EDITORIALS.

BEFORE separating for the summer vacation we wish to say a few words, especially to the lower classes, in reference to THE CAMPUS for the ensuing year. The old idea that a college paper should represent only the student body is no longer held to be a true one. It must do more than this; it must represent the whole college in order to be a successful college publication. Next year we want to make the scope of THE CAMPUS as broad as possible and to do this we must have ideas and articles of a wide variety. When issue after issue is written by the same few persons there is a tendency for the writings to be of a sameness and not afford the interest which they should. We want more articles from the students and we don't want them to feel as some have said, "I would like to write something for THE CAMPUS but I don't know as I could write anything worth printing." It will be a pretty poor article that won't be used, at least, in part, and if it does appear in print changed a little it doesn't follow that the article was not any good. Some students say they would like to write an article if they could only think of a suitable subject. Now, don't think that a particularly striking subject is necessary to make an interesting bit of reading. There are hundreds of little incidents occurring which would make valuable local notes and, perhaps, no one but you would think of using them. There is always plenty of room for the local notes, so if you have any doubts as to your literary ability you can at least try your hand at the locals. We also hope to use some short stories and will be glad of any such matter that you can write. You can surely think of a subject for a story and, by writing a short sketch, you will help THE CAMPUS a great deal. This summer vacation will be a good time to note a few subjects which you can write up on your return in the fall. Remember that the editorial staff of THE CAMPUS is chosen entirely by competition and every article you write will be noted to your credit. At the election of THE CAMPUS board the quantity and quality of each man's work will be considered and the best writers will get the places. Whether you have had much or little experience in writing don't be afraid to try.

CONSIDERABLE dissatisfaction has been expressed by the boys of Oak Hall at the new rule of the faculty by which a five dollar deposit is required in order to draw a room in the Hall and hold it through the summer. This rule is intended to make the distribution of rooms more fair to the students, as upper classmen can no longer draw rooms they do not want and turn them over to students having less right than others have to them, as was possible before. On the other hand, it is hard for many students to deposit five dollars at this time of year, even if it is allowed on the next term's expenses, while if he fails to return for any reason the deposit is forfeited. The man who is the least likely to return is the one who depends on his summer wages for a part of his funds and to such a man this deposit means considerable if it is lost. If the rooms in Oak Hall are to be free it seems hard for the students wishing to room there to understand why they should, if obliged to remain out of college next year, give the deposit for which no value has been received excepting the right to occupy the room.

THE return of our ball team from the Massachusetts trip without a single victory and with three defeats was something of a disappointment to us, and when followed by the complete shut out of our track team at Worcester it truly seemed as though hard luck was against our athletics. The ball team started out well and won easily from Bates and again from Colby in one of the closest games ever played on our diamond. When our team reached Massachusetts they found some strong players and at the same time had a bad run of errors and hard luck and, although a close game was played with Amherst, the combination proved too strong and they succeeded in defeating us by a small margin. On the return from Massachusetts the team met Bowdoin and with a continuation of the hard luck and errors we were easily defeated. The return game with Bowdoin should have been ours, as some of the Bowdoin men admitted but, owing to a peculiar decision of the umpire, the game went to Bowdoin by one score. This game was very remarkable in several ways. Bowdoin's team played a fine game at the bat and nearly lost it by errors in fielding and wild throws. Our team batted rather poorly but at times played a star game in the field, while at other times it seemed trying to give a specimen of ill management and poor judgment. The result of the track team's trip to Worcester is not so much to be wondered at, for we lost our best man by graduation and while we expected to get a few points we feel that we made a better showing than some of the other larger colleges, who also failed to win points.

Although the teams have had hard luck we would say to them, don't get discouraged. Of course, there are a few students who will say: "I told you so," but the majority will hang by you, cheer for you and pay for you, so do your best and remember, whatever luck you have, that you are our teams and we will all stand behind you.

ONE of the most important marks of progress in modern college life is the change of relation between faculty and students. The old idea that the class room was the only common ground of faculty and students is now exploded. Gradually they have been drawn to a closer relationship, until now there is no branch of the college of interest to the student which is not also of interest to the faculty. Naturally the most striking example of this may be found in athletics, where the faculty hold but little less interest than the students themselves.

