EDITORIALS.

THE Commencement exercises, which have been held during the last few days, marked the close of a history making year for the University of Maine. Progress has not been made along a few lines only but in nearly every branch of the college there has been a very noticeable improvement. Readers of THE CAMPUS already know of the increase in number of the student body, of the new buildings and apparatus and of the success of the different organizations. We are proud of the prosperity of our college and of our share in its success for the past year. All that is history now, however, and we must look to the duties the present brings forth. Whether we are going forth from our college home for the last time or whether we return in a few short months for further preparation before beginning our life work we should not forget that we each should do our part to make the success of the college as great in the next year as it has been in the past.

THE work of a modern college paper does not seem to be entirely to furnish the news of the day but also to give a complete record of the college events. It has been the aim of the editors of THE CAMPUS to make this issue contain a fairly complete record of Commencement week events. It was also thought that a brief summary of the doings of the principal college organizations for the past year would be of interest. Considerable pains has, therefore, been taken to make the records as complete as possible and authentic. It is hoped this issue will meet the demands of the readers and give a little aid in following the work in the different departments of the college for the past year.

BACCALAUREATE ADDRESS.

The Baccalaureate Address was delivered in the chapel by Dr. W. H. Jordan, director of the New York Experiment Station, Geneva, N. Y. Dr. Jordan spoke of the new chapel and its relations to the every day life of the student. He spoke briefly of the great benefits of a college education and of the power it gives a man. A large part of the address was devoted to pointing out some of the ways in which college graduates could use their influence to lessen the evils of the day. Considerable emphasis was laid on the importance of deciding rightly the moral questions which come up day by day, and the moral duties of a man in these cases were clearly pointed out. Dr. Jordan finished the address by congratulating the graduating class and giving them words of encouragement and advice. The address from beginning to end was interesting and well delivered and was closely followed by the listeners. Especial music was furnished for the occasion and consisted of an organ voluntary and selections by Mr. Morton and the Glee Club.

CONVOCATION.

The convocation exercises were held in the new chapel Monday morning at 10 o'clock. After conducting the usual chapel exercises Dr. Harris gave an introductory address in which he said that this occasion was set apart for the purpose of saying pleasant and sunshiny things and that no one was to dwell on the dark side of his subject. This address was short but witty and closed by introducing Dr. O. F. Lewis, who delivered the university history. This history was the best thing of the exercises in the way of jokes. It handled the year's history of the college in a humorous sort of way which was very interesting. At times pithy jokes were cracked on other members of the faculty which added to the general laughter.

Dr. Harris then introduced Prof. Walz, of the Law school, who gave a brief talk on education and the different conceptions of learning. Prof. Walz also told several humorous stories and kept his hearers well interested. At the close of his address he was greeted with a hearty applause.

General Runkle was the next speaker and represented the Military department. He spoke of the difficulty in giving an address about military matters when there had been no military department here for the last few years, and in a witty way drew a comparison between the people of Kentucky and the people of Maine. He told of his experiences in other colleges and complimented U. of M. very highly in her buildings, situation and prosperity.

Dr. Harris now introduced Mrs. Huddilston, who sang "Confession" in a very pleasing manner. After this solo Dr. Harris called on the following undergraduates, who gave a short review of the work done during the past year. S. E. Woodbury, for the Y. M. C. A.; F. H. H. Bogart, for THE CAMPUS; A. E. Silver, for the Musical Clubs; W. R.

Bartlett, for the Fraternities; Miss G. S. Fraser, for the Women; G. E. Goodwin, for the Athletics.

The list of prize winners was announced as follows: Junior Prize Themes, Henry Ernest Cole; Sophomore Declamation Prize, Thomas Edward Leary; Walter Balentine Prize, awarded to that member of the junior class who shall excel in biological chemistry, Arthur Brookhouse Foster; Libby Prize, awarded for best essay on an agricultural topic, LeRoy Harris Harvey; Franklin Danforth Prize, awarded to senior attaining the highest standing in the agricultural course, Lewis Robinson Cary; Kidder Scholarship, to be awarded to a member of the junior class, was equally divided between Amy S. Maxfield and Estelle M. Perry.

After the prizes were awarded medals were given to members of the track team who had won points in the intercollegiate meet. P. E. McCarthy made the presentations.

Dr. Harris then called on Prof. Flint to come forward and stated the deep interest Prof. Flint had taken in the new chapel and how much the success of its erection was due to him. Prof. Flint received rounds of applause which showed how much his hard work was appreciated.

General honors were announced as follows: Mark J. Bartlett, Wales R. Bartlett, Fred H. H. Bogart, Oscar M. Bixby, Thomas Buck, George H. Davis, Elsie E. Fitzgerald, Gertrude L. Fraser, George E. Goodwin, Clifford D. Harvey, LeRoy H. Harvey, Herbert H. Leonard.

Special honors were given to Mark J. Bartlett in Economics; Thomas Buck in Physics and Mathematics, twice; Lewis R. Cary in Biology; George H. Davis in Physics; Benjamin F. Faunce in Physics; Clifford D. Harvey in Physics; LeRoy H. Harvey in Biology, twice, of the senior class, and of Henry W. Chadbourne in Mathematics; Henry E. Cole in Mathematics; Walter H. Eldridge in Mathematics; Wesley C. Elliott in Physics; Henry C. French in Physics; Horace P. Hamlin in Physics; Marie C. Rice in Physics; Arthur B. Foster in Chemistry, of the junior class.

Dr. Harris then made a few remarks in closing.

JUNIOR PRIZE SPEAKERS.

H. E. COLE.

EDITH M. BLAISDELL.

P. E. MCCARTHY.

H. C. FRENCH.

H. W. SEWALL.

W. C. ELLIOTT.

A large audience was present at the annual junior prize theme contest, which was held in the chapel of the new drill hall on Saturday evening, June 8th. This was the opening of the Commencement exercises and will be remembered by all who attended as a very successful beginning.

