquet of the Boston Alumni association, U. of M., will take place at Young's hotel, Friday, February 8, 1901. Reception and business meeting at 6.30 p. m.; dinner, 7 p. m. President Harris is coming and will give an account of the recent interesting developments at college. Everyone will want to see and hear him.

Dr. O. F. Lewis, a graduate of Tufts, also a graduate of the U. of P., and former member of the faculty of the U. of P., and a late addition to the faculty of the U. of M., will also be present. Dr. Lewis has entered enthusiastically into his work and is a valuable addition to the Athletic Committee. This committee is considering plans for bringing the U. of M. athletic teams more prominently before the College world in New England.

Come ready to discuss plans for bringing the alumni in closer touch with each other. If we have a chance to get you a contract or employment in your profession, where can we find you and how are we to know you want it?

Think this over. Is it practicable to have an informal meeting at some convenient hotel or restaurant once a month, where those in town can lunch together and exchange ideas?

From appearances thus far, this reunion is to be the largest gathering of U. of M. Alumni ever held in Boston.

Come and renew your old time college acquaintances.

Please mail the enclosed postal with your reply as soon as convenient.

Very truly yours,
James Wm. Martin, Secretary.

It is evident from the text of the letter that the association is planning advance steps that will be of great importance to the college. The result of the discussion in regard to mutual helpfulness in procuring desirable positions will be awaited by the students with a great deal of interest for it is certain that there is plenty of opportunities for the older graduates of U. of M. to take a greater interest in the fortunes of the newer members of the association who may be in need of employment. Then, too, it is significant that Dr. Lewis is to be present for the one conclusion that is admissible is that important athletic plans are to be discussed, that will have a vital bearing upon the future of the university.

The old feeling that there is a general misunderstanding existing between alumni and students is rapidly becoming a thing of the past and this meeting in Boston will without doubt go a long way towards dissipating it forever and bring about a closer and more beneficial relationship between the graduates of U. of M. and those that are to be.

OBITUARY.

The death of Frank A. Smith, the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Smith of East Corinth, occurred at Dallas, Texas, Jan. 15. The deceased was born at East Corinth, March 14, 1868. He was a graduate of East Corinth academy and in 1888 was graduated from this university.

For a time he was employed in the survey and construction of a portion of the Bangor & Aroostook railroad, after which he went to St.

Cloud, Minn., and for one year held a position with the city engineer. At the close of the year he was himself elected to the office of city engineer, which he held for four years, when he accepted the position of civil engineer with the Great Northern R. R.

In 1896 he visited his old home in Maine and in the same year was married to Miss Margaret Gilbert of Troy, N. Y., formerly a teacher in the State Normal school at St. Cloud, Minn.

Through the influence of R. Z. Herrick of Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. Smith went to Alvarado, Texas, where he became superintendent of a feeding station and cottonseed mill, in which Mr. Herrick was interested. After remaining there three years his health became somewhat impaired and he went to Dallas to engage in a less laborious business in which he was to be a partner, when the end came. The cause of his death was an effusion of the heart and lungs.

Mr. Smith was a young man of much promise, honorable, of good business ability and pleasing address. He was a member of the Baptist church and while at St. Cloud was a Sunday school superintendent.

He leaves two sisters and four brothers to share the sorrow of his wife and parents. One brother, Horace Smith, was with him during the last weeks of his illness and with Mrs. Smith will accompany the remains of the deceased to East Corinth for burial.

The many friends of the family mourn the loss of one whom they held in the highest esteem and deeply sympathize with the bereaved ones.

Charles G. Cushman, University of Maine, '89, who is connected with the International Paper Co., at 30 Broad street, New York, is sending out the first announcements of the tenth annual reunion and dinner of the New York Alumni association of the University of Maine which will be held at the Arena, 41 West 31st street, on Feb. 15. There is quite a colony of U. of M. graduates in and around New York and these annual gatherings are always occasions of much enjoyment.

Among the many sons of Oxford county who are winning laurels in other places is Samuel W. Gould of Skowhegan. He has won his way to a proud rank at the bar in Somerset county and of Maine, and in the political field and is a

He soon after married and removed to Skowhegan and became a law partner with Edward F. Danforth, now judge of probate.

Mr. Gould has always had a love for his native home, and the town of Skowhegan has long felt the stirring impetus of his executive ability and enterprise. He has built some twenty-five houses in Skowhegan, and promises to build, in the spring, the finest brick block in town. He, with the late C. M. Brainard, or-leader in his town and county. He was born in Porter, Maine, Jan. 1, 1853. He attended the common schools, pushing always to the front. He fitted for college at Parsonsfield seminary, teaching in vacations and working his way. After graduating he read law with Ayer and Clifford at Cornish, and was admitted to the Oxford bar in 1879.

ganized the Somerset Loan and Building Co., the oldest in the state, of which he has ever since been a director.

