THE DEUTSCHER VEREIN

Although the Deutscher Verein has been in existence at this University but two years, much enjoyment and instruction has been gathered from its meetings. Perhaps the most enjoyable occasion in more ways than one is the annual banquet, which this Verein holds.

The second annual banquet was held at the Mount Vernon House Wednesday evening, May 18, and the attendance this year was all that could be desired. Promptly at the appointed hour the guests, to the number of twenty-four, arrived, and were soon seated about the tables. Herr Wilder, of the Deutscher Verein of Bowdoin College, was the guest of honor. After indulging for about an hour in consuming the five courses of which the dinner consisted, the tables were cleared, and the most important events of the evening were awaited with the greatest expectation. The time had now arrived when the most brilliant members should charm the Verein with their wit. Herr Taylor was the toastmaster, and he performed his part in a manner novel and pleasing. It would be hard to say which member gave the best toast. Indeed, to our minds, they were all equally good. The following toasts were responded to:

Der Garten.....	HERR DOLSTER FELLOWS
Der Eichbaum.....	HERR SPRAGUE
Die Wurzeln.....	FRAULIEN COPELAND
Die Zweige.....	HERR WILDER
Die Blatter.....	FRAULIEN BALENTINE
Das Moos.....	HERR TUCKER
Die Frucht.....	HERR PROFESSOR HUDDILSTON
Der Schatten.....	HERR DOLSTER WALZ

It might seem to the uninitiated that these toasts deal with agricultural life, but on the contrary, they have much to do with the progress and future prospects of the Deutscher Verein.

The success of the banquet was due in great part to the work of the committee, Fraulein Buck, Herr Lord, and Doctor Lewis, who so ably prepared it.

INTERSCHOLASTIC PRIZE SPEAKING CONTEST

Last year an experiment was tried at this University—that of interscholastic prize declamations—and it proved a great success. Each preparatory school of the State was invited to send one competitor to this contest. There were two prizes, one of $20, known as the Faculty Prize, and another of $10.

This year seventeen fitting schools sent speakers to the contest, which was held in the Chapel Friday evening, May 20. As this number would make the program for the evening too long, a preliminary contest was necessary. This was held in the Chapel Friday afternoon, and resulted in the choice of eight speakers for the evening's entertainment. The eight successful ones, and their selections, are as follows:

Elkanah B. Atkinson.....	Holman F. Day
CHARLES F. BENSON
Selection from Scottish Chiefs.....	Jane Porter
RALPH M. JONES
Selection from Les Miserables.....	Victor Hugo
WALTER M. SPEAR
Brier Rose.....	Bjornsen
MISS LENORA B. ROBERTS
How the La Rue Stakes Were Lost.....
MISS GLADYS M. WISE
Daniel O'Connor, Orator.....	Wendell Phillips
ROBERT E. RUSSELL
Mon Choul "Castor".....	Drummond
LEWELLYN FELTIER
Grave Diggers.....	Scene from Hamlet
RAMOND FELLOWS

The exercises commenced at eight o'clock, at which time the Chapel was crowded with students, and with people from out of town. All of the speakers had their selections thoroughly committed, and spoke them as if they liked to do nothing better. The applause of the audience was generous, and it was given in such a way that one knew it was sincere. To make somewhat of a variety in the program, a portion of the mandolin club played several selections during the evening.

The judges, Lawyer C. J. Dunn, Principal A. M. Lowe, of the Orono High School, and Rev. Horace B. Haskell, retired at the conclusion of the contest to compare notes, and after an intermission of about ten minutes, during which time the mandolin club played, returned with their decision. The first prize of $20 was awarded to Miss Gladys M. Wise, of Edward Little High School, Auburn, and the second prize of $10 was awarded to Walter M. Spear, of Bridgton Academy. Honorable mention should also be made of Miss Lenora B. Roberts, of Thornton Academy, and of Llewellyn Peltier, of Presque Isle High School.

