MAINE-COLBY

In the fastest and most exciting basketball game played here during the last few years, Maine was returned a victor over Colby by a score of 27-20. The game was close throughout, and it was not until the last two minutes that Maine had it safely won. The advantage in lead changed so often and rapidly that the majority of the crowd were on their feet all the time, in a frenzy of excitement.

The teams were evenly matched in speed and size. They played their hardest, which furnished just enough roughness to the game to give it plenty of spirit. The Colby men are the best team that has been seen here this year, and it was a victory worth winning. The Maine backs received the bulk of the work, time after time blocking Goode or Tribou, and these also figured largely in the scoring. "Jim" Scales placed some pretty shots, and played a hard, fast game. Goode and Blake were the stars for Colby.

Following is the summary:

MAINE (27)	COLBY (20)
J. Scales, r f.....	1 g, McKenzie
Wadsworth, N. Scales, l f.....	r g, Goode
Black, c.....	c, McClellan
French, Marshall, r g.....	1 f, Blake
Morton, l g.....	r f, Tribou
Goals from floor—French, 4; Goode, 4; J. Scales, 3; Black, 3; Wadsworth, 1; Tribou, 1. McClellan, 1.
Goals from fouls: J. Scales, 5; McClellan, 1; Blake, 1. Referee—Cornet. Time—20 minutes, 2 halves.

In the preliminary game, the second team had an easy time of it with Oldtown High. The visitors did not score until the last four minutes of play, while the college men scored at will. The second team this year is a fast aggregation, and can give the 'varsity a good game, and promises to make good material in the future.

MAINE-COLBY AT WATERVILLE

Saturday evening, Feb. 1, Maine lost her first game of this season to the speedy Colby team. The game was a repetition of the fast, hard playing of the week before, except that Colby pulled out ahead.

Maine led up till the latter part of the game, when Colby forged ahead, owing to a better knowledge of the floor. Goode excelled for Colby, while Scales and Morton did the best work for Maine. The game was close and exciting and was very fast.

The summary is as follows:

MAINE	COLBY
J. Scales, l f.....	1 g, Goode
Wadsworth, N. Scales, r f.....	1 g, McKenzie
Black, c.....	c, McClellan

MAINE 2ND - DOVER & FOXCROFT

In a fast game, Jan. 31, the Maine 2nd team went down to defeat before the fast Dover and Foxcroft basketball team. The game was very fast and exciting throughout, both teams showing good team work and fine passing. Boyle and Sanford played the best game for Dover and Foxcroft, while Stoddard and Dow excelled for Maine.

Saturday, January 25, the Maine Hockey Team defeated the Bucksport Seminary on University Rink, 12 to 0. The University team outplayed their opponents in all stages of the game; the team work was fair; Chase, Bruhn and Pray showed up well and played an exceptionally good game. The Seminary put up a good amateur game but showed a lack of practice.

The lineup was as follows:

THE FIRST ASSEMBLY

The first Assembly of the year was held in the gymnasium, Friday evening, February 7, and was one of the most brilliant social events of the season. The decorations although simple were very tasteful, the use of college and fraternity shields being an unique feature. As usual the color scheme was blue and white, and the cozy corners decorated by the different fraternities gave the gymnasium an attractive appearance.

Pullen's orchestra was at its best, and a large number enjoyed the excellent program which consisted of nineteen dances. The reception began at eight o'clock, the receiving committee being composed of Dr. and Mrs. Fernald, Capt. and Mrs. Brown and P. I. Robinson, '08. The ladies of the Round Table were the patronesses. Mr. Robinson as floor director was efficiently aided by the members of the Assembly Committee.

This is the fourth year that these Assemblies, organized to take the place of the old fraternity dances, have been conducted, and they have proved successful in every way. The second Assembly of the season will be held Friday, March 6th.

The committee in charge of the assemblies is as follows: Philip I. Robinson, Chairman; Claude Boyle, Bernard J. Collins, Everett C. Coleman, Francis P. Emery, James P. Farnsworth, Ben B. Fogler, Arthur S. Hanscom, James J. Morrison, Fred C. Morton, Percy R. Seamon, Walter L. Sturtevant and Gordon L. Wildes.

