DELTA SIGMA INSTALLATION.

On Fast Day afternoon, Phi Gamma, the local society of young ladies at the University of Maine, became the Gamma chapter of Delta Sigma. The installation ceremonies were conducted in the parlors of the Bangor House by the visiting delegates, Miss Georgia Louise Hodgdon, Tufts, '98; Miss Mary Winship Kingsley, Tufts, '03; Miss Minnie Leora Bartlett, Brown, '00; Miss Helen Sherman Sheldon, Brown, '03; and Miss Lillian Gertrude McQuillan, Brown, '98.

Phi Gamma was founded as a local society at the University of Maine, October 19, 1896, with a roll of 11 charter members. During the early career of the society, meetings were held in Wingate Hall, but upon the remodeling of the Mt. Vernon House, suitable apartments were provided for its accommodation. At present the active chapter numbers twelve members.

Delta Sigma fraternity was founded at Tufts College in October, 1895, with a total of six charter members, one of whom was Miss Georgia Louise Hodgdon, a member of the party of delegates who recently visited the University of Maine. The chapter roll of Delta Sigma includes Tufts, Brown and the University of Maine. Its colors are Nile-green and white and its flower is the violet.

At the initiation services which were held in the afternoon, the alumni of the immediate vicinity, as well as the active chapter, were enlightened as to the mysteries of Delta Sigma. Among the initiates were Mrs. E. A. Balentine, Secretary to the President and Faculty; Carrie Smyth Green, Agnes Rowena Burnham, Ida May Bean, Mildred Louise Powell, Emily Hamlin, Elsie Eunice Fitzgerald, Lida May Knowles, Marie Cecilia Rice, Marion Genevieve Boland, Edith May Bussell, Cleora May Carr, Frances Augusta Hinckley, Edee Dakin Gammon, Estelle Perry, Lennie Phoebe Copeland, Lottie Leuella Small, Mary Frances Webber, Marion Barry Wentworth, Florence Balentine, Joanna Carver Colcord, Gertrude May Jones, Mary Martha Wilson.

The installation ceremonies were concluded with a banquet in the evening. The private dining room used for the occasion had been tastefully decorated with streamers of the uniting orders, and conspicuous among the table ornamentations were vases of roses and violets, the respective floral emblems of Phi Gamma and Delta Sigma.

After the banquet several informal toasts were responded to, Mrs. E. A. Balentine officiating in the capacity of toastmistress. Among those called upon were the following:

Delta Sigma.....	Miss Lillian G. McQuillan
Phi Gamma.....	Carrie Smyth Green, Cleora May Carr
Our Matrons.....	Mary Martha Wilson
Our Maids.....	Lida May Knowles
Co-education.....	Mary Frances Webber
Alma Mater.....	Agnes Rowena Burnham

THE RECEPTION AND DANCE.

On Friday evening, following the installation, a reception and dance was tendered the visiting delegates from Tufts and Brown. The party was held in Alumni Hall, and will long be remembered as one of the most brilliant college society events of the season of 1902-03. The hall was very prettily decorated with potted plants and green stuff, together with couches and cozy corners, totally obscured by myriads of college and fraternity pillows. In the center of the hall was stationed Pullen's orchestra of six pieces behind an attractive arrangement of palms and Easter lillies, appropriately embodying the green and the white, the colors of Delta Sigma fraternity.

From 8.30 until 9.00 o'clock a concert programme was rendered by the orchestra, during which time the guests were received by a committee consisting of Miss Georgia Louise Hodgdon, Mrs. Amy Briggs, Mrs. M. C. Fernald, Mrs. E. A. Balentine and Miss Cleora May Carr.

Several hundred invitations had been issued in Bangor, Orono and Old Town and the floor was thronged with merry dancers, who seemed never to tire, so captivating was the music and so perfect the condition of the floor. The following order of 16 dances and four extras was enjoyed, and the merriment continued until a late hour:

1 Waltz	9 Waltz
2 Two-step	10 Two-step
3 Schottische	11 Waltz
4 Waltz	12 Schottische
5 Round Dances	13 Two-step
6 Waltz	14 Waltz
7 Two-step	15 Two-step

PENOBSCOT VALLEY ALUMNI.

