EDITORIALS.

WITH this issue of THE CAMPUS the present board of editors completes its work.

Throughout the year the support that has been given us both by the alumni and under-graduates has been as general and as hearty as we could have hoped for and we pass the work on into the hands of our successors with every desire for their success and the expectation that those who have given to us such material assistance as came from the feeling that the college paper was loyally supported, will extend to the new board to an even greater degree, this same spirit of appreciation and co-operation.

THERE is a growing interest in the inter-scholastic track and field meet which is to be held here on May 18, at which all of the important fitting schools of eastern Maine will compete. The primary object of this meet, as is explained elsewhere in this issue, is to advance the interest of athletics in the preparatory schools of this section of the state, but one of the important results will be to increase the influence of this university among these schools and to send away the men who shall visit us, with new impressions of U. of M. as a college and with more or less of a decision made as to whether this institution is suited to their needs. When this is considered, the importance is plainly seen of giving to the visiting teams a hearty welcome and of each student devoting himself to the awakening of their interests in this college. The criticism is sometimes made that it is taking an unfair advantage of other colleges to seek to get men especially interested in your own, but this notion is long since out-of-date and in its teaching lacks every element of progressiveness. There will be men who come to Orono in these visiting teams who have developed an interest in electrical science in the fitting school and it is nothing more than common courtesy to such men to take sufficient interest to show them our electrical equipment and outline the work done here in that subject. So with all the men, if the question was asked, it would be learned undoubtedly that each was interested especially in some department of education and it would become our privilege to show to each what facilities are provided at this university for carrying forward his chosen line of work. Every student here should remember that the traveling expenses of the visiting teams which must be borne by the schools which compete, will seem very heavy to some of the schools inasmuch as their previous expenditures for athletics have been small. Now it will be no more than fair to these men who are to be our guests, or to Mr. Hayes who as the representative of the Athletic Association has had this matter in charge, that we as students and members of the association see that the fitting school men have a good time on that day and get big returns for their money. It will mean a great deal to them and but a slight personal effort among us students, to bring this thing about. It may not bring a single man to U. of M. as a direct result, but it will bring larger returns in the added pleasure we, ourselves, will take on that day and will reflect credit upon our college among those who will watch with special interest our attitude towards these possible "Maine" men.

IT was with a great deal of satisfaction that the students heard of the change in the plans of the foot-ball management which provides for spring training under the direction of Coach Farley. The impression will doubtless get abroad that because the coach is to be with the men only three days, very little can be accomplished and consequently it will make little difference in the results next fall whether a good turn-out is made next month or not. But every man of any experience in foot-ball knows better than this and those who have had little or no experience should respect the opinions of their superiors and do their best to make this new and radical change in the plans for the preliminary training in foot-ball, a remarkable success.

It was with some uncertainty, that the committee of the Athletic Association which had this matter in charge, decided to procure Mr. Farley's services for a few days this spring. It was a new thing for U. of M., the interests of all were centered on other branches of athletics and there were many expressions of doubt that the men who should try for the team next fall could be got out for work this spring. Whether there was any ground for this fear remains to be seen, but we feel certain that there was not. Certainly there should not be for we owe it to the coach himself, who has gone to much personal inconvenience to give us the advantage of these few days of preparatory work, to give him an enthusiastic reception and plenty of material with which to work.

A point that it would be well to bear in mind just here is that with the coming of Mr. Farley, there will probably be inaugurated a new system of play at U. of M. which will have to be learned by both the old men and the new,

This will put the men trying for the eleven of 1901 on a more even basis than has existed previously and may mean a decided change in the make-up of the team next fall. This should be an added incentive to those who tried last fall and failed or who have never tried their abilities in this game, to come out this spring, get acquainted with the new coach and his methods, and give him to understand that the foot-ball men at Maine lack nothing in enthusiasm or willingness to work, but are rather to be characterized by these very qualities.

WHAT foundation there may be to the rumors that have been circulating during the past month of fraternity combines in class elections, we cannot say, but the existence of the rumor, it seems to us is evidence of such a grave danger as to call for vigorous protest. It is a recognized fact which has been learned to the sorrow of many a promising college and university, that there is no one agency that will destroy the unity and spirit in a college community so quickly as will the existence of clicks and combines in the management of the numerous enterprises that are such an important part of the experiences of a college course. It may be argued by some that no great harm can come from combines that are patched up for the time being just to control the honors to be gained from some class function, and perhaps this is true; but what of the ultimate results of the thing, that is a question that will bear a good deal of careful thought. The common sense of every student will answer for him that if this evil tendency is not stamped out at once it will never cease its work till it has corrupted the perfect management of every student activity at this college and destroyed completely that "Maine spirit" which has caused so much favorable comment in the past year, and which we all of us desire to see remain forever a distinctive honor to our college. We beg not to be understood as predicting any such calamity for U. of M., but simply as issuing a warning against what might result if the rumors above referred to were true. It is a matter in which it is best to abstain from all appearance of evil and it should cause vigorous protest from every U. of M. man whenever any tendency to such a destructive practice is found within the range of his disapproval.

THE fact that we are to have a first-class coach in football next fall makes it eminently desirable that the entering class shall not only be as large as possible in number, but that it contain a large percentage of men that have had some experience in football. All we can do, of course, to get the men here, is to present to them what seem to us as the advantages of our college, after which the matter must, from the nature of things, be one of free choice. Yet it is true that in past years little has been done by the students themselves in this kind of work, the make-up of the freshman class being a matter of conjecture to the students until their names are published in the October issue of the college paper. Such should not be the case however, for although the college authorities do everything in their power to impress new applicants with the advantages U. of M. has to offer, yet they can only deal with those who have had sufficient interest to apply and the only method open to them for creating this necessary interest is through expensive advertising. The students on the other hand, have numerous opportunities to reach men that cannot be approached through the medium of the college office, and care should be taken that when such opportunities present themselves, they be not allowed to pass unnoticed.

It is but vain repetition to state where many of these chances for advertising occur. There are the athletic teams of course, the musical clubs, the visits of members of the faculty to the preparatory schools, and this spring there is to be added the invitation track meet of the fitting schools of eastern Maine. All these enterprises exert an influence for the college and those that carry them forward are directly responsible for what is accomplished through such agencies. But there is still another field for work which seems to us to present great opportunities, yet which is badly neglected. This is found in the large number of high schools and academies in Maine and the other New England states that have representatives here, yet never are reached by any of the agencies mentioned above. This gives an excellent chance for some men to do individual work the benefits of which can not be estimated. Take for instance the many high schools in Massachusetts that are represented in the present freshman class. Each student from such has undoubtedly friends at home who are still in the high school and who have not as yet decided on the college they will attend. If this is the case, then is there no reason why every legitimate means should not be employed to get such men to come to U. of M. What this means shall be in any particular case, must be left to the discretion of the student. One plan already submitted by THE CAMPUS is to have a copy of the college annual at the various schools that it is desired to reach; another that has been suggested is for the students from those schools that are without the direct influence of the university, to make it a point to have all copies of THE CAMPUS that contain important athletic announcements brought to the notice of their school friends at home. But the utility of these methods would in many cases be doubtful and the recourse of the student to personal correspondence become a necessity.

After all, it is not the point to tell how it shall be done, but rather to impress some with the need of such a work as we have outlined. It is a period of great progress with us just now and every man who helps in the movement will have something to look back to in future years that will bring him by no means the least satisfaction of those things which he accomplished during his life in college.

MILITARY APPOINTMENT.

By direction of the President of the United States, under the provisions of the act of Congress approved November 3, 1893, General Benjamin P. Runkle, U. S. Army, is detailed by the secretary of war as professor of military science and tactics at the University of Maine.

This university is required by law to provide military instruction, and the President has been accustomed to detail an officer of the U. S. Army as instructor. Owing to the war with Spain and to operations in the Philippines, the military instructorship has been vacant since the spring of 1898.

General Runkle was born in 1840, and comes from an illustrious military family. His grandfather was a colonel in the Continental army and a member of the staff of Gen. Washington, and in every succeeding struggle of the American republic a representative of the family has rendered distinguished service. At the outbreak of the Civil war, General Runkle was commissioned captain of the Thirteenth Ohio Infantry, and later in the same year after the battle of Carnfex Ferry, was promoted to a major. In the battle of Shiloh he was severely wounded and left for dead upon the battlefield. As soon as he could walk, and before his wound had healed, he organized and led to battle the Forty-fifth Ohio Infantry, and played an active part in the Kentucky campaign under Generals Wright, Burnside and Gilmore. During the battle of Somerset, at the head of his regiment, he broke and rebroke the Confederate lines, and greatly helped to secure the day for the Union forces. For this service he received the grateful commendation of his superiors. He displayed conspicuous bravery throughout his service, and maintained an active part until broken down by old wounds. In recognition of his gallantry, General Runkle was brevetted major-general of volunteers and lieutenant-colonel and, in 1867, colonel in the regular army. On December 15, 1870, the wounds received during his campaign necessitated his permanent retirement at the age of thirty years.