BLUE BOOK PLAYS

The two plays, "The Rector" and "The Orator of Zepata City" which were given Friday evening Jan. 31, in the chapel, went off very smoothly for the first performance. Owing to the fact that several other entertainments on the campus were booked for the same evening, there was a small attendance and the financial returns were poor. The first play "The Rector" was given by the young ladies. Miss Philbrook was especially amusing in her attempts to make a favorable impression upon the Parson. Miss Averill made a strong "Committee Woman."

The second play was dramatic and typical of the western character. The chapel stage made an appropriate background for the court scene, and a large number of men acting as jurymen and court officials in rough-and-ready costumes, gave the scene a rough atmosphere. Special mention should be made of Mr. Sumner's impersonations of Abe Barrows. It was a difficult character given with dramatic force and decision that is seldom seen in an amateur performance.

The plays will be repeated tomorrow evening in the Orono Town Hall under the auspices of the Young Ladies' Aid Society of the Congregational Church for the benefit of the Blue Book. The plays deserve much more support than was given them.

MAINE AT B. A. A. MEET

At the B. A. A. Meet held in the Mechanics Building, Boston, Feb. 1st, Maine won in the relay race against Vermont. This was a very creditable piece of work, considering the inexperience of the men as relay runners and the strangeness of the track. Maine won the toss and Cook '10 took the pole. The Vermont man jumped into the lead at first but Cook soon got busy and turned the race over to Bean '08, with a 3-yards' margin. After the first relay, Maine was at no time hard-pushed, and Torrey '09 and Littlefield '10 maintained the lead given them. Maine won by about 3 yards to the good. The teams were fairly evenly matched and the race was intensely exciting.

The other men who represented Maine in the games were Fortier '10, in the 1000 yards, who had a handicap of 22 yards; Hicks '10, in the mile with 35 yards' handicap; and Knight '09, in the 45 yard hurdles with 5 feet handicap. All these men ran well but they were in very fast company, the pick of the country in fact, and although they brought home no honors for Maine, they gained a vast amount of the best of experience that should be of much value to them in future athletic work.

BAND MEETING

At a recent meeting of the Band, the proposition of making it a part of the Military Department was brought up for decision. It was finally decided to accept the offer of the Faculty, and according to the terms of the acceptance, the Band will practice one hour each afternoon from 4.30 to 5.30. Credit will be given for this, similar to that for regular drill.

The Freshmen in the Band will grade as privates; the Sophomores as corporals; while the Juniors and Seniors will rank as sergeants. Raymond J. Smith '08, was appointed as leader or chief musician, and E. M. Fulton '10, as first assistant.

DEATH OF MRS. HARRIS.

Mrs. Abram Winegardner Harris, wife of the President of Northwestern University, Chicago, died Monday morning, Feb. 3, at her home, in Evanston, Ill., of an internal cancer after a long illness. She was in a hospital in Philadelphia until early in December, when she was brought to Evanston in a special car.

Mrs. Harris whose maiden name was Clara Bainridge, was born in Burlington, N. J., Sept. 14, 1859. Her girlhood was spent in Philadelphia, where her father and mother still live, and where she was married to President Harris in 1888. Since then she has lived at Washington, D. C., Orono Me., where Dr. Harris was President of the University of Maine, and at Port Deposit, Md., where he was President of Jacob Tome Institute. Mrs. Harris went to Evanston in September, 1906. She leaves a son, Abram.

The body was taken to Philadelphia for burial. Recitations in all departments of Northwestern University were dismissed Tuesday forenoon and there were no college exercises in the college of liberal arts during the day. At 2 o'clock, when the remains were taken to the Milwaukee and St. Paul depot, the students formed a guard of honor from the house to the station. Services were held in Philadelphia Thursday morning at 10.30 o'clock.

Mrs. Harris' death was announced at chapel service at the University of Maine Monday morning, Feb. 3.

EDITORIAL.

THE last basketball game of the season in the gym will be played next Saturday night, February 15.

IN the Sunday afternoon chapel services, begun last Sunday, another innovation has been started at the University. These services not only give the students a rare opportunity to hear some really noted clergymen and speakers, but they should also help to bring these men to a better knowledge of a state university with which they seldom come in contact. Next Sunday, Washington Gladden, a Congregationalist clergyman of national note will speak. The Sunday after, Feb. 23, Rev. E. C. Whittemore, of Waterville, of the Baptist denomination, will address the students, and March 15, Bishop Codman of the Episcopal church is expected. These services deserve the very liberal support of the student body.

CONSIDERABLE discussion has been started recently by the suggestion of charging admission to the Junior Prom, thus breaking away from the established custom of all previous classes. The plan has much to be said in its favor, but also several serious objections.

The advantages of the new plan are that it will cut down the attendance at the Prom and thus relieve the congestion and thin out the crowd which has a tendency to grow larger every year. Another advantage is that the plan will combine business with pleasure, or in other words, will enable the class to give the biggest invitation function of the year, and at the same time relieve the financial strain through which a class passes in its Junior year. Other colleges do it. Why not at Maine?

On the other hand what are the objections? Undoubtedly the plan will keep down the crowd, but it will do so by keeping away the college man who cannot afford the additional expense. Money looks bigger to fellows going through college than to outsiders who are well-known enough to receive invitations to the Prom. The fact that it is done at other colleges is no reason in itself for the adoption of the scheme. Conditions are different at Maine. The fact that Maine has been able to defer the adoption of the plan until now and thereby remain different from other colleges, is to her credit and not the reverse.

Another argument in favor of the plan is that it allows the class to make money to defray the heavy burden of expense of the Junior year. The only objection to this is that the principal class, and in fact college function of the year, is reduced to the level of a quasi-money-making scheme.

The fact remains that the Junior Prom is always excessively crowded. Three ways are open to remedy it; first, to charge admission; second, to limit the number of invitations; third, to restrict invitations to the upper-classes. Opinions differ as to the best method of accomplishing this, but everyone agrees that the affair will be more pleasurable if the attendance is cut down to reasonable limits.

SENIOR CLASS ELECTIONS.

A meeting of the Senior Class was held Tuesday, Feb. 4, for the purpose of electing commencement committees and officers for Class Day. Commencement committees were chosen as follows:

Commencement Ball: F. P. Emery, J. P. Farnsworth, Joseph Jacobs, A. S. Hanscom, F. C. Morton.

Class Day officers were elected as follows: poet, Belle C. Harris; orator, Raymond Fellows; marshal, C. P. Meserve; historian, C. A. Brownell; chaplain, T. W. Fessenden; address to undergraduates, J. T. Kendrigan.

R. K. Steward was appointed floor manager of the Commencement Ball. It was decided to be expedient to defer the election of the Valedictorian until a later date. A committee to arrange for a Senior Banquet, to be held in the spring, was elected as follows: A. S. Hanscom, W. D. Trask, P. I. Robinson.

MEETING OF THE NEW ENGLAND INTER-COLLEGIATE ARBITRATION BOARD.

The New England Intercollegiate Arbitration Board met Saturday afternoon, Feb. 1, at the University Club, Boston, Mass. All the colleges in the association were represented by delegates. The delegates were entertained at luncheon by Hon. L. C. Southard, Maine '75. After luncheon a business meeting was held at which Mr. Southard was re-elected president of the board and Professor Pomeroy of Bates was re-elected secretary-treasurer.

The secretary reported progress in regard to the revision of the constitution, and the advisability of having printed with the constitution the rulings of the board on the various cases submitted to it for decision during the six years of its existence.

The most important matter discussed was the method followed in the choosing of the officials for the various intercollegiate contests. It was voted to suggest to the athletic associations of the various colleges comprising the board that they discuss the advisability of appointing a board of alumni, the board to consist of one alumnus of each of the colleges belonging to the board, and to have the power to choose officials for athletic contests.

