Fort Fairfield Public Library

During the year just closed the Public Library has been more largely patronized than in any other year of its history, 11,121 books being taken out. We feel that the interest of the Library has been carefully looked after by our faithful Librarian, Mr. C. E. Hoit, and that he has served the public in his usual courteous manner. During the year 208 new books were added to the Library.

The balance of the Library fund now in the hands of the town, will be required to pay for books which are being ordered to replace some of the old ones that are out of repair, and for some new books which are being added. The wooden parts of the Library building will need to be painted this season and a concrete or tar walk should be placed around the building to keep water away from the cellar wall.

We desire to acknowledge with thanks the contribution to the Library of books and magazines by Mrs. Charles A. Morse (formerly Miss Nellie E. Thurlough), of books by Miss Gena Dorsey and Mrs. Reuben F. Thurlough, of statuary by A. F. Goodhue and Mrs. H. N. Goodhue, and of pictures by Mrs. G. E. Bartlett and the Philomathian Club.

We recommend that the sum of $1,250 be raised for Library purposes for the ensuing year, which sum we estimate will be sufficient to pay the usual fixed charges and the necessary repairs.

To the Superintending School Committee and Citizens of the Town of Fort Fairfield:—

I hereby submit to you my fourth annual report of the schools of Fort Fairfield.

High School

The work in the High School has been very satisfactory. However, it is outgrowing its present quarters, and it will be necessary before many years to enlarge accommodations for the increasing number of students wishing to take advantages of the secondary school courses. Public sentiment is demanding that the work of the schools shall be made more practical, that it shall meet more the demands of the majority, and cater less to the colleges. Schools are constantly altering their courses and requirements along this line. A generation ago the aim of the High School was to prepare for college; therefore the curriculum was far more inflexible than it is today. The High School of the present is striving or should strive to fit our young people for living under varying environments and conditions. Consequently our High School courses should be enriched and additions made to our equipment and teaching force in order to make it possible to teach these subjects properly.

A great handicap to the progress of our High School is the indifference of some parents. They do not visit the classes, and therefore know little or nothing of the work or ability of the teachers. Many students are absent from school for trivial reasons so that they are always behind in their work and discouraged. Some boys and girls are making complete failures in school, not because of a low grade of intelligence, but because they do not observe proper study hours. The interests of the school should be first in the life of the pupil, but unless parents magnify them, the boys and girls will not regard them as important. For a more detailed report of the High School and its needs, I would refer you to the report of Mr. G. Herbert Foss, Principal.

FACULTY

The following is the present corps of instruction:—
 Principal, G. Herbert Foss, Mathematics and History.

REMARKS

The present-year High School enrollment of 195 shows an increase of 13 over the enrollment of last year. The probability is that next fall the enrollment will be at least 210. The room in the High School building now available for the purposes of the High School is inadequate, and each year is becoming more so. The matter of providing more room for the uses of the High School must soon be brought to the attention of our citizens.

In my report last year I called the attention of parents to the importance of having their children punctual and regular in attendance. I have been more particular this year than last in regard to this matter, and, although an improvement has been shown, I am not satisfied. I insist upon an excuse for every absence, and resort to different means of impressing upon the mind of a scholar the great importance of being on time. I fully realize the distance from which some of the students are obliged to come each day, and the efforts some are putting forth to get an education. I thank the parents for their co-operation in reducing the inconveniences of non-attendance, and, with a continuance of this spirit of co-operation, we can reduce this evil to a minimum. Please remember that from make-up lessons it is impossible for the student to derive the benefit that he would have obtained from attendance at regular class-room work, and the student can not advance from one class to a higher one who does not attend school regularly. Do not expect that he will advance. Insist that your child be at school on time, be regular in attendance, and work with his teachers to benefit your child in every way possible.

Again I beg of you parents to visit the school, to see what your child is doing. I try to keep you informed as best I can, but there is no other way so satisfactory as a face-to-face talk here at the school. Won't each and every parent please make an effort to visit us? We as teachers could do so much better if we could converse with you about things which you know in regard to the child and we do not; and you could have a better understanding if you would learn from us things we know and you do not. Working together, could we not do much better for your child? Certainly, yes.

It seems to me a very unfortunate thing for a child to grow up in ignorance of that which all educators consider of great importance. I refer to the knowledge of music. Music taught in our schools would add but little to the work of the pupil, and would serve as a relaxation from his other school duties.

Fort Fairfield is one of the very, very few towns of its size in New England that does not provide for instruction in music in the public schools. Houlton, Presque Isle and Caribou have music-teachers; and can not Fort Fairfield, whose interest and support of schools has never been excelled by our sister towns, provide for this great need?

In closing, I wish to thank the citizens, school committee, and superintendent for their support and aid rendered to my assistants, my students and myself during the past year.

Respectfully submitted.

G. HERBERT FOSS.

Grades of Fort Fairfield Village

We are employing eleven teachers in the grades; four in the Hacker building, four in the Fessenden, and three in the High School building. Nine of these teachers taught in the grades last year. The new teachers in the Hacker building are Blanche Ginn who teaches Grade II, and Ellen C. Smith who has charge of Grades III and IV. No change was made in the teaching force in the Fessenden building. Alma I. Burke was transferred from Grade II of the Hacker school to Grades V and VI in the High School building.

Rural Schools

We are maintaining 23 rural schools at present. This number is one more than last year.

During the summer vacation a new schoolhouse was erected in the Stevensville district and also one on the Strickland Road. Schools were opened in these buildings last September. The name of the new school on the Strickland Road is the Lincoln School.

At the close of the school year last June the parents in the Ridge district made a request that their school be suspended and the pupils transported to the village. Upon investigation it was found that the transportation would be cheaper than the maintenance of the school so the request was granted.

Consequently we have added two schools to the number of last year and taken away one.

Fewer changes than usual have been made in the corps of teachers. During the fall term F. W. Bridges resigned his position at Maplegrove and Joseph F. Burch was secured for the place. At the close of the fall term two teachers tendered their resignations. Loana Spearin resigned the Conant School and Joseph F. Burch the Maplegrove Grammar. Elizabeth Everett was secured for the Conant district and Rev. Herman Clark for the position at Maplegrove. During the winter term Mary J. Kiernan was obliged to resign her position in the McIntosh district because of illness and Annie V. True was hired to fill the vacancy.

Music

It is time for Fort Fairfield to have a special teacher of music. This town is one of a very few places of its size in the State where a supervisor of music is not employed, and there are many smaller towns which consider systematic instruction in this subject a necessity.

Music in the public schools has great educational value and should not be regarded as an accomplishment for a few pupils of excellent talent; the study should not be confined to those of remarkable ability or taste in that direction. If the subject is properly taught it cultivates keenness and accuracy of sight and hearing, arouses right feelings, and concentrates the attention. It also affords a natural opportunity for teaching good bodily habits, deep breathing and distinct articulation.

The best of the physical, mental and spiritual nature can be stirred and strengthened by the use of the right kind of singing. Many beautiful songs can be sent each year into every home that is in touch with the public schools. Patriotism and love of home and nature in their truest sense can thus be impressed.

Fort Fairfield should raise $1,000.00 for music in the public schools the coming year, and an article has been inserted in the warrant to give the citizens an opportunity to take action in regard to this matter. The sum of $700.00 should be allowed for the teacher's salary and the remaining $300.00 for books and equipment.

School Libraries

Several schools have small libraries which are supported by the teachers and pupils. A few of the books have been donated but most of them were purchased with the money raised by school entertainments.

The real value of teaching a child to read is measured by the kind of books he learns to love. The study of the text book on any subject should be supplemented by the systematic reading of good books on the same subject. These books should be in the school library. They should connect the lessons learned from the text books with good general reading and literature.

Geography and history are taught to little purpose in the school if they fail to create in the pupil the desire to know more of the people and products of other lands and other sections of his own land.

Well-selected books of travel, biography and fiction and poetry should be made the means of extending the lessons taught from the text books.