Gen. Runkle is a member of the Sons of the American Revolution, a Knight Templar and a Scottish Rite Mason of the 32nd degree. He is a man of striking personality and sterling character. He is an alumnus and has been for many years a member of the board of trustees of Miami University. For the past fourteen months he has occupied the professorship of military science in Miami. General Runkle's service in Orono will begin July 1, 1901.

EDITORIAL APPOINTMENTS.

The annual election of the editorial and business staff of THE CAMPUS for the coming year occurred in Oak Hall on Thursday, April 11.

The first business transacted was the repeal of an existing rule which prevented the election of more than two men from any fraternity or society, to membership on the board. Under the competitive system which is now so strongly established it is necessary to its satisfactory working and a continuance of its success, that the best man in every case be elected to the various positions. With the above rule in force, there were numerous contingencies that might arise where a man eminently fitted for a position and who had worked hard for it, would be prevented from receiving an appointment, and this fact was considered sufficient cause for its repeal.

The new appointments were as follows:

From the class of 1902, Miss Geneva Boland, F. W. Kallum, A. M. Watson, P. E. McCarthy, E. J. Bartlett; from 1903, S. C. Dinsmore, R. M. Connor, J. H. Hilliard, T. E. Leary, I. E. Treworgy; from 1904, C. G. Chase, R. H. Flynt.

The election of editor-in-chief for the year will occur on Tuesday afternoon, April 16. Mr. P. E. McCarthy will succeed Mr. Bartlett as business manager on May 1.

Just a little sunshine!

J. H. Swain, '99, was on the campus last week.

H. W. Mansfield, whose illness was reported in the last issue, is slowly recovering.

On the afternoon of April 2nd, the students formed a "B" and helped nature clean the running track. As a result the track is clear of snow and sufficiently dry so that it can be used by the sprinters and distance men.

The debate between the Seniors and Juniors was held March 28. The arguments presented by both sides were very clear and forcible. The judges decided in favor of the Seniors by a few points.

The debate between the Seniors and Sophomores will be held on the evening of Thursday, May 2, the question being, "Resolved that the integrity of the Chinese Empire should be preserved." The Sophomore had the choice of sides and took the affirmative. A very interesting debate is looked forward to.

Prof. Esterbrooke, was unable to return from Bar Harbor at the close of the recess on account of illness. It is hoped that he will be able to meet his classes this week.

Perley Walker, ex-instructor in Mechanical Engineering, was on the campus recently.

W. M. Munson, M. S., has completely recovered from his injuries received from his fall and will complete his post-graduate work at Cornell University this spring, and receive the degree of Doctor of Science.

Hal Hunt of Bowdoin, was on the campus April 10.

Wm. Graves, ex-'02, spent a few days on the campus during the Easter vacation. He was on his way home from a business trip to Boston.

C. A. Kittredge, '03, is to be conductor on an electric car in Portland this summer.

J. W. Butnam has taken the agency for the New York Life Insurance Co.

Lots of sport and little study is the order of exercises for the rest of the year.

Dr. Ryland will complete his work at this university at the close of this school year and will next fall take up his duties as professor of Chemistry in Converse College, Spartanburg, So. Carolina.

Dr. Fernald represented this university at the convention of New England colleges held at Boston, April 8.

S. D. Thompson took a business trip to Boston and New York during the recess.

H. E. Cole, the newly elected president of the Y. M. C. A., represented the local association at the Presidents' conference held at Princeton University, April 4-7.

Stanley Stewart, foreman of the shop and instructor in shop work, spent the Easter recess at his home in Aroostook County.

A recent meeting of the executive committee of the athletic association, Paul D. Simpson, '03, was elected assistant manager and scorer of the baseball team and J. H. McCready, '03, was appointed assistant treasurer of the athletic association.

The Hon. Mr. Winslow of Portland, who was the largest contributor to the funds for the new gymnasium, was on the campus a few days ago and made a careful inspection of the new building.