AGRICULTURAL CLUB

The regular weekly meeting of the Agricultural Club was held on Wednesday evening, Feb. 5, in Lord Hall. President Fellows was the speaker of the evening, and his talk was interesting and to the point, and was much appreciated by the members of the Club. The subject was Industrial Education.

MEETING OF THE CAMPUS BOARD

At a meeting of the CAMPUS Board, Feb. 6, the resignation of B. B. Fogler, '08, was accepted. R. A. Jellison and C. A. Porter, both of the Sophomore class were elected to the CAMPUS Board as associate editors.

OMEGA LAMBDA UPSILON HOUSE.

The new fraternity house of Omega Lambda Upsilon will be situated directly opposite the main entrance to the campus, between the residence of Dean Hurd and the Kappa Sigma House. It will front on College Street, and from its site an extended view will be had of the campus and its surroundings.

The building itself will have a total frontage of 80 feet, consisting of a main house of three stories, connected on either side with a two-storied wing. A broad veranda will extend along the entire front of the main house and the Colonial style will predominate throughout the construction of the building.

The front entrance, as provided in the plans, has a large oaken door with windows of stained glass above and on either side. This entrance opens into a vestibule; then into a large lounging room, 29 by 34. Directly opposite the entrance is a large open fire-place built of rough field stones, about which are several settles. The ceiling of the lounging room consists of beams attractively arranged, supported by several large pillars.

The wing on the left contains the parlor 22 by 14; also the guests' room and matron's apartments. The opposite wing has a spacious dining hall 22 by 18 with the serving room and the chef's room in the rear. The parlor lounging room and dining room are connected by large folding doors and thus ample dancing space will be provided.

From the left side of the fire-place in the lounging room, winding stairs lead to the second floor. This floor is occupied by ten study rooms, averaging three students to a room. The lavatories are also on this floor. On the front side, French windows open to the upper piazza. The third floor contains the Chapter Hall and four sleeping apartments, lighted by dormer windows. Only the section beneath the main house and right wing will be excavated and this space will be utilized for the kitchen, pantry, laundry and store rooms. Here also are found shower baths and toilet. From the kitchen, dumb waiters pass to the serving room on the floor above.

The building will be shingled, stained a dark brown with cream colored trimmings. The interior will be finished in oak and cypress with hardwood floors throughout the house. The building will be heated from the University heating plant. When complete, the house will accommodate 32 students and its cost will be about $11,000.00, including $1,000 for furnishings. Work will be commenced about April 1st and rapidly pushed forward, that the building may be ready for occupancy at the beginning of the fall term, 1908. The plans and specifications are now being prepared by the architect, Wilfred E. Mansur of Bangor. The general plan of the house is arranged with a view to the best social and dwelling advantages for its members and is both original and attractive in design.

ALPHA TAU OMEGA LOSES CHAPTER HOUSE AT CORNELL.

The Maine Chapter of Alpha Tau Omega has adopted the following resolutions relative to the recent loss of the chapter house, at Cornell, entailing fatal consequences to one of its members.

Whereas, Our sister chapter New York Beta Theta has suffered severe loss by fire, and

Whereas, This loss has brought great sorrow to our brothers of Beta Theta, be it

Resolved, That we, the members of the Maine Beta Upsilon Chapter of the Alpha Tau Omega Fraternity, in token of the common sorrow we share with the afflicted chapter, hereby extend the heartfelt sympathy we bear them in their loss, and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the stricken chapter; that they be inscribed on the records of our own chapter and that they be printed in the MAINE CAMPUS.

LAW SCHOOL

Professor Worster who has been seriously ill with appendicitis was operated on recently and came out very successfully. He is now rapidly convalescing. Meanwhile Mr. Brooks has consented to take his class in Suretyship.

Ernest Hobson, Esq., a successful attorney of Palmer, Massachusetts who graduated from the Law School in 1900, and who has been twice returned to the Massachusetts Legislature without opposition, and that in a naturally doubtful district, is considered by many of the Law School alumni as one of the best men to put on the proposed advisory council of the University of Maine Alumni.