None but good books should be tolerated in a school library, and every teacher should know what constitutes a good book for children. The books of the library should be a part of the daily life of the school. Daily reference to them should be made in assigning lessons, and pupils should be taught how to read a book intelligently and to make reports, oral or written on what they have read.

The school library may serve as a link to bind together the home and the school, and to arouse the interest of parents in what their children are reading. There is no better intellectual and moral home influence than that which comes from reading a good book aloud in the family circle. Teachers should suggest to pupils valuable books suitable for their age, attainments, tastes and necessities. Many boys have been ruined by dime novels who might have been saved by reading good books.

Medical Inspection

The chief aim of the Spartans was to train the body but the monks of the middle ages regarded the body as unworthy of attention because their aim was to train the mind. With a remarkable degree of slowness it has at last been discovered that the aim should be "a sound mind in a sound body."

Many of our boys and girls are failures in school because of physical defects that could be easily remedied. Several pupils have been reported to me as deficient in their studies and difficult to manage because of their physical condition.

The question for us to consider is how shall we proceed to improve the physical welfare of the child. The teachers do not have the expert knowledge of a physician but frequently they are obliged to guess whether children who have had measles are ready to return to school; whether a child of a family that is having measles, the child himself not being afflicted, should be excluded from school; whether a boy who says he has not sufficiently recovered from measles to go to school is not using that as an excuse to stay away from school perhaps two weeks after he is in condition to return; whether pupils who will not study because they say their eyes are troubling them are telling the truth; whether children are doing poor work because of adenoids; whether certain children really have lice and whether pupils with sores on their hands have some contagious disease.

There should be a school physician to give expert decisions in such cases and to examine each year every school child whose condition is not normal.

The report of an examination given by one school physician in Maine may be of interest.

I have selected this report because the results of this examination seem to be about the average.

Medical inspection is absolutely necessary to remove many of the physical hindrances to good work in our schools.

Diseases of the mouth and throat, the presence of adenoids and other kindred ailments are receiving attention from school officials as never before. According to the best authorities the mouth and particularly the teeth contain, usually, germs that, under certain physical conditions, produce many of the dreaded diseases. In many cases the early symptoms of disease as reported by a school physician can be carefully watched by the teachers and parents and medical advice consulted in time. By this means an epidemic of some contagious disease may be averted.

There is no article in the warrant asking for an appropriation for medical inspection, but I have touched upon it in my report because I think it is a matter that should be carefully considered in the near future.

The State Law is as follows:—

Sec. 1. The superintending school committee of every city and town shall appoint one or more school physicians and shall assign one to the medical inspection of not over one thousand pupils of the public schools within its city or town, and shall provide them with all proper facilities for the performance of their duties as hereinafter prescribed; provided, however, that the said committee has been so authorized by vote of town at regular town meeting or at a special town meeting called for that purpose.

Sec. 2. Every school physician shall make a prompt examination and diagnosis of all children referred to him as hereinafter provided, and such further examination of teachers, janitors and school buildings as in his opinion the protection of the health of the pupils may require.

Sec. 6. The pupils so examined by school physicians, when treatment is necessary shall not be referred to the school physicians for such treatment unless the school physician be the regular family physician of such pupil; but shall be referred to the regular family physician of such pupil through the parents or guardian.

Sec. 4. The superintending school committee shall cause to be referred to a school physician for examination and diagnosis every child returning to a school without a certificate from the board of health or family physician after absence on account of illness or whenever in the judgment of the teacher the circumstances of the absence were such as to require such a certificate; and every child in the schools under its jurisdiction who shows signs of being in ill health or of suffering from infectious or contagious diseases, unless he is at once excluded from school by the teacher; except that in case of schools in remote and isolated situations, the school committee may make such other arrangements as may best carry out the purposes of these sections.

Sec. 5. The superintending school committee shall cause notice of diseases or defects, if any, from which any child is found to be suffering to be sent to his parents or guardian. Whenever a child shows symptoms of small pox, scarlet fever, measles, chicken pox, tuberculosis, diphtheria or influenza, tonsilitis, whooping cough, mumps, scabies or trachoma, he shall be sent home immediately or as soon as safe and proper conveyance can be found and the board of health and superintendent of schools shall at once be notified.