Weston, the popular Bangor photographer, is giving free sittings to members of the graduating class and finishing one cabinet photo without charge.

Many and vexatious were the delays caused by the floods of the past week. A good part of the students who went home for the recess had to re-arrange their plans for the return trip with the result that a long array of "double cuts" was scored.

The netting for the cage has come at last and batting practice is much facilitated thereby.

The Seniors are talking of another excursion to Millinocket such as was taken last fall. It is rumored that a special "dollar excursion" is to be run by the B. & A. in the near future and if such should prove the case, a number of the seniors would undoubtedly go.

The dullness of the Easter recess was much enlivened at the Phi Gamma Delta House by an informal social gathering, held by the members of the chapter who passed the recess on the campus. About fifteen were present at the affair which consisted of whist for the first part of the evening, while the remainder was passed in dancing. The prize in whist, a bunch of roses, was won by Miss Chaplain of Bangor. Refreshments were served consisting of cake and ice cream.

When will the Prism be out? is the question on everybody's tongue.

The lecture which was to have been given before the scientific association by Dr. Fernald on last Wednesday evening has been postponed to a later date.

The greenhouse connected with the university and used for experimental work in the horticultural department, presents a fine appearance at present and is well worth a visit from any student that may have an hour to spare. Nearly all the common varieties of flowering plants and many rare ones are cultivated there and at present the most of them are in bloom, making an interesting floral exhibit.

Contrary to expectation, a reduced rate was granted by the Maine Central R. R. to Boston and return. No rates were given in Maine because of the cheapness of travel on the mileage books which are now good for bearer, but inasmuch as the students from southern New England would have few opportunities to use such a book, a concession was made in their favor and the rate of $8.00 for the round trip given.

Prof. Aubert returned last week from a week spent in Boston on business.

The Kappa Sigma fraternity held a very enjoyable dancing party at their chapter house on the campus on Friday evening, March 29. A very select company gathered by invitation and passed the evening pleasantly. During the evening light refreshments were served. Miss Cutler of Bangor furnished music.

For the first time since '97, the "co-eds" are represented on the editorial staff of the college paper. It is a natural result of the growing importance of the co-educational conditions at this university and of a desire on the part of the women students to be represented. It is one of the signs of progress here, that the competition for THE CAMPUS board is open both to men and women students and both are judged from the same standards in the election of its members.

On Friday evening, March 29, the local chapter of Phi Kappa Sigma gave a very enjoyable reception and dance in the Town Hall, Orono, about sixty guests from Orono, Old Town and Bangor being present. Those present were received by Mrs. A. W. Harris, Mrs. J. H. Huddilston, Mr. C. L. Cole and Mr. F. M. Davis. The hall was prettily decorated in the fraternity colors, the Phi Kappa Sigma banner occupying a prominent place. Pullen's orchestra from Bangor furnished music for the dancing which began a little before nine o'clock and continued until a late hour. Two delegates were present from each of the local fraternities and societies.

MUSICAL CLUB CONCERTS.

In the last issue it was stated that a concert tour of the Musical clubs had been arranged through Washington county for the last of April. It has since been found advisable to give up this trip owing to the loss of some of the most promising concerts. To fill this vacancy Manager Silver spent several days of the Easter vacation in down river towns and cities in search of dates. He arranged for two concerts. One at Belfast for April 22, under the auspices of the Base Ball Association of the High school; and one at Castine for April 23.

The schedule of concerts for the remainder of the season is as follows: Belfast, April 22; Castine, April 23; Old Town, April 27, and Bangor, May 3. The concert at Old Town is under the auspices of the High school, and will, doubtless, be followed by a dance.

Efforts are being made to make the Bangor concert the most successful of the season. Pullen's orchestra of seven pieces has been engaged to furnish music for a hop after the concert. The dance is sure to attract a large delegation of students, as many have already signified their intention of going. Special cars will be on hand to run to college after the dance.

CONVENTION OF COLLEGES.

Representatives from sixteen of the leading colleges of New England met in convention at Boston University on Monday, April 8, to discuss the problems of uniformity in entrance requirements. The meeting called out some of the most prominent educators of New England and topics of vital importance to the various colleges represented were discussed, but no action of importance was taken. A committee was appointed to arrange for uniform requirements in algebra, in-so-far as it should be deemed practicable. There are a few colleges in the association that have very high requirements in this branch of mathematics, but as a rule the requirements were found to differ only in some few unimportant subjects that could be changed without inconvenience, so that a certificate covering the requirements of one would embrace those of all.