Our development along this line has been rapid and it has been satisfactory. Our faculty has ever been ready with their aid and the interest they have evinced show they are in hearty sympathy with the student activities. It is fortunate that this feeling exists for it tends to establish a sort of good fellowship, which is valuable to both parties. When there is a better understanding between students and faculty there will be much less friction. Doubtless some of the acts of the faculty, which appear rather hard to us students, are necessary to the welfare of the college. A few times in the history of our college the faculty have debarred students from playing on 'varsity teams and, for this, have been severely criticised. We do not wish to express any radical opinion on this subject but would it not be wise, before accusing the faculty of lack of interest in college athletics, to look at the question from their standpoint. They have the welfare of the university at heart and, as everyone knows, it is necessary there be some restriction as to who shall represent the college in athletics. Certainly requiring students to have an average standing is not an arbitrary rule. The line must be drawn somewhere and, perhaps, this is as good a place as any. Once the rule is established it must not be broken. If the faculty make an exception in one man's case they must in another and then the object of the rule would be lost. We students are inclined to view this subject as it appears on the face while the faculty take a wider view of it. Let us not be too willing to criticise them harshly but put a little more thought on the subject ourselves.

Have you got your Prism yet?

The ground about the gym is being graded; the front being completed presents a good appearance and all that is necessary now to beautify its looks is a little green grass.

The Senior class have had their class numeral inscribed on the base of the gym. It is on the right hand side of the main entrance.

The Sophomores were much delighted to have the pleasure of opening the gym for the first time on Ivy Day eve. The hop was one of the most enjoyable events which have taken place this year, and we all hope in the future success of their newly established custom.

A. C. Jordan '03 has left college for the remainder of the term for the purpose of accepting a position with the Portland Railroad Co., Portland, Me.

A number of the Seniors have finished "Their Work" and are now anxiously awaiting Commencement.

Coach Mack did not return with the boys from Worcester but spent a few days at his home in Chelsea. He arrived here the following Wednesday.

A. R. Small '04 has left college and is working in Portland.

Since the return from Worcester the track team has been working hard and the men have been greatly encouraged by the crowd which gets out to watch them.

The students at the law school were entertained by Pres. Harris at his home on Wednesday evening, May 22.

The mosquitoes are with us again and sleepless nights are the result.

B. F. Faunce '01 went to Boston, May 27, on a business trip. He expects to return shortly before Commencement.

P. L. Nickerson '01, photographed the seniors and electrical students on May 24. The picture was taken on the steps of Wingate Hall.

The Debating society held a meeting Thursday evening for the purpose of electing officers for the year of 1902. The attendance was rather small but much interest was manifest in the selection of the following officers: P. E. McCarthy, President; R. E. Strickland, Vice President; R. C. Davis, Sec. and Treas.; M. C. Wiley, R. M. Snell and M. M. Blaisdell, Executive Committee.

Did the Freshmen attend the hop?

Owing to the bad weather on Friday evening the attendance at the dedication of the chapel was not as large as was expected.

The experiment station has recently added a new bi-polar shuntwound motor of one horse power. This motor was constructed by students at the machine shop.

There was a remnant sale of hats, caps, coats etc., at Oak Hall, Friday, May 17. The bidding was brisk at times.

On May 10 Prof. and Mrs. Harrington entertained all the students of the Latin department. Prof. Harrington leaves the 29th for Italy, where he will visit many historic places connected with Latin poetry.

Perley Palmer, '96, visited the campus recently.

Reginald Goodell, instructor in Modern Languages, leaves the 29th for an extended trip through France and Spain.