The stage was tastily decorated with palms and potted plants and together with its surroundings presented a pretty scene. President A. W. Harris presided and after a selection by Pullen's orchestra introduced the first speaker, Patrick Edward McCarthy, who chose for his subject, "Individual Responsibility in Politics."

Mr. McCarthy gave a brief history of the government for the last century. He said: "There are a few who say we have already reached the highest form of government. They point to the founders of this republic and contrast them with the able men of today. No President in our history was so publicly denounced as was Lincoln just previous to the opening of the war. We have just as good, able and far-seeing men today as we had years ago." He said there should be no prejudice in politics against either the poor or rich; that religious preferences should have no place in European politics and, finally, that we should take our part in politics as it exists today instead of criticising those who take an active part.

The next speaker was Henry Carter French, whose theme was: "The Evils of Our Cities as a Menace to Our Nation." He said that our cities was the nerve centers of our civilization. They are the place where all the great questions are originated and that they are rapidly increasing in population. That there is always a greater evil in cities than in any other place and that these evils exist among the poor as well as among the rich. Mr. French devoted much time to New York politics and a brief history of Tammany. He said that better men were needed to run our city governments.

At the close of the second speech another selection was given by the orchestra, at the end of which Miss Edith Mac Buzzell gave her theme, "The Influence of Music." This influence, she said, was one of the greatest powers of the world and was very strong in early ages. She said that men are largely under the control of music and that the whole human race was, to a certain extent, controlled by music. At the close of her speech she was presented with a large bunch of roses.

The next theme was that of Henry Ernest Cole, entitled, "The Twentieth Century, its Progress and its Needs." Mr. Cole spoke for some time on the progress brought about by the formation of trusts. He said that the great problems of today must be settled by the young men. The world does not owe us a living; and we must work hard to get it.

After another selection by Pullen's orchestra Herbert Willis Sewell gave his theme, the subject of which was, "A Silent Voice." He gave much time to the character and life of Nathan Hale. He gave a very interesting account of Hale's entrance through the Tory lines while disguised as a country schoolmaster and he also gave a story of the hanging of Nathan Hale. His theme was listened to with much interest.

The last speaker was Wesley Claredon Elliott, who spoke on the "Mission of War." He said that war was one of the agencies which affected progress. He said that our present happiness and civilization was brought about by war. That Christianity was also necessary to have happiness; that the former always followed the sword. War solved the problem of slavery and that has also blessed us in our undertakings and today we are the happiest people in the civilized world.

Another selection by Pullen's orchestra was given and this closed the exercises for the evening.

CLASS DAY EXERCISES.

The class day exercises were held in the chapel Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Pullen's orchestra furnished music, to which the senior class marched in, headed by the two marshals. When at the end of the centre aisle they divided and ascended to the stage from both sides. After the roll call the members were seated. Prayer was then offered by Rev. J. J. Lewis of Boston and after a selection by Pullen's orchestra the following program was carried out:

History..... Wales R. Bartlett

Oration..... Alson H. Robinson
Prophecy... LeRoy H. Harvey

Address to Undergraduates.....
..... George H. Davis
Valedictory..... Thomas Buck

CLASS OFFICERS.

President—Fred L. Martin.

First Vice President—Charles W. Bartlett.

Second Vice President—George H. Davis.

Secretary—John H. Bixby.

Treasurer—Lewis G. Varney.

Marshal—Samuel D. Thompson.

Second Marshal—Charles W. Bartlett.

Odists—Maurice B. Merrill.

Executive Committee—George H. Davis, LeRoy H. Harvey, Fred H. H. Bogart, Wilbert A. Libby, Charles W. Bartlett.

The chapel was beautifully decorated with ferns and evergreens and a large audience was present.

The history by W. R. Bartlett was written after the style of the first book of Cæsar's Gallic War and was an original and ingenious device. Mr. Bartlett brought in many of the achievements of the class and in a humorous way alluded to the doings of some of its members. It was a very interesting history and much enjoyed by the listeners.

The poem by Miss Gertrude L. Fraser was well written and delivered with a delicacy of expression which was very pleasing.

The Emancipation of Humanity was the subject of Mr. Robinson's oration. Mr. Robinson's address was listened to with interest and showed that much time and thought had been put on it.

The prophecy was very nicely written and reflected much credit to Mr. Harvey. It was chiefly newspaper clippings which were supposed to have been taken from the leading paper through a period of many years after graduation. Strange and wonderful things were told of the doings of some of the members.

The address to undergraduates by Mr. G. H. Davis was a very peculiar and interesting one. It was written in a fanciful style and was a comparison between some of our customs and the customs of a Utopian college. Toward the close of the address Mr. Davis made the following startling statement: "When the psalmist said all men were liars he meant you, ye undergraduates." The peculiar way in which the address was handled made it of unusual interest.

The valedictory was very good and Mr. Buck put much feeling and expression in this farewell address.

After singing the class ode each member of the class smoked the pipe of peace. This pipe is one of the most beautiful to be found and is to be kept in the university and handed down from year to year and each class is to engrave its numerals on it.

Following are the members of the graduating class: Chas. W. Bartlett, Wales R. Bartlett, Mark J. Bartlett, John H. Bixby, O. Merrill Bixby, William H. Boardman, Fred H. H. Bogart, Thomas Buck, Lewis R. Cary, Samuel Clark, LeRoy H. Harvey, Ernest J. Howe, Henry P. Hoyt, Percy R. Keller, Herbert H. Leonard, Frank H. Lowell, Bertrand C. Martin, Fred L. Martin, Maurice B. Merrill, Charles A. Mitchell, Arthur L. Cobb, Fred M. Davis, George H. Davis, Benjamin F. Faunce, Elsie E. Fitzgerald, Harry W. Folsom, Gertrude L. Fraser, George E. Goodwin, Emily Hamlin, Clifford D. Harvey, Harry C. Pritham, Alson H. Robinson, Mowry Ross, Samuel D. Thompson, Lewis G. Varney, Thomas H. Ward, Ernest L. Watson, Frank E. Watts, Stephen E. Woodbury, Ralph G. Wormell.

Prof Gowell expects to spend the summer abroad.

