JUNIOR PRIZE ESSAYS.

The Junior Prize Essays, which were delivered Wednesday evening, were a credit to the speakers and delighted the large audience, which nearly filled the Chapel. The judges rendered a decision in favor of Elton La Forrest Towle, who spoke on "Railway Accidents and Signals."

Each essay was upon an interesting topic, and had been carefully and fully prepared. The facts and details were arranged in pleasing sequence, each one of the essayists holding the individual attention of those present. Descriptions were cleverly pictured and the subject matter was clearly and concisely stated in each paper. The speakers delivered their essays without a fault, clearly, evenly, and with confidence and expression.

The merits of the essays were based on the subject matter, the composition and the delivery. The decision of the judges, announced shortly after the close of the exhibition, was popular.

The first speaker was Ballard Freese Keith, who chose for his subject, "Juvenal's Picture of Roman Life." He developed his topic by showing that Juvenal's criticism of Roman Society just before her downfall was too severe. Mr. Keith had a carefully prepared essay, and delivered it in excellent style. In "De Monts and the St. Croix" Chase McArthur built up some beautiful descriptions and also spoke well. Miss Irene Clara Richardson spoke on "Juvenile Courts" and cited many interesting cases, which made her theme an attractive one.

Elton LaForrest Towle, who won the prize, showed a perfect knowledge of his subject, "Railway accidents and Signals," and clearly stated the facts to his hearers. He described earnestly the dangers and responsibilities of the railroad engineer, and stated the need of simpler and more efficient signals. Mr. Towle's essay was listened to attentively, and was well received by the audience.

Miss Florence Evelyn Harvey took for her subject "Ellis Island," and in it she depicted the various scenes, which are common on this island, when the immigrants are disembarking and endeavoring to get into the United States. "The Influence of the American Newspaper" was a broad subject, but well dealt with by Walter Lee Emerson. He discoursed upon the good and evil influences of the conservative and yellow journalism upon the people of this country. He had a well written essay. Harold Arthur Rich was unfortunately unable to appear, owing to sickness.

The awarding committee consisted of Prof. Eugene W. Lyman, Rev. Calvin M. Clark, and Prof. Edgar M. Simpson.

The University orchestra furnished music before and during the speaking exhibitions.

THE INFORMAL DANCE.

After the Junior Speaking Wednesday evening the audience adjourned to the gymnasium, where they enjoyed a dance of fourteen numbers. The music was furnished by the college orchestra of six pieces, and the musicians were at their best. Thurman C. Wescott acted as floor director and was assisted by members of the Junior class. During the dance the results of the speaking were announced.

Many people came in to the dance who were not at the speaking exhibition and a merry and good-sized crowd was in attendance. The affair was entirely informal but rivalled some of the formal affairs in respect to a good time.

ly at two o'clock prayer was offered by the Chaplain, B. A. Chandler. President Elton L. Towle followed with a brief address of welcome which was very well received. He introduced the presentator, Francis Eaton Simmons who with a few well chosen remarks distributed several singularly appropriate and useful gifts among the members of the class.

Dexter Southwell Smith delivered an excellent oration while Deane Thomas read the class poem in a very satisfactory manner. The history of 1909 was given by Walter Lee Emerson in which many good natured "knocks" appeared. Harry Sutton read the class prophecy in fine style, Irene C. Richardsson called the roll and the class ode was sung.

ODE.

Dear old Maine, we've learned to love Thee;
Thou hast been our guide,
Thro' our pleasures, toils, and struggles
Ever by our side.

(Chorus)

Maine, dear Maine, we pledge our hearts,
Though earth's friendships may die,
We, thy sons, will still be true,
We'll love Thee for aye.

Gentle mother, Time is passing,
Soon our course is run;
But while life lasts we'll ever cherish
Friendships here begun.
Take our gift, the frail, green ivy;
May its tendrils twine
'Round thy heart-strings, to remind Thee
Of thy children—"NINE."

President Towle then gave the charge to the Curator and then the class assembled at the Library where the ivy was planted in due form.

JUNIOR SPREAD.

After the Ivy Day Exercises, Thursday, it was a gay crowd that sat down to the Junior Spread. The Chapel and the tables were tastefully decorated and the college orchestra furnished music for the occasion.

The excellent repast finished, President Towle of the Junior Class introduced the toast master, Dean Stevens, of the B. A. Department who with a few witty remarks and laughter provoking stories, called on the following gentlemen: Dr. Fellows, George Thompson, Dean Hart, R. K. Jones, John Kendrigan, James Gannett, E. W. Morton and L. F. Pike, all of whom replied in a manner befitting the occasion.

When the speech makers had finished, the happy company broke up and drifted from the Chapel into the Gymnasium to witness the play "When We Were Twenty-one," given by the University Dramatic Club.

JUNIOR PROM.

The Junior Prom, which occurs tonight will be as it has always been, the most brilliant function of the year. The events of Junior Week have led up to it as a climax it being of course the principal event of the week.

The scheme of decorations in the gymnasium will be green; bunting, evergreens and green electrical effects, being used. These will be new and original. In the Chapel, palms, evergreen and bunting in combination with the fraternity booths will transform it completely. The reception will take place here, President and Mrs. George Emory Fellows, Dr. and Mrs. Merritt Caldwell Fernald and Elton LaForest Towle, receiving.

The dance orders for the Prom. are neat and attractive. The covers are dark green leather with a small seal of the University, embossed in gold.