His excellent judgment is duly appreciated, as he is president of the Board of Trade, in his fourth term; managing director of the Water Co.; an owner and director in Lakewood Worsted Mills; a director in the Somerset Traction Co.; and of the Millburn Power Co.; a trustee of Bloomfield academy, and of Coburn library.

He has always been a Democrat and has held all the important offices in his town and served on town, county, district and state committees of his party. He has been a candidate for elector and came within two votes of a nomination for member of Congress. By appointment of President Cleveland he served four years as postmaster of Skowhegan. He is a fine orator, and his forceful arguments have often been heard on the stump for a score of years. He does not hastily espouse a cause, political or otherwise, but when he believes in it, and is once enlisted, though all others falter, he never deserts it.

O. L. Grover has accepted a position with the Riter-Conley Manufacturing Co. at Allegheny, Pa. He was formerly in the employ of the Boston Steel and Iron Co., Medford, Mass.

In a late issue of the Western Electrician mention was made of R. H. Manson, who is on the experimental staff of the Kellogg Telephone Factory. He was formerly in the employ of the Western Electric Co.

F. L. Batchelder, who is employed by the American Bridge Co., was on the campus last week. He had been passing his vacation at home, in Machias.

L. H. Ford, who is teaching in Hampden academy at Hampden, Me., visited friends on the campus on Saturday, Jan. 26.

D. L. Philoon has accepted a position with the Great Northern Paper Co. at Millinocket. He intends to make a special study of the application of chemistry in the manufacturing of paper.

C. W. Stowell was on the campus last week visiting friends. He is principal of the Hallowell High school. Address, Hallowell, Me.

Wallace Weston has returned to his home at Madison, Me., from Ontario, where he has been sick with typhoid fever.

VISIT OF LEGISLATORS.

The University of Maine is expecting a visit from the members of the legislature on Thursday, Jan. 31. Just how many will come is rather uncertain but the committees on university, education, agriculture and military affairs will be here and some others, the number in previous years running from 50 to 100. They will arrive in Bangor about noon, taking the electric for the campus, where they will have lunch at the Mt. Vernon House. After lunch they will be conducted through the various college buildings, after which dinner will be served at the "Commons." Following will be an address by President Harris.

A. T. O. CONGRESS.

The seventeenth biennial congress of the Alpha Tau Omega fraternity was held in Boston Dec. 26, 27 and 28, making their headquarters at Hotel Brunswick.

There were members from all points of the compass, numbering about two hundred and fifty in all.

The first meeting was held Wednesday, Dec. 26. In the evening a smoke talk was held at Hotel Savoy.

Business was again taken up on the 27th and at 3 p. m. the exercises were open to the public. These exercises consisted of orations, poems, etc., interspersed with music. In the evening a grand ball was given in Pierce Hall at which a large crowd was present.

The last session was held Friday and the final gathering took place Friday evening at the grand banquet, which proved to be a great success.

After spending a few days in sightseeing the crowd returned to their respective places of business and reported a successful congress.

Those present from the Beta Upsilon chapter were: P. R. Keller, A. F. Wheeler, J. W. Butman, Ralph Whittier, A. L. Whipple, H. P. Hoyt, J. H. Sawyer, A. D. Case and W. B. Thombs.

THE CAMPUS

FROM THE TECHNICAL PRESS.

A late issue of "Machinery" contains a most interesting article made up of statements from a score or more of the technical institutions of this country, giving the entrance requirements, cost of living and numerous other facts that would be of value to the man in search of an engineering training. The article was ostensibly for the information of men of practical experience who might be thinking of increasing their earning power by adding technical training, but in the giving of this information there are brought out many points relating to the modern engineering college that are both interesting and profitable to the man who is already a student.

A comparison of the statements shows that in regard to entrance requirements, and conditions upon which degrees are conferred, there is little to choose between the universities and colleges represented, but in the various estimates of the average cost per year for the student in college there was a very great difference. Of course some of this could be accounted for by large tuition charges and high boarding rates, but to a marked degree it seemed to be due to a diversity of opinions as to what would be spent over and above college fees and board bills.

Another pleasing feature was to be noticed in the introductory note by the editor of the paper. He spoke very highly of the work of the various technical schools and expressed a doubt if a man could climb very high in the engineering profession without its aid. In view of the almost universal scorn of the "college-bred mechanic" among men of experience and the many deprecatory articles which are contributed to the technical press upon this same subject it is very gratifying to run across statements such as were contained in the article under consideration.

The article as a whole throws new light upon the attitude of the technical college towards special students and exhibits on the part of these institutions a general willingness to help any man in this line who is willing to help himself.