On Friday night, April 17, in the dining hall of the Madockawando Club, 56 former students of the University of Maine — the largest number present upon any one occasion since the farewell banquet to President Harris in October, 1901 — attended the annual business meeting and banquet of the Penobscot Valley Alumni Association. A simple though delicious supper was served by Weferling early in the evening, after which toasts were responded to by the following speakers, Frank H. Damon, '95, of Bangor, presiding as toastmaster:

Representative George E. Thompson, Orono; Senator I. K. Stetson, Hon. Henry Lord, Edward H. Kelley, Vernon K. Gould, Representative L. A. Barker, Bangor; Senator H. P. Gardner, Patten; Ralph K. Jones, Orono, and President George Emory Fellows.

Many of the speakers, as was to have been expected, took occasion to refer in their remarks to the excellent work accomplished by Representative Thompson, Senator Stetson and President Fellows in securing, at the recent legislative session, the much needed appropriation of $35,000 for the University of Maine. President Edward H. Kelley of the alumni association told briefly of the influence exerted by the press towards the securing of this appropriation — an influence appreciated by all present — and President Henry Lord, of the board of trustees, predicted for the Orono institution, a happy, prosperous future — a future of eminence and recognition among the great colleges of the land.

The post-prandial exercises were perfectly timed; and, as a consequence, it was considerably less than 10 o'clock when the last toast had been uttered.

The election of officers held during the evening, resulted as follows:

President — Edward H. Kelley, '90, Bangor.

Vice-President — George E. Thompson, '91, Orono.

Secretary and Treasurer — Charles A. Dillingham, '90, Bangor.

Executive Committee — Freeland Jones, Esq., '75, Bangor; J. F. Gould, Esq., '82, Old Town; Prof. N. C. Grover, '90, Orono; and the president and secretary, ex-officio.

Those present were:

John M. Oak, H. S. Boardman, Harry M. Smith, Isaiah K. Stetson, P. F. Walker, Ralph K. Jones, Chas. D. Woods, George E. Thompson, Frank H. Damon, Charles E. Oak, S. J. Bussell, W. H. Waterhouse, A. H. Brown, C. P. Crowell, J. F. Thomas, A. L. Grover, Lewis R. Cary, Walter Rautenstrauch, W. M. Munson, L. H. Merrill, Guy A. Hersey, Harry Butler, H. M. Estabrooke, J. H. Huddilston, Henry Lord, Harry Lord, G. H. Boggs, F. H. Mitchell, H. E. Cole, N. C. Grover, J. N. Hart, Lewis A. Barker, F. W. Sawtelle, Edwin B. Ross, C. C. Garland, J. M. Bartlett, V. K. Gould, E. H. Kelley, Charles A. Dillingham, Samuel L. Boardman, Karl P. Harrington, W. F. Jackman, O. F. Lewis, Irving Swett, Albert Weatherbee, A. J. Durgin, H. M. Shute, J. H. Cain, H. B. Buck, Prof. Gowell, Prof. G. H. Hamlin, C. J. Sawyer, Pres. Geo. E. Fellows.

Letters of regret were read from Hon. W. T. Haines, '76, of Waterville, Hon. E. B. Winslow, of the board of trustees, Hon. L. C. Southard, '75, Boston, president of the General Alumni Association, and from Dean W. E. Walz and C. Vey Holman of the faculty of the School of Law.

School of Law

In beginning his work, the editor of this department desires the aid of the students in obtaining news, and in suggesting topics of interest. This is the only way in which the best results can be obtained. If any students hear of anything of interest that they think should appear in the columns of THE CAMPUS, they will be thanked at least for making it known.

Two years ago, when the proposition was brought before the editors of THE CAMPUS that there should be a man upon the editorial board to represent the School of Law, it met with little favor. This year, the question again came up and was at once acted upon. At present the School has representatives upon both THE CAMPUS and THE PRISM. This shows at once that a change of spirit has taken place among the students in all departments of the University. Instead of looking upon one another as members of separate departments of the University with no object in common, they have come to recognize that they are members of the same student body, and are united by that tie which binds those who receive benefits from the same source. This is as it should be, for in the future all will be alumni of the same institution, the University of Maine, and whatever work each follows, he must look to the same institution for at least part of the instruction he has received.

