REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS.

NO. 1.

Spring term taught by Miss Nellie F. Rand of this town. The closing examination proved that it had been profitable to those present.

Fall term taught by Miss Thena N. Lowe. The pupils made rapid progress in the branches taught. Sterner discipline would have improved the school.

Winter term taught by the same teacher with good success. The examination at the close of the term showed good advancement, thorough work and excellent order.

NO. 4.

Miss Lula G. Millett commenced the spring term and taught three weeks when she was obliged to close the school on account of sickness. Miss Alice E. Homstead taught the remaining five weeks with good success.

Fall term taught by Miss Lula G. Millett. The scholars made good advancement and thorough work under her instruction.

Miss J. Woodsie Folsom of Dexter taught the winter term. Miss Folsom is a fine scholar, thorough and practical in her work. The examination showed that this school had been profitable to all.

NO. 5.

Miss Emma Johonnett commenced the spring term with good prospects of a successful term, but on account of sickness was obliged to close at the end of five weeks.

Ivan J. Lenfest taught the fall term. Mr. Lenfest maintained good order and did thorough and profitable work.

Winter term taught by Miss Lula G. Millett with her usual good success.

NO. 6.

Miss Lelia S. Smith taught the spring and fall terms. These terms were quiet and orderly. The scholars made good advancement and thorough work.

Winter term taught by Miss Alice E. Homestead. The examination showed good progress and thorough drill. Stricter discipline would have improved the school.

NO. 7.

Spring and fall terms taught by Miss Nellie J. Hanson of this town. Miss Hanson is a good scholar and has formerly been a successful teacher. She worked hard for the interest of the school. This is quite a difficult school to govern unless the teacher gets the good will of the pupils. This Miss Hanson failed to do in part, at least. The examination proved that very good work had been done. Sterner discipline would have been an improvement to the school. During the fall term the teacher seemed to lose control of the school, yet this term was not wholly unprofitable, for some of the scholars did good work.

Winter term taught by Miss Ethel Badger of St. Albans. When the school was visited at the commencement of the term it was well organized, the order good, with every prospect of a successful term. On account of sickness the school was not visited at the close of the term. I learn from some of the parents that the school gave general satisfaction.

NO. 9.

Spring term taught by Miss Bertie Wilkins of St. Albans. Miss Wilkins is a successful teacher. This school gave general satisfaction.

Miss Lois R. Peakes of St. Albans was employed to teach the fall and winter terms. Miss Peakes is a fine scholar. She came among us highly recommended as a teacher. In this school she did not gain the will of all of the pupils, although she seemed to be working hard for the interest of the school. At the close of the fall term I found the order good, the examination showed good advancement and thorough drill.

At the opening of the winter term the school was quiet and orderly, with fair prospects of a successful term. On my closing visit I learned that some of the parents were dissatisfied with the school and that during the later part of the term teacher had called the school board, who, after due investigation, removed one of the boys from the school. The examination showed very good work on the part of those present.

NO. 13.

Miss Addie L. Davis of this town has had charge of the school for the entire year. Miss Davis did good work in this school. These were successful terms.

HIGH SCHOOL.

This school opened under the supervision of Mrs. Libby as reported last year. The examination at the close of the term proved that it had been a success. Length of term, 10 weeks; number of pupils registered, 29; average, 22; wages of teacher per month, including board, $48.00.

Whole number of scholars in town, 265.

The parents should visit the schools and become acquainted with the teacher and scholars as they appear in the schoolroom, and by so doing they will be better prepared to judge on their merits.

REPORT OF SUPERINTENDING SCHOOL BOARD.

In submitting its report the Board would say that in securing teachers it has been the aim to employ only those whose efficiency for doing good work in the schoolroom is beyond question. The average citizen does not realize the tremendous responsibilities that rest with the teacher in instructing those who are under her care. It is a popular notion that a person who has acquired a good book learning is, therefore, qualified to enter the schoolroom as a teacher and for the time being become a most important factor in the formation of the child's character. No greater mistake could possibly be made. A natural aptitude for her calling, combined with previous training for her work and a character that is above reproach, are the essentials which are to be looked for in the successful teacher.

The Board would urge that parents occasionally visit the schoolroom and learn for themselves the work that is actually being done. In doing this much of the harsh criticism, which is so harrassing to the teacher, might often be saved, and better work accomplished thereby.

Near the close of the winter term the Board was called upon to settle some difficulty that arose in the Ell school. A visit was made to the school and on due investigation it was found that the trouble was due mostly to the disorderly conduct of one of the boys, who could not be made to observe the rules of the school. He was accordingly suspended from the school. In behalf of Miss Peakes, the teacher, the Board would say that she came to the school very highly recommended as a teacher, and her course throughout this difficulty was fully sustained by the Board.

With the money that was raised at the last town meeting, the Board was able to provide twenty-eight weeks schooling, with a small amount yet unexpended, as will be seen by consulting the expenditures for the past year. It is desirable, however, that we provide at least thirty weeks' schooling for the coming year, the same as the towns adjoining Palmyra are providing. For this purpose the Board would urgently recommend that the sum of $1100 be raised for common schools the coming year.

An estimate for school expenditures is submitted, for which the following sums are recommended to be raised:
