MUSICAL CLUB REVIEW

THIS year has been one of the most successful in the history of the University of Maine musical clubs. The financial condition of this organization has never been better than this year, and the reputation made for musical ability is unequalled by any similar association in the State.

From the start the clubs have been most fortunate. At the beginning of the season sixty-three men turned out, and throughout the year there have been forty-four constantly practicing—a state of affairs which has never happened here before; and, indeed, it has usually been difficult to secure twenty-five men to take on the trips. The men are nearly all good musicians, and it has been a question who should be taken. At the concert given in Bangor there were forty-four men on the stage, but on account of the expense but twenty-five men were taken on the trips.

Nineteen concerts have been given this year, and trips have been taken into Aroostook and Piscataquis counties, and one into the western part of the State, so that nearly all the men have participated in several concerts.

It has been the aim this year to make membership in the clubs mean more than it has formerly, and so a new constitution has been drawn up, and now in order for a man to wear the "MMC" on his cap he must take part in at least fifteen concerts. By this means it is hoped that the musical clubs will enjoy some of the popularity and attain to the high standard which other college organizations have reached.

Too much credit cannot be given the leaders of the clubs for the work which has been done this year, and it is a source of regret that we cannot have the same leaders next year. Messrs. Sawyer and Dorticos have been prominent in musical lines for the four years that they have been in college, and it will not be an easy matter to find men to fill their places. The management of the clubs has been ably looked after by Mr. Alton and he has put the clubs on a firm financial basis.

The prospects for good clubs next year are fairly good. It is true we lose two leaders—men of especially good musical ability—and also one or two other men; but the clubs will be essentially the same as this year, and there is no doubt but what there will be some good material in the entering class next fall.

SOCIETY EVENTS

DELTA SIGMA DANCE

A large number of the friends of Delta Sigma enjoyed a delightful dance given by the young ladies of Gamma chapter in the gymnasium Saturday evening, April 16.

The gym was very tastily decorated for the occasion and presented a pretty sight to the guests as they were ushered in. Especially attractive was a "blue cozy corner," which received universal admiration. The draperies and background consisted of festoons of the college blue, while inside temptingly arranged were countless sofa pillows, all of Greek letter design, contributed by the various fraternities of the institution.

The guests were received by a committee composed of Mrs. A. E. Rogers, Mrs. Reynolds, and the Misses Copeland, Green and Colvin.

Music for the evening was furnished by Pullen's orchestra. The young ladies of Delta Sigma proved themselves excellent entertainers, and everything was conducive to a most enjoyable evening.

The committee to whom the success of the evening was due consisted of Misses Lennie P. Copeland, Mabel F. Powell, Marion B. Wentworth and Mildred C. Mansfield.

THETA NU EPSILON DANCE

The dance given by the Delta Delta chapter of the Theta Nu Epsilon fraternity at Society Hall recently was one of the most enjoyable of the season.

The hall was prettily decorated with green and black bunting and numerous fraternity and college banners. Somewhat pleasing and awe-inspiring was the large skull and crossed keys suspended above the mirror.

A brief reception was held at which Mrs. Lowe, Mrs. Whitcomb, Mrs. Leib, P. R. Moody and A. R. Whipple officiated. Dancing was continued until a late hour, and music was furnished by Pullen's orchestra. Delicious refreshments were served at intermission.

Besides the members of the Maine chapter, there were delegates present from Bowdoin and Colby.

The success of this dance was in no small measure due to the committee on arrangements consisting of B. T. Larrabee, A. R. Whipple, H. M. Bassett and T. C. Herbert.

THETA EPSILON DANCE

Theta Epsilon, the newly established fraternity, made its debut in society circles Friday evening, April 22, with what was acknowledged to be the prettiest and most elaborate dance of the season. Fully one hundred and fifty couples were present to enjoy the music and dancing in the handsomely decorated gymnasium.

The decorations, which were profuse and effective, were a feature of the evening, winning the admiration of all. From the center of the hall to various points of the balcony radiated streamers of evergreen dotted with electric lights concealed by Japanese lanterns, giving a subdued appearance very much in contrast to the usual glare of the arc lights. In the corners and other convenient places, cosy corners, unique and pretty in their arrangement, added to the comfort of the guests.

