Superintendent's Report.

TO THE CITIZENS OF ISLESBORO:

GENTLEMEN:—In submitting this my third annual report, it can be safely stated that a very successful year has passed considering the difficulties incident to diphtheria epidemic, which visited us in the early fall.

In a general way there has been marked advancement all along the line. In some particular cases, especially in former district No. 4, there has been decided improvement. In district No. 4, there being too many scholars crowded in one room to do profitable work; we had a suitable room finished in the chamber of the school building and the school divided. Two teachers were employed and excellent results have followed this plan. Both schools making marked advancement.

Most of your teachers are students of the times and its demands, and have labored faithfully and to a large degree successfully. We are now practically doing the work as indicated by State Superintendent Stetson.

Good interest has been manifest by the pupils throughout the schools, and I am pleased with the results. Time, study and patience are necessary to place our schools where they ought to be, although from personal knowledge they compare favorably with the schools of other towns.

I believe that one of the reasons which prevent our schools from making more progress, is not the lack of methods, not to lack of good teachers; but to lack of interest on part of parents. Parents who shirk their home duties to their children, and never enforce any sort of wholesome discipline, that will result in obedience, make it very hard for teachers, who must, by hook or crook, preserve order in school, or resign their posts. If the child is never made to obey at home, and has no sort of respect for parental authority, he will hardly take kindly to the necessary discipline of school.

Such a faulty training is the blame of the parents, who by misplaced kindness or shiftlessness, have made of children tyrants who rule the household. Such self-willed children are the despair of teachers, and such misguided parents will be found amongst those who most loudly condemn teachers who attempt to remedy the deficiencies of home training by measures which will result in the child's obedience.

It is not to be expected that children, who have been pampered and mollicoddled at home, and always allowed to have their own way, be it right or wrong, can have developed into anything but home tyrants, and when such children are sent to school, where discipline must be maintained, they cannot fail to become insolent and unruly pupils. It need be no matter for surprise, that since there is so much "pure cussedness" lurking around among some parents that a small part of it should have been transmitted to offsprings, and should need be corrected by somewhat drastic measures. No school system is to be entirely blamed for such a conflict between scholars and teachers. It is the fault of misguided and shortsighted parents,

Most parents seem to think that the child is to receive most of its education in the public school—a great mistake—for the foundations of education are really laid in the home. Parents who are the most lax in their home training of children are the very ones who stir up the most trouble between conscientious teachers and disobedient pupils. Parents, it is your duty to visit our schools and confer with the teachers as to the abilities of your children. The welfare of the schools demand it. Our schools are always open to visitors, and yet, very few ever honor them by their presence except at the close of the year. We are always glad of this notice, but that gives one a very imperfect idea of the work.

Free High School.

We have been enabled to make a few needed changes in our schools during the past year,

By the requirement of a change in our high school laws, during the session of our last Legislature, we were able to grade the high schools better than they had been the past years. Not so high a grade as we would like to make, by any means, but the best we could, considering the advancement and ages of a larger part of the pupils that attend these schools.

We are sorry to state, that we have many scholars in town who do not avail themselves of the opportunity of attending out high schools, although the attendance is much better than previous years. We tried to emphasize in our last report the advantage of our high schools and would try to emphasize them still more this year.

We have enrolled eighty-two pupils in the two high schools, showing that we have abundant material for better schools in the coming year. I am pleased to note that we were able to secure the services of Mr. Clark and Mr. Eddy again. We note perfect harmony between teacher, pupils and parents, attendance regular, thorough work done and best methods of the day employed. These schools are the two most profitable terms of the year and we most earnestly recommend the continuance of the same, knowing that we get the greatest good for the amount of money expended than any schools in town.

Conclusion

I desire to extend my sincere thanks to every member of the school board for their unvarying courtesy and substantial aid in all my work; and to the good people of Islesboro, for their universal kindness, which has rendered my work so pleasant during the past three years. Thanks to you for your cordial support.

Respectfully submitted,

E. D. WILLIAMS, Superintendent.