DEDICATION OF HOLMES HALL

The exercises connected with the dedication of Holmes hall of agriculture were attended by a large number of people from all over the State. During the forenoon all buildings were open to inspection, and the visitors were given an excellent opportunity of seeing all of the departments at their work. The battalion parade and sham battle was a surprise to many, the battalion receiving many compliments for the fine work and excellent showing.

During the afternoon the dedicatory exercises took up a large part of the time. These exercises included an illustrated outline sketch of agriculture at the University, by President Fellows, and brief addresses by Commissioner of Agriculture A. W. Gilman, and former secretaries of the State Board of Agriculture, B. W. McKeen and S. L. Boardman. At the close of the dedicatory address by Mr. Boardman, a portrait of Dr. Holmes was unveiled.

Dr. Holmes graduated from Brown University, and the Maine Medical School shortly before 1825, and was editor of the Maine Farmer from its establishment in 1833, until his death in 1865. Probably more than any other single individual was he instrumental in securing the establishment of what is now the University of Maine, an independent institution.

DR. FERNALD'S BIRTHDAY

Dr. Merritt C. Fernald, the oldest and most respected member of the faculty, celebrated his 66th birthday last Thursday by keeping open house to his hosts of friends. This happy opportunity of greeting one who has dedicated so many years of active service to the interests and needs of our University was gladly taken by friends of long acquaintance, and students who have learned to respect and love him.

Dr. Fernald has for 33 years been intimately connected with the University, being between the years of 1879 and 1893 at the helm as president of the institution. He, as no one else, has watched it develop from a handful of students and half a dozen teachers to a strong and powerful university.

SOPHOMORE HOP

The class of 1906 entertained its many friends at a dancing party in Alumni hall last Friday evening. This event, known as the sophomore hop, was first tried by the class of 1904, and, being carried out by each succeeding class, has become an annual college custom.

From 8.30 to 9.00 o'clock the guests were received by President and Mrs. George Emory Fellows, Hon. and Mrs. Henry Lord, Mrs. Hurd, and Frank A. Banks, president of the class. After the reception an order of fifteen dances and four extras was carried out.

The decorations were very effective, the general color scheme being red and white, the class colors. Pretty little cozy corners were arranged about the hall for the comfort of the dancers, while overhead the suspended running track was draped with red and white bunting, and high up among the trusses the arc lights shaded with red, threw their soft, summer, sunset rays down on the merry scene below.

Intermission came at 11 o'clock, and then the hall was deserted, the dancers preferring to stroll about our campus, now so beautiful in its simple grandeur of Nature. The night could not be better described than by the word glorious. The bright, full moon had dimmed the light of the stars and ruled the heavens with its own splendor, while the Stillwater jealously strived to outrival it by catching its rays and tinting the crests of its ripples with gold.

Dancing was continued until 1 o'clock, and it was with regret that the dancers went for their wraps. Through some misunderstanding but one car was on hand to take the crowd of 125 or more to Bangor, and as a result there was a great deal of discomfort, many ladies being obliged to stand in the aisles and on the platforms.

Pullen's orchestra, as usual, furnished excellent music for both reception and dance.

Ralph E. Lord was floor director, and the committee in charge of the arrangements consisted of Walter H. Burke, Frank A. Banks, Elwin D. Brawn, George P. Goodwin and Frank R. Reed.

SHOOTING COMPETITION

A shooting competition for the members of the cadet battalion was held on the range Thursday afternoon, May 26. The competition was open to all cadets who had completed six scores, thirty rounds, before Saturday, May 21. There were four prizes offered for the best scores. The first prize was eight dollars, the second six dollars, the third four dollars, and the fourth two dollars. At the end of the five rounds Lieut. E. B. Crowley and C. F. Lemassena were tied for first place with scores of 23 each, and Corp. R. F. Olds and H. W. Keirstead were tied for second at 22 each. These men were allowed one more shot apiece to break the ties. Lieut. Crowley scored five to Lemassena's four, and took first prize, while Keirstead took the third prize away from Corp. Olds in the same manner.