Pullen's orchestra, situated under a handsomely arranged arch at one end of the balcony, furnished music for a delightful order of dances. During the arrival of the guests a concert program was rendered, the guests being received by a committee composed of Mrs. J. H. Huddleston and Mrs. G. E. Fellows of Orono, Mrs. Arthur Lowe of Bangor, and A. E. Davenport and E. C. Brown of the fraternity.

The committee of arrangements consisted of E. C. Brown, A. E. Davenport, H. H. Hoxie, R. F. Rogers and J. P. Farnsworth.

ALPHA DANCE

The Beta Upsilon chapter of Alpha Tau Omega added another to the already long list of social successes at the University this season, Friday night, April 29, when it entertained its many friends at a dance in Alumni Hall.

Although weather conditions were not as the committee would have had served up, nevertheless the cold drizzling rain failed apparently to keep at home a single guest or to detract in any way from the enjoyment of the occasion. In bright contrast to the outside disagreeableness was the appearance of the hall inside. Tasty decorations, unique little dance programs, a splendid floor, and dainty cosy corners draped and decorated in whole tones, and last and best of all a congenial crowd, all united to make the evening one long to be remembered in the minds of everyone who was fortunate enough to be present.

And the music! Never before did the genial Pullen and his talented musicians play better, and the selections contributed a big share of bright, spicy music to the delightfulness of the evening.

From eight o'clock until a little after nine, guests were received by Hon. and Mrs. Henry Lord, President George Emory Fellows, Mrs. G. L. Richards, and R. L. Turner and James H. Sawyer of the chapter.

A committee consisting of R. L. Turner, H. C. Foss, G. G. Coligny, B. M. Cowan and F. P. Hosmer had the arrangements in charge and attended to every comfort of their guests.

OXFORD SCHOLARSHIPS

The first examinations for entrance to Oxford University under the provisions of the will of the late Cecil Rhodes were held in the Judiciary Department room of the State House at Augusta, April 13 and 14. Mr. W. W. Stetson, State Superintendent of Schools, and Mr. Frank H. Whitmore, Assistant Librarian of Bowdoin College, presided over the examinations, which were taken by the following five men: Leon D. Walker, '03, Clement Robinson, '03, John M. Bridgham, '04, and David R. Porter, '06, of Bowdoin; and Edwin F. Bearce, '05, of the University of Maine.

THE DEUTSCHER VEREIN

A meeting of the Deutscher Verein was held in the Mt. Vernon house, April 13. German songs were sung and Mr. Taylor presented a paper on "Irish Legends." Light refreshments were served and then the members proceeded to the real business of the evening. A mock trial was given in German, but as the advocates took up so much time cross examining witnesses and made such lengthy speeches, it was necessary to adjourn the court until the next meeting. It is hoped by that time that the jury will come to some decision as to whether or not the prisoner is guilty.

MUSICAL CLUB CONCERTS

The final trip of the year was taken by the musical clubs on the fifteenth of April. A concert was given that evening at Lincoln. The work of the clubs was fully equal to that of former concerts, and, although each number was applauded, the glee club especially was successful in arousing the audience, and had to respond to numerous encores.

The last concert of the season was given Saturday evening, April 23, in Alumni Hall. The clubs again maintained the high reputation which they have earned this year. It is hard to pick out the special features of the concert, as nearly every number was vigorously applauded by the large and enthusiastic audience.

After the concert the audience adjourned to the gymnasium, and Pullen's orchestra furnished music for an informal dance.

OUR English cousins regard college athletics more as a means than as an end. Evidently they are less ambitious, or else more easily satisfied than we are. Here in America we strive for the end — and the head end, too.

WHILE it is still early to begin to enthuse over football, the announcement of the coach and schedule have suggested the possible glories of the approaching season. The management is to be especially congratulated in the securing of so reputable a coach. While Mr. King is comparatively unknown to most of the students, his excellent record and the recommendation of "Mike" Farley are enough to secure the confidence and co-operation of every man in college. Our schedule next fall is a particularly good one and taken altogether the football horizon is particularly bright.