In the Glee Club Concert given in Bangor, January 20, the Law School was represented by one man. What was lacking in quantity however was made up in quality. Mr. James Maxwell rendered a cello solo and received the greatest ovation of the evening. He was encored three times and his number was easily conceded to be the best on the program.

Mr. Laurence Perry, honor man of the class of 1907, won his first case in court last month. The case was an action for slander and libel. Mr. Perry was counsel for the defense. The plaintiff's declaration alleged that the defendant had called plaintiff a "bad woman" and had made other remarks derogatory to the plaintiff's character. The defendant demurred, admitting all this to be true but claimed there was no ground for an action at law. The court sustained the demurrer.

The Law School Basketball Team has entered a league consisting of the following teams, Y. M. C. A. Senior, Y. M. C. A. Intermediate, Bangor High, Bangor Theological Seminary and Alpha Phi. The first game will be played Tuesday evening February, fourth with the Y. M. C. A. Intermediates game, to be played at the Y. M. C. A. Gym.

Mr. Justice Waldron handed down a very able decision Monday afternoon at the Moot Court Session, in favor of the plaintiff, in the recent case of Dennon vs. French. Justice Waldron based his decision both on principle and authority. The defendant appealed and the case will be given a final judgement by the two upper classes, who will set as a Court of Appeals. Justice Waldron based his decision on the following principles.

In a contract for the sale of goods, where in its terms there is to be a series of deliveries and payments, a default by one party in one or several of the conditions of the contract does not per se discharge the other party from his obligation, unless the party in default has by his conduct, or expressly, shown an intent to abandon the contract. In the present case plaintiff, Black, delivered the five loads of bark in full recognition of the binding force of the contract, and then five loads were accepted without protest by defendant Ray. There is no ground upon which the defendant can claim his discharge.

Defendant's exceptions overruled.

The Law School Basketball Team played their first game Tuesday, Feb. 4, with the Y. M. C. A. Intermediates. The Law School team, considering the time they had practiced, put up a fine game and while lacking in team work the individual play showed material that if trained, would easily make a champion team. Morrison threw some very difficult baskets. Halliday also played a star game. Except for a few unfair decisions of the referee and a little rough playing by the Y. M. C. A. team, the game was unmarred by excitement. The score was 21 to 10 in favor of the Intermediates.

The following is the line up:

Y. M. C. A. INTERMEDIATES	LAW SCHOOL
Boynton, f.....	g, Riggs
Mooney, f.....	g, Morrison
Williams, c.....	c, Lemaire
Rice, g.....	f, Carlson
Savage, g.....	f, Halliday

Tuesday, Feb. 11, the team will play Bangor Theological Seminary at the Y. M. C. A.

inations. Mr. Lewis and Mr. Seavey have been receiving congratulations from their many friends. A number of the law students partook of their celebration Monday night.

At the Debating Society, Friday night, Feb. 7th, the following question was argued: "Resolved: That the State Capital should be moved to Bangor." Mr. Small and Mr. Driscoll for the affirmative, Mr. Goss and Mr. Purington for the negative. Mr. LeMaire talked on current events and Mr. Skillins acted as critic. The judges brought in a decision in favor of the negative.

The case of First Presbyterian Church v. Abbott, Admr., was heard in the Moot Court, Monday afternoon, February 10, before Mr. Justice Maxwell. Mr. Anderson and Mr. Gallagher were the attorneys for the plaintiff and Mr. Snow and Mr. Blossom for the defendant. Both sides presented excellent briefs. The decision will be handed down by Justice Maxwell, Feb. 17.

STATEMENT OF FACTS.