This competition has been very beneficial to the cadets, and has brought out some good marksmen. The range has been in use every afternoon, which shows how much interest the fellows have taken in the contest.

THE 1905 PRISM

The Prism, the annual published by the junior class of the University, arrived and was put on distribution last Thursday. This year the book is larger and better than ever before. It is bound in brown, with a neat little design stamped on the front in silver. The drawings are very pretty and appropriate, and one of the features of the book are the color plates, that of "Publications" being especially worthy of commendation.

A large amount of space is given to the "grind department," and although some of the "knocks" are perhaps rather steep, it is hoped that they will all be taken in good part.

The Prism is dedicated to Hon. George E. Thompson of Orono, whose interest and efforts have done so much for this, his alma mater.

Out of town parties wishing the book may obtain it by addressing G. K. Huntington, Business Manager, Phi Kappa Sigma house. The price is $2.00.

THE idea of the elephant as a mascot is certainly a good one. May Bolivar's days at the University of Maine be numbered with those of the institution.

THE question is asked, "Who obtained the field piece that appeared on the campus during the sham battle?" "How?" "Where?" "When?" Those who know prefer to let the cannon speak for itself.

IT seems too bad to end the season when our team is playing such good baseball as it has the last three games, but the action of the management in arranging no games during examinations and commencement week is to be heartily endorsed by the student body. It is much better to end the season with three consecutive victories, than with defeats as in the last two years.

THE showing made by our tennis team this year was very good considering the lack of practice caused by the late spring. It really seemed like folly to enter the tournament with but little over a week's practice, but the men played good tennis, and were beaten simply because they were pitted against better players. This year, as last, Maine must be contented with second place. Let us hope, however, that tennis players will soon be developed, who can wrest the cups from Bowdoin.

WITH this issue the name of this publication is changed to THE MAINE CAMPUS. This change was thought advisable by the board of editors, because there are a number of college publications called THE CAMPUS. Most of these come from Western colleges, to be sure, but there is one at least here in the East. All of us surely wish the identity of the University of Maine to be preserved, whether it be in the scholarship of its student body, its athletics, or its publications. The board has seriously considered this matter, and decided upon the change of name. They sincerely hope that it will be acceptable to both faculty and students.

WITH the coming of commencement we wonder why it is that so many of the students, more particularly among the two under classes, are not interested enough to remain during the exercises and festivities of commencement week. Many consider it their sacred duty to take the next train after their last examination for home. Well, perhaps this may be excusable when a fellow has not been home since Christmas, but probably many leave because they never did stay to commencement, and consequently do not know what a good time they can have during that last week. There are no lessons or examinations to worry about, and the fact that one can still remain at college without once thinking of them is indeed a pleasant relaxation after eighteen weeks of books, drawing room, and laboratory. Nature has richly endowed our Campus with beautiful scenery, and never does it look more beautiful than at this time of year. The alumni come back, and they expect to see all of the students. Convocation itself is worth staying a week for. If you have never staid to commencement, try it this year. You will surely find it a pleasure as well as a duty.

Leonard G. Paine, a structural engineer, and agent for the Standard Plunger Elevator Company of Philadelphia, has the distinction of having secured the largest contract for the installation of elevators ever awarded in this or any other country. He secured the order for supplying the John Wanamaker buildings in Philadelphia and New York. The elevators and incidental work will involve an expenditure of over $1,000,000. The contract calls for 110 new elevators, 64 for the new building in Philadelphia, and 46 for the New York store. A striking feature of the contract is the clause which calls for van elevators—elevators on which the automobile vans will be lifted to the different floors where they will be loaded and taken to the street again. Mr. Paine has offices at 1416 South Penn street, Philadelphia.

