SUMMARY

State tax paid in full
 County tax paid in full
 Current bills as presented paid in full
 Old bonded indebtedness reduced $3,000.00
 No taxes due the town back of 1919
 Outstanding temporary loan $50,000.00.
 No outstanding town orders
 Treasurer's balance, cash in treasury $11,422.28

Under existing conditions, the appropriations for municipal expenditures for the current year must be increased, precisely as the expenditures of the individuals are increased, else the town, like the individual, faces a deficit. The increased cost of labor, which forms a large item in all highway work, and the increased cost of all kinds of supplies furnished paupers can not be met except by larger appropriations for these purposes. It costs just as much to pay for labor of men working upon the highways for the town and just as much to purchase food, clothing and shelter for paupers, as it would cost private individuals to accomplish the same results for themselves and their families. The high cost of living hits the town precisely as it hits the individual citizen of the town. The highways, over one hundred and twenty miles of roadway, and the sidewalks, call for$25,000.00

 The appropriation for paupers should be 4,500.00
 And that for the Municipal building 1,700.00
 For town expenses, which is the general expense account, the amount should be 5,000.00

As a partial offset to the overdraft of $9,978.56 in the highway account it should be remembered that it cost $2,325 to pay for breaking winter roads and that the town team costing $765, snow plows $228, road machine $500, wagon and sled $280, making a total of $4,098, were all charged to this account.

W. J. BRADLEY, Auditor.

Fort Fairfield Public Library

The past year has been one of growth and of increased usefulness for the library. The circulation of books and use of the reading rooms has been larger than ever before. The best patrons have been school children. Slowly and surely the library is extending its influence among the young people of the town. Your attention is called to the librarian's report which is presented herewith, where the facts and figures of the year's activity may be found.

The library badly needs more funds. The amount raised last year was $1,250. It took $1,130 of this fund to cover four items—librarian's salary, fuel, lights and janitor services. This left only $120 for incidental expenses and for the purchase of new books. Running expenses have increased with the high cost of supplies. The librarian's salary has not been increased for several years. Six hundred dollars is wholly inadequate pay for such services. Caribou is now paying $720 and Presque Isle $900. It has been found necessary to install a new system of cataloguing to properly handle the increased use of the books. New tables are needed in the general reading room, and more chairs. To meet these items, it has been necessary to hold in reserve the balance brought forward from last year. Not a dollar of last year's appropriation has been available for the purchase of books or magazines. The amount of the appropriation must be increased, or the growth of your library must stop. The trustees recommend the sum of $2,000.

Report of the Librarian

To the Board of Trustees of the Fort Fairfield Public Library

GENTLEMEN:—

The annual report of the library for the year 1919 is herewith respectfully submitted:—

CONDITION OF THE LIBRARY

Number of volumes reported February 1, 1919, was 4,062. Additions during the year were purchased as follows: Webster’s New International Dictionary, Webster’s New International Dictionary Atlas, Century Dictionary of Facts, History of Maine, 3 volumes, Children’s Hour, 13 volumes, History of the World War, Simonds, 5 volumes. Additions by gift were 50 volumes, of which nearly all were children's books. Total number catalogued February 1, 1920, 4,136. This does not include a large number of volumes such as bound magazines, government reports, etc., which have never been catalogued but will be when the new catalogue is finished. Quite a large number of books are practically worn out, and such as are no longer of any value or not worth rebinding should be discarded to make shelf room for new books.

CIRCULATION

The library has been open every afternoon and evening from 2:00 to 9:00 P. M., except Sundays and regular holidays. The circulation for the year was 12,717, an increase of more than 3,000 over that of last year. There has also been a steady increase in the reading-room attendance.

GIFTS

From the Philomathian Club the library has received three very fine large pictures, Elson Prints of "Pilgrims Going to Church," "The Alice Freeman Palmer Memorial" and St. Gauden's famous statue of Abraham Lincoln. This same club has also contributed $78.12 for magazine subscriptions and children's books.

The Hook and Needle Club has given "The Child's Book of Knowledge" in 20 volumes, and a year's subscription to the Geographic Magazine.

The High School Seniors have donated from the proceeds of their lunch counter $16.40 to purchase juvenile literature.

Mrs. D. E. Edwards, Portland, Maine, presented 10 very nice children's books.

Other interested friends have given single magazine subscriptions and second-hand books and magazines which have been very useful.

CATALOGING AND CLASSIFYING

As the Library's resources and scope of work have increased it has become necessary to classify and re-catalog the books, and the librarian is engaged in making a card catalog and classifying the books according to the Dewey Decimal method, the system now almost universally used in all up-to-date libraries.

GENERAL

Considerable reference work has been done with the schools and every effort is being made to build up this valuable department of library service. A Saturday forenoon story hour was started for the children of the lower grades the first of this year, but was discontinued on account of the severe weather and difficulty in heating the library. It will be resumed when warm weather comes.

A juvenile traveling library was borrowed from the State for use through the winter.

The library now has a subscription list of 30 of the best periodicals. These are attracting more and more patrons to the reading rooms. The library receives the Reader's Guide to Periodical Literature, a monthly index to all the leading magazines, and an invaluable aid in looking up material for study or articles for reference work of any kind.

Respectfully submitted,

KATE K. ESTES,
Librarian.

To the School Committee of Fort Fairfield,

Gentlemen:—

At the coming town meeting the citizens of Fort Fairfield will be called upon to face two or three of the most important school problems that have arisen in the history of the town. These problems will be presented briefly in this report with the hope that every tax payer will familiarize himself with the condition to the end that he may take such action by means of his own vote as shall be for the real benefit of the boys and girls of Fort Fairfield of the present and the future generations. Some regard these problems from one angle and some from another, but in the end all must do what is for the best interest for everybody concerned.

Among the more important matters that demand consideration are these: the appropriation of sufficient money to enable the school department to employ trained teachers at a reasonable salary; the determination of what is best to be done by way of providing adequate accommodations for children attending school in the village; to reach a decision concerning the employment of a supervisor of physical education in compliance with the provisions of a law passed by the last state legislature; and to decide upon what sums of money the town will vote and raise for the ordinary running expenses of the department. Each of these matters is in itself important and consequently deserves serious fair minded consideration. It is a well-established fact that the success of schools is determined to a large degree by the attitude of the public towards the schools. In the past the attitude of the Fort Fairfield taxpayer has been the right one. He has never failed to meet an emergency nor has the town ever failed in its generous support of its schools. The same fair minded consideration that has always been shown will settle all our present difficulties this year to the end that the schools may continue to hold the enviable position in the county and the state that they now oc-copy. No school system is perfect, nor can any school system without weaknesses be found. It is our duty to recognize the weak spots and go as far as our means will permit towards strengthening them.

The first matter to be called to your attention is what the town is willing to do to meet the serious teacher-shortage that threatens. Up to date we have been more fortunate than many communities in securing teachers and keeping our schools open. This good fortune will attend us only so long as we are willing to pay our trained teachers a sufficient amount to enable them to meet the demands of a very much increased cost of living. It is true that there is at this time a shortage of approximately 15,000 teachers. It is also true there are now employed in this country over 25,000 teachers below standard. It is further true that teachers' salaries have not increased as in other vocations, nor have they increased in proportion to the increase in the cost of living. Very few communities, awake to the danger that portends, have taken steps to make teaching an attractive profession, and teachers themselves, learning of this, naturally seek positions in towns and cities that pay them a sufficient salary to enable them to live as they ought and to save something against time of need. The natural drift is away from the rural community to the urban and suburban. Now comes the question of what the rural community is willing to do to guard itself against this condition and save the schools. The State Department of Education has been keen in the realization of the danger and with the Governor and Council quick to act in applying the remedy. This may best be set forth in the words of the State superintendent taken from a recent circular letter issued by him as follows: Dr. Augustus O. Thomas, State superintendent of public schools, in a statement sent out Friday to superintendents of schools and superintending school committees in speaking of the action of the governor and council providing a way for an increase in the pay of teachers says:—

“This fund is to be used directly for salary increases in those towns which are now struggling to hold up their end of the emergency under a high tax rate.