The patronesses will be Mrs. E. A. Balentine, Mrs. C. A. Belcher, Mrs. H. S. Boardman, Mrs. H. A. Chapman, Mrs. H. M. Estabrooke, Mrs. Fay Harding, Mrs. A. L. Harvey, Mrs. J. N. Hart, Mrs. W. D. Hurd, Mrs. N. M. Jones, Mrs.

Mr. Francis E. Simmons will act as Floor Director during the dance. The committee in charge consists of Harry A. White (Chairman,) Florence E. Harvey, John N. Jewett, and Benjamin L. Roberts, Scott and Lockyer.

SENIOR BANQUET.

The Senior class held its banquet last Monday evening at the Penobscot Exchange. The full quota of the class was present and all enjoyed such a time as they will never forget. The large room rang with song and jest during the whole evening. The class had some new tunes written especially for the occasion, which were sung with great glee by all. Although 1908 numbers much less than the other classes in the University, this was counterbalanced by the volume of noise and the friendly spirit present. The Seniors have always been known for the latter quality, ever since they entered the institution.

A menu was prepared which would appease the wants of the most particular, and anyone who had any digestive troubles forgot them.

After the innerman had been completely satisfied Raymond Fellows as toastmaster called for the following interesting toasts. Every speaker gave a response which couldn't be better. Impromptu talks were also given by several members of the class. Cheers resounded through the room for a good many in particular, every one in general, and a great many for the Alma Mater.

THE DRAMATIC CLUB.

WHEN WE WERE TWENTY-ONE.

The presentation of When We Were Twenty-One by the Dramatic Club of the University last evening was the best performance of the play given this season, and came as a successful climax to the year's work. Every seat was taken long before the date for the play, and on Thursday evening the audience was so large that the gymnasium, big as it is, was taxed to the utmost in its seating capacity. It was one of the best times ever enjoyed by any audience, for the play went from start to finish with a snap which made it almost professional in character.

The program was as follows:

SYNOPSIS OF SCENES.

ACT 1. Richard Carewe's Apartments in Clements Inn, London. Evening.

ACT 2. The same scene. The next morning.

ACT 3. Interior of the Athenian Club, London, at midnight.

ACT 4. Carewe's room in Clement's Inn—Two hours later.

Of course the hit of the evening was made by Fassett, whose work was as near perfect as amateur acting ever gets: Not only did he enter into the spirit of the reckless dare-devil boy whose part he took, but physically he fitted the part perfectly.

Wakefield, who played the part of Richard Carewe, was nearly the equal of Fassett. He played one of the hardest parts in the play, and did this under difficulties, having sprained his ankle a short time after the Waterville production. Under such conditions a great deal of credit is due to him.

W. G. Gilbert, in the part of Waddles, scored another hit. He was one of the laughable characters and he induced many a hearty laugh by his attempts to be young and by his childish wisdom.

Wallace Brundall, the "sport", was well taken by H. A. White, who is particularly fitted to carry through this part. He took this character with an ease and naturalness which one would hardly look for in an amateur.

The women's parts were all taken by the boys and were especially interesting to the audience, as it is rather a novelty to see men taking the parts of women in these days. Among these the part of Phyllis, taken by F. W. Petty, should be mentioned as extremely good. The part is an especially difficult one for a man to play. Mr. Petty entered into it with a great deal of intelligence and his production showed brains and work. Another part which was done very well was that of Mrs. Ericson, which was taken by T. F. Shatney. The character has been well done and is so natural that comparatively few have realized its real worth, and the good work put into it. It is in reality one of the best done characters in the play.

Something should be said of the scenery. It was a great improvement over last year's. The lighting was very fine and nearly perfection. The living room of Dick's apartments was attractive and well arranged interior. The practical doors and windows added much to the realism of the scene. The color scheme was effective and harmonized well with the draperies provided last year. The stage furnishings were complete and tastefully arranged, every detail being provided for, even to the special portrait of Phyllis. The breakfast scene in the second act, made effective by the well trained maid, in the person of Mr. McCarthy, was a decided success. One of the great surprises was the stage setting in the third act. Considering the scenery was made by members of the Dramatic Club staff, it is remarkable to think that such an elaborate setting was possible.

Great credit is due to Wilbur Smith, '09, who has special charge of this act, not only for his artistic ability, but for his persistency and skill in preparing this scene.

Mr. Windsor P. Daggett is the man, who of all others has been the most interested in the success of the Dramatic Club, and it is due to his untiring efforts that this success has been brought about. His experience with college men has taught him just how to go about this kind of work, as was shown by the drama of last evening.

Dexter Smith, '09, the manager, of the Dramatic Club, next to Mr. Daggett, has been the most interested in the success of the play. Upon his work much of the success depended and he deserves much credit for so capably handling the business management.

REVIEW AND INSPECTION.

Next Wednesday afternoon the annual review and inspection of the military battalion will be held on Alumni field. Capt. P. C. Harris, U. S. A., inspector of state militia, will conduct the inspection. The companies have shown from their work this year that they know considerable military science and they will no doubt make a very good showing before Capt. Harris.

The following Saturday, Memorial Day, the battalion will take part in the G. A. R. exercises at Bangor. Capt. Brown has made arrangements with the city Board of Trade whereby the cadets will leave the campus on special cars at 12.40 P. M. On reaching Bangor they will escort Major-General Brooks, the guest of honor, from General Smith's residence to the Maine Central station where they will take the special train to Mt. Hope Cemetery. After the exercises here they will return to Bangor and together with Company G. of National Guard and one or two bands will form a street parade. Then a supper will be given the battalion by the city in the G. A. R. rooms. In the evening, exercises will be held in City Hall, after which cars will bring the battalion back to Orono.

EDITORIAL.

THE students in this University feel justly proud of the fact that they have such a man as Steve Farrell with them and that he is satisfied to remain here. It is not often that a college of this size is able to obtain such a man, and his work here this year has been of the very highest quality. Not only has he developed a team which, although it did not win, was a credit to the University, but he has worked under the difficulties of not having suitable material for any of the field events, the pole vault and weights being especially weak.

Mr. Farrell is not only popular with the students but also with the faculty, and as Dean Stevens said in a mass meeting held a short time ago, "He is justly so, for he has gained that popularity by being a gentleman as well as a trainer. He has no favorites and every man has a chance for a fair show when he makes good. Perhaps it is this feeling of confidence which the students have in his judgement that is as much at the bottom of his popularity as any one thing that could be named. What fellows need in a trainer is not only skill and ability, but a man who is an example and we are glad to say that we have just such a trainer at Maine.

DR. FERNALD, the oldest and most loved of all the members of the Faculty in this institution is to retire this year after having been identified with this University for forty years. This year marks Dr. Fernald's seventieth birthday and is also the close of his fiftieth year of teaching. Many of the old alumni are coming back to Commencement in order to see him again before he closes his active work here. Some of these alumni who were in his classes in the early days of the University now have children here studying under him the same subjects which they themselves studied.

Dr. Fernald is a man who has been and is still greatly loved by all the students who know him. His nature is so kind and gentle that every person who comes in contact with him feels that he can be sure of his sympathy. His Chapel morning is the morning when every student realizes more than on any other the true purpose of the Chapel exercises.

Dr. Fernald's life in teaching has been a most successful and satisfactory one and his interest in teaching and love of his work has in no way decreased with his age. It will be with a very great deal of regret that all connected with the the University will see him take leave of his position.

THE STATE MEET.

Last Saturday on her own field Bowdoin was victorious in the fourteenth annual meet between the four Maine colleges. Bowdoin scored 58 points, the University of Maine 48, Bates 18 and Colby 2. Until the beginning of the last event, the result of the meet was somewhat in doubt, three points only separating the first two teams.

COACH FARRELL

This was the fourth championship contest for the new cup, Maine and Bowdoin now having each won twice.

The day was perfect for a track meet, as it was very warm, and there was not a breath of wind to retard the runners.

There were four records broken and two others equalled, which tends to show the excellence of the contests. Colbath of Bowdoin reduced the mile record of 4 minutes 38 4-5 seconds held by Fortier of Maine to 4 minutes 34 3-5 seconds, and the two mile record held by Bosworth of Bates to 10 minutes 7 3-5 seconds, and Edwards of Bowdoin cut the 220 yards hurdles to 25 2-5 seconds, and Morrill of Bowdoin put the shot 40 feet 8 inches.

An enormous crowd watched the games, the grand stand and bleachers being filled to overflowing. The Maine and Bowdoin bands livened up the rival student bodies with their Alma Mater songs continuously. There was never a lull in the cheering and the excitement was intense throughout. The University of Maine supporters went to Brunswick in a special train, about four hundred strong. When the meet was finished, although sorely disappointed, they took defeat in a manly way and made no excuses. Cheers were exchanged between the Bowdoin and Maine delegations in the best of good spirit.

The games began at 10 o'clock in the morning, Maine and Bowdoin qualifying the most men. Bowdoin qualified 20, Maine 16, Bates 11 and Colby 4.

The sports in the afternoon began with the trials for the 100 yards dash. Elwood and Williams of Bates, Pond of Maine and Ballard of Bowdoin ran in the final. Pond won his race easily in 10 1-5 seconds. Colbath of Bowdoin captured the mile in record time, running away from the field. Hicks and Snow of Maine were second and third respectively, yards ahead of the other competitors. Littlefield of Maine won the 440 yards dash in easy fashion. The high hurdles were hotly contested for by Fraser of Bates and Smith of Maine, the former winning by a small margin. Fortier of Maine took the lead at the start of the half mile and kept it to the end, with Bean of Maine a safe second. Bates scored again when Williams took the 220 yards dash. Cook of Maine was a close second. In the two mile Colbath sprang a surprise on the Maine adherents and showed himself to be a wonderful runner by breaking the record in the event. Edwards of Bowdoin nosed out Smith of Maine for first place in the low hurdles in a fast race.

In the field events some good marks were also made. Meserve of Maine did not have to go his limit in the high jump. Higgins of Maine and Brigham of Bowdoin tied for second honors. Walden of Maine won the discus throw, which was a pleasant surprise for the blue. Morrill of Bow-doin won the broad jump at 21 feet, one inch better than Higgins of Maine. Warren of Bowdoin threw the hammer 123 feet 10 inches, easily capturing this event. Bowdoin scored eight points in the pole vault with Deming and Burton. The shot put resulted similarly with Morrill and Newman the first two men.

Bowdoin scored in every event except the half mile run and Maine drew points in all except the shot put and the hammer throw. Bates figured in but six and Colby in but two of the fourteen events. In the track contests the points were divided as follows: Maine, 32; Bowdoin, 25; Bates, 13, Colby, 2. The field events resulted in Bowdoin obtaining 33 points, Maine 16, Bates 5 and Colby 0. The individual champion was Morrill of Bowdoin with 12 points. Bowdoin took first place in seven events, second in six and third in six; Maine won five firsts, seven seconds and three thirds; Bates won two firsts, two seconds and two thirds; Colby won two thirds.

The meet next year will be held on Alumni Field.

The summaries of events and points are as follows:

MASS MEETING.