Edwin B. Lord, formerly of Stillwater, Maine, has an important article in the June number of Profitable Advertising entitled "Time as a Factor." This article shows in dollars and cents the financial results achieved by different advertisers through following up for two years the replies from one advertisement. It is brief, but goes directly to the point, and is of great practical value to every advertiser. Mr. Lord is a forceful writer whose ideas are based on actual experience.

Cards have been received announcing the marriage in Somerville, Massachusetts, of William Rowe Butterfield, of the class of '92, and Marion Floy Pulsifer. Mr. and Mrs. Butterfield will be at home after August 1 at 231 Pleasant street, Brockton, Mass.

LOCALS

The baseball team had its picture taken at Chalmers' last week.

Doc. Weld, '05, is slowly recovering from a severe attack of typhoid fever.

C. W. Pennell, '05, has been confined to the house for a few days with a sprained ankle, sustained during baseball practice.

John H. Burleigh of the freshman class is at present undergoing a serious illness which necessitated his returning home before the close of the term.

Prof. K. P. Harrington was among the guests at the annual banquet of the Kotzschmar club, Portland's musical club, at Riverside, Thursday, May 12.

At a recent meeting of the faculty, it was voted that hereafter Elementary Greek be confined to one year and that college credit be given toward a degree for it.

The latest thing out seems to be mosquitoes. Judging from the swarms of them around the dormitories and fraternity houses, they have a special liking for the blood of the college student.

A slight fire in the rear of the forge shop was the cause of some excitement Monday evening, May 16. The fire brigade was called out, but the blaze was nearly extinguished before it arrived. Practically no damage was done.

The Phi Kappa Sigmas enjoyed a very pleasant evening at their new home Wednesday, May 18. Friends were invited in and the evening was pleasantly passed in dancing and card playing. Refreshments were served throughout the evening.

The military inspection was a surprise to those who watched the battalion go through its manouvers. The rapid progress of the battalion has been due entirely to the efforts and energy of Capt. Symmonds, who has brought the battalion into fine shape.

At a meeting of the sophomore class held May 23, the editor-in-chief, business manager and artist for the 1906 Prism were elected as follows: Editor, A. J. Butterworth; business manager, C. W. Campbell; artist, R. S. Sherman. The associate editors will be chosen by the editor.

At a short college meeting held after chapel, May 23, the officers of the athletic association, as recommended by the executive committee were elected as follows: President, Geo. K. Huntington '05; vice-president, A. W. Collins, '05; acting treasurer, W. D. Hurd; secretary, F. A. Banks, '06.

Something like the old time baseball celebrations was seen the night of the Dartmouth game. A very respectable bonfire illuminated the north part of the campus and cheering and speeches were features of the evening. If more of this spirit which shows the team that we are back of them and interested were shown, we would have more causes for celebrations.

With the opening of college in the fall two new courses will be added to the English department. Eh. 18, Forensic Writing; a course in the principles of written argumentation with a view to written debate. It will consist of lectures and written work. Eh. 15, Oral Debate; a course in application of the principles of argumentation, to spoken debate. Lectures and class room work.

Prof. J. S. Stevens delivered a very interesting lecture to his classes in Physics, on the X-ray, Monday evening, May 23. The demonstration of the theory and descriptive part of the apparatus was followed by an exhibition of the power of the machine, and the students were given the opportunity of viewing the bones of their hands and other simple experiments illustrating its use.

At the last meeting of the executive committee for the term, C. W. Campbell, '06, was elected baseball manager for 1905. Mr. Campbell has faithfully filled the duties of assistant manager, and should be thoroughly competent to succeed Manager McDermott. This department has seldom been managed in a more competent or business like way and Manager McDermott is to be highly complimented upon his work.

The interscholastic meet May 21, was an eye-opener in the way of athletic material. There were athletes competing from the various preparatory schools who would even now make a creditable showing on a 'varsity track team. The opportunity for a little missionary work for the college and for the athletic department is a good one. Most of these men are going to college somewhere. Why not get them here?