It can hardly be expected that graduates of other colleges, now in the University, can feel exactly the same towards the college as those who have done no intercollegiate work before entering, but in their way they are just as eager for the success of the student enterprises and the University in general as the others. In an athletic contest where other colleges are competing against Maine they will shout against any team except that from their own college, and in the latter case they have some consolation no matter on which side the victory lies.

At present there is a certain fellowship growing up, not as close a fellowship, perhaps, as would exist if the students were brought more in contact with one another; yet this feeling is quite pronounced and in the future it will grow stronger and stronger.

LOCALS.

During the past week the students have had the pleasure of listening to the lectures of Hon. Louis C. Southard upon the subject of Medical Jurisprudence, and from his clear and concise statements, those who heard him have gained a clearer insight into the matter, especially as regards expert witnesses.

Potter, '03, has gone to Hamilton, N. Y., to coach the track team of Colgate University.

Keys, '05, who has just finished teaching a successful term of school in Stetson, returned Monday to resume his studies.

CLOSING CONCERT BY MUSICAL CLUBS

RATTLING good concert, a fair sized audience and a delightful dance terminated a most successful season's work by the Mandolin, Guitar and Banjo clubs at Alumni Hall, Friday, May 1. This was the second concert to be given in Orono this season and the entertainment was certainly of the kind that deserves the hearty support of the student body. The numbers were received with hearty applause, and encores were appended to nearly every number.

The clubs can look back with satisfaction upon the good record that they have made this year. Sixteen concerts have been given and although all were not financially a big success, the boys have opened up new fields for future work. This year, a trip was taken and concerts given at Camden, Damariscotta, Saco, Thomaston, Belfast and Portland. The first three places mentioned were on territory new to the clubs and they succeeded in establishing a good reputation both for themselves and for the university which they represented. In Portland the papers said that they even outdid their good work of the previous year and proved to everybody that the University of Maine had musical clubs second to none: Mr. A. D. Case has proven himself competent as a manager and he has the satisfaction of knowing that his labors, this year, have not been in vain. After settling up all expenses there should be a snug sum in the treasury to begin work next season. Following is the concert program rendered by the clubs:

EDITORIALS.

THIS issue of THE CAMPUS is edited by a new board which cheerfully takes up the work relinquished by the retiring editors. This board, as is undoubtedly the case with every new one, has certain new ideas and schemes in mind for bettering THE CAMPUS and making it as near an ideal college publication as possible. Whether or not the board will be able to effect its plans, will depend upon the editors themselves and in a large measure, upon the student body. Without the cooperation of the students THE CAMPUS would not be in a true sense representative of them and its aim in this direction would fall short.

THE CAMPUS should not only be representative of the students of the University of Maine but of the college itself and all that pertains to it. In this regard the doings of the members of the faculty should receive the same recognition in these columns as matters more distinctly of interest to the students. The board will keep this point in mind and endeavor to keep in touch with events of interest relative to the faculty also solicits their aid in following out this idea.

The editors will endeavor to collect bright, breezy stuff as much as possible, for in a bi-weekly publication such as THE CAMPUS, articles necessarily become a little stale from one issue to another and unless of more than ordinary interest will receive but slight attention. Whenever it is possible, articles which have appeared in newspapers or other periodicals and which should be inserted in these pages, will be carefully re-written or at least revised before being inserted in THE CAMPUS.

AT a meeting of THE CAMPUS board held last year, in April, it was suggested that the publication be changed from a bi-weekly to a weekly paper. At that time it was deemed inadvisable to bring about such a change, as many of the members thought that they could hardly spare the time that would be involved in issuing a weekly paper.

This year, at the meeting of the new board, the same matter was discussed and was received favorably by the majority of the members. It was thought inadvisable to make the change this spring as the end of the term is so near at hand, but to again consider the matter in September at a meeting of the board. As it now rests, it is very probable that next fall THE CAMPUS will be issued weekly.

IT may seem, to some of our readers, that the new board of editors in their first issue of THE CAMPUS should carefully refrain from any semblance of a kick against the existing order of things. If, however, these conditions are not as they should be, it is the policy of THE CAMPUS to call attention to them in order that they may be remedied. This time it is the matter of proper and efficient lighting of the Campus which has come to our attention. As all know who have had occasion to walk from the lower waiting station to the Gymnasium, the arc lights are so placed as to light the walks very satisfactorily; but those who have attempted to reach the cars from the north end of the Campus on a dark night, know that it is a difficult, not to say a dangerous undertaking.

If we are correctly informed, there was at some time in the past, an arc light in front of Oak Hall. This furnished a fairly good light all the way from Oak Hall and the Beta House to the upper waiting station. But for some reason this light has been removed and placed in front of Wingate Hall where it is of comparatively little use, leaving the whole north end of the Campus in darkness. To make a bad affair still worse, there has been for several weeks, an open ditch, two or three feet deep, extending along beside the plank walk, with nothing to prevent one from falling into it at night. This is just what has happened in at least one instance: After a recent dance at Oak Hall, one of the young lady guests, knowing nothing of the presence of the ditch in the absence of any light to show the danger, came near sustaining serious injury while walking down to the car. Now it seems to us that it is not at all unreasonable that the students at the north end of the Campus should have the benefit of one arc light, when there are three at the south end. A light could be placed so as to illuminate the entire length of the walk from the upper waiting station to Oak Hall in a very satisfactory manner. It would be money well spent if this were done.

Students who have not yet subscribed for the Prism, should do so at once as there will be a limited number of books printed.

H. F. Lincoln has been elected City Engineer of St. Albans, Vermont, and assumed his duties April 28. The funeral services over the remains of the late Ralph Holbrook Wight, formerly of Belfast, who died in Cedar Rapids, Iowa, after a three weeks' illness from typhoid fever, were held at Belfast, Wednesday, April 15. The deceased was born in Belfast, the son of Joseph F. and Lydia (Holbrook) Wight. He attended the schools of Belfast, graduating from the High school in June of 1886, and later attended the University of Maine, then the Maine State College, where he received the degree of Bachelor of Civil Engineering in June, 1890, and in 1894, that of Master of Civil Engineering. During that year he moved to the west and there entered the employ of the Green Bay, Winona & St. Paul Railroad as civil engineer, with headquarters at Green Bay, Wisconsin.

His work attained much praise for him and in August of 1900, he became the division engineer of the Iowa Central Railroad, with 525 miles of track. It was through the unusual skill of Mr. Wight that the road was placed in the fine condition that it now is. His death resulted from typhoid fever which was contracted while attending a meeting of the National Association of Civil Engineers in Chicago, during the month of March. Mr. Wight was prominent in Masonic circles in which he had always taken a great interest. He had taken the blue lodge degrees in Phenix Lodge in Belfast, and in his home at Green Bay, Wisconsin, was a Past High Priest of Washington Royal Arch Chapter, a Past Master of Washington Council, R. and S. M., and was at one time Prelate of Palestine Commandery of Belfast.

In August of 1892, he married Miss Cynthia Titus of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, and during the past year they have made their home in Marshalltown, Iowa. Mrs. Wight accompanied the remains to Belfast, where his parents and sister, Miss Sarah M. Wight, survive him. The service was largely attended by friends and relatives in Belfast, where he was well known and his sterling worth, proven through his studious and industrious habits and life when a resident there, while his work in the west has been an example of his ability and bright future. The service took place at 2 o'clock, Rev. E. S. Philbrick of the Baptist church officiating. The bearers were Dr. W. C. Libby, H. T. Field, S. A. Parker and Charles F. Swift.

by a score of 5 to 4 at Olympic Park, Patterson, N. J., on Sunday. Hastings, Goodwin and Jackson twirled for the Lawmakers, and they were quite effective. The all-around work of Cargo, Doherty, Jordan and Buttermore and the fielding of Davis, were the features of the contest.

Unless Davis falls down, and fails to keep up the good work he has done in practice games, played so far this season, by the Senators, he is certain to scintillate at the hot territory of the home nine's infield this season. By the way Manager Doherty of the local aggregation gives it out that Davis is a mighty fast man getting down to first base besides being a splendid thrower.—Times Union, Albany.

The Sigma Chi boys have built a new tennis court in the lot just behind their house.