W. R. and M. J. Bartlett left Sunday for their homes in Montville, Maine. They will make the journey on their bicycles.

The annual meeting of the Art Guild was held May 15th at 4 o'clock in the Mt. Vernon parlors. The election of officers and appointing of the various committees for the coming year took place. The following are the newly elected officers: President, Prof. J. H. Huddilston; vice president, Mrs. M. H. Fernald, secretary C. L. Cole; treasurer, Mrs. K. P. Harrington. The report of the treasurer showed a balance of $2.64. The clause of the constitution was changed as follows: Instead of monthly meetings, meetings will be held on the third Wednesday of October, January, April and May. Plans were considered for the securing of the old gymnasium and the repairing of such so as to make a suitable place for the collection of the Guild. The Guild will hold a reception on the Monday night of commencement week.

The condition of the Guild at present is very prosperous. It has upward of 250 members. The nucleus of the Guild was started through the presentation to the university of ten pictures obtained by Dr. Harris' brother in Europe. In May, 1900, the first meeting was held and the officers elected. Since then meetings have been held every month. The collection at present consists of 41 framed pictures, photographs of famous masterpieces, 400 photographs relating to Florence and Venice, eight casts, a bust of Hernes, the gift of Eben Webster of Orono, two folios of prints and engravings, one the gift of Mrs. C. D. Woods of Orono. In all 1093 casts, pictures and prints.

In the department of Classics of the university there is a collection of 20 framed pictures in the Greek and Latin rooms in Wingate Hall, 440 slides of Greek and 300 of Roman antiquities, 200 photographs of Greek sculpture, 125 photographs of Roman antiquities. In all the department contains 1000 prints and casts, 300 photographs of classical art, 700 slides and 20 framed pictures. There is no college in Maine so well equipped as the University of Maine for the study of Greek and Roman art and antiquities.

Thomas E. Leary, '03, had the honor of being called upon to give the presentation speech at a flag raising at the Hampden Grammar school on May 16th. We understand, through the columns of the Bangor daily papers, that he performed the duties in a very creditable manner.

The members of Maine Alpha Chapter, Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity, held their annual smoker at Crocker's Hotel, Oldtown, on Saturday evening, May 25. The cigars were the gift of Lieut. D. T. Merrill, one of the founders of Maine Alpha and now serving with the U. S. army in the Philippines, and were sent from Manila expressly for this occasion.

The usual Ivy night scrap took place on the night of May 16, between the freshman and sophomore classes. Each class was well represented and the combatants were so evenly matched that for over an hour neither side could gain the victory. Back and forth they surged across Chipper's peony bed and a neighboring tennis court until freshmen and sophomores, with a goodly sprinkling of upper classmen, were in a general melee in which the fire hose attached to a hydrant played an important part. At length the sophomores appeared to be getting the best of the freshmen so the scrap was declared off by the upper classmen. Fortunately no serious injuries were sustained and but little ill will was expressed between the opponents. Perfect friendliness seemed to exist as both crowds of drenched and exhausted students "bunched up" together and finished the most exciting scrap ever seen on the campus by cheering lustily for Maine.

F. H. Lowell, '01, is spending his senior vacation at his home.

S. Clark, '01, is away on a ten days' fishing trip at Shin pond in Patten, Maine.

DR. RYLAND TO LEAVE.

The end of the present college year will see the departure of Dr. Garnet F. Ryland, assistant professor in the department of chemistry, for Converse College, Spartenburg, South Carolina, where he will be at the head of the chemical department of that institution.

University and the University of Chicago, receiving his Doctor's degree at Johns Hopkins in June, 1898. The following September he came to University of Maine as instructor in chemistry to succeed Dr. Allemen. The next year he was made assistant professor and was in charge of the department of chemistry in the absence of Prof. Aubert.

DR. GARNET F. RYLAND.

Dr. Ryland was graduated from Richmond College, Richmond, Va., in 1892, where he received the degree of M. A. For three years after graduation he taught in various high schools in Virginia, Tennessee and Kentucky. From 1895 to 1898 he attended Johns Hopkins

Converse College, where Dr. Ryland will hold the position of Professor of Chemistry, is the largest and one of the best colleges for women in the south. Although the institution has not been established for many years it is well endowed and is rapidly developing. The

IVY DAY EXERCISES.

The sophomore Ivy Day exercises were held May 17 in the chapel in Coburn Hall. The day was perfect and, indeed, who can remember an Ivy Day that has not been pleasant. The class was given an entire holiday, presumably to recover from the effects of the scrap the night before and to talk over their victory and it was evident the recess would have been most welcome to all the classes by the yawns and the small attendance at chapel.

The exercises were of the usual appropriate nature and began by the class marching into the chapel to music by Pullen's orchestra and led by the marshal, Frank McCullough. Those having parts took seats upon the platform and after a few words of welcome to the audience by the class president, Fred Collins, the following program was presented:

	Presentations.

Owing to accident, the presenter, Mr. R. E. Mullaney, was unable to appear. However, his part was read by Paul D. Simpson, who did it in a very creditable manner considering his half hour's notice. The prayer was short and simple. The oration was upon The Battle of Gettysburg and was listened to with much attention. The poem, usually the hardest part, was full of its subject and to the point. The history abounded in wit, was full of truth and was very complimentary to the class. The following gifts were presented and doubtless were very gratefully received:

"The Easy Man" was presented with a horse and wagon to assist him in keeping his appointments. The horse was warranted to be free from all faults most common to horses, and the carriage harmonized perfectly with the horse. Let us hope it proved to be of material aid to the recipient. "The Victim," who lost his "prelim" paper, was given a hammer and nails to nail them down with. No further trouble has been heard from in this quarter. "The Masher" received a song of advice, "Just Because She Made Those Goo-Goo Eyes." The advice was well meant, well taken and doubtless followed. A fine large nursing bottle was the "Baby's" gift. It was designed to stop the cry of "sour milk" so often heard in Oak Hall. We think it must have proved effectual as the "Baby" is getting fat and hearty.

After the presentations came the charge to the curator, R. E. Strickland. It outlined the duties of the curator in caring for the ivy. The class then marched over to the new gymnasium where occurred the ceremony of planting the ivy. Here the class gathered around the ivy and sang the class ode to the air of "Harvard, Fair Harvard." The ode was composed by Estelle M. Perry and was very pretty and sung with good execution. After singing the ode the company broke up and the boys commenced to prepare for evening.

The Ivy Night Hop that took place in the evening was a great success and a crowning glory to the day. It was held in the new gymnasium. The floor was in excellent condition; the music, Pullen's best, and the attendance large and select. What more could be desired for a good time? Let us hope it will prove a precedent worthy of being followed as no doubt it will. Many thanks are due Dr. Harris for his kindness in granting the Gym. when he had promised it to the Seniors for the first formal opening at Commencement. Great credit is due the committee who had it in charge. The unanimous verdict was: The most enjoyable affair of the season.

A recent issue of THE CAMPUS contained a short notice of the mission of Prof. Frank E. Emery to the Orient in the interests of the bureau of animal industries of the United States Department of Agriculture. In this issue it is the pleasure of the alumni department to give a more extended account of Prof. Emery's plans.

Prof. Frank E. Emery, for a number of years connected with the North Carolina Experiment Station as Professor of Agriculture, Live Stock and Dairying, has been commissioned by the dairy division of the bureau of animal industries, United States Department of Agriculture, to investigate the dairy interests in China, Japan and the Philippines.

He is to make a thorough study of the situation in the Orient and especially in our new possessions. His report is to have special reference to the increase of the sale of American dairy products in the countries he investigates. The investigation will require several months and Prof. Emery will have covered a wide range of territory. He is now in Washington and will leave there for China.

Prof. Emery is considered one of the most expert dairy specialists in the south and to his efforts is due the organization of the North Carolina Dairyman's Association and a number of other movements in the dairying interests of the state. He has also written a number of bulletins on the subject which have had a wide circulation. Mr. Emery was born in Fairfield 46 years ago. His boyhood was spent in East Skowhegan and Canaan, Maine.

Clarence B. Swan of the Star Printing Co., Old Town, Me., has returned from a few weeks' trip in the west where he has been in the interests of the Damon Perforator Co. of Old Town. Mr. Swan visited relatives in Minneapolis and made a short sojourn at Buffalo, inspecting the Pan-American Exposition on his return.