One of the most stirring mass meetings of the year was held in the Chapel Wednesday evening, May 13, when a large number of students gathered to arouse enthusiasm for track athletics and baseball. "Johnny" Kendrigan was there with his pleasant smile and word; "Buster" Boyle was there with his megaphone; Dean Stevens was there with his wit; Mr. Jones was there with his joke; all the captains, coaches and managers of track and baseball were there with short, pointed talks on their respective lines of work. Furthermore, the band was there with all the old tunes and some new ones and the fellows were there with the spirit and the noise. All these factors, worked out into a semblance of a program, making a most successful meeting.

The band commenced its opening selection shortly after 7.30 o'clock. Then, of course, the crowd had to be stirred up with a few yells and some more music. After this President Kendrigan of the Athletic Association took charge of the floor. Although the meeting was supposed to be especially for the interest of the track team, the great victory over Colby in the afternoon demanded that considerable attention be given to baseball, so the time was divided up between these two branches of sport.

Besides the speakers already mentioned remarks were made by Perley Palmer, '96, and his brother "Eddie," '99, both captains of former nines. For the final speech Kendrigan introduced "Steve" Farrell, whom he called the "center" of our athletics at Maine. "Steve was applauded for three minutes and when he had a chance to speak, he exclaimed, "The center takes much pleasure." Then he went on to tell his audience his own opinion about the meet at Brunswick. He did not fill the students with undue confidence but told them that Maine had an even chance of winning.

In closing the meeting President Kendrigan made an announcement about the special train and took up a collection to enable the management to convey the band to Brunswick. Then, at 9.15, the fellows marched out to the tune of "Our Director," each with the Maine Spirit in his breast fully aroused.

CLASS MEET.

The Fourteenth Annual Class Meet occurred Monday, May 11, on Alumni Field. As was generally expected the Freshmen won the meet, with a score of 52½ points. The Sophomores were second with 36½ points, the Juniors third with 26 points, while the Seniors were only able to secure 11. The day was too windy for fast time, but this did not interfere with the interest felt in the meet.

Hicks, '10, broke the record in the mile run, lowering the time to 4 minutes, 50 1-5 seconds. The only surprise of the day was furnished when H. Cook, '10, won the 220 yards dash from Pond, '11. The individual championship went to Knight, '11, who won both the high and low hurdles. This is the second year in which this honor has befallen him.

In the 100 yards dash Pond, '11, won with H. Cook, second. Littlefield, '10, won with several yards over Walker, '11, in the quarter mile. This was one of the best events of the day. The half mile proved easy for Bean, '08, with Fortier, '10, running second. In the two mile run Dyer, '10, with a strong finish broke away from Whitney, '11, and breasted the tape first. N. E. Smith, '11, ran a close second to Knight in both the hurdle events. Captain Meserve neared the college record in the high jump, going over 5 feet 9 inches. Rogers, '11, cleared the bar in the pole vault at 9 feet, 6 inches, with Scott, '11, second. The broad jump, discus throw and hammer throw also went to the freshmen, A. Cook, Waldron and Bearce respectively being the winning contestants. Ray, '09, won the shot put.

The following is the summary of events:

100 yard dash, won by Pond '11; Cook '10, 2nd; Hill, '11, 3rd. Time, 10 2-5 seconds.

220 yard dash, won by Cook '10; Pond '11, 2nd; Littlefield, '10, 3rd. Time, 23 4-5 seconds.

440 yard dash, won by Littlefield '10; Walker '11, 2nd; Pinkham, '11, 3rd. Time, 52 1-5 seconds.

880 yard dash, won by Bean '08; Fortier '10, 2nd; Chadbourne, '10, 3rd. Time, 2 minutes, 7 seconds.

One mile run, won by Hicks, '10; Snow, '10, 2nd; Cook, '10, 3rd. Time, 4 minutes, 50 1-5 seconds. New record.

Two mile run, won by Dyer '10; Whitney '11, 2nd; Philbrook '10, 3rd. Time, 10 minutes, 44 1-5 seconds.

120 yard high hurdles, won by Knight '09; Smith '11, 2nd; Drew '11, 3rd. Time, 16 4-5 seconds.

MAINE 4, COLBY 3.

By a magnificent exhibition of Maine Spirit and sheer pluck, on the part of both the team and the student body, the University of Maine tied the score in the ninth inning of the Colby game, May 13th, and then won the game in the tenth. At the beginning of the ninth the score was three to nothing in favor of Colby and it seemed to be a forlorn hope when Maine came to the bat in this inning. It looked even worse when the first man up was out on a pop fly to the short stop. Maine then started a batting rally which in connection with two men being hit by pitched balls tied up the score before Stanwood ended the inning by going out at first base.

It was an ideal day for baseball, being warm and there very little wind. Practically the whole student body attended the game and assisted the team in winning by their cheering, especially in the last two innings. It was a hard game for Colby to lose and a glorious victory for Maine.

Neither side scored until the fourth, in which inning Colby scored her three runs. Good opened the inning with a clean hit to center field and was sacrificed to second by Vail. Cary went out at first, but Good reached third on the out and on Tribou's hit scored along the right foul line. Tribou went to second when Cobb lost Tibbetts' sharp grounder and stole third shortly after. Flood was passed, filling the bases. Cotton's line hit into center scored Tribou and Tibbetts. Shaw struck out, ending the inning. The only time when Colby was again dangerous was during the sixth, when they had men on second and third with only one out but good pitching pulled Ryan out of this hole.