Defendant's intestate, with others, subscribed a paper reading as follows:

"We, the undersigned, hereby severally promise and agree to and with the trustees of the First Presbyterian Church in Bangor, in consideration of one dollar to each of us in hand paid and the agreements of each other in this contract contained, to pay on or before three years from the date hereof to said trustees, the sum set opposite to our respective names, but upon the express condition, and not otherwise, that the sum of $45,000 in the aggregate shall be subscribed and paid in for the purpose herein-after stated; and if within one year from this date said sum shall not be subscribed or paid in for such purpose, then this agreement to be null and of no effect. The purpose of this subscription is to pay off the mortgage debt of $45,000, now a lien upon the church edifice of said church, and the subscription or contribution for that purpose must equal that sum in the aggregate to make this agreement binding. Bangor, May 18, 1903."

Defendant's intestate made a subscription of $5000 and paid $2000 upon it, but refused to pay the rest and then died. His administrator is sued by the church for the balance. The consideration of one dollar was not in fact paid, but all other subscribers had paid their subscriptions in full. Defense (1) No consideration. (2) No mutual promises between plaintiff and defendant's intestate. The question raised by the defense has not yet been decided in the jurisdiction.

AFTERNOON CHAPEL SERVICES.

Last Friday at chapel service some time was taken to present the matter of the Sunday afternoon chapel services to the student body. The plans for these services, so far as completed, were explained, and Mr. Kendrigan was called upon to present the matter from a student standpoint. Mr. Kendrigan has always been prominently identified with the active furtherance of the spiritual and religious well-being of student life at Maine, and his remarks were well received. He urged the fellows to devote at least one hour in the week to a consideration of more spiritual subjects than usually occupy a student's attention, and thus help uplift the religious life at Maine. This could best be attained, he said, by the support of these services.

ALUMNI.

EX-'85

The Boston Herald of Jan. 26 devotes quite an amount of space to the outlining of the plans of a former University of Maine man for the revision of the Concord (N. H.) city charter. A radical change in the government is under discussion, and we give below a part of the matter as reported by the Herald:

E. C. Vose, of the United States weather service, formerly of Bangor, appeared before the Central Labor Union last week, and stated his views upon the subject which that organization has under consideration.

Mr. Vose suggested a return to the town meeting idea, with its selectmen, adapted to the use of larger communities, and thus outlined his plan: A board of affairs of council, consisting of five members, one for the head of each of the five departments, selected at large by the people, and thus having the interest of the whole city at heart; this board to be invested with all executive, legislative and judicial functions; to have entire charge of the business of the city in all ordinary matters; the granting of franchises, however, and all other matters of great moment or unusual expenditure to be referred directly to the people for advice; all heads of departments and superintendents to be elected by the board, and to hold office at their pleasure, but members of the police, fire and other departments to be under civil service; the members of the board to rotate in office, one being elected for one year, two for two years, and two for three years. The chairman, or mayor, to be always elected by the people.

Mr. Vose also recommends municipal ownership of public utilities and he claims that his plan would be the nearest approach to pure democracy possible, and that it would do away with many of the present evils in the city government.

W. A. Stewart recently visited friends at the University. Mr. Stewart is now a division superintendent on the Illinois Central Railroad, and has his headquarters at McComb, Mississippi.

'07

L. H. Hodgkins who, since graduation, has been engaged in concrete building block business, has recently received orders to proceed to the Philippines via San Francisco to engage in government work. Mr. Hodgkins has not yet been informed of the exact nature of his work. He took the civil service examinations last spring previous to graduation.

INTERCOLLEGIATE ITEMS.

The Washington University strike is declared off and the student activities will be resumed pending further consideration of the new eligibility rules. The faculty will meet a representation of the student body and it is expected that the difficulties will be satisfactorily adjusted. The resolutions adopted by the student body are as follows:—

"Whereas, The Faculty have evinced a willingness to meet the students to draw up new eligibility rules upon condition student activity be resumed: be it Resolved, that Washington University students resume activity." The press, generally, considers this move a victory for the faculty.