EVERY year, at some college or other, an epidemic of typhoid fever breaks out, and in nearly every case it is traceable to the supply of drinking water. It has been proved beyond the possibility of a doubt that the typhoid cases of Millinocket, Old Town, Bangor and Brewer are caused by drinking the river water. Now this University is piped for both spring water and river water. Let us hearken to common sense, and refrain from drinking "Stillwater," even if it is nearer at hand or more easily obtained. It is surely better to remain thirsty for three minutes than to burn with the unnatural thirst of fever for three weeks.

AT LAST the eight-wheel electrics are to be equipped with new seventy horse power motors. At present at least two of the cars are in the barn all the time undergoing repairs, and the old four-wheelers are sent out to take their places. With an especially heavy frost coming out of the ground, as is the case now, a ride on one of the latter is anything but enjoyable. It is an evil zephyr that wafts nobody any advantage, however. We are told of a poor woman who bought ten cents worth of milk in Orono, paid five cents for her ride home on one of the "teeter" cars, and found, when she opened the can, a pound of butter worth twenty-five cents.

Invitations have been issued by the Beta Theta Pi fraternity for a dance to be given in Alumni Hall, Friday night, May 6. The committee in charge is Frank McCullough, Alphonso Wood and Winfield Dexter Bearce.

A number of the students were escorted by the young ladies of the town to a leap year dancing party at Monitor Hall, Friday evening, April 15. Refreshments were served during the evening and the boys were royally entertained.

Prof. J. H. Huddilston gave a lecture under the auspices of the Monday Club of Camden, Monday evening, April 18. The subject of his talk was Greek Art and the value of the lecture was greatly enhanced by the use of the stereopticon.

At a meeting of the Intercollegiate Track Association held at Waterville, April 23, Maine was represented by Manager J. W. Crowe. The meeting was for the purpose of arranging a number of the details pertaining to the approaching meet.

The Agricultural Club of the University held a very interesting meeting at Holmes Hall recently. The papers which were presented were as follows: The Handling of Milk and Butter, H. C. Black, '07; The Making of Butter, A. L. Hanson, '06.

R. S. Sherman, '06, president of the Y. M. C. A., leaves May 11 for Buffalo where he will attend the International Convention of Young Men's Christian Associations, May 11-15, and a conference of student association presidents, May 16 and 17.

A baseball game Saturday, April 23, between Orono High and the agricultural college team resulted in a victory for Orono High by a score of 21 to 18. The Aggies have a good team, but like the varsity it has been sadly handicapped by want of practice.

The members of the Junior Electrical and Mechanical Society enjoyed a very interesting and practical talk by Stanley J. Steward, foreman of the shop, upon the Corliss engine. The discussion took place at the regular meeting of the society, April 18.

Mr. A. W. Cole, instructor in shopwork and descriptive geometry, entertained a number of the men from his classes at his home Thursday, April 21. Mr. Cole has given several of these informal parties during the winter and they have proven very enjoyable.

The University of Maine chapter, Beta Eta of Beta Theta Pi, held an initiation Tuesday evening, April 19. The initiates were Harry A. Emery, '06, of North Anson, Raymond A. Quint, '07, of North Berwick and Albert W. Stevens, '07, of Belfast.

An arc light has been temporarily placed in front of the Beta House at the north end of the campus. Later it will be installed permanently near the upper waiting station. It has long been needed, as that end of the campus has been without any light whatever.

The Universalist society of Bangor recently gave a very successful production of "Pinafore" at the Bangor Opera House. Commenting on this opera the Bangor papers mention especially the good work of G. T. Stewart, '04, who took the part of Bill Bobstay, boatswain's mate.

The members of the "Pinafore" caste, were given a private dance in Society Hall, April 19, by the Y. P. C. U. of the Universalist church, under whose auspices the opera was produced. Several of the college fellows were present, and all proclaimed it a very enjoyable occasion.

At the last meeting of the Junior Electrical and Mechanical Society held Monday, April 25, two very interesting papers were presented as follows: Safety devices for Electric Control, C. A. Sweet; Switch Boards for the Distribution of Light and Power, B. M. Cowan.