Maine did not score until the last half of the ninth. Mayo was out on a pop fly to Flood. Fulton reached first on a ground hit to third. Cobb followed with another. Good hit Higgins and Pond forcing home Fulton. Smith's timely hit into left field scored Cobb and Higgins and tied the score. Ryan and Stanwood were both out, Good to Cary.

In the tenth inning Good led off for Colby and was out, Ryan to Mayo. Vail was safe on Fulton's excusable error on his hard fly into left. He advanced a base on Cary's out; Ryan to Mayo but was left when Tribou was thrown out by Stanwood. Chase and Mayo were both out and the prospects were good for at least another inning but Fulton doubled to center and came home on Cobb's hit to left for two bases, winning the game.

For Maine the features were the hitting of Fulton and Cobb, a clever catch by Chase in center field and the battery work of Ryan and Smith. The all-round work of Good and the hitting of Tribou were the features for Colby.

BOWDOIN 9, MAINE 0.

In a loosely played game Maine was defeated by Bowdoin on Alumni Field Wednesday. Maine was held securely by Files, who pitched for Bowdoin, in every inning except the fourth and eighth. In these innings Bowdoin succeeded by the narrowest margin, in preventing Maine from scoring. The game by innings.

First inning. Purrington, leading off for Bowdoin, struck out. After McDade had also struck out Harris, singled to left and went to second on a wild pitch. Stanwood walked. Files struck out. Stanwood, first up for Maine, struck out. Pond bunted toward third and beat it out at first. Chase and Mayo both went out on flies to the outfield.

Second inning. Manter reached second on a hit into left field, was sacrificed to third by Bower, and came home on a passed ball. Caldwell reached first on balls, stole second and scored on Lawless' line drive over short, Lawless taking second on the throw to catch Caldwell at the plate. The next two men went out. Maine went out in order. Bowdoin two, Maine nothing.

Third inning. Harris singled, went to second on a passed ball, and was sacrificed to third by Stanwood. Files was out at first. Manter was passed to first on balls. Harris tried to score on a short passed ball but was caught at the plate by Smith. Smith led off for Maine, and was out on a fly to second. Ryan reached first on Purrington's muff of his hard fly to right, but was thrown out trying for second. Stanwood was passed to first and reached second on a passed ball. He was thrown out at the plate trying to score on another passed ball, Bower to Files.

Fourth inning. Caldwell, the only Bowdoin man to reach first in this inning, was caught stealing second, Smith to Higgins. Chase led off with a ground hit over first and went to second on a wild pitch. Mayo's fly to left was handled by McDade. Fulton was passed to first. Both runners moved up on a passed ball, but were left, as Cobb struck out and Higgins was thrown out by Manter.

Fifth inning. Ryan was unable to locate the plate and Purrington was passed to first, but was cleverly caught off first by Mayo, who held the ball. McDade struck out. Harris walked, Stanwood's grounder took a bound and went over Cobb's shoulder, both runners being safe. Files hit to left field scoring Harris, Stanwood and Files reaching third and second respectively on the throw to head off Harris. Hits by Manter and Bower scored three more runs. Caldwell hit over second and Lawless ended the inning by a long fly to Fulton. Smith hit a fly for Manter. Dow, batting for Ryan, was passed to first. Stanwood hit a fly to left that was captured by McDade. Pond was passed but Harris caught Chase's infield fly. Bowdoin six, Maine nothing.

Sixth inning. McHale now went in to pitch for Maine and started off poorly by hitting Purrington. McDade was thrown out by Cobb. Harris struck out but was safe as Richardson, who had taken Smith's place at the beginning of this inning dropped the third strike. Stanwood was out at first. Files' fly was handled by Fulton. Maine went out in order.

Seventh inning. Bowdoin went out in order. Richardson reached first on Stanwood's error but was left there, as the next two men were out on flies to the outfield.

Eighth inning. Bowdoin scored three runs on a combination of two hits and two bases on balls. Lawless led off with a hit over second and stole second. Purrington and McDade were passed, filling the bases. Harris struck out and Stanwood was thrown out at first by Higgins, Lawless scoring on the out. Files hit to right and the ball got away from Fulton, Purrington and McDade going home on the hit. Manter was out at first. Pond led off for Maine with a hit over second, but was forced on Chase's grounder to Harris. Mayo hit to center and both runners moved up on a passed ball. With only one out and men on second and third, it looked as though Maine had a good chance to score, but the next two men were easy outs. Bowdoin nine, Maine nothing.

Ninth inning, Bowdoin and Maine both went out in order.

BATES — MAINE

The Maine-Bates baseball game tomorrow should be a most interesting contest. The first game this season between these two institutions resulted in a victory for Maine by a score of 4-2. Both teams are in fine condition and eager to win. Bates will pitch Harriman or Phinney, while Ryan or McHale will occupy the box for Maine.

THE NEW ENGLAND MEET.

The New England Intercollegiate Track Meet will be held this afternoon and tomorrow on Tech Field, Brookline Mass. The eleven institutions in the association will be represented by teams, and good contests are expected to result.

Dartmouth, who has won the meet for the past two seasons, is sure to be victorious again. They have a well balanced team and hope to score in every event.

Tech and Amherst, judging from meets held this spring will fight it out for second place, with Brown next.

Of the state teams, Maine and Bowdoin will be represented there. If last Saturday's meet counts for anything, both these institutions should take points.

The team which will represent Maine tomorrow will consist of Fortier, '10, in the half-mile and mile runs, Dyer, '10, in the two mile event, Littlefield, '10, in the 220 and 440 yards dashes, Smith, '11, in the two hurdles and Walden, '11, in the discus throw.

THE TENNIS TEAM.

The Tennis Team, which is competing this week against the representatives of the other Maine colleges, is under a great handicap, owing to lack of suitable practice. None of the courts were ready for early playing, so that the candidates were confined to indoor work. This required the hurried picking of the team, but it is hoped that the men will be successful in their efforts, especially as the tournament is being held here.

The Maine-Bowdoin baseball game, postponed from May 9, will probably be played at Brunswick May 29.

CONCERT.

DEUTSCHER VEREIN.

Thursday evening, May 14, the Deutscher Verein held a regular meeting at the home of Miss E. M. Ropes in Bangor. Officers for next year were elected as follows; President, B. F. Brann, Vice President, J. H. Mason; Secretary, Miss F. W. Huntington; Treasurer, W. H. Gilbert; Executive Committee, E. L. Towle.

The initiation of the new members, Miss Huntington and Miss Bean, was an amusing feature of the entertainment. Among new members voted into the Verein were Earle S. Berry and Cyrus Davis. It was decided to hold an informal banquet at the Mt. Vernon House, the Verein play which several members have been working on to be given in conjunction with the banquet. Refreshments were served, German songs were sung and the guests left at a late hour after a most delightful entertainment by the young hostess.

THE 1909 PRISM.

The 1909 Prism, which appeared Wednesday, is without doubt the best annual which has ever been published by any class of the University. The subject matter is excellent, the artistic work is decidedly the kind which shows carefulness and real ability, there are new ideas in both the review and the grind sections, the cuts are clear and sharp and the work of the publishers is of the best. Everything which could be done to make the book a success has been provided for, and any student who neglects the opportunity of owning one of them will lose a remembrance of his college days which he will surely regret.

Great credit is due the board of editors for the completeness and worth of the annual, as a great deal of work has been done and considerable time spent in making it the success it is. It is a book which can be shown with pride and one which compares favorably with any like publication in the country.

THE LITERATI.

The Literati held its regular meeting at seven o'clock Tuesday evening, May 12, in the lecture room of the Library. They were exceptionally fortunate in having for the speaker Rev. David N. Beech of the Bangor Theological Seminary. Mr. Beech lectured upon the beauties of historic Europe, and described vividly many places that he had visited. He pictured with unusual clearness many important places of interest, particularly in England, France and Germany, describing many spots of historic interest, among them being the site of the Battle of Waterloo.

Dr. Beech is a man of remarkable personality and the greatest interest was maintained throughout the lecture, which was thoroughly enjoyed and appreciated by all present.

Mrs. W. A. Nelson of Bangor was the Chapel soloist Wednesday.

NEW ENGLAND COLLEGE ATHLETIC CONFERENCE.

A conference of representatives from governing boards of athletics in New England colleges was held at the Parker House, Boston, Friday and Saturday, May 8 and 9. This meeting was called by the New England colleges which belong to the Inter-Collegiate Athletic Association of America to discuss restrictions of athletic schedules, summer baseball and other questions of general interest. Invitations were extended to all New England colleges, the only ones that did not accept being Yale and Boston College. The representatives appointed by Boston University were not present.

Dean Briggs of Harvard presided Friday evening, and a permanent organization was effected Saturday forenoon. The officers elected were as follows: Pres., Prof. F. W. Nicholson of Wesleyan; Vice-Pres., W. F. Garcelon, Esq., of Harvard; Sec. and Treas., H. G. Wild of Williams; Executive Committee, E. K. Hall, Esq., of Dartmouth, Prof. R. K. Jones of U. of M., and the general officers.

A simple constitution was adopted with the understanding that all meetings are for discussion only and that no action will be taken at any time that will be binding on any of the institutions connected with the conference.

An expression of opinion showed that practically all those present were opposed to the continuance of basket ball as an intercollegiate sport under its present rules. A committee was also appointed to ascertain facts and opinions concerning summer baseball and the limitation of athletic schedules. All of the Maine colleges were represented, the University of Maine by Hon. L. C. Southard, '75, for the alumni, and Prof. Jones for the faculty.

MEETING OF THE MAINE INTER-COLLEGIATE ATHLETIC BOARD.

Saturday, May 2nd, the Maine Inter-Collegiate Athletic Board met at the West End Hotel, Portland. All the representatives were present with the exception of Mr. Bassett, representing the alumni of Colby College. The Secretary presented to the board advance copies of the constitution and the inter-collegiate agreement of November 26th, 1902.

This new edition covers the rulings of the board upon questions that have been submitted to it during its existence, and will be ready for distribution within a few weeks. The recommendation which the board makes relative to the appointment of officials for football and baseball games and other matters, will be printed in a later issue.

The representatives from Maine were the Hon. L. C. Southard '75, representing the alumni; Prof. Jones representing the faculty, and J. T. Kendrigan '08, President of the Athletic Association, for the undergraduates.

Y. M. C. A. FINANCIAL CAMPAIGN.

The Y. M. C. A. opened, Monday May 11, a canvass of all students to obtain money for the current expenses of the association and for sending 20 delegates to Northfield this year. The canvass was put in the hands of about twenty fellows who worked throughout the week with the result that they obtained a large proportion of the $350 needed. President Chandler, Vice President Stover and Chairman Sargent of the finance committee had direct charge of the work. Reports were handed in at meetings held each noon so that the ground was closely covered and no man was missed.

It is intended with a large part of this money to send twice as many representatives to Northfield as were sent last year. This will probably be by far the largest delegation sent from any of the Maine colleges.

Johns Hopkins University at Baltimore has made a departure from its old regulations and will admit women students for the first time at the beginning of the next college year. The change was not carried through without some difference of opinion, but the officers of the University are said to be quite unanimously in favor of making the University co-educational.

ALUMNI ADVISORY COUNCIL.

A movement for some time has been in progress for establishing an Alumni Advisory Council. For this purpose a committee of three, consisting of Prof. J. M. Bartlett, '80, Prof. L. H. Merrill, '83, and Prof. H. S. Boardman, '95, were appointed to canvass the alumni and secure an expression of their choice of men to be represented in the Council for the first term. It was purposed to have this Advisory Council consist of one representative elected from each of the five colleges in the University and nine other members at large, the object of the Council being to bring the alumni in closer touch with the activities and work of the University and to have their co-operation and advice in matters relative to the best interests of the institution. It is hoped in this way to get a representative expression of the alumni on all undertakings and endeavors pertaining to the University's welfare.

The selection of the first Council has now been made, the method of choice being somewhat a process of elimination. The names of a relatively large number of candidates were first sent to the alumni and from this list the men receiving the largest number of votes made up another list from which the Council has been chosen.

The final ballot has resulted in the election of the following representatives of the alumni to the Alumni Advisory Council:

College of Agriculture, W. H. Jordan, '75, Geneva, N. Y.

College of Arts and Sciences, W. R. Howard, '82, Farmington, N. H.

College of Law, Freeland Jones, '00, Bangor.

College of Pharmacy, no choice on account of a tie.

College of Technology, N. C. Grover, '90, New York, N. Y.

At large—G. H. Hamlin, '73, Orono; J. M. Oak, '73, Bangor; L. C. Southard, '75, Boston, Mass.; A. H. Brown, '80, Old Town; C. S. Bickford, '82, Belfast; Walter Flint, '82, Port Deposit, Md.; E. H. Kelley, '90, Brewer; G. E.

Thompson, '91, Orono; P. D. Sargent, '96, Augusta.

The total number of votes cast was 311.

It is planned to have the first meeting of the Council during Commencement Week, when various matters will be taken up. If this organization can be made permanent and properly maintained, it will unquestionably be a great factor in promoting the interests and welfare of the University.

Y. M. C. A. CONVENTION AT ROCKLAND.

A large delegation of Maine students attended the state convention of the Young Men's Christian Association at Rockland, May 1, 2, and 3. About 250 representatives of many associations in the state were present, and a number were college and preparatory school men.

The convention opened with a largely attended banquet in the Arcade, at which the Maine yells were loud among those going up and down the tables. At the various meetings the men took active part in the discussions, and President Chandler gave an excellent talk on "Bible Study, the only Safeguard of the Christian Student" at the student conference.

Those present from Maine were Chandler '09, Woodbury '09, Redman '10, Stover '10, Goodrich '10, Whitmore '10, Winters '10, Sargent '11, Richardson '11, Eaton '10, Stickney '10, and Warren '11.

AGRICULTURAL CLUB.

The Agricultural Club held a meeting May 14 and elected the following officers for the ensuing year: President, C. W. Barber, '09; Vice President, R. W. Redman, '10; Secretary, L. B. Boston, '11; and Treasurer, C. M. Merrill, '11.

A. K. Gardner '10, was chosen as chairman of a committee to have in charge a smoker for next Tuesday.

Sprague, '05, gave a cello solo in Chapel May 12 as special music.

MECHANICAL AND ELECTRICAL SOCIETY

At the regular meeting of the Mechanical and Electrical Society held in the Chapel Thursday morning, May 14, the club was very fortunate in having for the speaker Mr. E. E. Palmer, who graduated from Maine in '99. Mr. Palmer is from the Boston office of the General Electric Co. and took for the subject of his lecture "Motor Application to the Mechanical Plants." He took up in detail the extensive application of electricity to-day in operating mills and manufacturing plants in preference to purely mechanical power. He gave as an example the textile mills of Columbia, S. C., where electric motor power was put in about fourteen years ago by the General Electric Co. The machinery is today apparently in as good condition as when first installed. He also cited many other illustrations and gave statistics showing how prevalent this mode of power supply and transmission is becoming, among them being the manufacturing plants in the Piedmont district and in Washington.

The success of the plant in Columbia, S. C., installed approximately fourteen years ago, was the signal for the installation of electrical power in a large number of mills, until at present 13% of the textile mills of the United States are operated by this means.

The General Electric Company are at present constructing a number of 6,000 horse power motors for various industrial plants.

The advantage of using electrical power is self-evident in many ways. One of the most important is in the ease with which it can be transmitted. This last fact makes it possible to locate the industrial plant in the most advantageous position possible, and further, it is of advantage in arranging the interior of the works.

Mr. Palmer next brought out the prevalence in the use of the numerous small motors in preference to fewer larger ones. Extensive practice has proved the great economy of this policy in almost all industrial processes. Seven or eight years ago the average size was 65 horse power, while at present the average is something like 35 horse power. In this scheme there is usually a separate motor for each machine or any size.

About two thirds of the electrical power used to-day in industrial works are rented. This is advantageous to the producer as well as to the user. In the case of the former it brings in so much more profit, for these power plants usually have for their main object the furnishing of power for lighting purposes. In the latter case the manufacturer is not obliged to possess the capital necessary for running a special power plant of his own and can use this extra amount in the enlargement of his business itself.