The delegates to the Y. M. C. A. at Northfield are H. E. Cole, R. F. Chandler and A. R. Benner.

The book being published by the Phi Gamma Delta men is now in the press. It is expected out about July 1.

The engagement is announced of Fred L. Martin, '01, and Miss Lillian M. Kane of Bluehill. Miss Kane has made her home at Madison, Ind., for the past two years. Mr. Martin has been a very prominent man in college. Among the important college offices he has held is manager of the track team, manager of Prism and class president. His many college friends wish him success.

T. H. Ward, '01, expects to enter the employment of the Metropolitan Street Railway Co. in New York city.

Ralph M. Connor has been appointed editor-in-chief of 1903 Prism and has for assistant editors, Miss Amy Maxfield, W. L. Cole, Thomas E. Leary, Alfred Jordan, Fred Collins, Sanford C. Dinsmore and H. A. Smith. The artist is Harold V. Sheahan and B. W. Goodwin is business manager. It is the intention of the board to make the issue of the next Prism the best and most attractive book ever put out by any junior class. There is no reason why this cannot be done, for no pains have been spared in the choosing of the board which is composed of the ablest members of the class and many have had practice in work similar to that which is now entrusted to them. The one wish of THE CAMPUS is:

"Success to 1903 Prism."

The college office was removed to its new quarters in the Drill Hall shortly before commencement.

At a recent business meeting of the Musical Clubs J. H. Hinchliffe was elected manager and Arthur E. Silver secretary for the ensuing year.

Prof. Monson will be back to college next year. He has recently been elected to membership in the Sigma Chi fraternity at Cornell.

B. F. Larrabee, '03, will play baseball on the Oldtown team during the summer. He has been elected captain of the team.

The baseball team made a trip to St. John where it played two games with the St. John's team. It succeeded in winning one of the games. But a few of the 'varsity men went on the team.

The alumni ball game was not played owing to an indisposition on the part of the alumni.

F. H. Davis, '01, and F. L. Martin, '01, have employment with the Kellog Switchboard Co. of Chicago.

The chief officers of the Athletic association for the next year are: President, A. F. Wheeler; vice president, S. C. Dinsmore; secretary, Fred Collins.

The doubles in the tennis tournament were won by T. C. Herbert and G. T. Stewart. The winner of the singles was Carlos Dorticos. A very good interest in tennis has been shown this spring.

Allen Rogers, who graduated from here in class '97 and was assistant instructor in chemistry for three years, has recently returned from U. of P., where he has been taking post graduate work. Last year Mr. Rogers won a fellowship amounting to his year's tuition and five hundred dollars.

COMMENCEMENT.

Although the heavy rain of Wednesday morning had an effect on the attendance at the graduating exercises of the class of 1901, University of Maine, the new college chapel in the armory building was crowded when, at 11 o'clock, Marshal Samuel D. Thompson of Bangor headed the procession of gowned graduates for the seats reserved for them.

A big corps of Pullen's men was in the organ loft, and they played while the relatives and friends of the class were gathering. The temporary chancel of the chapel was banked with a great profusion of flowers and green stuff, and at the front there was a large card bearing the numerals 1901. Dr. Harris, president of the university, occupied a massive chair in the center of the chancel and at either side of him were Hon. Henry Lord, president of the board of trustees, and Prof. Huddilston of the faculty.

The program was as follows:

Conferring of Degrees.

Music.

The procession of graduates had formed in the armory and marched down the center aisle of the chapel to the four front tiers of seats. There were with the regular graduates, the men who were to receive special degrees, and the graduates of the law school; they relieved the monotony of dullness in the black gowns and caps, with the brilliant hoods that are the reward of graduate degree. Dr. Harris wore the tremendous scarlet hood of doctor of laws, and carried it gracefully.

Scattered through the audience were many dignitaries, members of the board of trustees