At a meeting of the junior class held April 27, it was voted to observe June 3 as Ivy Day. The Ivy Day parts were selected as follows: E. O. Sweetser, marshal; Florence Balentine, odist; R. G. Sands, orator; G. R. Anthony, prayer; O. W. Trask, historian; J. A. McDermott, presenter; E. F. Bearce, curator; F. O. White, poet.

Mrs. Amy Grant of New York gave a musical reading of Tennyson's Enoch Arden to a small but appreciative audience in the chapel Friday evening, April 15. The entertainment was the first of its nature to be given here and was thoroughly enjoyed by all present. The playing of the Richard Strauss music by Dr. Lathum True of Portland was in itself a treat to music lovers.

Frank E. Weymouth of the class of 1896 has been one of the recent visitors on the campus. Mr. Weymouth now holds a position with the federal government on the geodetic survey work in Montana. He has offered positions for the summer to ten men of the junior civil engineering department, and numerous candidates have been attracted by the opportunity afforded for making a Western trip.

A letter has been received from Hon. L. C. Southard stating that the Southard tennis medals are to be offered this year as in the past. The medals are given to the winners of the singles and the doubles at the college tournament. The date for the tournament has not been definitely decided but it will come shortly before the intercollegiate tournament which is to be held May 17, in order to assist in selecting the team for that meet.

The freshman class jerseys which have recently appeared on the campus, are of a very neat design and have attracted very favorable comment. It is pleasing to note that the spirit which prompts those who have won class numerals to wear them is increasing every year. The class numerals are a long step in the direction of the coveted "M," and anything which is productive of athletes worthy of that reward should receive the hearty endorsement of everyone.

It was unfortunate that only a small number took advantage of the opportunity of hearing Dr. E. E. Holt, of Portland, lecture at the chapel, Thursday evening, April 21. The subject of Dr. Holt's lecture, one taken from physical economics, was upon a subject entirely new to many of those present and proved very instructive as well as entertaining. Dr. Holt showed in a very plain and conclusive manner the mathematical device by which body injury and disease could be estimated as a financial loss.

The second annual interscholastic speaking contest will be held in the chapel the evening of May 20. Invitations have been sent out to all of the leading preparatory schools in the State. Replies have already been received from a large number, together with the names of the candidates. Among those who will be represented at the speaking contest are the Maine Central Institute, East Corinth Academy, Bridgton High School, Bangor High School, Winslow High School, Parsonsville Seminary, Waterville High School, Kent's Hill Seminary.

The dedicatory exercises of Holmes Hall of Agriculture will be held Wednesday, May 25. The program will consist of inspection of the grounds, buildings and appliances of the college and experiment station, a review of the cadet battalion, and the dedication speeches. There will be informal addresses by members of the faculty in regard to the collections, demonstrations with some of the more important apparatus, exhibition of improved agricultural machinery, operation of the dairy building and inspection of the barns, herds and flocks.

Rifle practice is certainly one department of the military work which is receiving the interest and co-operation of the students. The outdoor range is a great improvement over the indoor gallery and makes an hour spent in target shooting very attractive to the cadets. A competitive shooting contest is to be held the latter part of May with prizes as follows: 1st prize, $8.00; 2d prize, $6.00; 3d prize, $4.00; 4th prize, $2.00. Judging from the roar of the continual bombardment which rolls over the campus during the hours of daylight from the direction of the rifle range, there will be a long list of candidates.

The selection of nineteen men who have won the MMC under the new regulations adopted by the musical clubs this year has been approved by the faculty. The newly established rule requires that the members participate in fifteen or more concerts. The new MMC is a great improvement over the former one and its value and desirability have greatly increased as compared with former days, when any man who had participated in three concerts was entitled to wear it. Those who have been awarded the MMC are as follows: '04, P. Dorticos, H. A. Sawyer, L. C. Smith and H. S. Taylor; '05, R. H. Alton, R. R. Drummond, B. T. Harvey, R. W. Haskell, A. W. Sprague; '06, G. P. Goodwin, W. H. Burke, G. H. Hill, F. D. Southard; '07, E. B. Davidson, R. M. Foster, H. S. Palmer, E. J. Wilson, R. D. Bean, A. L. Gilmore.

