EDITORIALS.

IN this issue of THE CAMPUS appears a cut and sketch of our new college president, Dr. George Emory Fellows. Although Dr. Fellows is a stranger to us all he will be warmly welcomed by all the University of Maine. Judging from the brief sketch we are able to give, Dr. Fellows is a man who is well qualified to perform the duties he is about to undertake. Whether he will win the hearts of the student body and prove himself the kind friend and adviser that Dr. Harris has ever shown himself to be is a question for time to answer. Doubtless our first impression of Dr. Fellows will be a good one, but whether it is or not we as an institution should not for a moment forget that Dr. Fellows will be placed at a great disadvantage. He will be a stranger to nearly all connected with the college and ignorant of the little affairs and customs of the institution. It is, then, our duty to do all in our power to make his labors as light as possible.

IN a few days will come those terrifying "finals" and then we will feel better or possibly worse, according to our success. Before we enter that trying ordeal from which only the chosen few escape unscarred it may not be out of place to speak of a particular phase of the examinations. We refer to the conduct of the students in the examination room. As is well known it is no unusual thing for one, or even more students, to be placed under the censure of the faculty for "cribbing in exams." each examination week in the year. There have been cases of this nature within the memory of the youngest of us and that there have not been more cribbing and detection is due, not so much to the vigilance of the instructor in charge, as to the strong sentiment among the student body against this form of cheating. We are of the opinion that the only way to absolutely eradicate all theft from the examination room is to put the student upon his honor—a method which may very appropriately be called the "Honor System." No manly fellow will steal, but if the professor who is conducting the examination makes himself a veritable Cerberus, there is no telling what a mischief-loving boy would do. For an instructor to be constantly spying for infringements upon the rules is a direct challenge to many a boy to break these same rules. We have one department already conducted on nearly the honor system and it seems to be the general opinion among the students that to "crib" in this department is much more contemptible than in some other departments whose instructors watch more closely during examinations. Some of the greatest efforts in the history of the world have been made by men who had rather lay down their life than to have those whom they honored and respected lose confidence in them. To trust a man with a responsibility often brings forth a latent power that perhaps would have been forever hidden but for this show of confidence, and so it would be with the student who took his examinations on his honor, it would develop a side of his character that perhaps would never have been developed under the system now used.

The honor system is coming into use in many of the progressive institutions of learning throughout the country and seems to give good satisfaction wherever it has been tried. If it really is so good a system as it appears to be why not give it a trial in this institution?

WEDDING BELLS.

Miss Mattie Allen and Prof. Welton Marks Munson were united in marriage at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Anson Alien, Thursday evening, Dec. 26, at 7.15 o'clock. The ceremony was performed by Rev. F. W. Atkinson, pastor of the Orono Universalist church. Only the immediate friends and relatives and members of the A. R. club, of which Mrs. Munson is a member, were present. The Allen residence was beautifully decorated with flowers and evergreens and the ceremony took place in the parlor under a canopy of smilax. After the service a reception was held, over 200 invitations having been issued. Prof. Munson is a prominent member of the University of Maine faculty and Mrs. Munson is one of Orono's most pleasing and accomplished young ladies. The bride received many beautiful and valuable gifts.

NOTICE.

As the college year is about half over we would like to call attention to the fact that subscriptions to THE CAMPUS are now due and it would greatly facilitate the work of the business staff if those who are in arrears would settle their account as soon as possible.

Subscriptions may be paid to either P. E. McCarthy, 201 Oak Hall, or I. E. Treworgy, Kappa Sigma House, Miss Small, '04, has returned to college.

E. L. Dinsmore, '03, has returned to college.

The young ladies of Orono gave a dance in the Town Hall, Saturday evening, Jan. 4. A large number of the students attended and report a most enjoyable time.

W. A. Libby, '01, has been on the campus during the past week, visiting friends.

Storm doors have been placed at the main entrance to Alumni Hall and although they make the hall warmer they are quite inconvenient.

The list of final examinations has been posted. They begin Friday, Jan. 24. Now for some hard study.

H. O. Farrington, '02, has returned to his studies. He has been absent from college since the Thanksgiving recess.

Notice the editorial upon the competitive system for positions on THE CAMPUS. The paper needs your help.

At a meeting of the athletic committee, Jan. 6, Fred Collins, '03, was chosen manager of the basket ball team.

The gymnasium is a lively place now. With basket ball, track men and military drill the time is well taken up.

The Junior class, at their meeting, Jan. 8, voted to have a class basket ball team. A committee was also chosen to investigate in regard to a place for holding the Junior Prom.

The young ladies of the Phi Gamma society gave an enjoyable dancing party to their friends Saturday evening, Jan. 11.

The sophomore calendars will soon be ready for distribution.

A great deal of interest is being taken in basket ball now. Most of the classes have decided to have a team.

Quite extensive repairs are being made upon the president's house, fitting it for Dr. Fellows, who is expected to arrive about Jan. 25.

The engagement is announced of Miss Helen C. Evans of Portland and William B. Thombs of Gorham, University of Maine, 1902.

Edwin B. Ross spent the holidays with friends in New York.

F. W. Farley, who coached the football team last season, made a visit in Bangor and vicinity recently.

N. A. Chase, '02, has been obliged to leave college for a time owing to an accident with which his father recently met.

The engagement of L. E. Fessenden, '02, and Miss Ethel Spencer of Orono is announced.

In the library are hung 84 photographs of Siena belonging to the Literary Art club. There will be a new set of photos each month.

Lieut. Col. W. S. Edgerly of the Seventh Cavalry, who was at one time instructor of military science at this institution, recently sailed from New York city to Havana to re-join his regiment. He had been visiting friends in Exeter, N. H.

The library has received a large railroad map of the Argentine Republic from J. V. Cilley, '83, general manager of the Ferro Carril Argentino del Norte. If the dispute between the Argentine and Chile should result in hostilities this map will be of particular interest.

The Delta Rho society has recently purchased the large yellow house and lot opposite the Alpha House for a fraternity house. They expect to be able to occupy their new quarters about May 1.

Paul Potter, the Worcester sprinter and hurdler, returned to his studies at the U. of M. Law school last week.

Profs. Hart, Stevens and Drew called on Dr. Harris in his new home during the recess. Prof. Drew also made a visit to Chicago and Mr. Siff to Boston.

Coach Mack arrived on the campus Jan. 10 and on the following day began work on the track team. The first night of practice brought out a very good number of men.

The manager of the Glee club has arranged to have Asa Morton of Bangor to assist in the remaining concerts and Mr. Cochrane of Bangor to act as instructor.

The military department are planning to make a trip to Boston in the spring if satisfactory arrangements can be made.

A meeting of the University Guild was held Jan. 15, in the Guild building. The program was as follows: Lullaby by Woman's Club quartet; Siena and Its Art, illustrated with 80 photos, by Prof. Huddilston; I Wish the Winds Would Blow, Laddie, Woman's Club quartet.

Thomas Judge, '00, visited friends on the campus last week. He is employed at Millinocket as assistant electrician.

Many of the seniors are already hard at work on their theses. A complete list will be given in an early issue of THE CAMPUS.

The athletic officers so far chosen are as follows: W. L. Cole, manager of football team; Carlos Dorticos, captain of football team; P. D. Simpson, manager of baseball team; H. M. Carr, captain of baseball team; I. C. Dinsmore, manager of track team; P. H. Harris, captain of track team.

The Scientific Association held a meeting Wednesday evening, Jan. 8, and the following program was given: Scientific notes, Prof. Stevens; Blueberries of Maine, Prof. Munson.

A regular meeting of the Y. M. C. A. was held Jan. 8 and a very interesting talk given by Prof. Hart on Some Thoughts for the New Year.

The editors and artist of the 1903 Prism are working hard to make the coming volume a success. Several new features will be introduced and a few objectionable old ones dropped.

On the evening of Jan. 4, the sophomores decided to pay their debts and deliver the peanuts which they forfeited to the freshmen in the baseball game. They hoped to catch the freshmen unawares and this they did to some extent but the freshmen hustled around and there was quite a lively but clean scrap for about an hour. The freshmen had five hands on the bag when time was called, while the sophomores had four.

An effort will be made to have the 1903 Prism out at an earlier date than the 1902.

Prof. Huddilston is giving a series of lectures on Venetian Art in Bucksport.

Mrs. Balentine has moved from the president's house to the Mt. Vernon house, where she will reside for the winter.

At a college meeting held Jan. 10 it was voted to change the color of the college sweater from white with light blue points to white with navy blue points. This change will be a great improvement, as the light blue so easily fades. It was also voted to charge a small admission fee to the basket ball games which are to be held in the near future. The non-fraternity men elected four members to the executive committee of the Athletic Association. The men chosen were as follows: H. F. French, '03; A. R. Small, '04; A. C. Brown, '05; E. E. Nodden, '05.

Williams, Dartmouth, Harvard, Yale, Amherst, Holy Cross and Tufts all have good basket ball teams, with a good schedule.

Bowdoin has a schedule of sixteen games of baseball.

But one out of 33 students at Harvard receive Phi Beta Kappa honors.

The first football game in this country took place in 1776 between Harvard and Yale.

Harvard, Pennsylvania, Yale or Princeton have never had a single fatal accident happen to any football player.

MUSICAL CLUBS.

The musical clubs gave a concert and dance under the auspices of the young people of the Universalist church in City Hall, Bangor, Jan. 10. The hall was prettily decorated with plants, red, white and blue bunting and flags. Under the brilliant light of the electric lamps the hall, filled with gaily dressed people, presented a beautiful appearance. Shortly after 8 o'clock the clubs appeared and arranged themselves in a semi-circle on the stage. There were 37 men in all and they filled the stage pretty nearly full.

The concert was far ahead of the concerts given early in the season and possessed a snap and vim that pleased the large audience immensely. The 'cello solo by A. W. Sprague and the cornet solo by G. W. Soderstrom were well received as was the banjo duet by E. L. Baker and R. H. Flynt. The entire program showed some hard and careful practice and reflected much credit on the men composing the clubs.

Following the concert was a dance which was greatly enjoyed by a great number. Only praise was heard from all sides for the U. of M. "Musical Clubs."

MILITARY.

In the military department work is progressing rapidly. General Runkle states that he is very much pleased with the progress the cadets are making and is using his influence to have the battalion spend a week in Boston next spring. This idea receives hearty support from the cadets as the trip would be desirable from more than one point of view. The trip will not be made, however, unless enough good, hard practice is put into the drill to make the battalion a credit to the college. The equipment of the military department is very good now, although we need belts and cartridge boxes which will be procured soon.

At a meeting of the commissioned officers it was voted to give a military ball at a near date, probably about Feb. 22. No pains will be spared to make this one of the most enjoyable and attractive affairs ever given on the campus. The gymnasium will be richly decorated with plants and appropriate colors; among the decorations will be many flags of all sizes; indeed, it is planned to have the walls well covered with the red, white and blue of our country.

Shortly before the Christmas recess the commissioned officers had their pictures taken in a group at Chalmers' in Bangor, for the calendar gotten out by the sophomore class.

The recent military appointments are in part as follows: To be major of the battalion, Captain W. H. Eldridge; to be captain, First Lieutenant A. F. Wheeler; to be first lieutenant, E. A. Porter; to be second lieutenant, F. T. Hartford; to be sergeant major, R. E. Mullaney.

U. OF M. MEN WITH THE INTERNATIONAL PAPER CO.

Samuel C. Dillingham, formerly of Portland and a graduate of the University of Maine, class of '98, was in Bangor recently on his way to Winn to join his wife, who has been visiting her former home for a few weeks past. Mr. Dillingham is located at Watertown, N. Y., as acting division engineer for the International Paper Co. for western New York state, taking up the work of A. H. White with whom he formerly worked, when the latter was called into the head office in New York city, and made chief engineer of the company.

Mr. White's advancement, by the way, has been phenomenal. He went to the International from Orono where he was located for a time during and after the erection of the Webster mill. He was in charge of the engineering work for the company in Maine for a while and then going to the head office as assistant engineer and chief draftsman. Later he was made division engineer of the most important division and when Chief Engineer Hardy resigned to take up the work of the late A. B. Tower, Mr. White succeeded him at the head of the engineering work of the big paper concern. Mr. White is a native of Bucksport and former student at the University of Maine, class of '89. He was married some ten years ago to a Brewer young lady. They now reside in Brooklyn.

Mr. White was succeeded as chief draughtsman by Leonard G. Paine, son of Prof. and Mrs. L. L. Paine of Bangor, who is also a graduate of the university, class of '85. Other U. of M. boys with the International are C. G. Cushman, '89; C. H. Nealley, ex-'92, and P. B. Palmer, '96.

E. O. Goodridge has moved to Boston, where he is to have charge of a new department of the Boston and Northern Railway company. His address is 14 Kilby St., Boston, Mass.

'88.

Rev. John R. Boardman has resigned the pastorate of the North End Congregational church of Portland, over which he has presided for two years. Mr. Boardman has taken a position as traveling secretary for the Y. M. C. A. with headquarters at Boston.

C. S. Williams, who during the past year has been employed by the Oakes Mfg. Co. of Steinway, N. Y., has changed his address to 420 Ditmars Ave., L. I. City, N. Y.

The Bangor Commercial has received from Wallace R. Farrington, formerly of Bangor, a copy of the Evening Bulletin published at Honolulu, territory of Hawaii, under date Nov. 30, together with a special industrial edition of that paper, containing nearly 50 large pages of printed matter relating to the sugar industry of the islands, the edition being published on heavy glazed paper and finely illustrated. It is the most elaborate edition ever issued on the islands.

The Bulletin is the oldest and most progressive American daily published in the Hawaiian islands and since Mr. Farrington's connection with it, beginning some five or six years ago, it has advanced rapidly as an all-round paper, giving the most news and carrying more advertising than all the other Honolulu papers together.

Mr. Farrington, who was born in Orono when his father was the superintendent of the farm and instructor in agriculture at the University of Maine, resided for many years in Brewer and after his graduation from the university, he was connected with the Bangor Daily News and other Maine and Massachusetts papers before going to Honolulu in 1894. He has met with great success as a newspaper man and is now editor and part owner of the Evening Bulletin. He is also prominent in Republican party politics and is likely to be heard from in the management of territorial affairs. His many friends in Bangor as well as all over Maine will be pleased to hear of his continued success.

Perley F. Walker, who was for several years instructor in mechanical engineering and who has been very ill of typhoid fever at Newport News, Va., is reported to be well on his way toward recovery.

'98.

Elmer D. Merrill, a native of Auburn, has been in Bangor and vicinity for a few days' visit. Mr. Merrill has been connected with the United States Department of Agriculture for some time past, being assistant to Prof. Frank Lamson-Scribner, U. of M., '73, late chief of the division of agrostology. Prof. Scribner has just accepted the appointment as chief of the insular bureau of agriculture in the Philippines and leaves about Feb. 1, for Manila, with his family. Mr. Merrill is seriously considering the acceptance of the position of botanist under the new bureau and if so will sail with Prof. Scribner when he sails on the transport Grant from San Francisco. His brother, Dana T. Merrill, who graduated in the same class at the university and afterwards entered the army, is now first lieutenant of the infantry in the 12th regiment, at present stationed at Samar. Lieut. Merrill is expected home during the coming summer, so his brother states, he having nearly completed the three years' term of duty in the Philippines usually allotted to Uncle Sam's soldiers.

E. A. Sturgis is electrical engineer for the Boston and Northern Railway at Lynn, Mass.

'00.

W. L. Cargill is assistant electrical engineer for the Boston and Northern Railway at Lynn, Mass.

F. C. Mitchell, principal of the Fort Fairfield High school, was on the campus recently, staying at the Phi Gamma Delta House during his visit.

'01.

F. E. Watts has recently entered the employ of the Taylor Signal Co. of Buffalo, as draftsman. This company has in its employ one other U. of M. man, E. M. Smith, '99. Mr. Watts' address is 321 15th St., Buffalo.

J. E. French spent a few days with friends in Old Town during the Christmas recess. His present address is 100 Wayne St., Providence, R. I.

F. H. Bogart is employed by the Electric Vehicle Co. of Hartford, Conn. A company in Springfield last summer adopted a carburetter invented by Mr. Bogart to use on their gasoline engines. Mr. Bogart's address is 123 Hungerford St., Hartford, Conn.

Ex-'03.

W. B. Burns of Fort Fairfield has been appointed deputy collector of customs at Houlton, Me.

CANDIDATES WANTED.

Some time in April will occur the annual election of The Campus board of editors. There will be four from the junior class, four from the sophomore class and two from the freshman class on the editorial staff. There will be an assistant business manager chosen from the sophomore class and all candidates for this position should apply immediately to the business manager that he may assign them work. These elections will be based strictly on the character of the work the candidates have done. At present there are eight candidates for the editorial staff and none for the business staff. It is sincerely hoped that a lively competition may take place before the time for election comes.

The editor and business manager will gladly assist all who wish to compete and don't know just how to set at work.

DR. GEORGE EMORY FELLOWS.

A successor to Dr. A. W. Harris has been selected as president of this institution and the man to whom the honor goes is Dr. George Emory Fellows of the University of Chicago, a man well fitted to become the head of this thriving university for which Pres. Harris did so much during his eight years of labor in developing and bringing the university to such a high educational standard.

The selection of Dr. Fellows came on Monday, Dec. 23, after a somewhat prolonged meeting of the board of trustees held at Bangor. The trustees were unanimous in their vote for the new president.

Dr. Fellows had many high recommendations, among them were those of former Presidents Small and Butler of Colby college, and who are now connected with the University of Chicago.

DR. FELLOWS' CAREER.

Dr. George Emory Fellows is 43 years of age, a native of Wisconsin and graduated from Lawrence university, in that state, in the class of 1879, receiving the degree of Bachelor of Arts. Three years later he received the degree of Master of Arts from the same institution. From that time up to 1890, he studied in this country and abroad and received the degree of Doctor of Philosophy in 1890 at the University of Berne, Switzerland. From 1879 to 1880, he was principal of Eau Claire seminary in Wisconsin and from 1883 to 1885 was teacher of Latin and history in the Ryan High school in Appleton, Wis. From 1885 to 1888, Dr. Fellows was professor in the Central High school of New Orleans. In 1888, he went to the University of Berne in Switzerland and Munich in Germany, where he took extensive courses in history and the dead languages. He came back to this country in 1890 and assumed the principalship of the Aurora, Ill., High school, where he remained two years. From 1891 to 1895, he was professor of European history in Indiana university, after which he accepted the assistant professorship in the University of Chicago where he is at the present time. Dr. Fellows besides traveling extensively in Europe has visited more than 200 colleges in this country and abroad. Since his connection with the University of Chicago he has been largely interested in university extension work which has brought him into connection with a large number of people in Illinois and elsewhere.

He was most highly recommended and made a favorable impression upon the members of the board of trustees who met him with other candidates in Boston two weeks ago. Upon their suggestion he came to Orono a day or two later and looked over the institution and had an interview with Dr. Harris.

NOTICE.

Mrs. F. R. Fuller of Bangor, teacher of Elocution and Physical Culture, will be at the U. of M. on Mondays and Thursdays of each week after Jan. 27 to give instruction in the above mentioned branches. Mrs. Fuller has had much experience as a teacher covering a period of twenty years and has taught in several schools and colleges, among which are the State Normal School of Maine, Christ College, Pittsburg's Academy and many others, also having a training school of her own in Minneapolis where many of the students of the University of Michigan studied. For the past three years Mrs. Fuller has taught at the E. M. C. S. at Bucksport and is still engaged there, besides having many pupils in Bangor.