In an issue of the Boston Globe of recent date, an account was given of the presentation to Mr. William R. Butterfield of a watch and chain, by the employees of the Charlestown branch of construction crew of the new elevated street railway, of which he is one of the civil engineers. Mr. Butterfield has been very successful in his chosen profession and has worked hard to accomplish it. His home is in Milford, Me.

'94.

Leon O. Norwood who has been in Rockland for the past three years in the practice of his profession as civil engineer has closed his office at the court house of that place and gone to New Britain, Conn. He is employed at East Berlin as draughtsman by the Berlin branch of the American Bridge Co. His departure leaves a vacancy in the office of city engineer which he has filled for the past year in a very acceptable manner.

'98.

R. H. Manson has charge of the electric exhibit of the Kellogg Switchboard and Supply Co. of Chicago at the Pan-American Exposition. He has recently been in Scranton, Pa., assisting in making tests in long distance telephony. Mr. Manson, together with A. D. T. Libby, '98, has recently presented a thesis for an advanced degree. Their subject is "The Design and Equipment of a Central Telephone Exchange."

'99.

Harry H. Leathers has accepted a position as draughtsman at the office of the Boston Elevated R'y Co., Dept. M. P & M, 439 Albany St., Boston. Mr. Leathers' present address is 191 Broadway, Somerville, Mass.

EX-'01.

The marriage of Miss Olive Buck and Mr. Thomas S. Powers, both of Orono, took place at the residence of the bride's aunt, Mrs. William Heald on Mill street, Orono, Wednesday evening May 15, at 8 o'clock, in the presence of relatives and intimate friends. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. B. Dukeshire, pastor of the Methodist church. The couple left on the midnight train for a wedding tour to Boston.

THE NEW CHAPEL.

At last we are settled in our new chapel quarters. The last chapel in the old room was held May 20, at which Dr. Fernald gave a short address, in which he mentioned the growth of the chapel exercises since the college was founded. He spoke of the first chapel exercises ever held in this institution, which were conducted in a room in the building then known as White Hall, that now occupies the present site of Wingate Hall. At that first exercise, held one June morning in 1868, the student body was composed of twelve young men and the faculty consisted of Dr. Fernald and the farm superintendent. Chapel exercises were conducted in this building about twenty-two years, then changed to Fernald Hall and later to Coburn Hall. Dr. Fernald spoke feelingly of the great benefit these simple exercises had been to the institution and how, in the dark days of the early history of the college, he had turned in his hours of discouragement to the simple morning service for support and comfort.

The next morning the first chapel was held in the new building. The seniors, robed in caps and gowns, headed the student body and marched into the new chapel. Especial music was provided and after the usual exercises Dr. Harris gave a brief address on the relation of the morning devotional services to the progress of the institution and spoke particularly of the benefits of these exercises on our every day life.

On the evening of May 24 the dedication of the new building took place in the chapel. There were addresses given by Dr. Harris, Mr. Jones and General Runkle, treating of the influence of the building on the various departments of the college. Mr. Jones spoke for the athletic interests and General Runkle for the military. The musical part of the program was also very good and consisted of an organ prelude by Prof. Harrington, a vocal solo by Mrs. Huddilston and several selections by Mr. Morton and the Glee Club. Quite a large audience was present and an enjoyable evening was passed.

MILITARY.

Work in the military department is progressing quite rapidly and each afternoon at 4.30 o'clock sees the old familiar sight of students at drill. Of course, it has been so long since there has been any drill here that there were no officers capable of drilling the lower classes, so the first thing necessary was to select some officers.

The students who are to be the officers have been selected but the appointments will not be decided upon until later. There will be eleven commissioned officers from the present junior class and three commissioned and all the non-commissioned officers from the sophomore class. The freshman, sophomore, and probably the junior class will be required to drill next year. It is the plan of General Runkle to get his officers under way this spring so he can begin the regular drill early next fall. The battalion will number about 260 men, thus leaving an ample margin for the athletic and Glee Club men. The uniforms will be changed to the regular United States military uniform of dark blue with black braid trimmings.