The summer term of the University will begin Monday, June 27, and will continue for five weeks. The courses will be adapted as far as practicable to the demands of the students. Teachers in the public schools will find in nearly all of the departments that special attention will be given to their needs both in the matter and the manner of the subject presented. Particular attention will be given to laboratory work and the methods in chemistry and physics. Students who desire to make up arrearages or to gain advanced standing will also find that the summer term affords special advantages not to be found during the regular college year. The faculty of instruction and the courses which they have charge of are as follows: Prof. J. N. Hart, mathematics and astronomy; Prof. A. B. Aubert, chemistry; Prof. J. S. Stevens, physics; Prof. W. W. Munson, botany; Prof. J. H. Huddil-ston, Latin and German; Mr. G. A. Thompson, English; Prof. Caroline Colvin, history; Prof. J. B. Segall, French; Prof. W. D. Hurd, elementary agriculture. Tuition for the term of five weeks, covering all charges for instruction in any number of courses that the student may elect, use of library and laboratories, except a small additional fee for those taking laboratory chemistry, will be: For residents of Maine, $10; for residents of other states, $15.

ATHLETICS

MEETING OF THE INTERCOLLEGIATE ATHLETIC BOARD

A meeting of the Intercollegiate Athletic Board was held at the DeWitt in Lewiston, Saturday, April 16. The meeting was called in accordance with Article 6 of the Intercollegiate Agreement of November 26, 1902, which provides for the arbitration board. As Bowdoin has not yet agreed to this article she was not represented. Although no definite action was taken, rules of eligibility were discussed, and certain of these will come up later. The meetings of this athletic board are held semi-annually, and all matters of dispute are referred to it for final settlement, thus helping to establish more friendly relations among the Maine colleges. The University of Maine was represented by R. H. Flynt of the student body and R. K. Jones of the faculty. Hon. Louis C. Southard, the alumni representative, was unable to be present.

THE TRACK TEAM

In spite of the cold, raw weather, the heaviness of the track, and other adverse conditions, which taken together have made the last month one of hard, discouraging work for the track men, a careful observer cannot fail to see that the Maine team under the careful training of Coach Farrell is slowly but surely rounding into condition for the state meet on May 14th.

In those two weeks much must be accomplished, for the work of the past month has effected little more than a general strengthening and building up; there has been little development of form, or any definite sizing-up of strong or weak points.

The best work so far has been done in the half-mile—Chaplin, Blaisdell, St. Onge and Wyman being probably as good a bunch of half-milers as Maine has ever had. In the mile Thomas is the only veteran who will compete this year, but he is running in excellent form, while Seabury, Crowell and Schoppe are making things more than interesting for him. The two-mile men led by Lawrence and Brown last year's point-winners, are doing a mile or a mile and a half every day in good time, and can be depended upon for their share of points.

Captain Parker and Porter in the quarter need no recommendation, and Comerford, a new man this year, has already proved himself one of their class. Currier, McClure and Clayton are at present the most promising candidates for the hurdles, and Parker, Shaw and Rogers will take care of the pole-vault.

The weight men are making an exceptionally good showing this year, and Bennett, Weymouth, Wood and W. D. Bearce with the shot, Bennett and E. F. Bearce with the hammer, and Reid, Parker and Hilton with the discus ought to place several points to Maine's credit.

On the whole the prospect is fairly bright—not exceptionally so, for there is much this year to contend with. In addition to the unusual obstacles which Nature has placed in the way, many of the men have been handicapped by the lack of a training-table, an absolute necessity in the development of successful athletes. It is to be hoped that before another team starts training some provision may be made whereby our athletes can be provided with proper food, but for the present the only way is to make the best of it, and this the men are certainly doing.

CLASS AND INTERCOLLEGIATE MEET

Devotees of the track will be enabled to witness their fill of exciting athletic contests the coming few weeks. Saturday, May 7, the inter-class meet will be held on Alumni field, and since it is in such preliminary contests that the aspirants for athletic honors are tried out, there should be no lack of Maine supporters present upon that date. Besides there will be the wise-aces who will cast as critical eyes upon these preliminary contests of the green runners as they would upon the new trotters of a racing track. And no doubt these same observers will be the first to say, when the result of the Colby meet has become ancient history, "I told you so."

Not that we really believe that even an expert can ever tell definitely who and how any athlete will win a race or jump the highest. There are too many dark horses to spoil the nicest calculations. But it is these same dark horses that break the monotony of a meet and make it more exciting. And since among the wearers of the blue who don the light suits there will certainly be many dark horses, we must not despair of fate favoring us. Anyway there are enough veteran track men here to insure the fact that the meet at Waterville, May 14, will be one long to be remembered for its interest and excitement.

By the time fortune has juggled victory to one jubilant team or another, and our special train (we certainly must have one) is started on its way toward the Queen City, many of our athletes, weary from the efforts of the day, will be congratulating themselves upon the fact that their season of training is over for the year. Yet a certain few, and we hardly know whether or not to call them favored, will have to keep in trim for still another week, for they will have to uphold Maine's honor against many heroes of the cinder track at the Worcester meet, May 21.

And not only will they miss seven days of what to the strenuously-trained men just breaking training, will be seven days of mild dissipation, but they will be unable to witness the spectacular invitation interscholastic meet to be held also the 21st at Orono. But the track season ends for all upon that date. It is too early in the season to predict, but if hoping is able to accomplish anything it will surely be a successful one.

BASE BALL

To begin the season with three consecutive defeats is, to say the least, not very encouraging, but the old saying that "a bad beginning makes a good ending" is especially applicable to the game of baseball, and when we consider the difficulties under which our team has been laboring while on its Massachusetts trip, and the standing of the teams which have defeated us, there are certainly good reasons to hope that this rather disastrous beginning may lead to victory in the end.

With comparatively little out-door practice, and no diamond practice whatever, with three freshmen playing their first college game and other men playing strange positions, our team met one of the three or four strongest college teams in the country and incidentally met a Waterloo. The next game—that with Tufts—was in doubt until the end of the tenth, while with a freshman in the box at Andover we made a very creditable showing.

It is to be regretted that rain interfered with the Harvard, Amherst and Rhode Island State games, as they were looked forward to with no small interest.

HOLY CROSS 14, MAINE 1

In the game with Holy Cross, Maine was clearly outplayed at every point. The Holy Cross players found Capt. Mitchell for eighteen hits, consisting of twelve singles, five doubles and a triple, while several of the Maine players made costly errors in the field. Spring of the Holy Cross team pitched a fine game, striking out nine men and accepting his six chances without an error. Devlin, Shelley and Flynn did the best stick work for Holy Cross.

TUFTS 3, MAINE 2

Maine lost to Tufts in an exciting ten-inning game by a score of three to two. Dickinson and Frost both pitched a good game. Dickinson worked the Maine boys easy, especially on high balls. Frost was wild in the first two innings, but steadied down, and was too much for his opponents until the tenth inning when they touched him up for the two hits which won the game. Hosmer, Burns and Mitchell did good work in the field, while Violette and Larrabee hit the ball well, Violette having a record of three hits out of five times up. Tufts scored two runs in the first inning. With two men on bases Frost threw to second when there was no one there to receive the ball, thereby allowing both runners to score. In the eighth Maine got two runs on errors by Saunders and Marion, a sacrifice by Frost and a hit by Violette. Larrabee's error, coupled with McCorry's single and Clifford's two-bagger, gave Tufts the winning score in the tenth.

ANDOVER 13, MAINE 9

Loose fielding and inability to hit Brown cost Maine the game against Andover. Hall, who pitched the first five innings, was an easy mark for the Maine batters, who touched him up in the fourth for seven singles, netting seven runs. Brown took his place in the sixth and won the game for Andover, striking out five men, and allowing only one to reach first in the last three innings. Quint made his first appearance in the box and was batted hard when hits meant runs. Karl was tried behind the bat and did good work. Hosmer, Mitchell and Violette fielded well for Maine.

BROWN—MAINE

The game between Brown and Maine at Providence, April 30, had to be called off in the middle of the fourth inning on account of rain. At that time the score stood 3 to 0 in favor of Brown. Frost was touched up for three hits, and these, coupled with three costly errors by Maine, were responsible for Brown's runs. Maine found Belding for three safe ones, but they were scattered. The score:

Brown	0	1	2	x—3

Batteries—Frost and Violette, Belding and Smith.