Mr. Palmer brought out especially the great advantage of electrical power produced by harnessing our water privileges. The advantages of this method of producing power are many. The danger of exhausting the fuel supply for coming generations is great in the extreme, and the enormous saving in fuel consumption caused by the introduction of electrical energy developed by hydraulic means is a matter of many millions of tons of coal and a great many more dollars. As an illustration of this Mr. Palmer cited in closing, the almost inexhaustible source of energy represented by the Niagara Falls alone which, when properly harnessed could furnish power capable of being transmitted even to New York City.

The large attendance vigorously applauded at the conclusion of Mr. Palmer's lecture, and in appreciation, a vote of thanks was given him.

Y. W. C. A. CANDY SALE.

The young ladies of the Y. W. C. A. held a very successful candy sale in room 11, Coburn Hall, Thursday afternoon and evening May 14. Miss M. E. Chase had charge of the sale and those at the four tables were the Misses Merrill, Philbrook, Gilbert, Bumps, Young, and Averill. About 75 pounds of candy were prepared and during the sale more was made with a chafing-dish by Miss Knight. All the candy was sold and about twenty eight dollars were added to the fund for sending two delegates to the Y. W. C. A. convention at Silver Bay, N. Y., the last part of June.

LOCALS.

Last Wednesday afternoon State Inspector General Davis, in company with Capt. Ansell, U. S. A., and Generals Smith and Mitchell of Bangor, reviewed the military battalion on Alumni Field. The inspection ran off smoothly and with much credit to the officers and cadets. All college exercises closed at 2.15 o'clock and the review was witnessed by a large number of students and visitors. The companies were marked on their appearance and the ratings will count in the final rank.

Many Maine men who have left the University journeyed to Brunswick last Saturday to see the meet, and incidentally to shake hands with their college friends.

Several of the fellows took part in an extensive vaudeville show, given in Bangor last Friday evening. Maine banners, Maine blue, Maine songs, Maine cheers and Maine men were very much in prominence during the evening. The entertainment was under the direction of Mrs. R. K. Jones.

Miss Florence Harvey, '09, has left college for the remainder of the term to teach in the Milford Grammar School.

The engagement of Miss Gladys E. Fellowes to Prof. Gustav F. Wittig has been announced.

Prof. H. M. Estabrooke was in Boston last week representing this University at a meeting of the Board of Uniform English Entrance Requirements in New England colleges.

The engagement of Miss Grace Waterman of Bangor to Mr. Charles A. G. Blossom, '08, has been announced.

INTERCOLLEGIATE ITEMS.

According to the 1907 Howitzer, the annual publication of each successive first year class at West Point, there are seventy-six fraternity men in the institution. Those in the lead, numerically, are Sigma Alpha Epsilon, with eleven; Phi Delta Theta, with six; Sigma Chi, with five; Delta Kappa Epsilon, with five; and Beta Theta Pi with four.

At a recent convention of university presidents held in Chicago resolutions were adopted to the effect that congress should be petitioned to appropriate the sum of $500,000 for the establishment of a national university for the purpose of training graduates in the many lines of governmental work.

While several of our American universities and colleges are celebrating their fiftieth and one hundredth anniversaries, the Mohammedan University at Cairo, Egypt, is celebrating its one thousandth anniversary.

None of us can look forward to the celebration of the one thousandth anniversary of an American university, and in the face of rapid American advancement, guess what will be the status of university education at that time.

The Engineering Record, discussing the subject of technical education, takes the attitude that American technical schools are doing too much specialization. "It would be far better if much more attention were given in the fundamental, general principles underlying all engineering precisely as do law and medical schools. Engineers should be well educated, and thereby would become more effective specialists."

President Hamilton of Tufts College, in an address delivered recently before the meeting of a trade organization expressed the following opinion concerning the function of a university in the education of a man for his subsequent work: "The purpose of the college," said he, "is not to train a man so that he can go out and begin the direction of any particular kind of business, but it is the creation of a man with a certain type of mental equipment—the giving of those qualities of mind and to a certain degree of character and temperament which will enable him to learn the business or profession he is to pursue, and to pursue it with more success and carry it farther than he could be expected to do without that equipment.”

The faculty at Washington University have evidently been guilty of the practice of the habit of making extra long assignments of work because of a holiday. Student Life has taken up the matter in the following pointed editorial: “Everybody ought to object strenuously when a teacher piles up work on account of a holiday. What’s the use of a holiday if it isn’t a holiday ?

The University of Missouri has now passed the 2,500 mark in her enrollment. Two years ago she had an enrollment of 2,000. These figures are evidence of the enormous growth of American universities and of the increase in the percentage of college graduates in modern business life. President King of Purdue University thinks he sees danger to his institution in the rapid increase in the number of students and particularly in the increasing percentage of women. At the present time over half of Purdue’s students are girls and President King favors limiting the total enrollment to 1,000 and limiting the proportion of women.

The students of the Agricultural and Mechanical College at Fort Worth Texas, are in open insurrection, demanding the removal of President Harrington. It is seldom that an American college goes so far as to openly demand the removal of its President.

College flunking is not ordinarily esteemed very beneficial, but to W. C. Kemp of Columbia University it pays $2,500 a year. Kemp has flunked six times in chemistry and five times in each higher mathematics and astronomy. He has succeeded for 27 years in not graduating in Columbia. This peculiar incident is due to a will made by an uncle in which he left Kemp an annuity of $2,500 as long as he remained a registered and chartered undergraduate of an university.

PROF. LEE OF BOWDOIN COLLEGE.

Bowdoin College sustained a sad loss Wednesday, when Prof. Lee of that institution died in Portland. Prof. Lee had been connected with the college since 1876 and was third in rank of the Bowdoin professors in length of service. His death was a sad bereavement to all his friends.