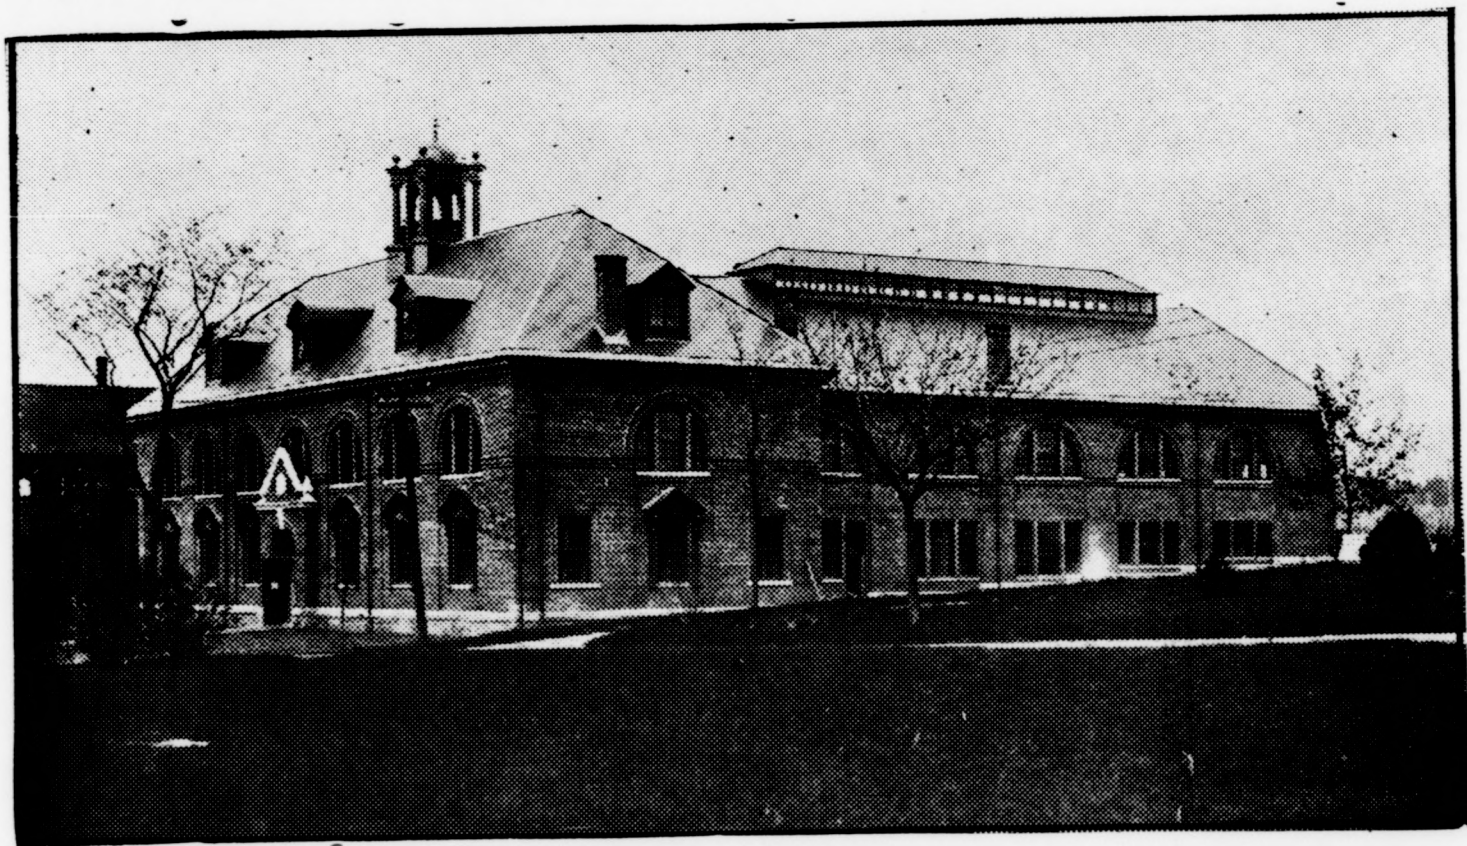

Following a selection by the orchestra, the degrees were formally conferred by Dr. Harris upon the candidates as follows:

and state officials, who were most obviously pleased at the manifestation of strength that was made in every part of the exercises. They were so glad that their faces fairly shone, over the fact that the little Maine state college had grown to a big university, and that it was going ahead with long leaps, with a splendid man at the helm.

The speakers, without exception, delivered their parts in a very creditable manner and were listened to with much attention by the audience.

Graduate in Pharmacy—William Bryant Webster (1899).

Pharmaceutical Chemist—George Pearson Larrabee (1900).

Directly following the exercises in the chapel, the alumni of the university marched to the drill hall where the alumni dinner was held at 1.30 o'clock. The president of the institution and the trustees, with the principal speakers, occupied the seats of honor.

The great floor of the drill hall was crowded with the enthusiastic sons of their alma mater, and friends of the institution and the well served courses were interspersed with the narration of college yarns and tales of pranks of younger days.

Among the toasts given: Prof. Estabrook spoke for the faculty, Prof. Walz for the Law school, Dr. Fernald for the three college presidents, Mr. Butler for Law school students and Mr. Martin for the senior class.

THE TRUSTEE MEETING.

At the commencement meeting of the board of trustees which was attended by all the members excepting Hon. E. B. Winslow of Portland, who is on a trip to the Pan-American exposition, considerable business of importance was transacted.

A vote of thanks was passed to Mrs. Helen W. Hubbard, Mrs. Martha W. Cram, Mrs. Ada W. Wyman, Mrs. Florence W. Bragg and Mrs. Agnes W. Treat of Bangor for a portrait of the late Hon. Wm. P. Wingate, presented to the university to be hung in Wingate hall. The trustees adopted a resolution, in which they spoke of Mr. Wingate as having served the university with zeal and marked efficiency in the days of its weakness, and deserving to be remembered as one of its founders and benefactors.

It was voted to organize as a department in the university a school of mines, and the president was instructed to secure a professor in mining engineering as soon as funds may be available for such position. This vote was taken in the expectation of early action upon the part of the United States government, providing for the maintenance of a school of mines.

It was voted to give the new drill hall and gymnasium the name Alumni Hall. Provision was made for the purchase of a full equipment of gymnasium apparatus.

The request of the Art Guild to be allowed the use of the old gymnasium as an art building was granted. Action was taken which looks toward the erection of two new fraternity houses.

The trustees adopted a resolution accepting the resignation of A. W. Price, instructor in the school of law, and expressed their regret at his illness.

Certain changes were made in the student military uniform. Among these is the doing away with the old brass buttons, which served as a mark for sharp shooters. An action was taken which it is believed will materially reduce the cost of the uniform.

The State Dairymen's association was invited to elect a representative to serve upon the station council. The commissioner of agriculture was elected a member of the station council.

CHANGES IN FACULTY.

Ass't Prof. Orlando Faulkland Lewis, Ph. D., was elected professor of Modern Languages.

Dr. Gilbert A. Boggs was elected instructor in chemistry. Mr. Boggs is a graduate of the University of Georgia, in 1898; has been a graduate student in the University of Pennsylvania in '99-'01, and received the degree of Doctor of Philosophy this spring.

H. S. Boardman, C. E., was elected instructor in Civil Engineering. Mr. Boardman is a graduate of the University of Maine, 1895; was a graduate student at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, 1895-96; tutor in drawing, U. of M., 1896-99; structural draughtsman and designer for the Union Bridge Co., 1899-1900; same for Phoenix branch of the American Bridge Co., 1900-1901.

F. H. Vose, B. M. E., was promoted from tutor in mechanical engineering to be instructor in mechanical engineering.

George Harold Davis, B. S., 1901, was appointed tutor in electrical engineering.

W. Owen Sypherd, M. A., was appointed tutor in English and German. Mr. Sypherd was born in Wilmington, Del., and is a graduate of Delaware college, 1896; entered University of Pennsylvania in 1898 and graduated in 1900; entered Harvard Graduate school, 1900; will take degree M. A., 1901.

Frank H. Mitchell, a graduate of the university in 1900, was promoted from assistant to be tutor in chemistry.