“The $100,000 granted by the governor and council added to the $50,000 already in the equalization fund, makes $150,000 available for towns who make a special effort to meet the present emergencies. If the towns will put up an equal amount, it will mean $300,000 which would give an average of $150 per year to every one of the 2,000 teachers in the strictly rural schools of the State or a $200 increase to prepared teachers and $100 to others. This would make possible a schedule of $720 to $1,000 for rural teachers who are prepared by education and service, and $550 to $700 for other teachers. Any teacher who is fit to be in the service should have a living wage.

“From a large number of budgets received from teachers in all grades and from all parts of the State, it requires from $850 to $1,000 a year to pay the legitimate expenses of the teachers. A teacher who does not earn a sufficient amount to keep herself in reasonable comfort, loses efficiency in the school room.

“The enlarged equalization fund will be distributed among the towns and plantations of the State whose common school tax rate and municipal tax rate exceed the averages of such rates in all towns of the State. The basis for the distribution of the $100,000 will be the average for the present year compared with the average for the coming year. The average rate of taxation for the common schools for the current year is .00478 and the average municipal rate is .03327. This will give superintendents of schools and committees a basis for computation. I would advise superintendents and committees to make up the budget required for the town and to confer with the selectmen and interested citizens seeking their co-operation. This emergency can be met.

HOW TO BE APPLIED

“This fund will be used for the following purposes affecting elementary schools:

“First—For a substantial increase in the salaries of prepared teachers, teachers who are graduates of normal schools, or have an equivalent college training or have successful experience of from five to ten years.

“Second—For reasonable increases for all successful teachers, that is, a living wage for any teacher who is worthy to be employed.

“Third—It may be used for the increase of the salaries of superintendents of schools. The shortage will be felt almost as much among these leaders of education as among the teachers. Already two resignations are in to be effective the first of March, one to take up education in an adjoining State and the other to go into business.

“Fourth—Any town or plantation in the State meeting the conditions of Sections 166 and 167 may share in the benefits.

“It is possible for centers of population with their financial ability to relieve the situation and this in large measure is being done, but the more strictly rural towns who find their burden of taxation for schools constantly increasing will find relief through this fund.

“In addition to the $100,000 emergency and the regularly appropriated $50,000 there is also an appropriation of $40,000 which may be used in large part for salaries of teachers and principals of high schools: Such aid will be disbursed on the same conditions as the equalization fund. The median salary for teachers in high schools is $1,050 for men teachers, $850 for women teachers and $1,200 for principals. We shall find a serious shortage in this department unless an adequate wage scale is authorized.” It is therefore earnestly recommended that a sufficient appropriation for schools be made at the coming town-meeting to entitle Fort Fairfield to a share of the funds made available by the State, thereby saving the schools from the disaster that surely awaits them in event of our failure to provide.

HIGH SCHOOL PROJECT

The matter of building a new High School is not a new one nor is the need for a new High School building of recent origin. In the report of the superintendent of schools for the year ending February 20, 1917, attention was directed to the need for a new High School building, and the prophecy made that before the building could be made ready for occupancy the need would become imperative. There appeared in the town warrant for that year an article "To see what sum of money the town will vote and raise for the construction of a modern High School building, and the furnishings and equipments for the same, and to see if the town will elect a building committee to have charge of the matter of the construction thereof." If the need for such a building was imperative in 1917 it certainly is more urgent now. The registration of the High School has increased, and the registration in the village schools is much larger than it was then. The proposition to build a new High School is one that has been hanging fire for some time and must now be determined one way or the other. Failure to provide increased accommodation has been a serious handicap to the progress of the schools in the village and a positive injury to their efficiency. This was true before the writer came to Fort Fairfield, but nothing has been accomplished beyond more or less discussion.