At a recent meeting of the sophomore class it was voted to permit the freshmen to accompany young ladies to the concert and dance given by the musical clubs on Friday evening, May 1, in Alumni Hall.

Military drill was suspended during the past week, owing to the illness of Capt. Symmonds. Battalion drill will be required every afternoon from four-thirty to five-thirty o'clock, from April 24 until inspection.

The following students have volunteered for the fire department: Laud, '03; Gage, '04; Crowley, '04; Averill, '04; E. C. Brown, '04; Pearson, '04; Livermore, '04; Sweet, '05; Longfellow, '05; Worcester, '06.

At a meeting of the Chemical Society held, April 29, Professor Jackman gave a brief lecture on, "Some Ideals for Young Men just entering College." The talk was interesting and contained some pithy remarks.

At a meeting of the junior class, held Thursday noon, April 30, the resignation of Miss Lennie Copeland as poetess of the Ivy Day exercises was accepted, and Miss Lottie L. Small was elected to the vacancy.

The plank curbing around the running track in the baseball outfield has been made level with the ground, thus doing away with the game of hurdling in which the outfielders were obliged to indulge whenever the ball went over the track.

The freshman-sophomore debate will take place on the evening of May 22, in the chapel. The question to be discussed is, "Resolved: That reciprocity would be detrimental to American industry." The sophomores will support the negative.

The Summer School of the University of Maine will begin, June 29, and already a large attendance is assured. A list of ten subjects is offered in Greek, Latin, history, French, German, mathematics, astronomy, chemistry, physics and botany. All indications point toward a most successful term. The school will end August 1.

In accordance with orders issued by Captain Symmons, drills will be held on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday afternoons of the week beginning May 4. No drill will be held on Wednesday, May 6, but drills on the other days will be of one and one-fourth hours duration. The band will turn out Tuesday and Friday.

Sunday evening, April 26, a large number of students attended the first of a series of six illustrated "Travel Talks" to be given in the Universalist church by Rev. J. J. Lewis. The subject was, "Antwerp, Queen of Medieval Cities." Both the talk and the stereoscopic illustrations were very instructive and interesting. The subject for next Sunday night is, "Brussels, with Glimpses of Waterloo."

The soloist at the chapel service, Wednesday morning of this week, was Miss Mary Winslow Bartlett of Orono. Miss Bartlett has recently returned from Boston where she has been studying at the New England Conservatory of Music. Her selection, "Hosanna," an Easter song by Jules Granier, was appropriately chosen and well adapted to the richness of her clear soprano voice. Miss Bartlett has many friends at the University of Maine, who listened with interest to her pleasing solo.

President Fellows lectured in Lewiston, April 9 and 23, on "The Germany of Bismark and William II," and "England under Gladstone and Since." The Lewiston Sun says: "President Fellows' lecture on Germany has excited considerable comment in many places. One of the Social Settlement girls, who was given a complimentary ticket by the society, remarked that the talk by President Tucker was too much for her, but she is sure that she will not miss the next lecture by President Fellows."

The civil engineering department has increased its equipments this spring by the following new instruments: Three new transits, one from each of the following concerns: Eugene Dietzgen Co., New York, F. E. Brandis & Co., Brooklyn, and Young & Son, Philadelphia. Three new levels consisting of a Wye level, made by F. E. Brandis & Co., a Dumpy level made by Eugene Dietzgen Co., and a Level of Precision made by G. N. Saegmuller. Besides this new equipment has been added tapes, flags, rods, etc., and the instrument room refitted with new cabinets.

THE 1904 PRISM.

MANY are the enquiries heard each day by the members of the board concerning The Prism and the date on which it will be issued. The editor wishes to state, that at present, one half the book is in print. The work is being rushed as much as possible and doubtless will all be in print by May 8. The binders have promised a "rush job" upon receiving the sheets from the Kennebec Journal company, and from present indications The Prism should be ready for sale May 15.

The book, this year, is said to be far ahead of any previous volume, the drawings being especially good. Nearly one hundred drawings, large and small, have been submitted, and these, together with about two hundred half tones, will make a bright, attractive book—a book that every loyal student of the University should possess.