There will be the word "Maine" on the collar of the blouse and U. M. on the cap. It is hoped the guns can be exchanged for a more modern pattern but this is doubtful at present.

Apparently military drill will get well settled again next year and, without doubt, it will be one of the best things that could happen to the University, for it will improve the athletic teams and musical clubs, besides being of great benefit to the men actually engaged in the drill. General Runkle bids fair to be one of the most popular instructors in the University and it is expected the military department, under his instruction, will be an honor to the institution and to all who are connected with it. It certainly will be if we follow the General's advise: "To be good officers and soldiers you must first be perfect gentlemen."

ATHLETICS.

MASSACHUSETTS TRIP.

Monday, May 13, the baseball team started on a trip to Massachusetts, where they played games with Amherst Agricultural, Amherst and Tufts and on their return played Bowdoin at Brunswick. Manager Davis took with him the following men: Chase, Dorticos, Russell, Batchelder, Holmes, Ross, Webber, Davis, Carr, Stephens, substitute. Coach McGill met the team at Brunswick and accompanied them on the trip, returning with them. Throughout the trip the team had hard luck and did not succeed in winning a game. Following is a brief account of the games played at this writing:

U. of M., 9; M. A. C., 13.

On May 14 the Massachusetts Agriculture College team proved too much for our boys and we were easily defeated. The game was loose and uninteresting and the only feature was the batting. Both teams hit well although Bodfish for "Aggie" struck out five and Ross for our team 8. The score by innings:

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
M. A. C.....	1	1	4	0	2	1	0	4	x	13-13-8
U. of M.....	0	1	2	5	0	0	0	0	1	9-8-7

Batteries—Ross and Chase; Bodfish and Cook.

U. of M., 1; Amherst, 3.

May 15, U. of M. was again defeated but only after a very close and hotly contested game. Kane, a new man, pitched for Amherst and Webber for our team. The game was very well played but our team was unable to bunch their hits and succeeded in getting but one run.

Score by innings:

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
Amherst.....	0	2	0	0	1	0	0	0	x	3
U. of M.....	1	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	1

Runs made by Carr, Hawley, Sturgis, Dunleavy. Two base hits, Davis, Sturgis. Stolen bases, Shay, Carr. Bases on balls, by Kane, Batchelder, Ross; by Webber, Hawley, Couch, Kane, Chase. Struck out by Kane, 9; by Webber, 5. Sacrifice hit, Webber. Double play, Webber, Carr and Dorticos. Passed ball, Chase. Umpire, Larkin. Time, 2 h.

U. of M., 6; Tufts, 15.

Tufts easily defeated our team May 16 in a walkover of 15 to 6. We were unable to do very much with Tufts. The playing on both sides was rather poor and the only striking feature was the fielding by Dorticos and Davis. Tufts' fielders made some costly errors but they bunched their hits well while U. of M. made scattered hits.

Score by innings:

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
U. of M.....	0	0	3	0	1	0	1	1	0	6-12-7
Tufts.....	2	2	0	0	1	4	0	1	5	15-13-2

Batteries—Webber and Chase; Clay and Fiske.

U. of M., 6; Bowdoin, 12.

The hard luck and series of errors which our team picked up on their Massachusetts trip followed them to Brunswick, where they were defeated by Bowdoin May 18. There is no question that Bowdoin has the strongest batting team that our team has played against this season and, although our boys made some costly errors in the field, the chief reason of their easy defeat was the hard hitting of Bowdoin. The game was very interesting and watched by a large crowd. The chief feature of the game was a home run for Bowdoin by Harvey, who also got a three base hit and made some star plays in the field. The full score follows:

U. of M., 9; Fort Preble, 0.

U. of M. easily defeated the visiting soldiers from Fort Preble May 22. The home team played a very clean, pretty game, making but one error and that not a bad one. The visiting team were weak in batting and fielding and could do but little with Webber's curves. Following is the score by innings:

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
U. of M.....	0	1	4	1	0	1	2	0	x-9
Fort Preble.....	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0

U. of M., 7; Bowdoin, 8.

U. of M. lost her first game on the home grounds to Bowdoin Saturday, May 25. It was one of the most exciting games witnessed here for a long time. The story is easily told. The team's loss was on account of its weakness in base running and in lack of judgment at times when scores were possible. To be sure, Bowdoin made eight errors to U. of M. five but their base running was of a gilt edged type. A number of the home team's scores were due to errors by Bowdoin's pitcher.

