FRESHMEN-SOPHOMORE DEBATE.

The Freshman-Sophomore debate, which was held just before the University closed was won by the team, representing the first year men. The question discussed was, Resolved, That Forest Reserves should be Created in the State of Maine, the negative being supported by the freshmen. The winners collectively were the better speakers and brought forth the stronger arguments. For 1911, G. E. Howe Jr. was the best debater and for 1912, C. G. Morrill excelled; while L. A. McKenney did well also. The judges were Dean J. S. Stevens, Dean J. N. Hart and Prof. J. W. Carr. The Sigma Alpha Epsilon orchestra of seven pieces furnished music for the evening.

The first speaker for the affirmative, Mr. Howe, tried to prove the advisability of forest reserves owned by the government. Mr. Brundin was unavoidably absent and his place was taken by Mr. Hinckley, who showed the difficulty of the state, obtaining the land, the loss of taxes and the increase of expense.

Mr. Fish, the second sophomore speaker, told of the success in national reserves, and in foreign countries, and of the destruction of trees unless reserves were created. Mr. McKinney '12 claimed that the state should control and not own the forests. Private owners were beginning to practice forestry as well as the government.

Mr. Whittier '11 showed how the reserves would protect the forests, and stated that money should not stand in the way of creating forest reserves. Mr. Morrill '12, the last speaker, claimed that state control would be successful in Maine as well as in other places. This last speech was the best of the evening.

After each man had spoken in rebuttal, the judges retired and soon rendered a decision in favor of the freshmen.

INDOOR TRACK.

Practice for the B. A. A. Indoor Meet to be held in Boston Feb. 6 has now commenced in earnest. Manager Berry has arranged for a relay team to compete in a three-cornered race with the University of Vermont and Bates. No men will be entered in the other events.

The arrangement of the three-cornered relay contest will be of much interest in that the team will run against Vermont, who has twice been defeated at our hands and against Bates, one of our rival Maine colleges. Relay teams from the University have competed in the last five of the B. A. A. meets and have in each case won their race. Although in these colleges Maine has two strong competitors, there is every reason to believe that with the material in the squad, Coach Farrell can again develop a quartet which will turn the trick.

Three members of last year's relay, Littlefield, '10, Cook '10, and Torrey '09, are now in college. Littlefield was the fastest man on the team last winter and Cook and Torrey pushed him hard in the trials. Bean, who was captain of the 1908 team has graduated. Other men who are now in training are Smith '10, Snow '10, Springer '10, and Fortier '10.

The final trials for the team will be held probably Jan. 29, a week before the meet. Each man will cover the usual distance, 390 yards. The first trials will be held Wednesday afternoon.

Last year men were entered in the 1000-yard, the hurdles, and mile events but it is deemed inexpedient to put men into events which are open to much larger colleges, which are also located nearer Boston.

Quite a number of fellows are also at work for the interclass meet which will be held sometime in March.

Track work may be elected by sophomores in place of gymnasium practice. Several are taking advantage of this privilege and getting into trim for the spring training.

THE CHAPEL.

The students were somewhat surprised when they entered the chapel for the first time after the Christmas recess, to find the interior decidedly rearranged. The platform, which formerly occupied the south end, is now opposite and facing the organ loft. More seating room is gained by its being placed against the wall instead of a few feet out, as it was in its old position. The structures at the sides have been entirely removed.

The faculty seats are on both sides of the platform and facing toward the gymnasium. The Freshmen occupy the same seats as formerly and, facing them at the south end of the chapel are the Sophomore seats. The remaining chairs are placed directly in front of and facing the platform and are occupied by the two upper classes, the Seniors being on the left and the Juniors on the right.

Much room which was wasted in the old arrangement is now utilized and the seating capacity materially increased. The greatest advantage, however, is the bringing of the lower classes within easy hearing distance of the platform. Formerly it was very difficult to hear the clearest speakers from the north end of the chapel. Altogether it is an advantageous change, pleasing to both faculty and students.

DEDICATION OF THE HALL OF AGRICULTURE AT THE UNIVERSITY OF MAINE.

The dedicatory exercises of the Hall of Agriculture at the University of Maine will be held Wednesday, January 20th at 2 P. M. in the University Chapel. The exercises will consist of the presentation of the building to the State by the President of the Board of Trustees, Hon. E. B. Winslow. Governor Bert M. Fernald will accept the building in behalf of the state. Dr.