Dr. Thomas W. Britcher was appointed assistant zoologist in the Experiment station. Dr. Britcher is a graduate of Syracuse university in 1899; has spent several years in post-graduate work in biology at Johns Hopkins university; has been assistant in biology at Johns Hopkins university, and for the past three years assistant in biology at Syracuse university.

W. R. Pattangall, B. S., was appointed instructor in law. Mr. Pattangall was a member of the class of 1884, University of Maine; principal of Machiasport High school for two years; admitted to the bar of Washington county in 1893, and has been a recognized leader of that bar; was a member of the legislature in 1897 and 1901.

E. A. Simpson, B. A., was appointed instructor in the school of law. Mr. Simpson is a native of Charlestown, Mass.; fitted for college at Lincoln academy; was graduated at Bowdoin college in 1894; was principal of Gould academy for one year; has been a teacher in the Bangor High school; admitted to the bar in 1897.

Lewis R. Cary, of the class of '01, University of Maine, was appointed assistant in biology.

The president was authorized to appoint an instructor in modern languages, an assistant in physics and an assistant in mechanical engineering.

CONCERT AND BALL.

The concert and ball given by the graduating class Wednesday evening proved to be an enjoyable occasion. The concert was held in the chapel and consisted of selections by Pullen's orchestra of eighteen pieces and singing by Stephen Townsend, of Boston. Mr. Townsend has a powerful voice and greatly pleased his listeners. The following program, together with several encores was carried out. Overture—Morning, Noon and Night, Suppe Zamona, Intermezzo.....Leraine Pullen's Orchestra.

"Ocasto fiore"Massenet Stephen Townsend.

Selection—"San Toy,"Jones The Mice and the Trap, (Descriptive) Kochler Pullen's Orchestra.

(a) "Morning Hymn"Henschei

(b) "Serenade"Raff

(c) Wake Not, but Hear Me Love, Townsend Stephen Townsend.

Under the Balcony*Gruczwald* Love's Dream After the Ball.....Czibulka String Orchestra.

The Sword of Ferrata.....Bullard Stephen Townsend.

The Spirit of Liberty*Sousa* Pullen's Orchestra.

The commencement ball was held in the gymnasium and was all that could be desired. The floor was in excellent condition and the large number of electric lamps lighted the room perfectly. The floor was well occupied with dancers in evening dress while on the running track above seats were placed accommodating a large number of spectators. The hall was handsomely decorated and when filled with the brilliantly dressed people presented a scene long to be remembered. Music was furnished by Pullen's orchestra of eighteen pieces.

PHI KAPPA PHI.

The initiation to Phi Kappa Phi was held in the chapel at 9.30 Tuesday. At the initiation ceremony many of the old alumni were present and occupied seats at right angles with the desk. Dr. M. C. Fernald was master of ceremonies and he was assisted by Prof. A. E. Rogers, president of the local chapter, and Prof. J. S. Stevens, registrar general of the fraternity. The seniors who were initiated were conducted into the chapel by Prof. J. H. Huddilston, who was marshal of the ceremonies. The new initiatory ceremonies were used. The seniors initiated were: W. R. Bartlett, Miss G. L. Fraser, H. H. Leonard, Thomas Buck, L. H. Harvey, G. E. Goodwin, C. D. Harvey, F. H.

H. Bogart, O. M. Bixby and G. H. Davis from the university proper and T. C. Butler and N. G. Foster from the Law school.

The public was admitted to the initiation ceremonies and after they were concluded the visitors were asked to retire as a business meeting followed.

At this meeting the following officers were chosen: Pres. J. N. Hart; vice president, J. H. Huddilston; secretary, C. L. Cole; treasurer, K. P. Harrington.

Among the alumni of the fraternity present were: Prof. R. H. Fernald, Paul D. Sargent, W. T. Brastow, Prof. J. N. Hart, Ora W. Knight, Prof. L. H. Merrill, Librarian R. K.

The fraternity of Phi Kappa Phi was founded one year ago and at present consists of three chapters, the University of Maine, the University of Tennessee and Pennsylvania State college. The officers of the fraternity are the presidents of these colleges and Prof. J. S. Stevens of the University of Maine, who is registrar general of the fraternity. The motto of the fraternity is "A love of learning to all mankind."

FRATERNITY RECEPTIONS

Tuesday Afternoon, June 11.

BETA THETA PHI.

The University of Maine Chapter of Beta Theta Phi gave their annual reception to their friends at their chapter house on Tuesday afternoon from 3 until 6 o'clock. The house was beautifully decorated with palms, ferns and potted plants. Eight pieces of Pullen's orchestra from Bangor furnished the music and the reception committee was as follows: Samuel D. Thompson, Mrs. John F. Hill, Mrs. Walter Ross, Mrs. Harry A. Chapman, Mrs. George T. Thatcher, Mrs. Ralph K. Jones, Mrs. Alden P. Webster. Light refreshments were served in the dining hall during the afternoon and a pleasant time enjoyed.

AT THE KAPPA HOUSE.

The interior of the Kappa Sigma house was a mass of evergreens. In the parlor the receiving committee was stationed. It consisted of Mrs. Karl P. Harrington of Orono, Mrs. F. A. Sawyer of Bangor, Mrs. Storer W. Thaxter of Bangor, Amy I. Briggs of Orono, Miss Louise Sargent of Bangor and Harry M. Carr, '02, and George H. Davis, '01, for the chapter. Seven members of Pullen's orchestra furnished good music in the hall and hundreds of guests from Bangor and the neighboring towns were present. In the dining room refreshments were served.

PHI GAMMA DELTA.

The Phi Gamma Delta fraternity received many friends at its chapter house. The house was elaborately decorated with ferns and plants. The reception committee, consisting of Mrs. G. H. Hamlin, Mrs. H. M. Estabrook, Mrs. F. L. Harvey, Mrs. N. H. Martin, Mrs. C. A. Belcher, B. C. Martin and L. S. Harvey, was stationed in the parlor and received the guests. The visitors were ushered in by the members of the chapter. Music was furnished by several members of the fraternity.

