Announcement Of Mayor Highlights Maine Day

By ED DAMON

The weather was ideal and energy was plentiful as the University held its twenty-first annual Maine Day Wednesday. Highlighting the gala affair was the announcement of Carleton "Ron the Con" Hurd as the new campus mayor. Hurd, a freshman, easily won the mayoralty contest, topping his closest competitor Ronald "Big Ron" Burnham by more than 760 votes. Robert "Omar the Tent Maker" Gardner was the other candidate.

Hurd was not on hand yesterday morning when his victory was announced from the Library steps by Robert Fuchrer. He had been called home to attend a funeral and was unable to be present. However, the new mayor returned to campus in time to lead the float parade in the afternoon.

The all day work-play program also featured the inauguration of the mayor following the float parade and a state series baseball game between Maine and Bates.

The colorful affair got underway in the usual manner with the University band marching through campus waking students to the strains of the "Maine Stein Song."

Following an exchange breakfast from 7:15 to 7:45 a.m. there was the announcement of the new mayor. At 8:20 work began on the various projects around campus.

Hurd Leads Parade

The parade was led by Mayor Hurd, followed by outgoing Mayor Joe "Boomer the Baker" Boomer. Boomer escorted the three campus queens, Calico Queen Carol Stevenson, Lieutenant Colonel Dale Starbird, and Winter Carnival Queen Martha Trefethen, who were presented roses by their sponsoring organizations.

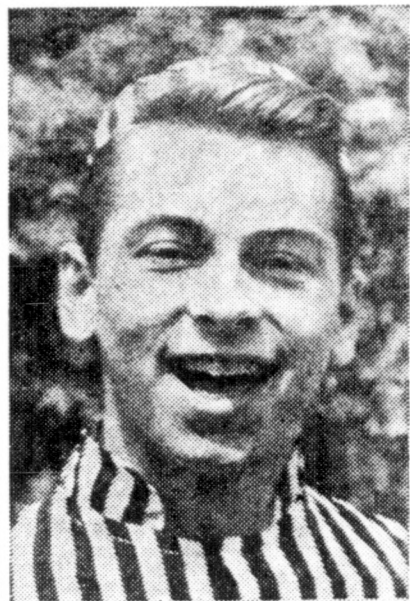

Following the parade Hurd was inaugurated mayor and President Arthur A. Hauck presented banners to the winning floats.

Delta Tau Delta's production of the "Boston Tea Party" won first prize in the men's division at the Maine Day Float parade Wednesday afternoon. The So. Apartments' version of "The Devil and Daniel Webster" was tops among the organizational entries, while Balentine Hall took the women's division honors with "The Midnight Ride of Paul Revere."

Climaxing the whole Maine Day program was the Student-Faculty Skit in the Memorial Gym.

The skit was one of the largest productions in recent years and included a cast of more than 70 students and faculty members.

1407 Turn Out For Annual Balloting

Reginald G. Collins, a junior, was elected president of the General Student Senate by University students who voted in the General Spring Elections Tuesday.

Collins, who was opposed by three other candidates, polled 450 votes to win. Eben DeGrasse was second with 366 votes.

Fred Newhall with 331 votes and William Law, who received 240 votes, finished third and fourth, respectively.

45% Vote

A total of 1407 voters, 45% of the student body, turned out to cast their ballots in the lobby of the Union. Polls were open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

As was the case in last fall's class elections the freshmen turned in the biggest vote, 449 first year students went to the polls. Voting in the other classes was as follows: sophomores, 391, juniors, 329, and seniors, 238.

William Farley won the Senate vice presidency with 361 votes. He nosed out James Conley, who received 352 votes to place second in the contest. Trailing Farley and Conley were James Hambleton with 329 votes, and Frank Young, 291.

In the race for the Senate secretary's post, Judith DeMerchant received a total of 503 votes to win handily over Betty Buzzell, her nearest competitor, with 347 votes. Barbara Kelly had 261 votes and Marcella Mitchell 232.

A total of 426 votes elected Janet Collins treasurer of the Senate. Judith Adams received 379 votes, Helen Inman, 285, and Sheila Pelosi, 211.

Four campus-wide representatives to the Student Religious Association cabinet were elected from a field of eight candidates. Those elected were Judith White, 682 votes, William Blodgett, 564, Patti Dessler, 534, and Cynthia Hawkes, 511.

Other SRA candidates and their vote totals were Barbara Kelly and Joan Knight, 487 each, Herbert Cohen 340, and Murray Simon, 177.

The S.R.A. cabinet will elect its own officers.

Choose 12 New Skulls, 20 Owls At IFC Sing Tuesday Evening

Twelve new Senior Skulls, including University President Arthur A. Hauck, and twenty new Sophomore Owls were tapped at the annual Inter-Fraternity Sing, Tuesday evening in Memorial gym.

List Owls

The new Skulls were announced by Jerry Pangakis, president of the present Skull group. James Hambleton, Sophomore Owl president, announced the new Owls.

Hambleton also presented the Owl Scholarship awarded annually to an outstanding out-going member of the society, to Richard Barter.

He noted that the Owls Society was founded in 1909 and listed the following qualifications, on the basis of which Owls are chosen: scholarship, activities, and personality and character.

Skull Anniversary

Pangakis told the audience that this year is the fiftieth anniversary of the founding of the Skulls. Membership in the society is the highest non-scholastic honor that can come to a Maine man, he said.

Earle Gowell Is Awarded Alumni Saber At Review

Earle R. Gowell, Jr., cadet colonel of the University's ROTC Regiment was awarded the Alumni Sabre as the outstanding graduating cadet at the annual regimental review this afternoon.

The presentation was made by Thomas G. Mangan '16, Livermore Falls, Maine, president of the General Alumni Association.

Many Awards

Presentation of the sabre to Cadet Gowell was one of many awards, both team and individual, made at the review, which was part of the annual formal federal inspection of the University's ROTC unit. More than 1000 cadets took part in the review.

Inspecting officers were: Colonel Paul Craig, Infantry, Senior Army Advisor to the Maine National Guard; Lt. Colonel William H. Kuhn, Artillery; Major William Davies, Artillery; Major Harold B. Roberts, Infantry; and Major Frederick E. Cummings, Infantry.

Maine coeds who serve as honorary officers of the regiment assisted Colonel James T. Walker, head of Maine's ROTC unit, in making many of the awards.

The honorary officers are: Dale Starbird, honorary Colonel; Mary Alice Flood, Judith DeMerchant, Mary Jane Kilpatrick, and Nancy Lee Schmidt, honorary lieutenant colonels.

Other awards presented at the review included the Reserve Officers Association medal for the outstanding company commander which went to Cadet Captain Henry G. Hartpence and the outstanding first sergeant award which was presented to Cadet

Donald A. Bryant, Lt. Col. Carl E. Otto, president of the Penobscot Valley Chapter, Maine ROA, made both

Phi Kappa Sigma Wins Inter-Fraternity Sing

Phi Kappa Sigma ended Theta Chi's domination of the Inter-Fraternity Sing by winning first place in the annual event Tuesday evening at Memorial Gym.

A large crowd watched the Phi Kaps turn in their winning performance under the able direction of Kelly Elliott. It was the first time since 1951 that Theta Chi, an honorable mention winner this year, failed to win first place in the sing. The other honorable mention winner was Phi Eta Kappa.

Winning Songs

The winning fraternity group sang "We Are The Men Of The Skull," a fraternity song, and "Landlord Fill the Flowing Bowl." Theta Chi, directed by Richard Cloutier, sang the very difficult "Hallelujah" from Handel's Messiah and a medley of Theta Chi songs. Phi Eta Kappa sang "O Our Dear Alma Mater" and "Shenandoah" to win the other honorable mention position. George Meehan directed the group from Phi Eta.

Thirteen of the University's 17 fraternities, a record number, participated in the sing.

The Joseph McCusker Trophy, awarded each year to the fraternity winning the sing, was presented Elliott by President Arthur A. Hauck. Hauck also awarded plates to the directors of the fraternities winning honorable mention.

The other fraternities which took part in the sing and their directors were: Alpha Gamma Rho, Richard Dorr; Alpha Tau Omega, Peter Pierson; Beta Theta Pi, H. Maxwell Burry, Jr.; Delta Tau Delta, James Dutton; Lambda Chi Alpha, Arthur Allen; Phi Gamma Delta, Ronald Appel; Sigma Chi, Melvin Tukey; Sigma Phi Epsilon, David Fields; Tau Epsilon Phi, Bernard Freeland; Tau Kappa Epsilon, Peter Burbank.

The judges committee included President Hauck, Dean John Stewart, and James A. Harmon, honorary judges; and Mrs. Myrle Coffey, Mr. Robert Jones, and Mrs. Virginia Hughes, professional judges.

Edward MacGibbon, chairman of the I.F.C. Sing committee, was master of ceremonies for the program.

Seniors Name Band

The Glen Miller Band will play at the Graduation Ball according to Robert C. Oldfield, senior class president. Details on this and other graduation week events are discussed in a letter to seniors on the editorial page of this week's Campus.

Seven Faculty Members To Retire At End Of Year

Seven members of the University faculty will retire at the end of the academic year in June, Dr. Arthur A. Hauck, president, announced today.

They are Robert I. Adriance, lecturer in Business and Economics; Howe W. Hall, assistant professor of Animal Husbandry; Chester A. Jenkins, professor of Physical Education and coach of track and cross country; Dr. John F. Klein, professor of German; Dr. G. William Small, professor of English Language and Literature; Dr. Albert M. Turner, professor and head of the English Department; and Dr. James H. Waring, professor of Horticulture.

The retiring faculty members will be honored by the General Alumni Association at the University's 81st Alumni Reunion early in June.

Robert I. Adriance, lecturer in Business and Economics, joined the University faculty in 1945 following 34 years as head of the social studies department of East Orange High School (N.J.).

Howe W. Hall, assistant professor of Animal Husbandry and assistant animal husbandman in the Agricultural Experiment Station, received the B.S. degree from the University of Maine in 1914. After several years as a farm manager, he returned to the University in 1923 as a member of the faculty. He received the M.S. degree at the University in 1925. He has published numerous pamphlets.

Chester A. Jenkins, professor of physical education, has been a professor and coach of track and cross country at the University since 1928. Dr. John F. Klein, professor of German, joined the University faculty in 1933 following 13 years as professor of Modern Languages at Franklin College in Indiana. Prof. Klein received the A.B. degree from Cornell University in 1912 and the A.M. degree the following year. He taught at the University of Pittsburgh for four years and served in the U.S. Army in World War I. He received the Ph.D. degree at Cornell in 1920.

Dr. G. William Small, professor of English Language and Literature, received the B.A. degree at the University of Tennessee in 1915, the M.A. degree at Johns Hopkins in 1921 and the Ph.D. degree in 1922. He received the Bachelor of Literature degree at Oxford University, England, in 1927. Before joining the University of Maine faculty in 1929, he taught at Johns Hopkins, the University of Washington, and the University of Texas.

Dr. Albert M. Turner, professor and head of the English department, has been a member of the University faculty since 1922. He received the A.B. degree in 1912, the A.M. degree in 1914, and the Ph.D. degree in 1920 from Harvard University. Dr. Turner has published extensively in the fields of English and Comparative Literature.

Dr. James H. Waring, professor of horticulture, received the B.S. degree in 1920 and the M.S. degree in 1921 from Pennsylvania State College and the Ph.D. degree from Michigan State College in 1931. He taught five years at Penn State before joining the University faculty in 1925. He has published widely in the field of horticulture with emphasis on his specialty pomology.

70 Attend Pi Phi Banquet

Over 70 active and alumnae members of Maine Alpha Chapter of Pi Beta Phi attended an annual Founders Day banquet April 27 at Penobscot Valley Country Club. The occasion commemorated the founding of the fraternity at Monmouth College April 28, 1867.

Barbara Ilvonen, retiring president, acted as toastmistress.

Receives Award

Mary June Renfro received the Amy Burnham Onken award for outstanding service in the senior class. Judy Webster was recipient of the outstanding pledge award. The outstanding sophomore award went to Betty Buzzell.

Tap Eagles, Neai Mathetai Members

Twenty new Sophomore Eagles and ten new members of the Neai Mathetai Society for the coming year were named at a banquet May 2.

Those named to the Eagles Society were Judith Adams, Carolyn Anderson, Joellen Anderson, Janet Collins, Barbara Covell, Ann Cruickshank, Joan Dow, Betty Hynman, Helen Inman, Judith Kittredge, Alice Lane, Ann Martin, Mary Minnehan, Carol Stevenson, Grace Soule, Mary Ketkins, Betty Ward, and Judith Webster.

New members of Neai Mathetai are Judith Adams, Gloria Adler, Barbara Coleman, Joan Dow, Judith Kittredge, Enid Marshall, Elizabeth Pope, Ruth Sclair, Grace Soule, and Dorothy Woods.

The Sophomore Eagles are chosen on the basis of creditable scholarship, moral standing, leadership qualities, willingness, and participation in two or more campus organizations.

The ten highest freshman women are annually named to Neai Mathetai. Margaret Mollison, assistant alumni secretary, was the speaker. Her topic was "The University and You."

Molly Inman, outgoing Eagle, extended a welcome to the group and also introduced those seated at the head table. Guests included Mrs. Arthur A. Hauck, wife of University president Arthur Hauck, Miss Mollison, and officers of the two societies Kathleen Vickery and Nancy Schmidt, Eagles, and Virginia Freeman, Nancy Getchell, and Julie Dinsmore, Neai Mathetai.

Chamber Music Program Set

Members of the String Ensemble will join forces with the Music department's Free Composition Seminar in presenting a program of Chamber Music on Sunday, May 13, at 4 p.m., in the Main Lounge of the Union.

An innovation this year will be original works in their first public performances by Charles Fassett, Donald MacKinnon, Patricia Jones and Faith Varney. These students will perform their own works assisted by Jane Ernst, soprano and William Sleeper, pianist who is their instructor. There are works for the clarinet, flute, horn, piano, and voice as well as a trio for flute, clarinet and horn.

The String group will perform works by Becker, Corelli, Mozart, and Scarlatti. Members include Jean Ann Davidson, flute; Constance Eberhardt, Marilyn Graffam and Roberta White, violins; Grayson Lane, bass; and Priscilla Pfeiffer, organ. Dr. Earle Melendy is their leader.

Capt. Joseph D. Park, a regular army infantry officer, has been assigned to the University's ROTC unit. He replaces Major Raymond Cutler, who is being transferred for schooling at Fort Benning, Ga. Capt. Park will serve the ROTC unit as adjutant and commandant of cadets.

'Maine Campus' Gets First Class Honor Rating

The Maine Campus has received a "First Class" rating in a national critical service recently completed by the Associated Collegiate Press.

The rating is based on the first semester of the 1955-56 school year. The Campus was entered in the class of schools having an enrollment of 4000-2001 and having a weekly paper.

The Campus received the following departmental grades: news sources, excellent; news balance, excellent; treatment of copy, very good; creativeness, very good; news stories, excellent; style, very good; leads, excellent; features, excellent; copyreading, very good.

Editorials, excellent; editorial page features, excellent; sports coverage, excellent; sports writing, very good; front page, excellent; nameplate, running head, and masthead, excellent; editorial page makeup, excellent; sports display, very good; inside news pages makeup, excellent; headlines, very good; headline schedule, excellent; typography, excellent; printing, excellent; and photography, very good.

Union To Exhibit Hartgen's Works

The Memorial Union will present a special two week preview of an art exhibition by Prof. Vincent A. Hartgen, head of the University's Art Department, beginning Monday, May 14 in the main lobby.

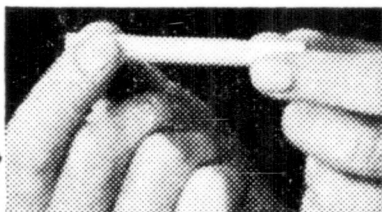

The exhibition will run until the end of May when it will be transferred to Carnegie Hall for the month of June.

The idea of the preview is in response to requests from many students who will be off campus before the regular showing in June.

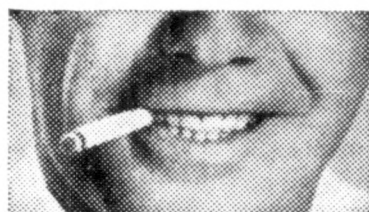

In the exhibition there will be 18 paintings, all water colors and all done since last fall. The new works are mostly fall and winter Maine scenes, both woodland and coastal.

The Sophomore Owl society was established in 1910.

Resolution Is No Answer

If the University of Maine were located anywhere else but in the northeastern tip of the United States, segregation would be a pretty hot issue right now.

Last week the General Student Senate passed a resolution to the effect that segregation is accepted on this campus. The resolution read that the Senate would "go on record as favoring the present desegregation policy fostered by the University and its organizations." The resolution falsely claimed that the University "has diligently and persuasively upheld the natural and constitutional rights of the human individual."

Fraternities with discriminating by-laws and rituals are in direct disagreement with the policy supposedly upheld by the University.

What can the University or the Student Senate do? For the most part, what can the fraternities do? The Greek letter organizations are bound by the laws enacted by the national governing bodies. They may appeal to their national officers, but if their wishes are put off or not granted at all, the issue is ended. Many fraternities are satisfied with the present discriminating clauses.

The national fraternity front office has a reason for insisting on the undemocratic clauses in their constitution. If in the state of Alasippi, USA, people with social security numbers ending in 9 are not socially accepted, they will not be able to join I Atea Pie fraternity. Supposing that the I Atea Pie fraternity at the University of Maine began pledging freshmen with social security numbers ending in the unthinkable number 9. Word would get back to Alasippi that the U. of M. chapter of I Atea Pie is rushing "niners." Consequently the pledge class of Alasippi's chapter would hit an all-time low in membership.

The University may take away fraternity charters with the prosegregation clauses. What then would happen to the hundreds of students without housing? The University or the Senate may act to ban all future fraternities with discriminating by-laws from setting up chapters here, but this would be a terribly slow process of elimination.

Minority groups, as they are referred to, are hurt when they are refused admission to most fraternal organizations on campus, but the average student at Maine is not angered by this injustice. Segregation is not an issue here, because too few people are affected by discrimination.

Discrimination cancer could spread to other campus tissues. The admissions office could become infected; the housing office could catch the disease; it could hit athletics, recreation, and cafeterias. Probably the cancer will be quarantined in fraternities, but regardless of the possibilities, no one is going to worry about it. Too few people are affected right now. Aren't you glad you are not one of them?

The solution to this ticklish situation lies not in the lap of the administration, the senate, or the fraternity. Segregation is a condition that will only be checked through the tools of education. The death of segregation will begin in the homes and schools of our country. Parents and instructors, keeping the anti-segregation movement in mind, will be the forerunners of a truly democratic nation.

A Salute To The ROTC

The annual Federal Inspection and Military Review ceremonies of the Maine ROTC today unveiled a group of men more than capable of filling the shoes of regular army officers. The outstanding cadets, who received special awards for ROTC achievement, deserve an especially snappy salute.

The very regimental drill team, observed by most of us for the first time on Maine Day, demonstrates the results of conscientious efforts on the part of the cadets and their officers.

Another tip of the hat is extended to the small bore rifle champs who have been putting in some diligent target practicing over in the Armory.

We of the Campus know that we are in step with the rest of the student body in congratulating the ROTC for the achievements they have made this year.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS by Dick Bibler

Tea Room

By Ed Damon

Well, Maine Day has come and gone and we have a new mayor. The float parade was good and the student-faculty skit last night was well received as usual. We got down here in time to catch the tail end of the fight. Plenty of time to throw a few down. It's great stuff. Don't know what I'd do without it.

Bermuda shorts are in style again. But they're old stuff here at the Tea Room. Barbie Mitchell and Sandie King refuse to let cold weather interfere with their choice of wardrobe and have worn them frequently all winter.

Caught the late show at the Anchorage the other night. Not bad. The Silver Dollar is still drawing a big crowd from the University.

Theta Chi must be affected by the spring weather, judging by all those pinnings, engagements, and marriages, listed in last week's Campus. Off-campus students are looking forward to a few parties out at the ledges. Had a couple of real blasts last year.

Did you know that New England Colleges are among the drinkingest in the country. That's the word according to a recent national survey. After ATO's outing which followed their Daisy Mae shindig several girls were noticed driving their dates home. Wonder why?

Let's hope that Maine meets Massachusetts next year, as noted in last week's "Bear Facts." Whatever happened to the total campus coverage promised by WORO. We understand a few Phi Gams visited their chapter at MIT not too long ago. According to a report (one MIT man was doused not soused with brew) it must have been quite an affair.

We have it from reliable sources that Prof. Grady is considering re-establishing his "Home for Wayward and Orphaned Ducks." Drive-Ins are opening everywhere. Friday afternoon hitch hikers are in abundance again. Did you know that Margaret Chase Smith was the speaker when the Tea Room opened five years ago. She spoke at a Kiwanis ladies night.

Only three weeks of classes. Finals schedule is out. The year has really gone fast. Where are you going to work this summer? When is the Prism coming out? Wonder if anybody has been swimming at Pushaw

Tradewinds

By Neil Troost

The average senior in a four-year specialized curriculum is a rapid automation chuck full of technological and scientific terminology, principles and special facts. He has an incomplete mastery of the scientific method of reasoning, a few specific work habits and several highly developed special skills. He is the abortive offspring of the "scientific trend," and his limitations point sharply to the defects in present day college curriculum. Of course he is well suited for special research and inventions such as a screw for an atomic submarine.

Excluding the few specialists who are curious, sensitive and intelligent enough to read the great works of literature, poetry, philosophy, art and the wide variety of interesting books in all subjects, the specialists usually confine their "thinking" to newspaper comic strips, comic books, and Esquire Caldwell's "Tobacco Road."

Liberal Arts students who are diligent and possessed of respectable aptitudes and interest can exploit satisfactorily the vast educational treasures offered them. They can gain a wide, general knowledge, special skills, liberal attitudes, understandings, and appreciations, of the cultural, social, economic, scientific, political, and religious values of our country and the world, and a functional philosophy that their personalities grow to the stage where open-mindedness, keen insight and refreshingly broad knowledge will serve them well in their social adjustments and success. A wide scope of interests, ideals, and aims assure them of a deeply new rewarding life; not one that is narrowly channeled toward wealth, power, or prestige.

The specialists are vitally necessary in this tense "scientific age," but they are unavoidable victims of too narrow a curriculum. Often they care not the slightest for English, foreign languages, sociology, philosophy, etc., but these should be offered as philosophy as an abundant supply of electives; however the present curriculum forbids enough indulgence in the Liberal Arts to really alleviate the misery.

Take whatever side you're on and defend it vigorously but any discerning person can see the grotesque disadvantages of the unbalanced, specialized personality. The specialist still remains a mechanical doll whose conversation range is unmistakably minute, blunt and boring. But the world's accent is on progress, and these specialists are the nucleus of such scientific advancement, it is the painful price of the mania for progress and power in the Atomic Age.

Mail Bag

Dear Senior Classmates:

To ease the wondering minds of all, I wish at this time to announce that we have signed a contract and a legal confirmation by telegram, which I hope assures us of music at the graduation ball by the Glenn Miller Band.

Publicity wise, in about two weeks, we will display posters and have a list of the entire band, which by the way numbers nineteen plus vocalists. A special added attraction will also be announced at a later date.

Every senior will be allotted one ticket free of charge, good for one couple. The dance will be formal.

Thank you for your patience to date and we of your executive council sincerely hope that you are completely satisfied with our efforts. We hope to see you all there.

A senior class business meeting has been arranged for your benefit next Wednesday night at 7:30 p.m. in the Main Lounge of the Union Building.

We would appreciate it if you would make an all-out attempt to attend this important meeting.

Thank you,

Robert C. Oldfield
Senior Class President

To the editor:

I am not writing this letter in a crusading spirit, but rather out of curiosity. I would like to know if cheating is becoming a tradition at the University of Maine.

Since my arrival on the Maine campus (not as a student, but in a position to talk with students) I have heard many stories of cheating incidents and amazingly enough, at least to me, is the fact that the students here seem to take this practice in their stride. Cheating seems to be expected and accepted by University of Maine students.

There are various kinds of cheaters here. There are the out and out cheaters that one can find in most academic communities. One was pointed out to me, by a student, the other day. The cheater was a four point student.

I have met the non-cheaters who, nevertheless, know that their work is being copied but whose philosophy is "So what! If he wants to copy off my paper he can. He's only hurting himself." I wonder! What about the University's good name? Certainly if I have heard about this practice on campus other important individuals have heard about it too. And I am not speaking here of the Deans and department heads who may prosecute the cheaters, but of people off campus who are merely interested in the University. What do they think of Maine?

I have been told of instances in which fraternity brothers and sorority sisters have copied from the papers of people to whom they have, in secret rites and openly, professed friendship. Is this friendship? Does the fact that my jacket is the same color as yours give you the right to copy from my work and thus endanger my good name and college standing? This seems to be the attitude. From where I sit one at the U. of M. becomes a party to cheating whether he (or she) wishes to or not. It is as much a part of the social code as dating.

I will leave the arguments to you in your bull sessions or future letters to the editor. I am merely posing a question. I don't expect you to answer to me; find the answers for your own interest.

Throughout my own college years, at another university, I felt proud when I heard the "Maine Stein Song." It stood for the U. of M. and the U. of M. stood for that rarity in this age of paid athletes and educational factories, a wholesome loved institution. But now the words ring a little hollow to me and I think that perhaps a new stanza should be added to the song—one devoted to the new tradition at the University of Maine, cheating.

Sincerely,

A friend of the University

Society: Junior Prom Highlights Weekend

BY HULLY MAHER

The Junior Prom monopolized the social spotlight last weekend. Take the theme, Intrigue of the Orient, add Leroy Holmes' orchestra, and you have a must on any calendar. The Memorial Gym was a Japanese garden, complete with lanterns, cherry blossoms, and an artificial fish pool.

The reception committee for the prom included President and Mrs. Arthur A. Hauck, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Crossland and Dean and Mrs. Joseph M. Murray. Guests were Dean and Mrs. Edward Brush, Dean and Mrs. Ashley S. Campbell, Dean and Mrs. Arthur L. Deering, Dean and Mrs. Winthrop Libby, Mr. and Mrs. Irving Pierce, Mr. and Mrs. Rome Rankin, Dean and Mrs. Mark Shibles, Mr. and Mrs. John E. Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. Prescott H. Vose, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Wallace, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Werner, and Dean Edith G. Wilson. Chaperons were Mr. and Mrs. Harry J. Greaver and Prof. and Mrs. William Sezak.

General Chairman of the prom was Wesley English. Others on the committee were Sterling Huston, program; Fred Newhall, publicity; Angela Nichols and Barbara Bearce, decorations; Mary Jane Kilpatrick, refreshments; Pat Wade, invitations.

Phi Kap held open house last weekend for their annual parents weekend. Saturday noon there was a buffet dinner. In the afternoon, parents attended the track meet and baseball game. Following a buffet supper a vic dance was held for the parents. The weekend was climaxed by a Sunday noon dinner. Ken Walters was in charge of the weekend.

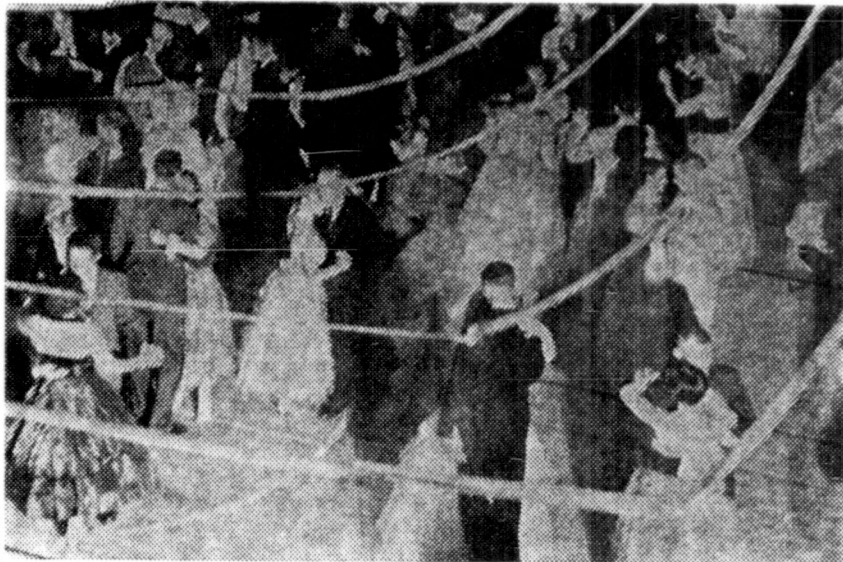

The girls at the Elms entertained at an impromptu party Saturday evening. Following a wiener roast was a vic dance. Barbara Blakely was chairman. Mrs. Eva Reardon chaperoned.

Many Parents At AOPi Program

Alpha Omicron Pi sorority at the University held a Parents' Week End program on Saturday and Sunday, with many parents of the girls in attendance.

The program included a Saturday morning coffee and business meeting; an afternoon get-together including displays, skits, and refreshments; a banquet in the evening followed by attendance at the Masque play "Candida"; church services on Sunday morning; and coffee and doughnuts at the Bear's Den.

Chairman of the program was Betsy Harvey. She was assisted by Joan Fuller, banquet chairman; Joan Pluta, chairman of afternoon events; and the following committee members, Betty LaChance, Suzanne Bogert, Carroll Brown, Evelyn Whitney, Ann Keyo.

Joan Fuller served as toastmistress for the banquet. Speakers were retiring president Evelyn Whitney; new president Jane Caton; Mrs. Millard Whitney, mother of Evelyn Whitney; John White, father of Judy White.

Alumnae Watch To Be Awarded

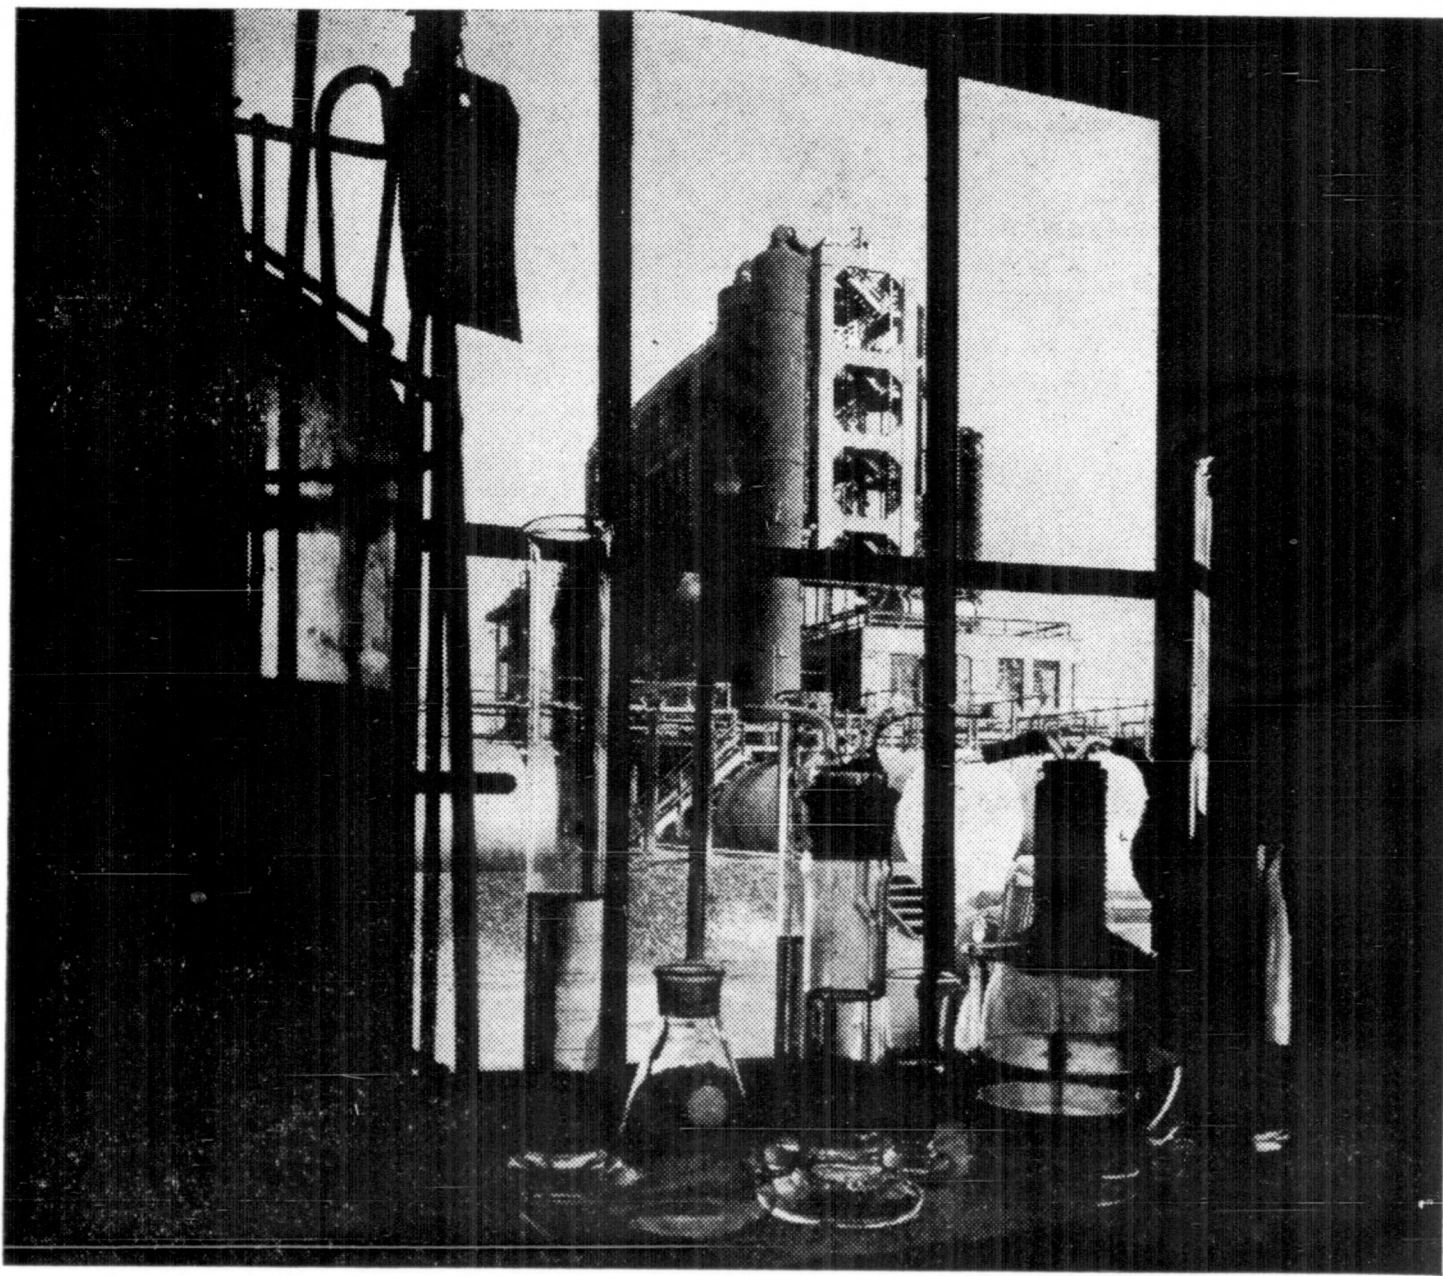

Five senior women are candidates for the Portland Alumnae Watch Award, presented annually at Class Day to the Senior girl who has done the most for the University.

The five candidates for the award are Sue Bogert, Gwen Bryant, Anita Ramsdell, Mary June Renfro, and Jane Wiseman.

WSGA Selects

A WSGA committee selected the four girls. The candidates were selected on a basis of all around contribution to the University during their four years of school.

Activities of these girls include: Sue Bogert, President of WSGA, All-Maine Women; Gwen Bryant, president of All-Maine Women; Anita Ramsdell, president of North Estabrooke, AAUW award; Mary June Renfro, All-Maine Women, president of Panhellenic Council; Jane Wiseman, All-Maine Women, president of WAA.

YOUR FUTURE—Chemistry and Koppers?

IN an age when most frontiers are shrinking, there is one that is constantly growing—the frontier of the chemist.

This frontier has been pushed slowly back ever since the days of the pioneer 18th and 19th Century chemists. Their theories, proved in laboratories, were made useful by the mechanical genius of engineers such as Heinrich Koppers, designer of the modern chemical recovery coke oven. These early scientists laid the foundation for the diversified chemical industry that has grown so rapidly in the 20th Century.

And what are the results? An industry that has helped mankind by developing entirely new and better products for more pleasant living; an industry that has extended the life of man by developing new or improved medicines; an industry that has extended the life of many materials, conserving our natural resources.

Your future? It's going to be touched by chemistry to an extent never dreamed of by earlier college classes. That's why a future in the chemical industry can be such a rewarding one for those who are not afraid of the challenge of responsibility, the new and the difficult.

In addition to chemicals and plastics, Koppers produces tar products, metal products, pressure-treated wood. It designs and builds coke, steel and chemical plants.

If you would like to know more about a future in chemistry or engineering with Koppers, contact your College Placement Director. Or write Industrial Relations Manager, Koppers Company, Inc., Koppers Building, Pittsburgh 19, Pennsylvania.

IFC Releases New List Of Pledges

The Interfraternity Council has released the names of the following recent fraternity pledges:

Beta Theta Pi, John E. Dority; Phi Kappa Sigma, Philip D. Hodgkins; Sigma Phi Epsilon, Charles R. Dyke, and Joseph J. Fisher; and Theta Chi, John D. Gilbert and Robert F. Norberg.

The following pledges have recently been released: Ray Totman from Phi Kappa Sigma, and Milton E. Doe-bener from Sigma Phi Epsilon.

Radio Club Has Elections

The University's Amateur Radio Club has elected the following officers for the coming year: Lawrence Lowd, president; Jack Carey, vice president; Philip Uter, treasurer; and Ralph Munroe, secretary.

The club operates amateur radio station WIYA.

Mayo Is Elected

Arthur Mayo was elected president of the Union at a special meeting last week.

Other new officers chosen to work with Mayo are Frank Young, vice president; Miriam Turran, secretary-treasurer; Jane Dudley, Dance committee chairman; Jane Ledyard, house committee chairman.

Lawrence Thurrell, special events committee chairman; Norinne Hilchey, music committee chairman; Peter Lunt, movie committee chairman; Barry Smith, publicity committee chairman; and David Lang, games and tournaments committee chairman.

Duane Dow Wins Oak Speaking Contest

A prize of $40 has been awarded Duane Dow, University junior, for winning the John Oak Scholarship Prize Contest in Public Speaking.

Second place and $30 went to James Hamelton. Third prize winners were Reginald Collins, David Peakes, and Joan Williams. Each received $5.

Judges were Professors Nathan Rich, J. Duff Gillespie, and William L. Whiting.

Plan Pakistan Night

The International Club will hold a Pakistan Night, Sunday at 7 p.m. in the Bangor room of the Union.

The program will open with a recording of the Pakistan National Anthem.

Two movies, "This Is Pakistan," a colored film, and "Folk Song and Folk Dance of Pakistan," will be shown. The films are furnished by the Pakistan Embassy in Washington, D. C.

Trefethen Is Elected

Dr. Joseph M. Trefethen, professor of geology at the University, has been elected president of the New England Section of the Association of College Geology Teachers.

The group met on the Maine campus recently for their annual spring session.

Dr. Trefethen has been a member of the Maine faculty since 1938.

The Sophomore Eagle society was founded in 1933.

Honor Society Has New Members

Phi Kappa Phi honor society initiated 45 members last week.

Seniors initiated were Esther Babb, Robert Arnold, Mary Bailey, Mrs. Farnsworth Baker, Joseph Bergomi, Suzanne Bogert, Samuel Bovill, Elizabeth Brockway, John Forsman, Joan Fuller.

Joan Johnson, Patricia Kearney, Patricia Kelly, Alta Kilton, Laura Krueger, Matthias Marquardt, Carolyn Moor, Scott J. Rand, Jr., Ralph Stephenson, Susan Stiles, Evelyn Whitney, Susan York, Carl Young, and Mary Noble Rand.

Professors Are Authors

Dr. Clarence E. Bennett, head of the Physics department at the University, and Victor H. Coffin, assistant professor of Physics, are co-authors of an article which appeared in a recent issue of The Journal of Chemical Physics.

The article is entitled "Molar Refraction of Carbon Dioxide and Its Dependence on Density When Stored in Steel Containers."

Research for the article was financed by the Office of Naval Research and the University's Coe Research Fund.

The Elms is a women's cooperative dormitory with accommodations for 55 students.

Society Initiates Hauck

A highlight of the 50 anniversary celebration for the Maine Chapter of Alpha Zeta at the University Saturday was the initiation of Dr. Arthur A. Hauck, president of the University, as an honorary member of the society.

Dr. Hauck is the first Maine man to be nationally recognized by the society. Verne C. Freeman, high censor of the fraternity from Purdue University, presented Dr. Hauck with a certificate of honorary membership and an inscribed Alpha Zeta key.

Many alumni members and students observed the ceremonies. After the formal initiation of Dr. Hauck, an informal luncheon took place in the student union. During the forenoon, a tour was made of the agricultural portion of the University campus.

In the evening a banquet was held, followed by a welcome from Chancellor Richard Shibles, Arthur L. Deering, dean of the College of Agriculture, told of the chapter's activities in the past.

Officers for next year were installed as part of the evening program as follows: chancellor, Orville Yoder; censor, Paul Taiganides; scribe, George Estes; and treasurer, Galen Bridge.

Vaughn H. Holyoke was awarded an Alpha Zeta Key for having been the outstanding senior member.

Richard Talbot, extension dairyman emeritus and a charter member and founder of the Maine chapter, described the early activities of the chapter.

The anniversary program ended with an address by High Censor Freeman.

Union Movie

The Union's movie this weekend will be "The Outlaw" starring Jane Russell, Jack Beuter, Walter Huston, and Thomas Mitchell. The picture will be shown at 7 and 9 p.m. Friday and Saturday evenings.

45 years of service to U. of M. students

Bear Facts

By DON COOKSON
(Sports Editor)

Saturday, May 5, was a glorious day for retiring track coach Chester Jenkins.

Twenty-eight years of devoted service passed in review before some 900 spectators at the 57th annual Maine Intercollegiate track and field championships. And a grand review it was.

Maine edged Bowdoin to win their 15 State title under Jenkins' guidance. A most welcome win, it added symmetry to a fabulous coaching career. For in 1928, his first year at the University, Jenkins also produced a State champion.

Fans and athletes representing all four Maine colleges shared the emotion that was Jenkins' in victory. Happy members of the Pale Blue squad hoisted the veteran mentor to their shoulders, the traditional salute for an outstanding performance. Rival coaches, officials, and friends wrung his hand in congratulation.

Just how much this victory meant to Jenkins became obvious during the post-meet ceremonies. Before presenting the trophy symbolic of State track supremacy, meet referee Maj. Gen. Frank E. Lowe paid tribute to the Maine coach, and described him as the "last of the Mohicans"—the last of the veteran coaches in Maine college circles. Jenkins approached the microphone.

"I haven't much to say, and it is pretty hard to say," Jenkins' voice was taut with emotion. A humble man, he extended compliments to all the men that had come under his tutelage, past and present. "During my 28 years at Maine, it has been my pleasure to coach some of the finest boys in the country."

Regarding his retirement Jenkins said, "There comes a time when a man's nerves can only take so much. I feel that I have reached that time. I would like a little time to rest and enjoy the remaining years."

Jenkins praised the veteran members of the 1956 squad, singling out Paul Firlotte and Stan Furrow, Maine's great distance duo, consistent point winners for the past three years. He noted that with underclassmen of Dick Law's caliber, the team's future is bright. He asked for a round of applause for all the men who had made the win possible.

As Jenkins stepped away from the microphone, fans rose as one to cheer a man whose place in the hearts of Maine sports fans is as enduring as his niche in our Hall of Fame.

Saturday, May 5, was indeed a glorious day for Chester Jenkins. HERE AND THERE

Comical error in a local newspaper had pinch-hitter Dowie Field fielding for pitcher Bill Scott in the second game of Saturday's twinbill. Neat trick! McWilliams was the center of attraction at the State meet. Some 400 fans surrounded the hammer circle to watch the Bowdoin Goliath in action. He's only a junior. Captain Moffat Gardner's ROTC rifle team reaping new harvest. Won the First Army Smallbore championship last week.

Speculation continues as to who will replace Chet Jenkins and Walt Anderson. This writer has heard Bangor High's Cy Perkins name linked to Jenkins' job. Pale Blue networkers got only two points to tie with N.H. for fourth in last weekend's Yankon tennis championships. They were third in 1955.

Maine pastimers have been hitting in tough luck. Andy's boys were banging the ball against Massachusetts, but right at opposing fielders. No "eyes," as they say in the trade. Professor Hamm, holder of the two mile record, was one of the officials here Saturday. Howard Niblock, principal at MCI, and owner of the shot record was an interested observer. Attendance at the meet was excellent and the weatherman cooperated with the second fair Saturday in the year. Can't remember the first one. Hats off to meet officials for a splendid job. Every event was run on time, highly unusual. Also in the hat-brandishing department—congratulations to our contest winners. Messieurs Shipman and Irwin both came up with a dandy piece of prognosticating! A very special thanks to the alumnus who made the contest possible.

Maine Opens Series Bid

By Joe McCarthy

Varsity baseball swings into its final two weeks of play with State Series games highlighting the agenda. The defending champions, Maine, opened their regular Series play yesterday with a home game against Bates.

Two away games against Bowdoin and Colby head up the future slate. Bowdoin was downed by the Black Bears in a non-series game at Bowdoin last week by a 10-4 margin. Lefty Jim Carroll is scheduled to start for the Maine nine. Carroll sports a one win one loss record going into this game. In the first game of the year, Carroll took credit for the win over Princeton. Last Saturday he lost to Massachusetts, 5-2.

Folsom Likely Pitcher

Although no starting pitcher has been named for the Colby game, Gus

Folsom will probably be on the mound for Coach Walter Anderson. Folsom has been the most effective pitcher for the Black Bears this Spring, although he has been the loser in three outings. Folsom's earned run average is less than three runs per game. Two of his losses were by 3-2 scores.

Last year, the Black Bears compiled a 7-2 record in State Series play to win the championship. This season an abbreviated six game schedule will be played. Coach Anderson looks for Colby to give Maine the most trouble. Lack of hitting accounted for three

Shipman, Irwin Cop Contest

The billfolds of five Maine students took on an added bulge Monday with the announcement of the winners in the Campus giant "Score-It-Yourself" contest, based on the results of the State meet.

Joseph Shipman and Richard Irwin, both of Phi Eta Kappa, deadlocked for first place money ($25), coming within four points of guessing the correct scores compiled by the Maine colleges Saturday. (Maine 60, Bowdoin 54, Bates 14, Colby 7.)

Shipman bullseyed the Maine, Bowdoin totals, and erred by only two points each on the Bates, Colby scores.

Sports Calendar

BASEBALL—Bowdoin away, May 11. Colby away, May 15. Frosh baseball—Bowdoin Frosh away, May 11. Husson here, May 15 (2:30 p.m.).

GOLF—YC and NE championships, Watertown, Mass., May 11-12. Bates away, May 15. Frosh golf—South Portland here today. (3 p.m.—Penobscot Valley Country Club.)

Irwin gave Maine 61, Bowdoin 52, Bates 14, and Colby 8 on his winning entry.

Second place honors were also shared. Joan Martin, Balentine Hall, one of four female entrants in the contest, and Norman Touchette, Phi Eta Kappa, missed perfect scores by six points.

Tom Sezak trailed Miss Martin and Touchette by the barest of margins, one point, to grab third place. Incidentally, Sezak was the only contestant to include fractions of points on his card.

The second and third place awards were $15, $10, respectively.

Response to the contest, made possible by the generosity of a Maine alumnus who preferred to remain anonymous, was enthusiastic.

Receiving honorable mention were: Paul Davis, Morrill Smith, Hollis E. Irvine, Albert Stromback, and Richard Thurlow.

Golfers Club Colby; LeClair Unbeaten

Coach Charlie Emery's Pale Blue golfers served notice last Saturday that they will be tough to beat in State Series competition, edging Colby 4-3.

It was the Bears' second successive win in Series play. They blanked Bates, 7-0, May 1.

Ron LeClair, Steve Getchell, Joe Benedetto, and Bill Lynch posted wins. LeClair is undefeated in five matches.

The team will move on to Watertown, Mass., this weekend to compete in the Yankee Conference and New England championships.

recent losses in Yankee Conference play. Maine dropped close games to New Hampshire, 3-2, and a double-header to Massachusetts, 5-2, 3-2, during the past week. The Pale Blue collected only 10 hits in 25 innings of play. And in only two innings were they able to get more than one hit.

Averages Drop

The early season heavy hitter backstop Angelo LoCicero dropped from .348 to .265, while Don Ranco's average slumped 82 points to .312. Gerry Wright, lost for the remainder of the season with a broken hand, ended the season with .366. Wright hurt his hand in the sixth inning of the New Hampshire game. He was replaced at second for the Massachusetts twin bill by Joe Mancini.

Track Team Takes State Title; Eye Yankon Crown

Fresh from their stirring victory in the State Track and Field Championships last weekend, Maine's thinclads are eyeing the Yankee Conference crown on the line here Saturday.

The Pale Blue will have their work cut out for them. Rhode Island, a perennial power, has won all eight meets held since the conference's organization in 1947.

Rams Favored

The Rams are again the favorite with their amazing past record. Maine, Connecticut, and New Hampshire are expected to offer stern opposition this year.

Rhody has two top-flight performers in football end Bob Mairs, a hurdler, and fullback Kazar Apkarian, who last year set the conference record of 51' 1 3/4 in the shot put.

Connecticut's distance ace Lew Steiglitz will be out to lower the mile record, 4:21, which he established in '55. Lanky Lew ran his specialty in 4:17 here in the fieldhouse this winter.

New Hampshire entries will threaten three records. Captain Marcel Couture has equalled the meet record of 9.9 in the 100, and bettered the record of 24.3 in the low hurdles. Pole vaulter Maurice Carter has skyscraped 13' 6 indoors, almost three inches higher than the existing record.

Maine Has Balance

Maine's hope of breaking the Rhode Island spell can be summed up in one word, balance. The same balance that brought the Bears a third straight State championship Saturday.

Last Saturday's State meet was highlighted by the outstanding individual performance of Bowdoin's Bill McWilliams and the fine collective performance by Maine.

McWilliams heaved the hammer 192 feet 17 1/2 inches to better by almost ten feet the record set by Bob Bennett of Maine in 1940. The Bowdoin strong boy also took firsts in the discus and shot. His three wins earned him a second successive Alan Hillman award, given annually to the meet's best performer.

Maine garnered points in thirteen of the fifteen events to amass a total of 60 points. Runnerup Bowdoin had 54, with hapless Bates, 14, and Colby, 7, far behind.

Maine winners: Javelin, 3-Thibodeau. Broad jump, 1-Finch, 2-A. Johnson, 3-Varner. Hammer, 2-W. Johnson. Shot put, 3-Gass. Discus, 2-W. Johnson, 3-Hastings. Pole Vault, 1-Schroeder, 2-Rearick. Freshman one-mile medley relay won by Maine (Day, Haskell, Webb, Bessey).

Frosh Rout Ricker

The Maine Freshmen tallied four times in the first two innings and hung on to defeat Ricker, 5-3, here Monday.

Rapid Ron Boynton and Tom Sawyer combined to check the Houlton team with seven hits. Sawyer, a stylish southpaw, pitched hitless ball over the last three frames.

Third baseman Ken Perrone, catcher Charlie Eberbach, and rightfielder Fred Stubbart each had two hits to pace Jack Butterfield's crew.

The Frosh are undefeated in two games. A third game with Maine Maritime was called Friday at the end of four innings because of rain. The Cubs were ahead 7-6.

1407 Vote During Campus Elections

John Edgar, a half-back on the football team, was elected president of the University Athletic Association, polling 719 votes. Thurlow Cooper, co-captain of the 1956 football team and the only other contestant in the race, received 612 votes.

In voting for class representatives to the Athletic Association Peter Kostacopoulos defeated Richard Jones 188 to 150 for the senior class position on the board; Carroll Denbow with 158 votes defeated Vernon Moulton, 107, and Ronald Ranco, 98, for the junior position; and Joseph Cuccaro with 217 votes won over John Daigneault, 101, and Charles Eberback, 84, for the sophomore class position.

Senior Parts

Senior Class Day parts went to Nancy Gentile, class historian; Dee Livingston, class chaplain; Jerry Pangakis, class marshal; and Gwen Bryant, class ode.

Winship "Chip" Moody was named senior wives representative.

Once again it was President Arthur A. Hauck's appearance which featured the presentation. President Hauck did not appear until near the end of the skit.

The stage for the annual affair, which had as its theme "Moments To Remember," was set in the Bears Den in 1976.

Deans Retired

The different college deans, who by that time had retired, are talking over things as they are in 1976. Professor Robert A. York is writing a history of the University and questions them as to events in the past.

A flashback technique is used with scenes depicting the school year of 1955-56. Shown were such familiar things as freshman week, fraternity rushing, a spring fashion show, the Aggie Fair, the ROTC review, the day before Christmas vacation, and a take-off on finals in the girls' dorm.

Tension builds up as to whether or not President Hauck will appear. Towards the end a group of students are shown comforting Mrs. Hauck who is worried that the president will not show up.

At this point when all hope appears to be lost President Hauck makes his appearance, riding a tricycle on stage as the "Masked Marvel," the winner of the marathon.