Mrs. Fuller will be at 35 Coburn Hall on Monday afternoons and at the chapel on Thursdays and will be pleased to answer any inquiries as to methods employed, etc. The prices for lessons, both class work and private, will be very reasonable for students.

1904 DECLAMATIONS.

The annual Sophomore Prize Declamations were held in the chapel, Friday evening, Dec. 13th. The chapel was very tastefully decorated with red and blue, the class colors, and the platform was banked with ferns and palms. The parts were well delivered and reflected great credit on the class.

Pullen's orchestra furnished music for the exercises and also for the dance which was held afterwards in the drill hall.

The awarding committee consisted of Prof. G. E. Gardner, Prof. W. E. Walz, and Dr. Harry Butler, all of Bangor. Following is the program:

- Music.
- 1. The Battle of Fontenoy.....Davis
Herbert Stanley Gregory, Elmira, N. Y.
- 2. A Yankee Love.....Burnett
Ira Mellen Bearce, Hebron.
- Music.
- 3. Toils of the Enemy.....Wood

LAW SCHOOL.

The winter term at the Law school began Wednesday, Jan. 8. A number of new students were admitted which brought the number up to about fifty, the largest yet. All the students in attendance at the fall term are back and the school is flourishing finely.

Four new courses will be given this winter. Some of the courses and instructors are as follows: Constitutional Law, Prof. Rogers; Bankruptcy, Mr. Hamlin; Municipal Corporations, Prof. Walz; Common Law Pleading, Mr. Martin. The new courses will be: Carriers, Mr. Simpson; Private Corporations, Real Property, Suretyships, Negotiable Instruments, Mr. Gardiner; Equity, Torts, Prof. Walz; Contracts, Mr. Pattangall. Moot courts will be held, as has been the custom in past terms, Monday afternoon from 2.05 to 3. Toward the end of the term it is expected that lectures will be given before the entire student body by Hon. Louis C. Southard of Boston on Medico-Legal Relations.

SOPHMORE CALENDAR.

The sophomore class has issued a calendar which in design and general get up is far ahead of any other college calendar we have ever seen. The calendar consists of seven leaves. On the first is an appropriate engraving bearing the words "University of Maine, 1902," in gilt letters and the college seal. On the second leaf at the top is a fine cut of Alumni Hall, 3x5, in the lower left hand corner a small cut of Dr. Harris, 1½x2, and in the right hand corner opposite, two calendar pads. The cuts are enclosed by a fancy engraving of vines and Maine flags with the words "Maine Calendar."

The succeeding pages are practically the same with the exception of the cuts; they are: Glee club and manager; track team and captain; baseball team and captain; football team and captain; commissioned officers and the commandant of cadets. The leaves are 9x11 and printed in five colors. Although the calendar is a trifle more expensive than last year it is very much better and much more representative of the college, as it contains in all 12 cuts which cannot possibly fail to interest all who see them.

The committee that has the calendar in charge is E. R. Berry, R. C. Baker, I. M. Bearce, A. D. Case, C. H. Sampson.

Calendars may be procured of any of the above men. The price is fifty cents.

BOOK NOTICE.

We are in receipt of a little volume entitled "New Pieces That Will Take Prizes in Speaking Contests," compiled and adapted by Harriet Blackstone. The selections are all in prose and are well suited to one with taste for elocution. There are good samples of wit, humor and pathos, and the book closes with President McKinley's last address (abridged). Selections appear from such authors as: John Kendrick Bangs, Joel Chandler Harris, Mrs. Eugene Field, Marion Crawford, Hall Caine, Anthony Hope, Harriet Beecher Stowe and others. The book comes from the press of Hinds & Noble.

THE CADET BAND.