THE ALPHA RECEPTION.

The members of the local chapter of the Alpha Tau Omega fraternity received their friends at their chapter house, Orono, from 4 to 6 o'clock. The recent improvements in the house have rendered it more fit for social affairs of this kind and the Alphas took advantage of the opportunity and did themselves proud on Tuesday afternoon. The house is one of the finest in Orono and was beautifully decorated. The following received: Mrs. P. J. Douglass, Mrs. H. A. Hooper, Mrs. J. S. Stevens, W. H. Caswell and P. R. Keller.

PRESIDENT'S RECEPTION.

By far the most elaborate reception of the week was given by President Harris at his home on the campus Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock. The lawn in front of the house was entirely surrounded by Japanese lanterns and presented a very beautiful appearance. A large number of Bangor and Orono people were present at the reception besides the alumni, who were already in Orono. The receiving committee consisted of Dr. and Mrs. Harris, Hon. Henry Lord, president of the board of trustees, and Mrs. Lord and Dr. and Mrs. Fernald. Light refreshments were served during the evening. Music was furnished by Wasgatt's string quartet.

UNIVERSITY GUILD RECEPTION.

The University Guild reception was held at the Mt. Vernon House Monday evening from 8 to 10 o'clock. The house was decorated with potted plants and evergreens. A number of new pictures recently received were hung on the walls. Many Bangor, Orono and Old Town people were present. The guests were received in the drawing room by Dr. and Mrs. A. W. Harris and Prof. and Mrs. John H. Huddilston. The visitors were ushered in by Charles P. Weston and Edwin C. Upton.

Refreshments of punch and cakes were served in the dining room and at the end of the long corridor. Mrs. H. M. Estabrook and MUSICAL CLUBS.

The work of the musical clubs for the past year has been very satisfactory. Early in the season the outlook was not promising. Some of the best men were lost by graduation and but little interest was shown by some of the remainder. At length, after much hard work and discouragement, a concert was given at Orono, which proved so successful that interest

U. OF M. INSTRUMENTAL CLUBS.

Mrs. Laura Hamlin, assisted by Miss Blaisdell, Miss Boland, Miss Bartlett of Bangor and Mrs. Webster of Orono served the refreshments.

Wasgatt's stringed orchestra, stationed in an ante-room, furnished excellent music during the evening. The arrangements for the reception were under the charge of Prof. Huddilston, whose untiring efforts have done much towards the success of the guild.

in the clubs revived and the men took hold with renewed energy. Mr. Asa Morton, an alumnus of this college and a well known vocalist, accompanied the clubs in all their trips and proved a great help to them. In the winter the question of the members of the clubs wearing distinctive letters on their hats was brought up at a college meeting and decided by the student body in favor of the letters being worn.

This was an important step as it showed the clubs had gained the recognition and respect of the whole college.

Early in the spring the clubs made a trip to some of the down river cities and towns and opened up a new field for concerts. The boys were well received and all voted the trip a success. In fact, each of the nine concerts given was a success and only the highest praise is heard of our musical clubs.

These concerts are of value to the whole institution, for by this means representatives of the college go to towns not reached by any of the other organizations and prove a valuable factor in bringing the college and its doings before the people throughout the state. During the season concerts were given in the following towns: Orono, Brownville, Dexter, Brewer, Bucksport, Belfast, Castine, Bangor and Oldtown. Work will begin earlier next year and a more extended schedule of concerts given. Much of the success of the clubs is due to the hard work of the manager and leaders. At the first of the season their task seemed hopeless but their perseverance brought success.

ALUMNI.

Each of the four fraternities on the campus, having chapter houses, held a banquet and reunion of their alumni at the respective chapter houses. In each case a good number of alumni was present and the usual enjoyable time at such occasions was not lacking. Following is a short description of each affair and a list as nearly as could be determined of those present:

PHI GAMMA DELTA.

The second annual banquet of Omega Mu chapter of Phi Gamma Delta was held at their chapter house on the campus on the evening of Tuesday, June 11. The committee of arrangements consisted of the juniors of the chapter.

The alumni present consisted of W. H. Jordan, Edmund Clark, J. N. Hart, H. S. Webb, L. C. Southard, Dr. A. I. Harvey, F. S. Russell, F. T. Dow, R. W. Lord, Allen Rogers, Hosea Buck, F. G. Quincy, F. C. Mitchell, F. M. Mitchell, H. L. Maddocks, B. T. Weston, Frank MacDonald and also Garnet Ryland, Richmond, '92.

BETA THETA PHI.

The University of Maine chapter of Beta Theta Phi held their annual reunion and banquet at the chapter house Tuesday evening, June 11. Dinner was served at 10.30 o'clock.

Among the alumni present at the banquet were Prof. R. K. Jones, H. M. Smith, E. C. Upton, F. H. Vose, S. C. Dillingham, P. R. Goodwin, E. H. Kelley, F. H. Bowerman, S. J. Buzzell, E. J. Davis and J. W. Edgerly.

ALPHA TAU OMEGA.

The annual reunion and banquet of the local chapter of Alpha Tau Omega was held at the chapter house on the evening of Tuesday, June 11. The program consisted of informal toasts. Those of the alumni present consisted of H. D. Seavey, I. C. Swett, Clarence Scott, F. E. Webster, Willard Beattie.

KAPPA SIGMA.

Psi chapter of Kappa Sigma held their annual banquet at the chapter house Monday evening, June 10.

Those of the alumni present were Dr. J. S. Ferguson, Chas. Dillingham, G. Tolman, Stanley Heath, Henry Drummond, N. E. Goodridge, R. H. Carlton, Dr. F. W. Sawyer, Hugo Clark and G. Hersey.

ATHLETICS.

U. of M., 5; Tufts, 7.

The Tufts college baseball team had no difficulty in defeating Maine's team at Maplewood Park on the afternoon of May 31st. The game was ragged and slow, neither side putting up a creditable game. The game started in fairly good shape for a couple of innings and then "Maine" began to make errors, to which they continued to add to the total of eight. In the third inning Tufts scored one run, while Maine captured two. In the fourth the home team went to pieces and the visitors swelled their list to six, when Maine obtained one, which was the last score until the ninth. Tufts scored their last run in the sixth. In the ninth Maine got two runs by two hits and bad judgment of a fly by Williams. Tufts ended this inning by a pretty double play. Webber pitched a good game of ball, striking out nine men, but he was poorly supported. Perkins was steady as a clock at critical points. This game completed the schedule for this season. The score.

U. of M., 6; Colby, 7.

Wednesday, May 29th, the ball team went to Waterville, where they crossed bats with the old rivals, the Colbyites, in the afternoon. Colby having been defeated at Orono resolved to atone for their defeat and win the game on their own grounds from U. of M. to the tune of 8 to 6. The weather was wretched for decent ball playing and the diamond was a toboggan slide but by supplying a liberal amount of sawdust the field was pronounced to be in a suitable condition for playing. As the game began a drizzling rain set in, which aided materially in piling a large number of errors. Colby, contrary to its usual custom, was at bat first with Rice heading the batting list.

He only succeeded in giving Webber an easy assist to first. Saunders got in the way of the ball and trotted first. Newenham gave Carr a slow grounder and was thrown out at first. Meserve went out to Russell on a ground ball and Colby took the bench. Maine began with Strickland, who struck out. Holmes followed his example. Davis got a base on an error by Meserve. Carr reached first on an error by Newenham and Davis went to second. Webber made a single and the bases were full. Chase came to the bat and scored Davis and Carr and Webber came home on slow fielding. Russell retired the side by striking out.

Colby began her scoring in the third by a base on balls to Rice and errors by Carr and a hit by Cowing, netting them two runs.

Maine began her third with a hit by Holmes. Davis reached first on an error by Pike. Carr went out to Meserve. Webber got first on an error by Rice; then came Chase with a pretty three-bagger and the men began circling the bases and swelled their score list to 6. Russell again retired the side by striking out.

In the fourth Colby scored on a three-base hit by Rice, which forced Allen over the plate. Maine failed to score, however, in this inning. In the fifth Colby tied the score on a two base hit by Newenham and errors by Carr. Colby forged ahead in the sixth on Saunders' three base hit and scored on a put out. In the seventh Colby added another, making a total of eight to six in favor of Colby and Maine could not recover their lead. However, the excitement came in the last half of the ninth, with Maine at the bat. Chase, the first man up, got a nice single. Russell got first on an error by Pike advancing Chase. Batchelder was an easy out to Pike. Towse was next up. He put up a easy fly which Pike took and threw to second, completing a double play and ending the game in Colby's favor. Newenham in the box for Colby pitched gilt edged ball most of the time, striking out ten men. Webber pitched a good, steady game throughout.

BASEBALL REVIEW.

The history of the baseball team for the past year has not been all that could be desired. However, the failure to win more games may, perhaps, be excusable when we take into consideration the condition of the team at the beginning of the season. Last year we lost by graduation both pitcher and catcher and were left with but little material with which to fill these places. The only man in college who could play a good game at short stop was unavailable and one of our best outfielders had left college, so that it was with but a remnant of our former team that we faced the situation as presented to us this spring. Training began early in the spring under the direction of Captain Carr and later Coach Rudderham of New York arrived to coach the pitchers. Ross, '01, pitched a few games at the first of the season and Webber, '04, pitched the remaining games. He played good ball for the season and will develop into a speedy player. Chase, '02, caught the most of the season and did fairly good work. Several men were tried in each of the other positions. There was no time in the season when the team which was to play could be picked with certainty. There were but four men who were sure of their positions. It was this lack of unity which hurt the team to a great degree, for the men could not play so well when changed to different positions. Mr. Magill coached the team again this year but did not arrive until the season was half over and could not get it in as good condition as last year.

The team has played a total of thirteen games, winning six. Following is a list of the games played and the scores:

- U. of M., 14; Maine Central Inst., 6.
- U. of M., 7; Bates, 4.
- U. of M., 8; Lewiston Athletic Club, 1.
- U. of M., 11; Kent's Hill, 1.
- U. of M., 9; Colby, 8.
- U. of M., 9; Mass. Agri. College, 13.
- U. of M., 1; Amherst, 3.
- U. of M., 6; Tufts, 15.
- U. of M., 6; Bowdoin, 12.
- U. of M., 9; Fort Preble, 0.
- U. of M., 7; Bowdoin, 8.
- U. of M., 6; Colby, 8.
- U. of M., 5; Tufts, 7.

Next year we lose but one man by graduation and with hard work on the part of the men it seems as though our team next year will be considerably better than this. Our battery will be in good shape next year and with good support the team should be a strong one. At this writing Bowdoin has another game to play with Bates and with Colby. With this exception all the games played by the Maine colleges and the scores are given below:

- U. of M., 7; Bates, 4.
- U. of M., 9; Colby, 8.
- Colby, 14; Bates, 1.
- Colby, 8; Bates, 4.
- Bowdoin, 12; U. of M., 6.
- Bowdoin, 8; U. of M., 7.
- Colby, 8; U. of M., 6.
- Bowdoin, 2; Bates, 1.
- Colby, 4; Bowdoin, 2.

U. OF M. FOOTBALL TEAM.

There was a feeling of uncertainty as to the strength of the football team last fall. Several good men had been lost by graduation and a part of the remainder of the team were yet in an undeveloped condition. There was some very good material in the freshman class and with hard practice a fairly good team was developed. Eight games were played during the season, of which we won four. Following is a list of the games played, together with the scores:

U. of M., 22; Edward Little High, 0.

U. of M., 16; Ft. Preble, 0.

U. of M., 0; Colby, 5.

U. of M., 29; Ft. Preble, 0.

U. of M., 0; Bates, 26.

U. of M., 18; Colby, 0.

U. of M., 0; Bates, 8.

U. of M., 0; Bowdoin, 38.

Up to last year very little interest had been shown in football by the student body but during the season, along with the development of the team, came the development of an interest in athletics, which will be of more benefit in the long run than a series of glorious victories.

