REPORT OF SCHOOL COMMITTEE.

We herewith submit our annual report of the school property and expenditures of the past year and such recommendations as we believe would be beneficial.

A new floor has been laid in the Primary school room, and extensive repairs were made on the furnace. The rooms must be ventilated before they can be heated properly.

The Lyford school buildings were painted two coats, as they were in bad condition.

The Magoon has been shingled, and flag poles have been erected on all schoolhouses not supporting one.

RECOMMENDATIONS FOR 1912.

We hereby recommend the town to give the School Committee authority to establish schools closed by law. We also recommend that a private town school be established for all scholars above the seventh grade.

The estimates are as follows:

Common schools	$1,300 00
Tuition	300 00
Repairs as follows:
Hopkins, paint and bearings.....	$75 00
Brick, new floor	50 00
Grammar, new floor	65 00
Lang, paint and shingled.....	50 00
General repairs and supplies.....	60 00
	<hr/>
	$300 00

We think that the recommendations and estimates as herein made should be carried into effect and that the voters will be willing to appropriate a sufficient amount.

CHAS. ROSS,
ALFRED HILTON,
O. W. BIGELOW,

S. S. Committee of St. Albans, Me.

Superintendent's Report

Gentlemen of the School Board:

In presenting you my second annual report I wish to say that the schools have been conducted along the lines established in previous years, and while our schools have been very satisfactory on the whole there have been some conditions that have detracted somewhat from the success that attended them last year. This has been no fault of the teachers or the pupils, as they all have been very faithful and conscientious in their labors.

The winter term of several schools was broken by sickness and was closed for several weeks, and in four the term was shortened one or more weeks. For these schools I will refer you to the statistics. I recommend that these schools be maintained enough longer in the spring term to make them as long as the other schools—twenty-seven weeks. The spring term is the logical time, as the work of the winter term may then be completed.

TEACHERS.

This year we have employed eighteen teachers, of which four were beginners, and two had one term experience. This condition applies to the first term they were employed this year. Twelve have at least a high school education and six have special training. The salary this year has been a little higher for some of the teachers but on the whole it has been lower per week.

The time is near at hand when all teachers will be required to have special training and we must pay our teachers enough so they can afford to fit themselves for the work.

COURSE OF STUDY.

The course of study has been the same as for the two previous years except that Algebra in the grades has been dropped.

I feel that it has no place in the grades, as there is not time enough in twenty-seven weeks to do the grade work properly. I feel that we should increase the school year to thirty weeks, as that is as short a time in which the grades can master the course. Other towns around us have thirty weeks for the same amount of work and ought to be able to do it in a more satisfactory manner.

I have some printed courses and each family will be supplied with one at the beginning of next term. The printer promised them not later than Oct 1, but failed to get them out in time for the use of the schools.

BOOKS AND SUPPLIES.

No changes have been made in the text books this year. We have not needed quite as many as was estimated last spring, but as some are getting the worse for wear, especially the arithmetics and large geographies, it will cost more for the coming year. We need more supplementary readers. One hundred and twenty-five dollars will supply the needed books for the coming year if good judgment is used in the selection.

Crayon, arithmetic and practice paper have been furnished as last year.

TRANSPORTATION.

We have maintained twelve schools for two terms and eleven in the winter term. Several of them have been small and five have failed to maintain the average attendance of eight. The yearly average of the following schools is: Chambers, 5.6; Tracy, 6.7; Lyford, 5.5; Magoon, 5.4; and the Hopkins 6.5 for two terms. This school was transported to the Lyford in the winter term, at a saving of $2.00 per week besides the wood.

The cost of these schools has been about the same or a little more than last year. But there is no getting around the fact that the several small schools have not done as well as the larger schools. No teacher can do as much, or create the enthusiasm in a school of five pupils as in the larger school. Again the pupils do not have the competition of others in their classes.

Consequently there is less interest in the work. And no matter how good a teacher she may be, how much experience she may have had, can supply this deficiency. I firmly believe that it is the duty of the school officials to give the boys and girls the training that will best equip them for their life's work. Our schools are for the children, and for them alone.

As we cannot always forecast the future correctly, I would recommend that the schools now closed be left in the hands of the School Board. By so voting disagreeable duties may be avoided, in case of more pupils moving in or out of town.

VILLAGE SCHOOLS.

In these schools we are met with a new difficulty. In the Primary room we have five grades and there will be more pupils to enter this spring, making more pupils and a mixture in the first grade. In the Grammar room we have four grades, making more work than there is time for. During the year we have had an assistant for these schools. The assistant's time has been divided between the two schools and while much better work has been done than could possibly have been accomplished without Miss Emery's assistance, still better results would have been obtained had there been another separate room.

There is also another condition that needs remedying. The school yard is too small to accommodate fifty pupils. Where all grades from the first to the ninth are turned out on so small an area there is sure to be more or less trouble. The little children are sure to be hurt and some of them will find their way into the street where there is always more or less danger.

It is my earnest hope that the town will see fit to purchase a lot and erect a new building in some good location where the lower grades may have a chance to be by themselves. By so doing and establishing the third school with three grades in each much better results will be had.

IN CONCLUSION.

I have tried to outline, briefly, what I have every reason to believe will prove of value to the effectiveness of the schools. I have not talked theory, for these are all tried and proved facts.

In closing let me say that I consider the year a profitable one. Only three terms out of the thirty-five have not proved as much as we have reason to expect. As I said in the beginning, the teachers and pupils have worked well but they were handicapped in their progress from no fault of theirs. Quite a good many of the mothers have visited the schools and I feel sure that the greater number of them are pleased with them.

I thank you all for the many kindnesses and helpful suggestions, and I assure you they have been greatly appreciated.

Respectfully submitted,

F. L. ROWELL.