That Maine will have one of the best military bands in the state is now an assured fact. Sixteen men have enrolled and turned out regularly for practice. They are under the instruction of E. C. Adams of Bangor, who will be with the organization twice a week throughout the winter. Mr. Adams is an accomplished artist, being a member of Pullen's orchestra and the Maine Symphony orchestra. He also has four bands besides Maine's under instruction. Mr. Adams says that the material in this college is the best he ever started with. Every man is experienced and quite a number are veterans in band work. Sinclair has had considerable experience and is one of the best players in this section. Reed also is an experienced man, having played in many different bands and is among the leading clarionetists of the state. Wood comes from the Belfast band, which has the reputation of being among the leaders of this state.

Graves was appointed temporary leader. He has taken a lively interest and has worked hard with the men and his appointment will probably be made permanent. The lieutenants, drum major and non-commissioned officers will be elected later. There are two or three candidates for drum major, Phinney, '04, being the most promising.

ATHLETICS.

For the track team this season Manager Dinsmore has been very fortunate in securing the services of our last year's coach, J. J. Mack of Chelsea, Mass. Mr. Mack is too well known to most of the student body to need any further mention but for the benefit of those who are not acquainted with him the following brief sketch of his career is given:

Coach Mack began his career as a sprinter and all-round athlete more than fifteen years ago. He was not a college graduate but took part in amateur meets in various parts of the country in which he distinguished himself as an athlete of promise. His first coaching experience was gained with the Clinton High school of Clinton, Ohio, which he took charge of in the spring of 1896. He met with such remarkable success in his work with the team at that school that after their winning of the "prep-school" championship of the states of Iowa and Illinois, he picked five men from the team and came east to New York to compete in the National Interscholastic meet held in that city. His team succeeded in winning twenty points in the events, taking first place in the high jump and quarter mile; second place in the shot and the 220 and 100 yard sprints, and third place in the half mile. Mr. Mack immediately signed a contract with the officials of Columbia university and from 1896 until June of 1900 he was a regular coach in the track work of that institution. While at Columbia his most notable work was the development of "Maxey" Long, the famous champion quarter-mile sprinter of the world. Other men of note in field and track circles who were wholly or partially trained by him, are Smith, pole-vaulter with a record of eleven feet and three inches; Barker, high hurdler with a record of sixteen and two-fifths. His relay team won for two years at Philadelphia, from the leading colleges of New York and Pennsylvania.

During the summer Mr. Mack is the regular coach of the Wanderers' Athletic club of Halifax, N. S., and in his work with their team he has developed Stephens, champion sprinter of Canada and winner of second place in the 220 yard sprint at the National Championship games held in Boston in 1899.

For the University of Maine last year Mr. Mack proved a popular and successful coach. He developed the team along, not only a few lines, but many as the records show. In previous years our points have been won by a few men while last year a fairly large number succeeded in winning points easily, giving us second place in the intercollegiate meet.

Coach Mack will be with the team five months this year, a much longer time than usual. Work began Saturday, Jan. 10, and it is hoped that a large number of men will turn out daily for practice and make this year's track team a "winner."

BASKET BALL.

There is really a new branch of athletics springing up in the gymnasium this winter and that is the popular game of basket ball. The floor has been suitably marked off and practice is the order of the day. The building will be open five nights in the week to allow for evening practice and the work will be pushed ahead with the greatest possible rapidity in the next few weeks. Fred Collins, '03, has been elected manager and Carlos Dorticos, '03, captain. Manager Collins will not attempt to enter any league this season as most of the players are new men at the game and practice has just begun. Two games with the Bangor Y. M. C. A. team have been arranged, the first to be played about Jan. 25. Other games are under consideration and will probably be arranged later.

There are about fifteen men who turn out regularly for practice. Of course the team could not be picked with any degree of certainty, but some of the most promising candidates are the following men: Bearce, Bailey, Beattie, Ellestrom, Dorticos, Curran, Haley, Lord, Thomas and Holmes.

It is very difficult to get the game properly started as only a few of the men have ever had any experience in this sport. A suitable coach is needed to get the game started rightly and to develop the players in the best possible manner. It is much to be commended that such an active interest is being taken in the game as, aside from its own value, coming as it does between football and baseball it will tend to keep the athletic spirit fresh and so get more candidates for these important factors in the college.