Eugene Davenport, Dean of the College of Agriculture, University of Illinois, will deliver the dedicatory address. It is expected that Hon. Payson Smith, State Superintendent of Schools, Hon. A. W. Gilman, Commissioner of Agriculture, and Hon. C. S. Stetson, Master of the State Grange will also take part in the program. The members of the Legislature will be invited to attend the dedication and no doubt most of them will take this opportunity to visit the State University. Individual invitations are not being sent except to State officials and representatives of the press. The dedicatory exercises are public, and every citizen of the state is most cordially invited to attend. Music will probably be furnished by the musical clubs, orchestra and band.

AGRICULTURAL CLUB.

The first meeting of the Agricultural Club since the Christmas recess was held in Lord Hall on Thursday evening, January 7. Pres. H. W. Smith in a few words extended a hearty invitation to those registered in the Winter course in Agriculture to attend all the meetings of the club. It was decided to hold meetings every week as long as the course continued, and to get able speakers in order that the men should get as much out of their short stay as possible. All of those registered in this short course were present and added perceptibly to the attendance of the meeting.

E. W. Morton '09, and Redman '10 were elected as the University of Maine Delegation of the New England Federation of Agricultural students to the dedication of the new Agricultural Hall which will take place January 20.

The program for the evening consisted of interesting talks by Prof. Waid and Boston '12. Prof. Waid told of his visit to the Fat Stocks show at Chicago and Mr. Boston spoke about the recent Poultry show in Portland, held from Dec. 29, 1908, to Jan. 2, 1909 which he attended as keeper of the University of Maine birds. Both speakers were listened to with great interest, after which the meeting adjourned.

LINCOLN TABLET.

On February 12, memorial services will be held in the chapel to commemorate the one hundredth anniversary of the birth of Abraham Lincoln. Similar exercises will be held in all the land grant colleges in the country, as Lincoln was, in the main, responsible for the passage of the bill which made these institutions possible.

The Lincoln Memorial Association has offered a bronze tablet with the martyred president's Gettysburg speech on receipt of a sum of money from this University. The student body has voted to give this sum, so we can now expect to get the tablet.

EDITORIALS.

LAST Saturday evening the first basketball game of the season was played. It was a game with a preparatory school, only a practice game, but just as important to the team as any game to be played. However from the attitude which the student body showed this seemed to be far from the case. The percentage of students attending the game was small. The enthusiasm which they should have shown did not appear; and in fact the attitude of the students was very unsatisfactory.

The basketball team this year is at present one of the best that this institution has ever turned out. However the men need the support of the students to do their best. They need this support at the practices as well as at the games. The team is well worthy of interest and support of every student and every true Maine man who has the athletics of Maine at heart should try and come to some of the practises and help the team in that way at least.

THE new Agricultural building will be formally dedicated and presented to the State on January twentieth. The Governor will accept it in behalf of the State and it is hoped that the members of the legislature will be present. This building stands for the increasing interest which is being awakened in the agricultural department of the University and it is the duty of every student, whether directly interested or not in this part of the college work, to be present at this dedication and to make as good an appearance at possible before the legislators. Each one should show every attention to the visitors in order that they may remember their trip here as a pleasant one.

IN the way of advertising an institution athletics are recognized as very valuable but there is one branch of college activities which far surpasses athletics in adversising. This branch is the Musical Organization and it is especially true in our case. The men in the musical clubs, on their trips throughout the state, go into the homes and in this way the people of the State become far better acquainted with our institution and what it stands for than they could become from the advertising given by our athletic teams.

However as important as these clubs really are they are not in good condition this year. This fact is due to the lack of interest in the clubs by the old men and in consequence of this the rehearsals are very poor. This is especially true of the Glee Club.

A plea is made to all men who have been connected in any way with the musical organizations to attend the rehearsals which begin this week. The times and dates for the rehearsals are given in the calendar in another part of the Campus. Wilbur Cochran of Bangor, a well known musician has been given the direction of the clubs. He will give special attention to the Glee Club for which special music has been received. During the next two weeks sixteen men will be chosen to form the Glee Club and a number of good trips have been planned for the near future. The student who enters this class of activities is doing just as much to benefit the University as if he played on one of the athletic teams.

THE ANDROSCOGGIN COUNTY CLUB BANQUET.

The Androscoggin Club held a very enjoyable banquet at the Lake Grove House Lewiston on Saturday evening, January second. There were about fifteen present and they all fell to the attack of the toastmaster, Morrell '09. After the banquet the club held an executive session and elected the following officers for the year.

McCarthy '11, President; Dwinel '11, Vice-president, Atwood '12, Secretary; and Bearce '11, Treasurer. Ham, '09, Ray '10, and Walker '11, were appointed to prepare for a smoker to be held in the near future.

MASSACHUSETTS CLUB BANQUET.

The annual banquet of the Massachusetts Club was held at the Boston City Club on January second. About twenty members and several alumni were present. E. S. Alton, '10 acted as toastmaster and nearly all of those present responded to toasts.

WASHINGTON COUNTY CLUB.

The Washington County Club held a banquet and a dance on successive evenings during the holidays. The banquet was given December 29, at the St. Croix, Calais. An elaborate and delicious menu was served, after which many toasts were responded to by members of the club.

ENGLISH PRIZE.

Funk and Wagnalls, the magazine publishers, have offered several universities, among them, the University of Maine, a prize of a thirty dollar Funk and Wagnall's Standard Dictionary for the best examination to be passed in some English branch during mid-years. This is open to Sophomores and Freshmen only and is surely worth trying for by members of those classes. Any students, wishing to have their English examinations count towards this prize should hand in their names to their instructors.

INTERCOLLEGIATE NOTES

In a religious census of the students of the University of Missouri, taken recently, it was found that of the 2000 students now in the departments of the University, 1610 are church members.

"Co-education has been a failure at Wesleyan," says Prof. Bradley of Wesleyan. "I understand," he said, "that at the next meeting of the trustees the doors of Wesleyan will be closed against women."

Professor Lounsbury of Yale, in answer to a question from the New York Times says—"I am sorry to say that in my opinion the new English requirements in colleges have not had the slightest effect toward increasing the taste for good literature among young men. Actually, I fear a great many men have acquired instead a violent hatred for English literature, owing to the preparation required in it."

Last year, Swarthmore College brought itself into much prominence in the college world from the question of whether or not it should accept the Jeanes bequest of three million dollars and abandon intercollegiate athletics. After long consideration, she refused the gift and most men applauded. However, at the opening of the college year, President Swain announces that she has decided to abandon intercollegiate football for at least one year's experiment.

At Indiana the students will be given credit for their work on the Daily Student. Editors and assistants will get two credits and reporters one.

Brown University and Holy Cross College have at last made up their differences and meet this next year in baseball, it being the first time in several years.

The University of Minnesota will play the University of Wisconsin a chess tournament by correspondence.

Some of the customs at Oxford University are very amusing, especially to an American. Among these might be mentioned the following: Undergraduates are forbidden to visit the bar of any hotel, public house, or restaurant. Undergraduates are forbidden to loiter about the stage door of the theatres on any pretense, or to give dinners in hotels. Undergraduates are forbidden to give dances, or take part in public subscription dances during term and forbidden also to attend private dances during term. All undergraduates are compelled to be in college by twelve o'clock. Ordinarily, 'varsity men are required to be in college after 9 P. M. in the summer term and 8 P. M. in the winter term. Underclassmen are supposed to be very quiet in the presence of seniors never speaking unless spoken to.

Members of the Junior class at Indiana University are planning to wear silver gray corduroy trousers with red leather trimmings. They contend that their garb will outdo the distinctive dress of any class that ever preceded them.

There is a society composed entirely of Socialists at the University of Colorado.

A new chapter of the Theta Chi fraternity has been installed at Rensselaer Polytechnic.

President Eliot of Harvard, on his retirement next spring, will receive a pension of $4000 annually from the Carnegie Retirement Fund.

A Cake Walk is one of the annual customs at the University of Vermont. It is held on the 22nd of February and already arrangements are being made for it.

The University of Minnesota has fixed sixty-five as the retiring age for professors.

The "non-frat" students at Tufts college have recently organized a non-fraternity club. Over $4000 has been already pledged and $2000 has been promised by an alumnus for a club house.

At the University of Washington, freshmen are barred from all upper-class and varsity functions.

President Hamilton of Tufts College recommends quite strongly, in his annual report to the trustees, that the sexes in the college of letters be separated.

Wesleyan, Cornell and Bowdoin are trying to arrange a Triangular Debating League, similar to that of Harvard, Yale and Princeton.