Oakes, the celebrated freshman twirler, occupied the box for Bowdoin and his slow and varying delivery kept our boys guessing continually. He pitched a good game, barring his wild throws to first. Blanchard, a snappy little player, who looked most too small to play ball, caught and batted in excellent style. The visitors certainly have a winning team and though their playing was loose at times this defect was made up by their ability to hit safely.

Webber pitched for the home team and put up a hard fight for the game but his support was not by any means of the highest order. The outfield, with the exception of right, is remarkably strong and everything that appeared in that region was rapidly disposed of by "Batch" or Holmes. Holmes is nothing short of a wonder. Anyone who watched Saturday's game and saw his two phenomenal catches, will vouch for that. Russell played a good game at first, getting two hits and a sacrifice. But individual playing cannot win a game as we found to our sorrow. The team did not pull together well enough to make the star playing of a few men mean victory. In the last half of the ninth inning the score was 7 to 8 in Bowdoin's favor and Main's last chance at the bat. Hopkins was struck out, Dorticos sent an easy to Parker, who threw to first wild and Dorticos circled to third and here the game was lost. Before the game began the umpire announced his intention to call all balls that went into the crowd on the sidelines blocked. This ball went cleanly through the crowd but being regarded as blocked by all Dorticos was coached home and caught at the plate. The umpire called the ball not blocked and with men on bases and the hardest hitters at the bat the game was done. Undoubtedly, if this mistake had not occurred the game would have been ours. The score is as follows:

THE INTERSCHOLASTIC MEET.

The first annual interscholastic athletic meet to be held under the auspices of the University of Maine Athletic Association was held on the athletic field Saturday afternoon, May 18, the contesting teams being the athletic teams from Brewer, Orono and Oldtown high schools with a total of forty-eight entries.

Invitations were sent out to the high schools throughout the entire eastern part of the state to take part in this meet but as most of them, not being prepared to sent representatives, only the three above named schools took part. It is the intentions to hold such a meet each year for the purpose of creating an interest among the fitting schools in track athletics, and several schools in this section will send teams to take part in the meet next year. The first attempt proved a great success and far excelled the anticipation of the managers and some very interesting meets of this kind are to be looked forward to.

The events were run off in good order and although it was rather one sided it was interesting throughout. Brewer won the meet with a total of 107 points. Oldtown came second with 18 points and Orono third with a total of 9 points.

The mile run was the prettiest event of the list. Only two men were entered, Norward of Brewer and Sewall of Oldtown. Both men ran in good form and were very evenly matched. Norward won out with a time of five minutes and fourteen seconds, lowering the present college record by two-fifths of a second. Following is the summary by points:

WHY

are policies in the Equitable Life Assurance Society to be preferred to those of ANY other Company?

BECAUSE the Equitable is the strongest life company in the world, having over $66,000,000 of Surplus, and BECAUSE Surplus means not only financial strength, but is also the fund from which dividends to policyholders are paid.

BECAUSE the policies of the Equitable are paid more promptly than those of any other company.

BECAUSE you don't have to die to win.

A Men's Wear Store.

If we had to live off men's wear alone, we couldn't sell men's furnishings at the prices we do. We keep a men's wear store, however governed by the dry goods store idea. In Men's Underwear, Hosiery, Neckwear, Dress and Fancy Shirts, etc., we carry those sensible lines that men appreciate, and we sell them at economical dry goods prices.

Men's Suit Cases at About Half.

Comfort and Coolness.

Comfortable Summer Underwear, Men's Suits and drawers to keep cool in. We have a word to say about that sort. One can't keep cool when crawling underwear plays ragtime with his nerves. We have a special make of balbriggan for hot weather wear. You can keep cool in it with comfort.