The grind department will be strong, too, as much excellent matter has been contributed. The literary department is one of the most prominent departments this year, and one that will aid greatly in making The Prism a record breaker. College stories are always the most interesting ones, and "The Stamp Chain" is just brim full of fun. You should not miss it. Half tones of the faculty of the School of Law, pictures of individual members of the junior class, and a fine cut of the basket ball team contribute to make this department of the book stronger than ever. A write up of the work done by the School, by Dean Walz, should be carefully read.

MAINE WINS FROM BOWDOIN.

The University of Maine base ball team defeated Bowdoin at Brunswick, Wednesday, April 22, in the first game of the Maine college series. The fielding was good on both sides, but Maine excelled in batting, and made six hits off Cox while Bowdoin succeeded in getting only three off Mitchell. At the end of the fourth inning the score was 0 to 0, but Maine got one in the fifth, and in the sixth the "balloon went up." Thatcher drew a pass, Chase and McDonald both singled, and then Ben Larrabee lined out a two-bagger that scored two men. With two bases filled Violette hit out a long one on which two men scored. Bowdoin's run came in the eighth. Cox pitched a good game, striking out twelve men. The score:

MAINE, 9; LEWISTON HIGH SCHOOL, 0.

The first baseball game of the season on the home grounds was played Saturday, April 18, against Lewiston High School. It was rather a spiritless exhibition, with a cold wind blowing constantly across the field, producing a stiffness in the fielding and a general listlessness in the batting. Maine played an errorless game in the field, but could not connect with Lunt's delivery to any great extent. Lewiston got only one hit during the game and at no time did a Lewiston man get beyond second. In two times at bat, Frost got a total of three hits. The score:

UNIVERSITY OF MAINE, 9; COBURN CLASSICAL INSTITUTE, 7.

The postponed baseball game with Coburn Classical Institute was played on Alumni Field, Monday, April 20. The weather was too cold for fast baseball, and several errors were made on both sides. Larrabee pitched a good game for Maine; despite the errors made behind him. He struck out ten men and allowed but two bases on balls. Maine had the best of the argument until the last two innings, when C. C. I., pulled together, and registered five runs. Orcutt pitched a steady game for the visitors, only four Maine men being able to hit him safely. These four made a total of eleven hits, however, to which Bird contributed four singles in succession. Larrabee also hit well, getting three hits out of four times at bat, one of them a two-bagger.

UNIVERSITY OF MAINE, 12; E. M. C. S., 1.

University of Maine played the fourth of its practice games Tuesday afternoon, April 28, with the Eastern Maine Conference Seminary team from Bucksport. It was in many respects the most interesting of this season's "prep" school games, Bridges, the down-river pitcher, showing up in good form against the heavy pounding of the 'varsity players. At one or two critical points in the game the Seminary support was weak, being responsible for three of Maine's runs in the first inning and two in the seventh.

Cousens scored the only run for Bucksport in the ninth. Kennedy went out at first, McDonald to Collins. Cousens lined out an infield hit to Thatcher who gathered the ball, and drove it by Collins at first, Cousens galloping around to third. A passed ball by Violette scored him and the ambition of the seminary team was attained.

Both Frost and Mitchell were given a chance to warm up a little in the box, but neither of them were obliged to exert themselves to any great extent. An occasional brace would present the Seminary team with a quick succession of strike-outs and then again they would draw a few hits on some slow balls. With the exception of a single error, Haley at second played a pretty game for Bucksport, he contributing to the retirement of 13 of the 'varsity players.

The game lacked any sensational plays, but taken as a whole, was a good exhibition of baseball, in which the home team was the recipient of considerable beneficial practice. The score:

UNIVERSITY OF MAINE, 17; KENT'S HILL, 3.

Maine played another of its practice games with Kent's Hill as opponents on Alumni field, Saturday, April 25. Frost was in the box for Maine and although the visitors succeeded in getting eight hits off him, but one of them contributed to the run-getting. Kent's Hill came within an ace of scoring in the sixth, when with nobody out, she filled the bases on an error and two singles. Maine's infield closed in, and Manter at third was caught napping on a throw by Frost to Larrabee, who stole in from left field and covered the base. A. Heald went down on a fly to Chase at center, Merriman got a pass to first, and Quincy sent a pop fly to Veazie, retiring the side.