Sec. 6. The superintending school committee of every city or town shall cause every child in the public schools to be separately and carefully tested and examined at least once in every school year to ascertain whether he is suffering from defective sight or hearing or from any other disability or defect tending to prevent his receiving the full benefit of his school work, or requiring a modification of the school work in order to prevent injury to the child or to secure the best educational results. Tests of sight and hearing shall be made by the teachers or by the school physicians. The committee shall cause notice of any defect or disability requiring treatment to be sent to the parent or guardian of the child, and shall require a physical record of each child to be kept in such form as the state superintendent of public schools shall prescribe after consultation with the state board of health.

Sec. 7. The state superintendent of public schools shall prescribe after consultation with the state board of health, the direction for tests of sight and hearing, and shall prescribe and furnish to the school committees suitable rules of instruction, test cards, blanks, record books, and other useful appliances for carrying out the purposes of the six preceding sections.

Sec. 8. Expenses which a city or town may incur by virtue of the authority herein vested in the superintending school committee shall not exceed the amount appropriated for that purpose in cities by the city council and in towns by a town meeting. The appropriation shall precede any expenditure under the seven preceding sections and the sum appropriated shall be deemed sufficient appropriation in the municipality where it is made. Such appropriation need not specify to what section of the act it shall apply and may be voted as a total appropriation to be applied in carrying out the purposes of said sections.

REPAIRS

The desks in the first, second and fourth grade rooms of the Messenden building were thoroughly scraped, stained and varnished. The desks in the fifth, sixth and seventh grade rooms of the High School building were treated in the same way.

The steps at the side entrances of the High School building were repaired. A line of posts was set at one corner of the High School campus to prevent driving across the athletic field. Repairs were made upon pipes leading from the pump house to the High School building.

The top of the chimney of the Ames schoolhouse was re-built.

The roof of the Barnes building was re-shingled and the top of the chimney re-built.

The chimney in the Blaisdell district was repaired.

The work of grading the Chambers school yard which was commenced last year was completed during the summer vacation. The walls and ceiling of the schoolroom were repaired and the chimney re-built.

A new door was furnished for the Conant district.

New doorsteps for each entrance of the Dinsmore schoolhouse were built, and repairs made to the walls and ceiling.

A new door was provided for the Goodrich building.

New toilets were built in the Grass district and the Hawkeye chemical closets installed. The top of the chimney was re-built, and repairs made to the walls of the schoolroom.

The chimney of the Haines schoolhouse was repaired; also the walls and ceiling.

The outside of the McIntosh building was painted.

A new hardwood floor was laid in the Murphy schoolroom, and the walls and ceiling repaired. A new door was provided, the locks and catches of the old doors fixed, the top of the chimney re-built and the woodshed repaired.

The top of the chimney in the Page district was re-built.

Repairs were made to the walls and ceiling of the Russell schoolroom and the chimney re-built.

The chimney of the Turner building was repaired.

Only minor repairs were made in the districts not mentioned.

Considerable money was required for renewal of insurance as all the policies on the High School building, three on the Fessenden, and all on the Maplegrove expired during the year.

Upon examination of the chimneys last summer we were surprised to find that a large number of them needed repairs at once. The expense of this work made it necessary to leave undone some of the rural repairs I recommended in my report of last year.

The following repairs are recommended for the coming year:—

Two more toilets and a longer urinal for the boys' basement of the High School building.

A new urinal for the Fessenden building.

Some provisions made to prevent the High School roof from leaking in the winter.

A hardwood floor for the Monson schoolhouse and repairs to its foundation.

Six Hundred Dollars could be used to good advantage by painting the outside of several of the rural schoolhouses. About Three Hundred Dollars should be expended upon the walls and ceilings of rural buildings.

At least two Smith Heating and Ventilating Plants for country schools should be purchased.

An allowance of Five Hundred Dollars should be made for toilet improvements in the rural districts.