The student appreciation of high dramatic talent was clearly shown at Park's theatre, Tuesday evening, May 17, when Al Martz with his talented troupe, entertained a select audience composed mostly of students. The delighted theatre lovers applauded vociferously tragedy, comedy and opera alike until the amazed and bewildered actors disappeared at the conclusion of the last act, followed by a shower of peanuts and other things.

The members of the 1904 track team met directly after chapel May 23, and unanimously elected Walter J. Shaw, 1905, captain of the team for the coming season. Shaw in addition to being the most popular fellow on the team is the most reliable point winner remaining in college. He holds at present the college and State records in the high jump at 5 ft. 7 1-4 in., and with the exception of Parker is the highest pole vaulter in the state, holding the State record last year at 10 ft. 6 3-8 in.

The annual spring scrap between the two lower classes occurred Monday evening, May 22. The results were equally disastrous to both classes and no one was heard to complain that he did not receive his share of mud and water. After a confused scrap in which members of either class frantically dragged members of their own class or the other in their haste to duck someone, the two classes parted, scraped the mud out of their eyes and ears and return home, each believing himself to be the hero of the fight.

ATHLETICS

TENNIS

The second annual tournament of the Maine Intercollegiate Tennis Association took place at the courts on the campus during the week of May 9. Bad weather and wet courts seemed to be the order of things and the visiting teams were forced to put up with several days of inactivity about Orono. Arriving Tuesday, the delegates from the other three colleges found the courts too wet to play upon that day. But Wednesday came bright and clear, an ideal tennis day, and before the weather interfered again the contests in the doubles had been decided.

From the first it seemed as though Bowdoin was destined to win. The men from Brunswick had had the greater amount of practice and perhaps we will have to admit a higher standard of tennis play. But in spite of Bowdoin's slight superiority over the other college teams, close games were much in evidence and it was seldom indeed that it did not take the maximum number of sets to decide a match. So it was not without a good deal of hard work that both Bowdoin teams found themselves arrayed against and defeated two Maine teams in the semi-finals. The victors, having no object in contesting in the finals, will, it is understood, leave the completion of the tournament until some convenient date when they can compete in Brunswick.

Now the weather again interfered and it was Saturday before the courts were again in fit condition to play upon.

In the singles, as in the doubles, the visitors from Bowdoin proved their superiority and proved that they are entitled to the possession of the silver trophies for yet another year. On the way to the finals, in which two Bowdoin men found themselves, the play was quite remarkable for closeness and brilliancy. In the first match Weymouth of Bates forced Dana of Bowdoin to play his best, although the former was much inconvenienced during the last set by a slightly sprained ankle. H. Bryant, Colby, also defeated Stewart, Maine, 10-8, although the latter by a rally won the match, while in the semifinals Dana only won from Stewart after a couple of deuce sets.

The summary of the week is as follows:

DOUBLES

Preliminaries: Dana and Tobey, Bowdoin, beat Lane and Spooner, Bates, 3-6, 6-3, 6-1. Stewart and Herbert, Maine, beat Soule and Jones, Colby, 6-2, 3-6, 6-3. Williams and Laidley, Bowdoin, beat Bryant Brothers, Colby, 6-1, 6-3. Sawyer and Bean, Maine, beat Doe and Weymouth, Bates, 6-2, 6-4.

Semi-finals: Dana and Tobey beat Stewart and Herbert, 6-2, 5-7, 6-2. Williams and Laidley beat Sawyer and Bean, 6-2, 6-3.

SINGLES

Preliminaries: Stewart, Maine, beat H. Bryant, Colby, 6-3, 8-10, 6-1. Dana, Bowdoin, beat Weymouth, Bates, 5-7, 6-1, 6-0. Jones, Colby, beat Spooner, Bates, 6-3, 6-0. Tobey, Bowdoin, beat Lovett, Maine, 6-3, 6-3.

Semi-finals: Dana beat Stewart, 6-2, 7-5. Tobey beat Jones, 6-1, 4-6, 6-0.