The three Maine colleges which are members of the association were all represented, Prof. Moody being present from Bowdoin, Prof. Roberts from Colby and Dr. Fernald from the University of Maine.

COACH J. J. MACK.

When the announcement was made in a recent issue of THE CAMPUS that John J. Mack, of Chelsea, Mass., had been secured by Mgr. McCarthy as coach for the track team there was a feeling of general satisfaction because of the numerous assurances received that he was a trainer of exceptional ability. Coach Mack began his career as a sprinter and all-round athlete more than fifteen years ago. He was not a college graduate but took part in amateur meets in various parts of the country in which he distinguished himself as an athlete of promise. His first coaching experience was gained with the Clinton High school of Clinton, Ohio, which he took charge of in the spring of 1896. He met with such remarkable success in his work with the team at that school that after their winning of the "prep-school" championship of the states of Iowa and Illinois, he picked five men from the team and came east to New York to compete in the National Interscholastic meet held in that city. His team succeeded in winning twenty points in the events, taking first place in the high jump and quarter mile; second place in the shot and the 220 and 100 yard sprints; and third place in the half mile. Mr. Mack immediately signed a contract with the officials of Columbia University and from 1896 until June of 1900 he was a regular coach in the track work of that institution. While at Columbia his most notable work was the development of "Maxey" Long, the famous champion quarter-mile sprinter of the world. Other men of note in field and track circles who were wholly or partially trained by him, are Smith, pole-vaulter with a record of eleven feet and three inches; Barker, high hurdler with a record of sixteen and two-fifths. His relay team won for two years at Philadelphia, from the leading colleges of New York and Pennsylvania.

During the summer Mr. Mack is the regular coach of the Wanderers' Athletic Club, of Halifax, N. S., and in his work with their team he has developed Stephens, champion sprinter of Canada and winner of second place in the 220 yard sprint at the National Championship games held in Boston in 1899.

After the completion of Mr. Mack's present engagement at this university he will accompany Stephens, the Canadian sprinter, to the Pan-American Exposition and train him for the championship games which will be held in Buffalo this summer.

With this issue of THE CAMPUS the management of this department passes to other hands, but before that happens thanks ought to be extended to those of the alumni who, during the past year, have aided in making the department what it has been. We have found many willing to aid us in obtaining news of graduates but the greater part, with a natural reserve, forget to mention their own occupation when they happened to correspond with the board. Now, this ought not to be the case. Nearly all who take THE CAMPUS have communication with the board at least once during the year, and if at any time a personal note or information about some one else is sent in it will go to the proper hands and receive consideration. The business manager for instance will gladly turn all such notes over to the alumni editor.

It is the object of the department to keep alumni and students informed of the whereabouts and occupation of graduates, and from time to time as the occasion arises to give short sketches of what they have done since leaving college. For both of these a little information from those who have been here is of the greatest aid. So we ask you when writing to the business manager to add all the news you can, thus aiding us and giving information to those who read these columns.

A recent number of the Boston Journal contained an account of the meeting of the Old Dorchester Club, of which L. C. Southard is president. In the list of noted men who are members, the name of Mr. Southard occupied a prominent place and a short account was given of some of the recent achievements in his profession. During the past winter he has conducted several important cases in a way that showed excellent ability and keenness of perception.

ATHLETICS.

THE INVITATION MEET.

Arrangements for the interscholastic track and field meet which is to be held here on May 18 are progressing rapidly and its success is already an assured fact. Up to the present five schools have written of their intention to send teams to compete in the events and many other schools in Aroostook county are yet to be heard from. The five schools which will surely be represented are Brewer, Oldtown and Orono high schools, and the academies at Hampden and Bucksport. The report is that much enthusiasm is being shown by these schools in the coming event and every one is coming to Orono with the determination to make a good showing.

The meet will be held on the U. of M. athletic field under the management of the athletic association and the entire expenses of the meet will be borne by the college association. Competent officials will be provided and the track will be put into first class condition in order that the various events may be run off under the most favorable conditions for all. A pennant will be awarded to the school winning the largest number of points and the winners of each event will be awarded suitable trophies.

The purpose of this meet is to awaken an interest for track athletics in eastern Maine and to get the various schools that have good material for track and field sports to develop it while it is yet in the fitting school, that the colleges drawing students from these schools may find them more immediately available.

As soon as the movement that has been started this year shall have become a regular yearly event and the schools competing in them a settled factor, it is proposed to form an Eastern Maine Interscholastic League, such as already exists in the western part of the state and has proved eminently successful in bringing out the athletic material in the schools its membership embraces. The arrangements for the meet this spring have been entirely in charge of Mr. J. Arthur Hayes, manager of the U. of M. track team of '99.

FOOTBALL.

Mr. Farley, the coach in football, will be on the campus for a short time near the middle of May to arrange for light spring practice by the football squad and for training during the summer. Too great importance cannot be placed on this preliminary visit of the new coach and it is hoped that when the date is definitely announced and the call for men made, the response will be exceedingly enthusiastic and general. The work that he will begin and which will probably be continued under the direction of Capt. Dorticos will be very light but will serve the double purpose of giving many of the men hints for individual training during the summer and of getting all the men more or less acquainted with the coach and his methods.

The present prospects are that many men who have never yet tried their ability on the gridiron will be seen out on the field next month when the call shall have been given for candidates.

TRACK.

The candidates for the track team have been having some hard practice during the past week. Each afternoon there is a large number out to train and the work is progressing finely.

Coach Mack is much encouraged over the outlook for the team this spring. From ten o'clock in the forenoon till five thirty in the afternoon, Mr. Mack is at the gymnasium and thus gives each man the chance to train under personal direction. The floor of the gymnasium has been cleared and affords excellent opportunity for practicing in starting. The hard wood floor is fast nearing completion but as yet it has not been used. The running track is in use daily both by the long distance runners and the bicycle candidates.

Last Thursday afternoon the team was on the field for the first time. The track is in fairly good condition but there are yet a number of soft places, still there are many dry stretches which may be used for starting and sprinting. In a few days work will be begun on the track to put it in good condition for work. The straightaway will be cindered and put in a suitable condition to run on. The jumping box cannot be used for a few days yet as the drainage of that side of the field is bad and the water must dry up.

Mgr. McCarthy received a letter last week from Archer Grover, '99, captain of the '99 track team and assistant coach of the '00 team, that he would arrive in Orono on May 3 to coach the men in the weights and hammer. Mr. Grover won first place in the discus for two successive meets of the N. E. I. A. A. at Worcester, Mass., and while in college held the individual championship of Maine in track and field sports.

BASEBALL.

Although the baseball field is now in fairly good shape and some work has been done out of doors, the new cage in the gym, which has recently been fitted out with nettings, will be used for practice for some time longer as it presents ideal conditions for batting practice and for the work of the pitchers.

Coach Rudderham arrived last week and immediately took the team in charge. Up to the present the number of men trying for the team from the freshman class has been discouragingly small, but now that outdoor work has begun, it will increase rapidly.

Mr. Rudderham has some good material to develop this season for there is no lack of candidates for positions on the team. Coach Magill will arrive about the first of May and will remain with the team for the remainder of the season. Mr. Magill has been very successful with the team for the past two seasons and with the material at hand it seems that he should be equally successful this season.

At the present time the outlook is for a good fielding and batting team but without doubt the difficulty will be in supplying men for the box. Webber, '04, and Ross, '01, are the most promising candidates for the position, but there are many other men who are candidates for the position and some of them may develop into good men.

Manager Davis has arranged a game with Maine Central Institute to be played on the university campus Fast Day. He has had opportunities to engage a number of games in Massachusetts and Connecticut but for the lack of pitchers he has decided not to enter into any agreement with these teams.

It is yet too early to draw much of a line on the candidates, especially the new men, but many of them are trying for definite positions. Strickland, 1903, who has played on his class team, is a candidate for short stop and will undoubtedly develop into a fast man. Towse, 1903, seems to be the only available man for catcher. He shows up well in practice but it is impossible to judge on a man until he gets on the field. Russell, 1904, who has caught two years on the Cony High School team, is trying behind the bat, but when the team goes on the field he will probably be a candidate for first base. He is a good man at the bat and if he makes the team will undoubtedly strengthen them in this respect. Captain Carr, who was put in the field during the latter part of last season, will, in all probability, be put in his old position at second base. Davis, 1902, will be found at his old position at third base. Chase, 1902, Holmes, 1902, and Larrabee, 1903, are candidates for positions in the field.