This interest has not died out during the year but rather has increased and everyone is eagerly awaiting the opening of next fall's football season. Shortly after the football season last year Mr. Farley from Harvard was engaged to coach the team next fall. Mr. Farley played end on the Harvard 'varsity team and is said to be, by those who are authority, an exceptionally good man for the place. This spring an entirely new scheme was tried. The football men got out to practice under the direction of Captain Dorticos and later Mr. Farley spent a few days here, giving the men points to be remembered and practiced during the summer. At this visit Mr. Farley said he was much pleased with the outlook for a strong team. The fact is that football is on the best standing it has ever been in the history of the college. The material for a team is good and just at the right stage where good coaching and hard work will have its greatest effect. Next fall Coach Farley will meet the football men here a week before college begins and training will commence immediately. Every man on the team and some who hope to get on are planning to get into football next fall as they never have before. Manager Peck has arranged several games for the second eleven and this fact, together with the restrictions of military drill, will undoubtedly cause forty men to be seen each afternoon on the football field. Manager Peck has the schedule for the 'varsity team nearly completed and it is an exceptionally good one as you can see. There will probably be seven games played at Orono against four last year. The schedule is as follows:

Sept. 28, open, Orono.
 Oct. 2, Westbrook Seminary, Orono.
 Oct. 5, Bar Harbor, Orono.
 Oct. 9, Ft. Preble, Orono.
 Oct. 12, Colby, Orono.
 Oct. 16, Bates, Lewiston.
 Oct. 19, Bates, Orono.
 Oct. 23, Tufts, Medford.

Oct. 26, Westbrook Seminary, Portland.
 Oct. 30, open.
 Nov. 2, open.
 Nov. 6, open.
 Nov. 9, Colby, Waterville.
 Nov. 13, open.
 Nov. 16, Bowdoin, Brunswick.

TRACK TEAM.

The work of the track team for the past year deserves a few words. Training began by the team earlier than usual with Captain Davis at its head. Light exercises were taken in the new gymnasium for a few weeks and then out of door work under the direction of Coach Mack.

The first event was a meet between the freshman and sophomore classes and the freshmen were victorious. Some good material was brought to light and the weak points of the men found out. The next meet was between the four classes in which the juniors had an easy victory. At this meet four college records were broken and some very good work done. The invitation meet occurred next. Invitations were issued to some of the fitting schools in the state to participate in a meet to be held on our field. This was a new idea for many of the schools and for lack of funds they could not send teams but much interest was shown and a meet resulted between representatives from the Oldtown, Orono and Brewer High schools in which Brewer was the victor. This meet was of importance as it inserted the wedge of track athletics in the fitting schools in the vicinity. Next year undoubtedly the meet will be held on a larger scale. On the same day occurred the Worcester meet at which we were shut out. The last event of the season was the intercollegiate meet at Orono. Bowdoin was an easy winner and U. of M. second.

The fact that fourteen different men scored in the intercollegiate meet and that Maine scored in all, excepting two events, shows that Coach Mack has succeeded in developing a good team. When we consider that in previous years, when Maine has taken a few more points, that nearly all the points have been scored by a few men. This year although no such man as Grover has developed, the development of the team as a whole, has been remarkable and too much credit cannot be given to the coach, J. J. Mack. His work has been highly satisfactory in every respect and the student body and more particularly the members of the track team hope to see "Johnnie" Mack back at U. of M. next spring. With the start which has been made this year, next year should be and, undoubtedly, will be the most successful year in track athletics that Maine has ever experienced.

THE INTERCOLLEGIATE MEET.

The seventh annual championship contest of the Maine intercollegiate athletic association was held on the Alumni field Saturday, June 1. Bowdoin took first place with 89 points, University of Maine second with 32 points, Bates third with 10 points and Colby fourth with four points. The great surprise of the day was the winning of 32 points by the university team, with only one first place and all the rest in seconds and thirds. Bowdoin did not succeed in getting as many points as last year and Bates and Colby also fell off. Bates took two firsts, both in the long distance runs. A Colby man tied for first place in the pole vault which gave them three points and Allen taking third in the 100 yards dash which scored one point were the only points taken by the Colby team. Bowdoin scored in all the events except the pole vault, while the University of Maine scored in all except the 100 yards dash and the running broad jump. In the latter Bowdoin took all nine points.

The bicycle race was ridden at Bangor on the Maplewood park track, Friday afternoon.

Kelley of University of Maine won by seventy-five yards, Small of Bowdoin got second place, while Davenport of the University of Maine was a close third. Fuller of Bates, last year's winner, failed to get a place. Saturday morning the trials in the weight events and the final in the quarter mile were run off. Watson, University of Maine, qualified in the discus and held his second place in the afternoon finals. Elliott took third place in both hammer and shot. Dunlap of Bowdoin pushed the hammer record out to 122 ft. 3 in. The quarter mile was an exciting race. Harris of the University of Maine team, led the bunch all the way round and when within twenty yards of the finish, he stumbled and fell. If he could have gained his feet, he would have given Nutter of Bowdoin a good run for second place.

The pole vault and the two hurdle races were the most exciting of the afternoon events. Hawes of Colby, Davis and Parker of the University of Maine tied for first place in the pole vault. On the toss up for medals, Hawes got first, Davis second and Parker third. In the low hurdles, G. H. Davis of the University of Maine gave Hunt of Bowdoin a hustle for second place. There was not a hair's breadth between the men at the finish. In the high hurdles, Thompson of the University of Maine was but a foot behind Hunt at the finish.

Owing to the wet weather previous to the day of the meet the track was in poor condition but, nevertheless, three Maine records were broken, Nutter breaking the record for half mile run, Dunlap the hammer throw and Hamilton the high jump.

The summary:

100 Yards Dash—Won by Cloudman of Bowdoin, Hunt of Bowdoin second and Allen of Colby third. Time, 10 sec.

220 Yards Dash—Won by Cloudman of Bowdoin, Soule of Bowdoin second, Harris of University of Maine third. Time, 23 sec.