Consider for a minute the present situation here in the village. There are approximately one hundred seventy-five children of grades one, two, and three, now attending school on half time, and one grade, the sixth, housed in a paint shop temporarily converted into a schoolroom. It is manifestly unfair to these half time children to deprive them of fifty per cent of their educational opportunity. It is equally unfair to the fathers of these children that they should pay their share of maintaining full time schools for other children when their own children can only attend half time. It seems a matter of simple justice that equal educational opportunities should be provided for all children.

The erection of the new High School building would accomplish two purposes: it would provide the town with a modern High School building adapted to modern requirements, and large enough to accommodate the school for many years to come, and it would also enable the school authorities to convert the present High School building into a grade school that would provide ample room to allow all children to attend school all the time.

There ought not to be any need of a complete analysis of the village school conditions. The facts have been known for several years, have been discussed pro and con during those several years and ought to be familiar to every taxpayer. The town has purchased a lot containing three acres upon which to erect a High School building and should now provide money to erect it.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION COMPULSORY

The Legislature of 1919 passed a law making physical education compulsory in the public schools. Two sections of the law are as follows:—

SEC. 1. PERSONAL HYGIENE, COMMUNITY SANITATION, PHYSICAL EDUCATION TO BE INCLUDED IN PUBLIC SCHOOL COURSES; STATE SUPERINTENDENT TO PRESCRIBE RULES AND REQUIRE REPORTS FROM LOCAL SUPERINTENDENTS. In order to more thoroughly prepare the youth of the State for the duties and obligations of citizenship and to provide for their future well-being and comfort it shall be the duty of the superintending school committees of the several towns of the State, beginning not later than September first, nineteen hundred and twenty, to make provision for instruction to be given to pupils in all public schools in personal hygiene, community sanitation and physical education, including recreational exercises in accordance with a course of study and plans of lessons and instruction prepared by the state superintendent of public schools, who shall prescribe such rules and regulations as may be necessary to carry out in successful manner said program of physical education and he may require such reports from superintendents as he may deem necessary.

SEC. 2. TOWNS MAY EMPLOY DIRECTORS OF PHYSICAL EDUCATION; QUALIFICATIONS AND DUTIES.

Towns may employ supervisors or directors of physical education who shall meet such standards of preparation and certification as the state superintendent of schools may determine. It shall be the duty of the superintendent of schools in which directors or supervisors of physical education are employed to report to the state superintendent of schools, on blank forms prepared by him, the number of pupils receiving instruction, the number of directors or supervisors employed, the amount paid such directors or supervisors, and such other information as may be required.

Towns that employ supervisors or directors approved by the state superintendent will be reimbursed by State funds by an amount equal to one half the annual salary paid the director up to $800.00. In no case shall more than $1,600.00 be paid to any one town or to any one union of towns. It seems therefore to be necessary to employ a physical director for our schools beginning with the next fall term.

PARENT-TEACHER ASSOCIATION

There has recently been formed in the village a parent-teacher association largely comprised at present of parents having children in the Hacker school. Such an organization if conducted along the right lines can be made a tremendous power for the good of child life in the community. There are some child facts and figures here in Fort Fairfield as elsewhere that are not at all pleasant to look upon; it is with these facts and figures that a parent-teacher association should concern itself. There were called into the service of the United States during the great war almost five million young men of the country. In securing these over seven hundred thousand were rejected for physical disabilities of one kind or another. This revelation is significant and becomes doubly so when associated with moral conditions that were revealed as a result of the draft. Physical and moral disabilities were known to exist, but the extent of them was not realized. It is with conditions of this kind that a parent-teacher association may very properly deal rather than with problems involving the administrative work of the schools. Any association composed of parents and teachers which adheres truly to its work, (the study of the child), is a power for good provided it does something more than talk about conditions that need to be remedied. It must act as well as talk if it is to prove its value. The fact that such an organization has been formed is encouraging to the school officials. It is hoped that either the organization already formed will spread out in its membership or else other similar organizations be formed representing parents in other parts of the community. Such work will always have the co-operation and support of the school officials and will be instrumental in accomplishing much toward the general up-lift of child life.