THE SCHEDULE.

Since the publication of the baseball schedule in a previous issue several changes have been made by Mgr. Davis and some new games added. The notable feature is an increase in the number of practice games that is very gratifying. Last year there were only three such games scheduled and some of these were cancelled because of adverse weather conditions.

Following is the corrected schedule:

Apr. 24, Lewiston B. B. Club at Orono
Fast Day, M. C. I.	" "
Apr. 27, Bates	" "
May 1, Lewiston Ath. Club	" "
" 4, Kents Hill	" "
" 8, Colby	" "
" 11, Bates	" Lewiston
" 14, Amherst Agric. Col.	" Amherst, Mass.
" 15, Amherst College	" " "
" 16, Tufts	" Medford "
" 18, Bowdoin	" Brunswick
" 22, Fort Preble	" Orono
" 25, Bowdoin	" "
" 27, Colby	" Waterville
" 31, Tufts	" Orono

It is to be regretted that there are but two games coming before the first college game but no other arrangement could be made.

With two weeks of hard practice, the team ought to be in good shape when it meets Bates on April 27.

JUBILEE Y. M. C. A. CONVENTION.

One of the most notable religious gatherings ever held in this country will take place in Boston, June 10-16, at which time will occur the 50th anniversary of the founding of the Young Men's Christian Association in Boston and Montreal in 1851.

The meetings will be held daily under the leadership of men who have become prominent in Y. M. C. A. work and many special services have been provided which will add greatly to the interest of the occasion.

On Tuesday evening, June 11, a reception will be held to the President of the United States, Lord Strathcona, High Commissioner of Canada, and to the large number of foreign representatives who will be present. Thursday, the 13th, will be Jubilee Day, and the most notable feature of the ceremonies will be the unveiling of a tablet at the Old South Meeting House in commemoration of the foundation of the association in that building in 1851.

The music will be a feature of the meetings; among the men of note who will help in the services of song will be Mr. C. B. Willis, who will lead the singing during the day services, and Mr. Geo. C. Stebbins and Ira D. Sankey, who will co-operate in the evening meetings. There will also be an association quartet which will render special selections.

There will be delegates present at this convention from all of the civilized countries of the world and many notable foreign workers will be numbered among the speakers.

The most prominent speakers already promised are: President McKinley, Lord Strathcona of Canada, Pres. Faunce of Brown University, Pres. Hall of Clark University, Pres. Booker T. Washington of Tuskegee Institute, Mr. Robert E. Speer, New York, Bishop Potter, New York, and Rev. Dr. Alexander McKenzie of Cambridge.

To Young Men

Young men think more about style than anyone else—but often they are not particular enough about fit—fact is the fit is the most important element of the style.

MILITARY BACK with PADDED SHOULDERS is the great thing this year. We knew the young men would take to it and you can't embarrass us then for a minute. We've got them and are ready for the young man who wants the proper thing—

ROUGH FABRICS, CHEVIOTS, SERGES,
WORSTEDS in all the new and snappy patterns.

You are sure to find what you want here and we are always happy to serve the U. of M. Boys.

A Men's Wear Store.

If we had to live off men's wear alone, we couldn't sell men's furnishings at the prices we do. We keep a men's wear store, however governed by the dry goods store idea. In Men's Underwear, Hosiery, Neckwear, Dress and Fancy Shirts, etc., we carry those sensible lines that men appreciate, and we sell them at economical dry goods prices.

Men's Suit Cases at About Half.

Comfort and Coolness.

Comfortable Summer Underwear, Men's Suits and drawers to keep cool in. We have a word to say about that sort. One can't keep cool when crawling underwear plays ragtime with his nerves. We have a special make of balbriggan for hot weather wear. You can keep cool in it with comfort.

Our Laundered and Unlaundered White Shirts at 50c and 75c each, are marvelous values, the full equal of those sold in "men's" stores at 75c and $1.00.

A Discount of Ten Per Cent. From Our Lowest Prices to Students.

Cowhide or Bridle Leather Suit Cases, with double steel frames, double straps, sole leather corners, patent lock; regular price $5.50 and $6.00, at $3.98 Each.

Leather Finish Pedroid Suit Cases.

22 inch size, $1.39 24 inch size, $1.49.

Regular prices above are $2.00 and $2.50.