In the eighth, Kent's Hill scored her only runs. R. Heald got first on a single, Green started his tour of the bases on an error by McDonald, R. Heald going to second. A. Heald rapped out a hot grounder to Thatcher, who had difficulty in recovering himself and threw wild to first. R. Heald started for home and Collins, on the throw to Violette, mistook his object, the ball soaring in the vicinity of Wingate. It is needless to say, the three base runners came in without persuasion.

Maine batted heavily from the start and most of the batting averages were materially fattened. Violette and Frost each drew a pair of doubles, Chase got one, while Larrabee and McDonald counted four and three singles respectively. The feature of the game was a dive into the air by Quincy at center field in which he brought down single-handed what seemed to be a certain two-bagger by Collins. Maine did the greater part of her scoring in the first half of the game, nobody getting farther than second after the sixth inning. The summary:

BASKET BALL REVIEW.

The University of Maine basket ball season closed with the game with Hebron at Orono. That the team did not make a creditable showing, cannot be said when one stops to consider that the season just ended is but the second one that the University of Maine has put a team into the field. It is to be regretted that the team has lacked the hearty support of the student body and that the players, a majority of whom have completed their second season, have been obliged to pass unrewarded for the efforts and hard work that they have put into this branch of our university athletics.

Another year, there is every reason for a noticeable improvement in this respect; the team suffers the loss of but one man, Captain Ellstrom, who has played center for two seasons. There is already in college plenty of good material that has not been brought to light and with next year's class to draw from there will be but little difficulty in making up a fast team. With a strong schedule of games within the State and a trip to Massachusetts, which unfortunately was unadvisable this season, the team would soon be in a class with the fast teams of New England, and would accomplish much toward raising the standard of the State intercollegiate athletics.

Ever since the establishment of this branch of our athletics, the basket ball team has been self-supporting, a fact, the existence of which, we recognize with more or less feeling of pride as reflecting great credit upon those who have been connected with its management. Moreover, with all its bills paid, the basket ball team has contributed to the general fund of the athletic association, which fact alone entitles it to a portion of the interest and enthusiasm of every member of the undergraduate body. Financially, there has been little cause for complaint, the expenses being light, but there is plenty of room for an increase of enthusiasm which encourages the players and offers an inducement for hard work.

Following is a summary of the season's games, out of a total of eight, Maine won six:

- At Orono—Maine 41, Taconnet Club 18.
- At Orono—Maine 20, Colby 14.
- At Orono—Maine 34, Coburn Classical Institute 0.
- At Bangor—Maine 19, Bangor Y. M. C. A. 17.
- At Waterville—Maine 18, Taconnet Club 16.
- At Waterville—Maine 11, Colby 14.
- At Dover—Maine 18, Dover and Foxcroft 24.
- At Orono—Maine 27, Hebron 20.

Total points scored by Maine—188, by opponents 123. Individual goals from the field—Huntington 19, Soderstrom 19, Ellstrom 23, Aborn 11, Haley 3, Paige 3. Goals from foul line—28.

ACCIDENTS FROM COLLEGE FOOTBALL.

Prof. Dexter, of the University of Illinois, has made a summary on the accidents from college football which is as follows:

About one college man in ten the country over, plays football.

About twice as large a proportion of men in the small colleges play the game, as in the large ones.

The proportion of men playing seems to be slightly decreasing.

About one player in thirty-five is sufficiently injured each season to necessitate loss of time from college duties.

The number of college football players who are permanently injured or die from the effects of the game is so small as to be practically a negligible quantity.

College football is adequately supervised in nearly all the institutions.

The opinions of college officers regarding the value of the game are roughly 17 to 1 in favor (weighed in terms of enrollment.)

The newspaper reports of injuries to college football players seems to be grossly exaggerated. Not so much so in the cases of players upon other teams.

Accident insurance statistics would lead us to believe that many other forms of sport are more dangerous than football.

PRIZE ESSAY CONTEST.

THE CAMPUS recently received the following:

The New York Alumni Association of the Alpha Tau Omega fraternity wishes to announce that Ex-President Grover Cleveland, President Benjamin Ide Wheeler of the University of California and Chancellor E.