COURSE OF STUDY

At the opening of the Elementary schools last fall each teacher was provided with a copy of a Course of Study prepared under the supervision of the state superintendent and approved by him. Every elementary school in town is working with this course as a basis to the end that there is bound to follow more uniformity in the work done by the rural and village schools than has ever existed before. One attractive feature of the course we are now using is the attempt not to emphasize the newer courses that now find a place in the school curriculum at the expense of the fundamentals commonly known as the three R's. There has been a tendency in modern courses of study to so crowd them with added subjects that the fundamentals were apt to suffer. We are trying to keep away from this and to give the fundamentals all the time that can reasonably be allotted to them. We are even going a step farther than this and requiring certain work in the fundamentals in the High School, particularly in arithmetic.

FINANCE

A detailed statement of the receipts and expenditures of the money available for public schools will be found in the report of the selectmen on another page. A summary of the expenditures is given here as follows:—

	Expended	Balance
Common schools	$35,934.87	$1,583.09
Free High School	12,764.02	800.56
Text books	1,915.27	$13.02 Overdraft
Repairs account	3,628.92	115.52 Overdraft
Apparatus and appliance	2,820.84	17.86

The net balance unexpended amounts to $2,401.51. The reason for the overdraft in the text book account lies in the fact that the cost of text books has increased during the year. This increase ranges from ten per cent to nearly one hundred per cent. Had the prices remained the same we could have purchased all the necessary books and shown a considerable unexpended balance. The same general explanation accounts for the overdraft in the repair account. Much of the material used in repairing school buildings has increased in price within a year, some materials advancing two, three, and even four times. These advances could not possibly have been foreseen last March nor can we today with any certainty predict what advances will be made in the coming year. Every individual knows full well from actual experience that it costs him more than twice as much to live now than it did two or three years ago. What is true of the individual is equally true of groups of individuals known as the town, consequently the taxpayer must expect that in order to maintain the work of any department of the town a considerable increase in expenditures is imperative. We can not conduct the public schools from now until March, 1921, for the same amount of money that was spent in the fiscal year just closed. It will be necessary to increase every appropriation for school purposes else the efficiency of the schools will be very seriously impaired, and their present standard very much lowered. Our requirements for another year have been considered with more than ordinary care. A deal of time and study has been given them and the amounts asked for represent exactly what will be required to continue the work as far as we can estimate. Could we know what advances in prices were going to take place during the coming year we could tell exactly the amounts required. But we do not know what these advances may be. We do know this however, that we can not go into the open market to get the services of trained teachers or buy school books and school supplies unless we are in a position to pay at least as much as other towns around us pay. Already a number of our best teachers have given notification that they will resign at the end of the school year to accept larger salaries in other places. These very same teachers are worth just as much to Fort Fairfield as they are to any other town, and the school officials of Fort Fairfield should be given sufficient money to allow them to retain these teachers or to replace them with others equally efficient. The following amounts of money will be required for the coming year:—

High School	$15,000.00
Common Schools	$35,000.00
Text Books	$1,500.00
Apparatus and Appliances	$2,500.00
Insurance and Repairs	$4,000.00

Conclusion

In concluding this report I want to express my appreciation of the quality of work done during the past year by the teaching force. It is the teachers who make the schools in a large degree, consequently they are very important factors in the educational life in this community; in any community. My appreciation and thanks are also due to the school committee for their unfailing co-operation in the work in which we are engaged. Harmony has at all times prevailed, and harmony is as great an element of strength in the conduct of public schools as in the conduct of any other institution.

Respectfully submitted,

C. E. GLOVER,
Superintendent.