THE WORCESTER MEET

Fast, faster, too fast! Fast always, faster this year than ever, too fast for our athletes. Such is the story of this year's New England inter-collegiate meet at Worcester.

For the third time Amherst easily walked away with the meet, Taylor, Hubbard, Rollins and Orrell contributing most of the points.

Once more Denning of Bowdoin broke the record in the hammer throw, and Shorey, his team mate, who ran such a pretty race at Waterville, came in third in the two mile. Porter of Maine got second in the 100 yard trial but neither he nor Croft of Brown, who won first in the same heat, could make good in the final. The summary is an interesting one.

100-yard dash—Final heat won by G. L. Swasey, Dartmouth; H. L. Guterson, Williams, second; W. G. Boggs, M. I. T., third; F. L. Thompson, Amherst, fourth. Time 10 2-5s.

INTERSCHOLASTIC MEET

The fourth annual invitation field meet of the University of Maine Athletic Association was held May 21 on Alumni field. There was over a hundred contestants, and seven preparatory schools of the State were represented. The meet was a great success from start to finish. In the morning there was a strong west wind blowing down the straightaway, and it looked as if records in the track events were impossible, but before two o'clock the wind had died down, and in the afternoon the weather conditions were well nigh perfect. Over on the north side of the field the track was a little heavy on account of the pouring rain of the night before, but the straightaway was in excellent condition. The field, too, was a little slippery, and but for this fact better records would undoubtedly have been made in the weight events.

Westbrook Seminary won the meet with a total of 56 points, her nearest competitor being Kent's Hill, who had but 27 points. Brewer High school got 15 points, Bangor 10, Ellsworth 9, Parsonsfield Seminary 8, while Bar Harbor High school captured one point. Seven former records were broken and two equalled.

The trials in the hammer, shot and discus, and in the 220 and 440 yard dashes were run off in the forenoon, and the results showed that Westbrook Seminary might be counted on as the winner of the meet.

By two o'clock in the afternoon the grandstand was crowded with supporters of the different teams and with college students. There were large delegations from Bangor, Brewer, Ellsworth and Kent's Hill. The meet was interesting throughout, all of the events being closely contested.

The summary :

100 Yard Dash—Won by Miliken, Westbrook ; Lowell, Westbrook, 2d ; Valladores, Westbrook, 3d. Time, 10 2-5s.

Half mile run—Won by Manter, Kent's Hill ; Pullen, Brewer, 2d ; Holmes, Westbrook, 3d. Time, 2m. 13 2-5s.

BASEBALL

MAINE 4, DARTMOUTH 3

Coming as it did after two consecutive defeats and at a time when Maine baseball stock was somewhat below par, the result of the Dartmouth game was more than an ordinary surprise to the crowd which gathered to receive the report. That it was a pleasant one no one who was anywhere in the vicinity of our quiet little town on that evening could doubt and if Gussie Mitchell and his faithful band could have stood on Oak Hall steps at any time between nine and twelve, they would have enjoyed as warm a reception as was ever accorded a victorious team.

Jack Frost again proved his right to a place in the front rank of college pitchers and with good, all-round support showed the New Hampshire boys that their new rival is a rival in every sense of the word. The score by innings :

MAINE 6, COLBY 4

Maine squared her account with Colby last Wednesday in a game which although marked by the most discouragingly ragged kind of fielding, was fully as exciting as any played this year. Frost and Coombs pitched championship ball but their support was of a different order and Maine won by bunching her hits with Colby's errors.

Colby made one run in the first on a base on balls, a single and an error by Mitchell. Maine scored two in the second on hits by Bird and Larrabee and obliging errors by Colby's infielders. Colby got three more and a good lead in the third through some clean hits and unclean errors, and then both teams steadied down to ball playing for two innings. In the fifth Maine scored again, making it 4-3.

