The Connecticut Mutual
Life Insurance Company

On the 1st January, 1896, its assets were $62,759,765.95, its surplus by its own conservative standard was $7,096,256.43. Its expense ratio was only 10 per cent.

It asks all who ought to protect their families, their creditors, or their own old age, to examine with care the simple, clear, and equitable life policies issued by this Company, with their unequaled guarantees; and also the low rate endowments payable at seventy or seventy-five. They furnish all that can be given in true life insurance, in the best manner and at a constant and known minimum of cost.

The town's treasury's chest, containing the town's papers kept by treasurer, was found, with probably all the papers excepting the Local School Fund orders amounting to $1,412.28, which, by our books, were turned over to S. G. Jerrard, by David Gilman, spring of 1883, and never have appeared on the books since.

Also the seals of weights and measures were found in a dilapidated condition, all in the hands of C. C. Simpson. All now deposited in the office in the Town House.

We have received of the town and turned into Frank White,
Treasurer, as follows:

The town farm was let to B. L. Norton, time to expire March 16, 1896. He to have the use of five cows, and some other little things, and the use of farm, farm not to be fed fall or spring, all hay and straw raised thereon to be ate on farm. He to board and care for Stilman Orff and Osgood B. Mory and for any other two that might come; and after that amount of board was furnished, if any more should come, he to have $1.25 per week. An obligation signed by him is now on file.

Gentlemen, when your present board of Selectmen took the books, three years ago this spring, we found the town in debt $1,456.60, all of which we have paid, and with less money raised us as shown by your clerk's certificates. We have built one school house at a cost of $345, and repaired the others at a cost of about $175. We have bought a hearse at a cost of $350. We now leave the town in funds over all known liabilities $1,436.63.

This does not include an action now pending between this town and the town of Pittsfield. Amount claimed by them about $142.

The Elmira Shaw mortgage was found by G. W. Read in an old Clerk's book, but the note for which the mortgage was given has not yet been found. Robt. Warn paid for the above named place as per vote of town, spring of 1894.

Levant, Feb. 29, 1896.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

By old tax deeds
Mary F. Turner note balance of G. H. Beede account orders paid paid State tax cash in Treasury, March, 1896

Total amount

Immediately after receiving the books last March, I wrote to G. H. Beede and Mary F. Turner. I have received $5 from Mr. Beede's daughter and a letter stating that her father was perfectly helpless most of the time, and was poor. I have not tried to collect the balance and I think the town had better give it to him.

Mrs. Turner came and saw me and said she paid L. H. Murch when he was Treasurer, the note and interest, and got the note, and her sons say the same, and as the note is not to be found, I should say that Mr. Murch must have the money.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

SCHOOLS AND TEACHERS.

District No. 5.

Summer term taught by Angie S. Linnell, of Exeter. Whole number attending school, 18; average, 18. Mrs. Linnell is so well known as a teacher, that there is no need of saying that she gave perfect satisfaction. On account of sickness, this term was but four weeks.

Fall term was also taught by Mrs. Linnell with the same good results. Good discipline is always in order in her schools. This term was ten weeks. Whole number attending school 23; average, 21.

Winter term taught by Cyrus F. Wilson, of South Levant. Whole number attending school 31; average, 24. Mr. Wilson is great on explanation and does not intend to leave any part not understood by his scholars.

District No. 6.

Summer term taught by Grace Morrison, of Levant. Whole number attending school, 10; average, 9. This was Miss Morrison's first school, and I think she will prove to be a fine teacher. Miss Morrison did all she could to instruct her scholars, but had a hard task on account of the misconduct of some of the boys who need a master. She is a faithful teacher and kind to her scholars.

Fall term taught by Annie Ruggles, of Carmel. Whole number attending school, 9; average, 8. Miss Ruggles is an experienced teacher. She called this a pleasant term of school for so small a number. Some of the boys that attended the summer term did not attend this one.

Winter term also taught by Miss Ruggles. Whole number attending school, 12; average, 11. These two terms of school were first class in every respect. At this term Miss Ruggles met with the same trouble as Miss Morrison did.
District No. 7.

Summer term taught by Isabelle Pushor, of Levant. Whole number attending school, 14; average, 12. This was a very satisfactory term of school.

Fall term also taught by Miss Pushor. Whole number attending school 12; This term was a counterpart of the former one. Miss Pushor did not complete her register, therefore I cannot give the average number.

Winter term taught by Geo. M. Hodgdon, of Levant. Whole number attending school 17; average, 14. This was Mr. Hodgson’s first school. With more experience, he will make a first class teacher.

District No. 8.

Summer term taught by L. Arabine Wilson, of Levant. Whole number attending school, 37; average, 32. Mrs. Wilson is an experienced teacher. At each of my visits there was perfect order. The scholars being busily engaged at their work.

Fall term also taught by Mrs. Wilson with the same success as the former. Whole number attending school 40; average, 33.

Winter term taught by Fred Carter, of Levant. Mr. Carter is a fine scholar and great on explanation. When he commenced his school, he thought the most of the scholars were large enough to know what they were there for, but he soon found out that they did not, so he endeavored to teach them that degree, and the consequence was, some left the school. I think Mr. Carter will make one of the best of teachers. Whole number attending school, 44; average, 35. Let me say, at my last visit I found most of the best scholars present, which could handle the problems to please you, which speaks for itself.

District No. 9.

Summer term taught by Alice E. French, of Levant. The school at its close indicated that they had done good work, and of Miss French I would speak in promise, it being justly due her as a teacher. Whole number attending school, 15; average, 14.

Fall term also taught by Miss French, with the same good discipline and advancement. Whole number attending school 15; average, 13.

Winter term taught by Leslie Ferrin, of Levant. Mr. Ferrin is one of our best scholars and his genial way of teaching his scholars is sure to make him one of our best teachers. This was his first term. Whole number attending school, 14; average, 12.

District No. 11.

Summer term taught by S. Beck Read, of Levant. This is our largest school. Mrs. Read being a teacher of experience, gave the best of satisfaction, and a profitable term of school was the result.

Fall term taught by Enoch Leathers, Jr., of Hermon. Whole number attending school, 39; average, 35. Mr. Leathers’ schools always speak for themselves. This was a very profitable term of school.

Winter term also taught by Mr. Leathers, who was obliged to leave his school on account of his health, to the regret of all his scholars. Mr. R. W. Quimby, of Exeter, finished the term. Whole number attending school, 47; average, 43.

Hoping that you may have a better Superintendent hereafter, I respectfully submit this report, with hearty thanks to you all.

Frank White, Superintendent.