The Civic League Record prints President Chase's opinion of the use of tobacco by students. The Bates president writes as follows:

The results of my observation of the use of tobacco by students accord entirely with those noted in other institutions. It injures the user's health, lessens his mental energy, lowers his ideals and blunts his moral sensibilities. There are less than ten young men at Bates who use tobacco in any form. Not one of these has a place among our good scholars, not one of them is, so far as I can learn, a religious man. Some exceptionally bright fellows have, by the use of tobacco sunk to mediocrity. Not one of our football team uses tobacco, all the students accepting it as an unquestionable fact that tobacco impairs a young man's physical powers and so far renders him ineligible for the positions requiring full bodily vigor. We are doing our best to eradicate the evil entirely from our institution. No user of tobacco at Bates is eligible for a scholarship.—George C. Chase, Pres. Bates College, Lewiston.

The Colby Echo prints a rather interesting account of the basketball game played in Alumni Hall, Saturday, January 25. The Echo says: "The game played Saturday evening was lost by a few points, and was the best game that the Colby team has put up so far this season, and there is not the least feeling of dissatisfaction at the outcome."

In the editorial column of the Tufts Weekly are a few lines regarding the distribution of college honors in Tufts and a suggestion for an improvement upon prevailing conditions. The editor calls attention to the fact that in many colleges and universities a comparatively small number of men hold all the offices of trust and responsibility. The objections to such a condition of affairs are chiefly "(1) It becomes a tendency—wholly unavoidable—to slight the less important office or position; and (2) the student himself is prevented both from giving his studies proper attention and from giving himself proper recreation." The writer calls attention to the fact that at Smith, Amherst and M. I. T. steps have been taken "to better regulate the holding of student offices." At Smith offices are divided into two classes. One, the major class, included such positions as the presidency of classes, managers of teams and offices; and the minor class includes such as club secretaryships, committee memberships, etc. No student can hold more than one major and one minor office at the same time. The editor names three good results which he thinks would follow the adoption of such a rule:—"(1) Each and every office could receive a maximum amount of attention, thus strengthening the internal affairs of the student activities. (2) No student would bear more than his time and strength would permit. (3) The award of college honors would be more equally distributed."

Some of the leading newspapers have recently been devoting a large amount of space to the discussion of the representative team of American college athletes which is to be sent to England next summer to compete in the Olympian games with the large English university teams. The team will be the cream of the athletes of Yale, Harvard, Pennsylvania, Cornell, Princeton, Michigan, Dartmouth and Amherst. The blending of the best athletes of these institutions into one team cannot fail to produce strength. In field events America will have her best chances of victory. Cartnell, Haskins and Taylor of Pennsylvania; Rowe, the two-mile champion of Michigan; and Talbot and Cook of Cornell will probably help make up the team. In 1904, England won the mile run in 4.21, and the two-mile in 9.50. Rowe, of Michigan has made the two-mile run in 9.34 and can be expected to carry off the victory at the contest. The result will depend largely upon the showing America makes in the 440 yards and larger runs.

President Jacob G. Schurman of Cornell University has this to say on electives: "The elective principle of colleges and universities is carried too far. It is the duty of the college faculties not to allow a boy of seventeen or eighteen years to choose what he should study, notwithstanding the fact that one of the leading educators of the United States takes issue with me. At least this should not be done for the first two years. In connection with this I beg to announce for the first time that, beginning this year, 1908, we will admit to our medical college, only college graduates or persons of equivalent training, and in order that there may be no doubt, the determination is not left in the hands of the medical faculty, but will be conducted by a committee consisting of the president, dean of the faculty of arts and sciences, and the dean of the medical faculty."

At the regular chapel exercises on Wednesday, Feb. 5, a string quartette consisting of three violins and a 'cello furnished the music. The violins were: Mr. Wittig, Mr. Tucker and Miss Weston of Bangor. Mr. Sawyer of Bangor played the 'cello. The music was of high quality which the students and faculty much appreciated.

While it is true that a good fountain pen will not leak if properly cared for, it is also true that it is not always possible for the most careful to treat it as they ought, while the careless are in continual trouble. These leaking troubles are all obviated in Moore's Non-Leakable Fountain Pen. This pen, is true to its name, it's air-tight and cannot leak. It is also clean to handle and clean to fill, and for these reasons is a favorite among the ladies, travellers and students, as well as among business men.