In the sixth Colby got a man on first and third with none out and bid fair to clinch the game, but Frost let out a loop and the next three men went out in order. The unexpected happened in the last of the sixth when the Maine batters commenced to line out the ball and with the help of costly errors on Colby's part captured three scores and the lead. Colby was unable to score again while Collins brought in another run for Maine in the seventh, making the score 6-4. Collins, Larrabee and Frost did good work for Maine while Coombs and Craig excelled for Colby. The score:

MAINE 6, BATES 1

Maine ended her season which began so gloomily with a grand victory over Bates on Alumni Field, Saturday.

Bates had been universally picked as winner of the championship and came to Orono with a determination to win, but Jack Frost and the Maine combination were altogether too much for her and she went down in defeat, outplayed at every point.

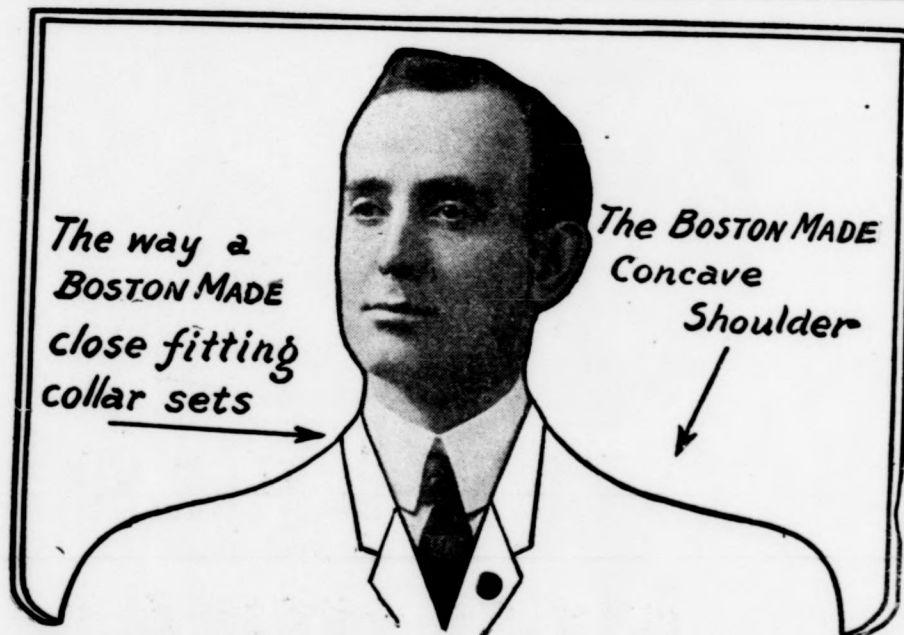

Frost was the same cool, nervy, reliable boy that he has always shown himself to be at critical times; Ben Larrabee and Violette playing for the last time in U. of M. suits put up gilt edged games, Violette especially batting like a fiend.

After disposing of the Bates men in short order Maine commenced the scoring in the first when McDonald was hit, advanced to second by Collins' sacrifice, scoring on Violette's pretty drive to the woods for two bases. Gussie Mitchell as usual hit safe, sending Neil to third;

Larrabee hit to Wood and Violette came in with the second run.

Both sides went out one, two, three, in the second and Bates came to the bat in the third with blood in her eye. Doe sent one over Mitchell's head for two bags; Bowman got to first on a hot one through the infield and went to second on a wild pitch. Things were beginning to look dubious for Maine but Frost spoiled the garnet's aspirations by striking out the next two men. In the fourth Bates got after Frost hard but clean, hard fielding restricted them to one tally. The crisis of the game came in the sixth when Wood, the first man up, smashed out a terrific three-bagger. Then Jack showed his nerve once more. Wight hit an easy one to Collins, Rogers struck out, Bower drove a straight one out to Mitchell and Bates' last rally ended with Wood on third unable to advance.

Hits by Larrabee and Frost and errors by Bower, Kendall and Austin gave Maine two runs in her half of the sixth and Burns' two-bagger sent Hosmer home in the eighth. Bates went out in order in the last three innings and the game ended 6-1 in favor of Maine. The score:
