The Maine Campus
The University of Maine student newspaper since 1875
Vol. 135, No. 6

Monday, October 17, 2016
mainecampus.com

Sports
Maine sports Homcoming weekend series.

B1

Culture
MECS corporate domestic violence awareness walk.

A12

Opinion
Scandal overview hates issue in election process.

A6

Stephen King to launch new book at UMaine on Nov. 7

By Haley Sylvester

Ste...
Libertarian VP candidate Weld makes appearance in Bangor

Hillary Sylvester

Vice President of the Libertarian Party ticket William (Bill) Weld made an appearance at the Spectacular Event Center in Bangor on the evening of Oct. 8 on behalf of Libertarian presidential candidate Gary Johnson.

Weld was present in a forum run by Dr. Mark Brewer, a political science professor at the University of Maine and Chris Dixon, a writer for The Liberty Conservative who manages the Undercover Porcupine blog at the Bangor Daily News.

Weld started the conversation by emphasizing what the next few weeks up until the election will hold — money, organization and most importantly, momentum. Weld stated that the whole evening was riveted for the millennial generation. “We have our work cut out for us, but we do have a fighting chance,” Weld stated.

Weld believes that Johnson would be less confrontational in office compared to Clinton or Trump. He raised the question, “What should a president sound like and look like? They should have dignity.” Weld doesn’t believe Clinton or Trump possess that quality.

Weld highlighted the main issues that Johnson plans to pursue if elected in office. Johnson has plans to attack issues such as criminal justice reform, foreign policy, local responsibilities of the nation, immigration and the process of no electors. Weld explained that Johnson was one of the few people with the desire to legalize marijuana, “and people thought he was crazy for it.”

A major criminal justice reform is needed, Weld said. He believes that individuals with charges of white-collar drug crimes or drug addictions should be reconsidered before being incarcerated to receive proper treatment instead.

Weld highlighted the importance of education in our current society, saying that almost all jobs require a college degree these days and the education system should “touch the job, not to the test.”

In terms of foreign policy, Weld stated that the whole world is riveted on the Unit- ed States. As for the military, Weld said that Johnson is not for military intervention. However, there needs to be a sense of power and supremacy to offset other nations thinking they can “push us around.”

“There’s no policy that we’re going to change the rules of engagement to make sure nothing but bad ever happens,” Weld explained.

When asked about Libertarian mainstream issues versus Republican mainstream issues, Weld responded by talking about the millennial generation. “I think the Republicans have cut loose from the idea of local responsibility. Mr. Trump says, ‘I don’t want to teach entitlements,’ that’s not a responsible approach. If we don’t take starting programs such as Social Security won’t be for the millennial generation. And I think the millennial generation knows that. They’re very smart and I think they will end up having a huge impact on the United States.”

Weld emphasized that the Libertarian party is “serious about having a smaller government and the Republican party is not.”

He then transitioned into the controversial point of the obsession with getting re-elected. “If I could create one public policy outcome it would be a passage of term limits. It’s the only silver bullet that Gary and I have been able to think up that would change the attitude of those people in Washington all of whom are obsessed with getting re-elected. I think they’ve even forgot why they want to get re-elected. It’s not because they want to advance some goal, it’s just because they want to get re-elected. They’ve addicted to it. Maybe we should treat that as a public health emergency,” Weld said.

Weld was asked by an audience member why he and Johnson believe people are attracted to the populist rhetoric of Bernie Sanders and Donald Trump. He responded by saying that Sanders gave an incredible speech at the Hillary Clinton rally at the Cross Insurance Center in Bangor on the evening of Oct. 7. “I thought he was kind of refreshing,” Weld said.

Weld explained that Trump “has been pretty skillful at stirring up the resentments here and resent- ment there, putting all the groups in one pot and letting it boil.”

The last question of the evening was from an audience member who asked Weld if he and Johnson would become co-presidents if elected. Weld responded by laughing and saying, “He said that, I didn’t.”
Chelsea Clinton visits the University of Maine, Thursday, to campaign for her mother, Hillary Clinton.

Chelsea Clinton visits the University of Maine, Thursday, to campaign for her mother, Hillary Clinton.
Weekly Updates

Police Beat
The best from UMaine’s finest

Oct. 3
In plain sight
6:43 p.m. – A University of Maine Police Department (UMPD) officer responded to a complaint from a Resident Assistant (RA) on the second floor in Knox Hall about an odor of marijuana. The officer arrived and knocked on the door of the room he believed the odor was coming from. First-year student Devon MacKay opened the door and the officer could immediately see a grinder on a shelf in the room. MacKay admitted to smoking and gave up his room. The officer could immediately smell the odor of marijuana as he closed in on the group of students and as he approached and stopped the group, one of the students using a lighter. The officer noticed the odor of marijuana as he closed in on the group of students and as he approached and stopped the group, one of the students using a lighter.

Oct. 4
Who holds the keys?
9:37 p.m. – UMPD officers responded to a call of criminal mischief from the Office of Facilities Management concerning a University of Maine vehicle. Upon arrival, officers found a university truck with heavy scratches on it in one area and determined that someone had keyed the vehicle. The estimated damage to the vehicle is $300. There are no suspects at this time.

Oct. 5
The tape don’t lie
2:08 p.m. – An unnamed UMaine student who finished eating his lunch at Wells called UMPD to report a stolen skateboard. The student claimed to have put his skateboard down near the bike path near Rangeley Road and could see one of the students using a lighter. The officer noticed the odor of marijuana as he closed in on the group of students and as he approached and stopped the group, one of the students using a lighter. The officer noticed the odor of marijuana as he closed in on the group of students and as he approached and stopped the group, one of the students using a lighter.

Oct. 6
Easy call
7:01 p.m. – A UMPD officer on patrol pulled over a vehicle on College Avenue. The driver, Samuel Altvater, a non-student of the university, was arrested for operating under the influence (OUI) and was transported to Penobscot County Jail (PCJ), where he was found to have a blood alcohol concentration (BAC) of .14.

Oct. 7
Too far gone
10:27 p.m. – UMPD officers responded to a call on campus of an unconscious person in the driver’s seat of a vehicle that was parked. The person in the driver’s seat appeared to be passed out and was laying on the horn of his car, which was not loud enough to wake him up. Officers approached the vehicle to find George Bragdon inside. At that point Bragdon had not committed a crime, so he was escorted to his residence at the Business-Nelson House. Shortly after, officers pulled Bragdon over on Long Road after returning in his vehicle and driving on campus. Bragdon was transported to PCJ where he was found to have a BAC of .14.

Oct. 8
Bike path take
12:49 a.m. – UMPD officers on foot patrol saw a group of students walking on the bike path near Rangeley Road and could see one of the students using a lighter. The officer noticed the odor of marijuana as he closed in on the group of students and as he approached and stopped the group, one of the students using a lighter. The officer noticed the odor of marijuana as he closed in on the group of students and as he approached and stopped the group, one of the students using a lighter.

Oct. 9
The new kid on campus
2:08 p.m. – An unnamed UMaine student who was walking down the bike path near Rangeley Road and could see one of the students using a lighter. The officer noticed the odor of marijuana as he closed in on the group of students and as he approached and stopped the group, one of the students using a lighter.

Oct. 10
Just following the Captain’s orders
3:28 a.m. – UMPD officers on foot patrol heard a loud banging noise coming from Somerset Hall and approached the building to find the source of the noise. After entering the building, the noise stopped but officers could smell an odor of marijuana. After looking for the source, officers knocked on the door of Andrew Hawes, who was with two other UMaine students inside his room. Inside the room, officers found a pipe and grinder with marijuana residue on them, a bottle of Captain Morgan’s rum and a sunglass case on the floor. Occupation of drug paraphernalia and possession of marijuana was referred to Judicial Affairs (JA).

Oct. 11
Don’t return them responding to your text.

Ad Good Ready Business Ready.gov/business

KNOW FOR SURE
If your child is in the right car seat.

The Maine Campus
Monday, October 17, 2016
A4 - News
Kansas bombing plot foiled

Three men in Kansas face domestic terrorism charges after the U.S. Department of Justice (DOJ) released the findings of an eight month FBI investigation that uncovered the three men’s plot to blow up an apartment building occupied by Somali immigrants in Garden City, Kan.. Somali people both live in and use a portion of the apartment building as a mosque for worship.

According to DOJ officials, the three men, Curtis Allen and Gavin Wright, both 49, of Liberal, Kan., and Patric Stein were stockpiling explosives at each street corner surrounding the apartment complex and detonating them in unison. The three men are members of a militia group that calls themselves The Crusaders. According to the DOJ, the attack was intended “to wake people up,” based on evidence uncovered by investigators.

Allen, Wright and Stein were stockpiling weapons for the attack and had planned to release a manifesto after the explosion in hopes of recruiting new members to their cause. “These charges are based on eight months of investigation by the FBI that is alleged to have taken the investigators deep into a hidden culture of hatred and violence,” U.S. Attorney Tom Beall said.

Trump rallying over LA kills three, injures 12

A home-based Jamaican restaurant in southwestern Los Angeles was the site of a shooting event that left three men dead and another 12 people injured on Friday, Oct. 14. Shots began ringing out near the Crenshaw neighborhood around 12:45 a.m., immediately killing three people. Details about what inspired the shooting are still unknown to law enforcement officials. Two individuals were questioned in connection with the shooting over the weekend, but no one has been arrested, according to Los Angeles police Sgt. Mike Lopez.

All twelve of those injured in the shooting were taken to local hospitals for treatment. Some are listed in critical condition as of Sunday morning. The names of those killed have not yet been released.

GOP office firebombed

A GOP office located in Hillsborough, North Carolina was the target of a firebombing attack on Saturday, Oct. 8 using flammable substances to ignite the inside of the building. The fire burned furniture and damaged the building's interior before going out. The fire was caused by a bottle filled with flammable liquids that was thrown through a window of the office. Nobody was injured in the event.

Additionally, painted graffiti that they are seeking to steal property and violence,” U.S. Attorney General Loretta Lynch said.

FBI agents said the attack was planned as an act to encourage new members to the group that calls themselves The Crusaders. The group is made up of members of a militia group in Liberal, Kansas, and is believed to be recruiting new members to their cause. "These charges are based on eight months of investigation by the FBI that is alleged to have taken the investigators deep into a hidden culture of hatred and violence," U.S. Attorney Tom Beall said.

Trump used his time in Maine to speak about problems in Washington, decrying of "a rigged system," that no longer helps working people.

Unknown shooter in LA kills three, injures 12

A GOP office in North Carolina firedomb on Saturday, Oct. 8.

Three men in Kansas face domestic terrorism charges after the U.S. Department of Justice (DOJ) released the findings of an eight month FBI investigation that uncovered the three men’s plot to blow up an apartment building occupied by Somali immigrants in Garden City, Kan. Somali people both live in and use a portion of the apartment building as a mosque for worship.

According to DOJ officials, the three men, Curtis Allen and Gavin Wright, both 49, of Liberal, Kan., and Patric Stein were stockpiling explosives at each street corner surrounding the apartment complex and detonating them in unison. The three men are members of a militia group that calls themselves The Crusaders. According to the DOJ, the attack was intended “to wake people up,” based on evidence uncovered by investigators.

Allen, Wright and Stein were stockpiling weapons for the attack and had planned to release a manifesto after the explosion in hopes of recruiting new members to their cause. “These charges are based on eight months of investigation by the FBI that is alleged to have taken the investigators deep into a hidden culture of hatred and violence,” U.S. Attorney Tom Beall said.

Trump used his time in Maine to speak about problems in Washington, decrying of "a rigged system," that no longer helps working people.

Unknown shooter in LA kills three, injures 12

A GOP office in North Carolina firedomb on Saturday, Oct. 8.

Three men in Kansas face domestic terrorism charges after the U.S. Department of Justice (DOJ) released the findings of an eight month FBI investigation that uncovered the three men’s plot to blow up an apartment building occupied by Somali immigrants in Garden City, Kan. Somali people both live in and use a portion of the apartment building as a mosque for worship.

According to DOJ officials, the three men, Curtis Allen and Gavin Wright, both 49, of Liberal, Kan., and Patric Stein were stockpiling explosives at each street corner surrounding the apartment complex and detonating them in unison. The three men are members of a militia group that calls themselves The Crusaders. According to the DOJ, the attack was intended “to wake people up,” based on evidence uncovered by investigators.

Allen, Wright and Stein were stockpiling weapons for the attack and had planned to release a manifesto after the explosion in hopes of recruiting new members to their cause. “These charges are based on eight months of investigation by the FBI that is alleged to have taken the investigators deep into a hidden culture of hatred and violence,” U.S. Attorney Tom Beall said.

Trump used his time in Maine to speak about problems in Washington, decrying of "a rigged system," that no longer helps working people.

Unknown shooter in LA kills three, injures 12

A GOP office in North Carolina firedomb on Saturday, Oct. 8.

Three men in Kansas face domestic terrorism charges after the U.S. Department of Justice (DOJ) released the findings of an eight month FBI investigation that uncovered the three men’s plot to blow up an apartment building occupied by Somali immigrants in Garden City, Kan. Somali people both live in and use a portion of the apartment building as a mosque for worship.

According to DOJ officials, the three men, Curtis Allen and Gavin Wright, both 49, of Liberal, Kan., and Patric Stein were stockpiling explosives at each street corner surrounding the apartment complex and detonating them in unison. The three men are members of a militia group that calls themselves The Crusaders. According to the DOJ, the attack was intended “to wake people up,” based on evidence uncovered by investigators.

Allen, Wright and Stein were stockpiling weapons for the attack and had planned to release a manifesto after the explosion in hopes of recruiting new members to their cause. “These charges are based on eight months of investigation by the FBI that is alleged to have taken the investigators deep into a hidden culture of hatred and violence,” U.S. Attorney Tom Beall said.

Trump used his time in Maine to speak about problems in Washington, decrying of "a rigged system," that no longer helps working people.

Unknown shooter in LA kills three, injures 12

A GOP office in North Carolina firedomb on Saturday, Oct. 8.

Three men in Kansas face domestic terrorism charges after the U.S. Department of Justice (DOJ) released the findings of an eight month FBI investigation that uncovered the three men’s plot to blow up an apartment building occupied by Somali immigrants in Garden City, Kan. Somali people both live in and use a portion of the apartment building as a mosque for worship.

According to DOJ officials, the three men, Curtis Allen and Gavin Wright, both 49, of Liberal, Kan., and Patric Stein were stockpiling explosives at each street corner surrounding the apartment complex and detonating them in unison. The three men are members of a militia group that calls themselves The Crusaders. According to the DOJ, the attack was intended “to wake people up,” based on evidence uncovered by investigators.

Allen, Wright and Stein were stockpiling weapons for the attack and had planned to release a manifesto after the explosion in hopes of recruiting new members to their cause. “These charges are based on eight months of investigation by the FBI that is alleged to have taken the investigators deep into a hidden culture of hatred and violence,” U.S. Attorney Tom Beall said.
dents will be better prepared to interact with others in the last personal debate, Trump called it on the hook.
As we approach the next debate of the election day, we have to put all these personal attacks into perspective and realize that we are mostly discussing trivial matters. Yes, Trump and Clinton have been timed to a tee and do not necessarily represent the views of The Maine Campus or its staff.

All rights reserved.

Possible corruption revealed at DNC hacking

Common Core education stifles individuality in students

The Maine Campus
The University of Maine student newspaper since 1875.
The Maine Campus is an independent student publication. It is completely produced by undergraduate students of the University of Maine. Student subscriptions are provided for free through the communications fee.

The Maine Campus is printed at the Alliance Press in Brunswick, Maine. Our offices are located at 151 Memorial Union. Contact us by e-mail at mainecampus@maine.edu or by phone at 207.581.1273.

All content © 1875 - 2016 The Maine Campus, unless otherwise noted.

Love us? Hate us? Write us.

Letters to the editor should be 300 words, concise and clearly written. If applicable, include your academic year. Send all submissions to Sarah Allsopp at opinion@mainecampus.com, or on FirstClass. Up to three times in a semester, let them know that they require your opinion. To do this, they may establish a curriculum that is too narrow and encourage goals of every kind. It's harder than blending our uniform guidelines for education, but it's better than letting the next generation forget how to know in diversity.

The attitudes and views expressed in the Opinion section are those of their authors only and do not necessarily represent the views of The Maine Campus or its staff.
After decades of attempting to end poverty, too many people still live in financial distress. Despite the efforts of the social safety net, the percent of Americans living in pov-erity has only dropped four percentage points since 1964—is there something that can replace temporary assistance, food stamps and the countless other federal anti-poverty programs?

There is one idea that has support from all sides of the political spectrum. That idea is basic income. A basic income is a guaranteed minimum income provided by the government to all the citizens. The amount would be just enough to allow people to live essentially the same lifestyle they have now, but without government intervention. This idea has been endorsed by founding fathers like Thomas Paine, also requirement a defense of any kind. It is wrong.

Diversions

Word Search: Stephen King Movies

Sudoku

Word Scramble: Sports

Flip this page for puzzle answers
In the Arthur St. John Hill Auditorium in Barrows Hall on Oct. 6, a group of Hispanic employees worked for the Natural Resources Conservation Service (NRCS) discussed their work throughout the state of Maine. This presentation, “Helping People Help the Land Throughout Maine,” was part of the Hispanic Heritage Lecture Series for 2016. This was the last event in the series, but was very different than its predecessors, talking less of diversity and more about the work the group did.

State Conservationist Juan Hernandez joked after starting the presentation, mentioning that he and his employees are a large fraction of the minority population in the state of Maine. The lack of diversity in Maine does not go unnoticed. Almost 94 percent of people residing in the state are white, leaving the state with one of the lowest percentages of minority populations in the nation. “We’re trying to increase diversity,” Hernandez said.

The NRCS, which is part of the United States Department of Agriculture (USDA), employs approximately 10,000 people working in every state and United States territory. About 5.4 percent of these employees are Hispanic heritage. “We do conservation on private land,” Hernandez said. “We talk about the importance of their work.”

“Do you give a national perspective on this, in Syria?”, a sandstorm happened in 2011 that was due to the lack of density. Dams cause its breaking point, and people flooded into cities. “They changed their way of life, their normal life.”

A woman asked about the importance of growing up in a rural area. “Why do you think people help us?” Scott responded. “Write about what’s important.”

As he continued reading, he let the audience into the world of a group of people working in the forest with people of different careers and languages. “It all starts with the character.”

A third-year undergraduate student agreed. “I really learned a lot about the importance of the human experience,” he said. Scott explained earlier that although English is one language, there are dozens of microlinguistics associated with it, each with different experiences and cultural voices interwoven.

Samantha Vargas and Luis Aponte — remaining six percent for Hispanics does not go unnoticed. Almost 94 percent of people residing in the state are white, leaving the state with one of the lowest percentages of minority populations in the nation. “We’re trying to increase diversity,” Hernandez said.

The presentation, “Helping People Help the Land Throughout Maine,” was part of the Hispanic Heritage Lecture Series for 2016. This was the last event in the series, but was different than its predecessors, talking less of diversity and more about the work the group did.

State Conservationist Juan Hernandez joked after starting the presentation, mentioning that he and his employees are a large fraction of the minority population in the state of Maine. The lack of diversity in Maine does not go unnoticed. Almost 94 percent of people residing in the state are white, leaving the state with one of the lowest percentages of minority populations in the nation. “We’re trying to increase diversity,” Hernandez said.

The NRCS, which is part of the United States Department of Agriculture (USDA), employs approximately 10,000 people working in every state and United States territory. About 5.4 percent of these employees are Hispanic heritage. “We do conservation on private land,” Hernandez said. “We talk about the importance of their work.”

“Do you give a national perspective on this, in Syria?”, a sandstorm happened in 2011 that was due to the lack of density. Dams cause its breaking point, and people flooded into cities. “They changed their way of life, their normal life.”

A woman asked about the importance of growing up in a rural area. “Why do you think people help us?” Scott responded. “Write about what’s important.”

As he continued reading, he let the audience into the world of a group of people working in the forest with people of different careers and languages. “It all starts with the character.”

A third-year undergraduate student agreed. “I really learned a lot about the importance of the human experience,” he said. Scott explained earlier that although English is one language, there are dozens of microlinguistics associated with it, each with different experiences and cultural voices interwoven.

Samantha Vargas and Luis Aponte — remaining six percent for Hispanics does not go unnoticed. Almost 94 percent of people residing in the state are white, leaving the state with one of the lowest percentages of minority populations in the nation. “We’re trying to increase diversity,” Hernandez said.

The presentation, “Helping People Help the Land Throughout Maine,” was part of the Hispanic Heritage Lecture Series for 2016. This was the last event in the series, but was different than its predecessors, talking less of diversity and more about the work the group did.

State Conservationist Juan Hernandez joked after starting the presentation, mentioning that he and his employees are a large fraction of the minority population in the state of Maine. The lack of diversity in Maine does not go unnoticed. Almost 94 percent of people residing in the state are white, leaving the state with one of the lowest percentages of minority populations in the nation. “We’re trying to increase diversity,” Hernandez said.

The NRCS, which is part of the United States Department of Agriculture (USDA), employs approximately 10,000 people working in every state and United States territory. About 5.4 percent of these employees are Hispanic heritage. “We do conservation on private land,” Hernandez said. “We talk about the importance of their work.”

“Do you give a national perspective on this, in Syria?”, a sandstorm happened in 2011 that was due to the lack of density. Dams cause its breaking point, and people flooded into cities. “They changed their way of life, their normal life.”

A woman asked about the importance of growing up in a rural area. “Why do you think people help us?” Scott responded. “Write about what’s important.”

As he continued reading, he let the audience into the world of a group of people working in the forest with people of different careers and languages. “It all starts with the character.”

A third-year undergraduate student agreed. “I really learned a lot about the importance of the human experience,” he said. Scott explained earlier that although English is one language, there are dozens of microlinguistics associated with it, each with different experiences and cultural voices interwoven.
Meet our International Students: Miranda Roberts

For five weeks this past summer, Miranda Roberts stepped out of her comfort zone and over international borders when she moved to Ottawa to participate in the Canadian Parliamentarian Intern Program.

The third-year political science student says those five weeks helped her develop her research skills. “We did a lot of work with administration around issues concerning women on campus through the women’s organization. We also did some work at the Centre for rights and social justice.”

Under Barker’s leadership, the Women’s Resource Center established and carried out projects. “We did a lot of building, mostly to re-creating and retaining female faculty members.”

“I was essentially an intern, but I’ll admit, we also did research.”

Roberts, who had already been closely aligned with the Canadian Women’s Association (SWA) on campus who had different expertise. It was that referral to the connection with feminist women. “I would refer them to other women on campus who had different expertise.”

“I occasionally get feedback from colleagues saying, ‘We want women to know that they have that space. A space where they can get resources they need. A space where they feel safe, supported, accepted and wanted on this campus.’”

“Having a Women’s Resource Center isn’t a radical idea. We had one for over 20 years and countless other universities have them. This shouldn’t be a controversial issue, because I honestly feel that it is not right.”

Katey Potter

Molly Joyce

Third-year political science student Miranda Roberts spent five weeks assigned to work with a parliamentarian in Canada.

“Things are worse now than they were twenty years ago, because at least at that point, there were initiatives that tried to address these issues,” Barker said. “I occasionally get feedback from colleagues saying, ‘We want women to know that they have that space. A space where they can get resources they need. A space where they feel safe, supported, accepted and wanted on this campus.’”

Katey Potter

Molly Joyce

Third-year political science student Miranda Roberts spent five weeks assigned to work with a parliamentarian in Canada.

“Things are worse now than they were twenty years ago, because at least at that point, there were initiatives that tried to address these issues,” Barker said. “I occasionally get feedback from colleagues saying, ‘We want women to know that they have that space. A space where they can get resources they need. A space where they feel safe, supported, accepted and wanted on this campus.’”

Katey Potter

Molly Joyce

Third-year political science student Miranda Roberts spent five weeks assigned to work with a parliamentarian in Canada.
Music

Album Review: "Three" by Phantogram

The chemistry among the group of 10 songs, totalling 36 minutes of energetic upbeat jams.

The release has come just in time for this fall-ed season, too. Even the labels Phantogram worked with prior to their newest work, such as independent record label Ghostly International, scream Halloween. The group collaborated with them on their debut album "Eyelid Movie."

A special twist with this third album are songs featuring fellow artists. "Three" is the first album Phantogram have invited outside musicians to participate in. Such artists include Darby Cicci on "It's Not You" and session drummer Matt Chamberlain, Dan Wilie of Semisonic fame and ex-White Whale member "Pompompy." "Pompompy" starts out with deep echoing chants that ring out a ghostly feeling, as if you're walking through a cemetery past dark while being followed. Phantogram's lead vocalist Sarah Barthel's powerful, elongated vocals pierce through the keyboard and kick effects giving the singer a powerful presence.

Next was "Some Old Blues" — a black blues rock tune together with rock song right down the middle. The song just doesn't exactly leave you unsure how I feel about this song. However, every other major section is about the same. Phantogram are seen with less background feed are quite enjoyable and generally the synth and electronic bands you create great sound mash up.

"You Don’t Get Me High Anymore" is an incredibly fun song. Emotive and upbeat, it drives you in with it's powerful club mix inter-sections that fall between the choruses. This is definitely something you will be expecting to air in the clubs around Halloween.

"Calling All" feels like a party性的 session. Belonging in a dark club scene, the vocal style failed to match the background effects and came across as very simple. In between chorus segments, though, the complexity of the mixing of vocals and electronics matches that of " Funeral Pyre." Sadly, those sections are very short. If you are looking for a true rock ballad, check out " Run Run Blood." This is the single that I find perhaps. It finds you where the best from this group mostly because it’s upbeat, powerful and exhilarating you can blare through your amp.

This album is something else. For my first experience in electronic rock, I can only see an enthusiastic "yes." This album is a great in for someone who has not ex-perienced anything from this record format. Many of their favorites were definitely "Funeral Pyre," "Some Old Blues," and "Calling All." "Three" will not stay up for a great time, a great party, or a great night out. It is definitely something to check out this Halloween season.

Hilary Clinton. In those little videos, Galifianakis ex-hibits his tongue-in-cheek, style humor, which his character was able to fulfill intentions in "Masterminds." Though this flick will have you sitting in the edge of your seat, unfortunately for the viewer, it’s primarily because it’s uncomfortably短. The relationship between the Gang and Campbell is confusing, to say the least. Although his interaction with her does push the plot moving, the fact that the whole of the plot evolves around Ghantt’s love for Campbell, is frankly, somewhat spot-ting.

Where "Masterminds" can be appreciated is in its humor and kill-type plot-line, which are lighted by the elements seen in Jim Carrey’s and Jeff Daniels’ "Dumb and Dumber." To further ex-hibit this movie purely in its plot, it is essentially a midst of Comedy Ray’s remake of "The Thomas Crown Affair." To add to the fact that Mark Wahlberg’s tag line in this movie is "I’m the one you call, you don’t call me," clearly a must and his gang of criminals. The good thing is that the ac-tions were very comical, despite the movie being flawed in plot structure and characterization. In any case, when it comes to a comedy film, getting a good laugh is usually al-most the most important characteristic.

"Masterminds" will not be the movie that will be remembered for years to come, but at least we can enjoy Galifianakis’ amicable’s command of the camera. In the end it is a-ter...
Culture

NEW AND UPCOMING RELEASES

MBS Corps promotes domestic violence awareness with annual march

By Elise Proctor, Staff Writer

On Wednesday, Oct. 5 the Maine Business School Corps (MBS Corps) held its third annual March Against Domestic Violence — the color signifying domestic violence. Hundreds of students, faculty and community members walked around the University Mall to honor the victims and spread awareness about domestic violence.

MBS Corps is the Maine Business School’s community outreach organization. For the march, the organization collaborated with UMaine Athletics, Division of Student Life, Army ROTC, Student Women’s Association and Spruce Run Womancare Alliance. Participants wore purple — the color signifying Domestic Violence Awareness Month, which is each October.

MBS Corps has been planning for this event since the academic year started. They created signs that asked, “What does love, respect, and kindness look like?” that were hung in Donald P. Corbett Hall. Passers-by wrote what these words represent to them. At the march, those signs were laid out in front of Fogler Library for people to read.

“They like signs show that people are there for people who go through struggles like this,” Bob Williams, treasurer of the MBS Corps, said. “Domestic violence has been a [big] part of the issue in this country. If we can bring all the students together to show that we want to bring awareness to this, I think that goes beyond anything else we can do.”

The march started at noon, with more than 200 people walking around the mall. Several passers-by stopped to see what the march was about. After participating in the march, the students then spoke on Fogler Library for people to read.

“We as a society, have got to stand up and say no more,” Dana said during his speech.

According to the National Coalition Against Domestic Violence (NCADV), on average, nearly 20 people per minute in the United States are physically abused by an intimate partner or a current or former partner. In the United States, on a regular day, there are more than 20,000 phone calls placed to domestic violence hotlines nationwide. Within their lifetime, one in three women and one in seven men will become a victim of some form of physical violence by an intimate partner. About 4,000 women die each year by an intimate partner in the United States. Some of these deaths result directly from intentional violence by an intimate partner, and some are attributed to indirect violence, such as malnutrition, drug addiction, or financial exploitation.

“The march is about the importance of defunct Women’s Resource Center,” Aman da Cost, representative of the MBS Corps, said. “We’re partners, not domineers.”

During the march, Huff had some reservations about speaking at the march. Before coming to UMaine, he called Amy Lake’s father and asked for permission to speak about his daughter.

“His words were, ‘Get the word out. This doesn’t just affect men. As a father who has lost a daughter, I was driving through the town, and I heard the sign up in the highway, and I knew it was time to purse that idea.’”

“I was driving during one night, and you know, it came up, [10] I almost became a disaster,” Yang said. “I was running, [10] I was really excited for it, but it’s not that good coffee shop and my last year. Nothing against our current coffee shops, but they don’t really have the kind of vibe that makes me want to sit down and stay.”

Yang and Berube plan to rebrand the decor comfortably, mirroring the interior of coffee shops like Starbucks, with a rustic modern design. Nest will be a place for people to come and stay a while, according to Yang.

“People go to these coffee shops like Starbucks to hang out, you know? Instead of being on their phones, playing on social media,” Yang said.

However, Berube claims there will be criticisms about the place where I can go to buy a cup of coffee and settle down for a while to do a reading. I’m a fan of small coffee shops and local coffee shops in general, because they feel more personal and cozy,” Yang said. “I think UMaine students will appreciate having someplace where you can meet for a cup of coffee in Maine.”

For more information about Nest and their opening this week in the near future, visit their Facebook page at https://www.facebook.com/NestCoffeeOrono/
Maine splits homecoming weekend series over Quinnipiac

Field Hockey wins over UVM in overtime game

For The Maine Campus

Sze Wing Wong, Staff Writer

In the final 22 minutes of play, the University of Maine Black Bears found themselves on the short end of a 2-0 deficit against the Catamounts. However, in a battle of two teams who were on opposite ends of the spectrum last year, the Black Bears came away with a split in two games. The first game was a conference foe University of Maine Black Bears at the 70 minutes and the 4th period, where first-play, which resulted in five goals — due in large part to the defensive lapses. We were tired. I can’t see her have the opportunity to do it and to put it away,” Priskie said. “We were tired. I can’t see her have the opportunity to do it and to put it away,” Priskie said. “We were tired. I can’t see her have the opportunity to do it and to put it away,” Priskie said. “We were tired. I can’t see her have the opportunity to do it and to put it away,” Priskie said. “We were tired. I can’t see her have the opportunity to do it and to put it away,” Priskie said. “We were tired. I can’t see her have the opportunity to do it and to put it away,” Priskie said. “We were tired. I can’t see her have the opportunity to do it and to put it away,” Priskie said. “We were tired. I can’t see her have the opportunity to do it and to put it away,” Priskie said. “We were tired. I can’t see her have the opportunity to do it and to put it away,” Priskie said. “We were tired. I can’t see her have the opportunity to do it and to put it away,” Priskie said. “We were tired. I can’t see her have the opportunity to do it and to put it away,” Priskie said. “We were tire...
Maine wins third straight game

The University of Maine football team was their third consecutive game as they took down the New Hampshire Wildcats 23-16 at the Ken KL Knupp Stadium in front of the largest crowd in the town since 1998.

Maine’s Bear defense forced four turnovers, including three interceptions, and got 175 yards rushing from sophomore Adrian Burkett, including a 74-yard touchdown run.

“Maine’s Bear defense forced four turnovers, including three interceptions, and got 175 yards rushing from sophomore Adrian Burkett, including a 74-yard touchdown run.”

“This is a win and he will take it in stride,” Baumrind said. “I am happy for him to have this moment.”

“This is a win and he will take it in stride,” Baumrind said. “I am happy for him to have this moment.”

“Maine looks to keep their win streak alive next Saturday, Oct. 29 when they head to Baltimore, Md. for the America East Conference Championships.”

“Maine looks to keep their win streak alive next Saturday, Oct. 29 when they head to Baltimore, Md. for the America East Conference Championships.”

“The team also does not have a cruise this year. In lieu of the usual cruise and pizza parties making it a CPSA tradition, the team will donate the usual cruise money to a local charity,” Baumrind said.

“The team also does not have a cruise this year. In lieu of the usual cruise and pizza parties making it a CPSA tradition, the team will donate the usual cruise money to a local charity,” Baumrind said.

“However, the team is excited to be part of the NIRSA league,” Baumrind said.

“However, the team is excited to be part of the NIRSA league,” Baumrind said.

“Maine’s Bear defense forced four turnovers, including three interceptions, and got 175 yards rushing from sophomore Adrian Burkett, including a 74-yard touchdown run.”

“The team not only plays more fun environment,” first-year wide receiver Jordan Dunn said. “The team not only plays more fun environment,” first-year wide receiver Jordan Dunn said.

“This season has been a huge improvement compared to last year. It was our first year as a team and we only played four games,” Dunn said.

“This season has been a huge improvement compared to last year. It was our first year as a team and we only played four games,” Dunn said.

“The team has new goal for the training camp this week,” Dunn said.

“The team has new goal for the training camp this week,” Dunn said.

“We have to go to a lot of individual practice and fill out all of our goals. We have to push ourselves,” Dunn said.

“We have to go to a lot of individual practice and fill out all of our goals. We have to push ourselves,” Dunn said.

“Maine looks to keep their win streak alive next Saturday, Oct. 29 when they head to Baltimore, Md. for the America East Conference Championships.”

“The team not only plays more fun environment,” first-year wide receiver Jordan Dunn said. “The team not only plays more fun environment,” first-year wide receiver Jordan Dunn said.

“This season has been a huge improvement compared to last year. It was our first year as a team and we only played four games,” Dunn said.

“This season has been a huge improvement compared to last year. It was our first year as a team and we only played four games,” Dunn said.

“We have to go to a lot of individual practice and fill out all of our goals. We have to push ourselves,” Dunn said.

“Maine looks to keep their win streak alive next Saturday, Oct. 29 when they head to Baltimore, Md. for the America East Conference Championships.”

“The team not only plays more fun environment,” first-year wide receiver Jordan Dunn said. “The team not only plays more fun environment,” first-year wide receiver Jordan Dunn said.

“This season has been a huge improvement compared to last year. It was our first year as a team and we only played four games,” Dunn said.

“This season has been a huge improvement compared to last year. It was our first year as a team and we only played four games,” Dunn said.

“We have to go to a lot of individual practice and fill out all of our goals. We have to push ourselves,” Dunn said.

“Maine looks to keep their win streak alive next Saturday, Oct. 29 when they head to Baltimore, Md. for the America East Conference Championships.”

“The team not only plays more fun environment,” first-year wide receiver Jordan Dunn said. “The team not only plays more fun environment,” first-year wide receiver Jordan Dunn said.

“This season has been a huge improvement compared to last year. It was our first year as a team and we only played four games,” Dunn said.

“This season has been a huge improvement compared to last year. It was our first year as a team and we only played four games,” Dunn said.

“We have to go to a lot of individual practice and fill out all of our goals. We have to push ourselves,” Dunn said.

“Maine looks to keep their win streak alive next Saturday, Oct. 29 when they head to Baltimore, Md. for the America East Conference Championships.”

“The team not only plays more fun environment,” first-year wide receiver Jordan Dunn said. “The team not only plays more fun environment,” first-year wide receiver Jordan Dunn said.

“This season has been a huge improvement compared to last year. It was our first year as a team and we only played four games,” Dunn said.

“This season has been a huge improvement compared to last year. It was our first year as a team and we only played four games,” Dunn said.

“We have to go to a lot of individual practice and fill out all of our goals. We have to push ourselves,” Dunn said.

“Maine looks to keep their win streak alive next Saturday, Oct. 29 when they head to Baltimore, Md. for the America East Conference Championships.”

“The team not only plays more fun environment,” first-year wide receiver Jordan Dunn said. “The team not only plays more fun environment,” first-year wide receiver Jordan Dunn said.

“This season has been a huge improvement compared to last year. It was our first year as a team and we only played four games,” Dunn said.

“This season has been a huge improvement compared to last year. It was our first year as a team and we only played four games,” Dunn said.

“We have to go to a lot of individual practice and fill out all of our goals. We have to push ourselves,” Dunn said.

“Maine looks to keep their win streak alive next Saturday, Oct. 29 when they head to Baltimore, Md. for the America East Conference Championships.”

“The team not only plays more fun environment,” first-year wide receiver Jordan Dunn said. “The team not only plays more fun environment,” first-year wide receiver Jordan Dunn said.

“This season has been a huge improvement compared to last year. It was our first year as a team and we only played four games,” Dunn said.

“This season has been a huge improvement compared to last year. It was our first year as a team and we only played four games,” Dunn said.

“We have to go to a lot of individual practice and fill out all of our goals. We have to push ourselves,” Dunn said.
Field Hockey

"It felt great to score my first collegiate goal. I think it was a good game for such a team. From what I could see, we didn’t have anyone who stood out, which felt like I made an impact to- day," said Beil.

The Black Bears sealed the victory on a relatively quiet day for the University of California at Berkeley with an overtime goal from junior forward Vivien Gutierrez to give UMaine their second win of the season over the Golden Bears (3-1). The win improves Stony Brook’s record to 9-3-0 overall and 3-1 in the America East conference. The Bears improve their overall record to 7-6-1 and are 6-1-0 in the AEC.

With the win, UMaine improves to 2-0-0 in overtime games.

Beil’s goal was the second of the game, coming on a penalty shot after UMaine goalkeeper Samantha Cobotic was called for a penalty to the head in the 24th minute.

The goal was Beil’s second of the season, the first coming back in Oct. 29, at home against Northeastern University. Beil has started in goal for the Bears in all 13 games this season, logging 117 minutes of action versus UNH.

The Bears are just the latest of the many teams to benefit from Cobotic’s performance in the net this season. The 2006-2013 Ontario Provincial Team goalie has started in goal for all but one game this season, allowing just seven goals in 11 games and posting a .926 save percentage in UMaine’s two losses. Cobotic leads the conference in goals against average (1.05) and saves percentage (.926), ranking second in goals allowed (seven) and save percentage (.926) in AEC games. She has played 99 saves in her career and has notched a save in 13 straight games.

Cobotic’s performance has been complemented by Emma Cochran and Emily Corbett, in almost every one of their games. Both have started in goal for the Golden Bears, with Cochran having played in 11 games and Corbett in, essentially, all of their games.

"We’re very proud of that strategy that’s used in this game, but we’ve found a way to use it to our advantage. Both Emma and Emily don’t stand still, they play a very aggressive style and they’re on the move all the time," said Babineau.

The other of the redshirt freshman, Corbett, was born on December 12, 1995 in Surrey, British Columbia, where she was raised until she moved to the United States when she was 14. It was in Canada where she first played with the Ontario Provincial Team.

"I started playing field hockey because my mom told me to try and see if I liked it," said Corbett. "I ended up loving it and I’m definitely my favorite sport," Corbett said.

The other of the Newfoundlanders, Emily Corbett, was an alternate during the game and only saw action in the third period.

"It didn’t feel like my first goal, I think it was a good game for everyone on the team and a good start to the season," said Beil.

Cobotic said that while she was disappointed with the two goals surrendered to the Bears, they were a couple of games that the Bears were unable to convert.

"I think the Bears are a good team. They’re on the same page, our philosophy doesn’t change. We play a certain way and our philosophy doesn’t change. We always try to get to the goal and this represents that kind of game," said Babineau.

The win, however, was made possible by the heroics of Corbett, who has played in 11 games this season, allowing just seven goals in 11 games and posting a 1.81 goals against average (GAA) and a .763 save percentage (SP) where she was ranked first in the conference in both categories.

"I think we’re on the same page and our philosophy don’t change. We always have the same style of play," said Babineau.

With the Bears standing at 9-4 record, 9-4 record in the America East, and 7-3 record at home, UMaine continues to move closer to the top of the conference rankings.

"We’re confident in our strength right now, we feel great being able to get into the playoffs. They’re a good team and we’re confident in our style of play and believe that we can play against anybody," said Babineau.

The loss set the stage for the University of Albany. "The loss set the stage for tomorrow’s game against the University of Albany," said Welham. "I think we struggled to remain in the game and we did OK, we just could have had more of an impact." "We did OK, we just could have had more of an impact," said Welham.

"It was a battle, it is always going to be a battle when you are an overtime game, it seems like. We did OK, we just had some dangerous chances but we didn’t finish," said Babineau.

"We didn’t get out of it, they just were moving on from the last ball that final ball that connect- ing point," said Babineau.

"They’re a tough team to deal with in tough overtime sit- uations, but we certainly showed them what we have with that goal." There are many records that will be looked at for us, noted Babineau. "For as long as I was able to play a full 10 minute overtime I could tell they were getting into each other’s heads and it seemed like the more we talked the more we were looking at each other," said Babineau.

"We didn’t get out of it, they just were moving on from the last ball that final ball that connect- ing point," said Babineau.

"They’re a tough team to deal with in tough overtime sit- uations, but we certainly showed them what we have with that goal," noted Babineau. "For as long as I was able to play a full 10 minute overtime I could tell they were getting into each other’s heads and it seemed like the more we talked the more we were looking at each other," said Babineau.

"We didn’t get out of it, they just were moving on from the last ball that final ball that connect- ing point," said Babineau.

"They’re a tough team to deal with in tough overtime sit- uations, but we certainly showed them what we have with that goal," noted Babineau. "For as long as I was able to play a full 10 minute overtime I could tell they were getting into each other’s heads and it seemed like the more we talked the more we were looking at each other," said Babineau.

"We didn’t get out of it, they just were moving on from the last ball that final ball that connect- ing point," said Babineau.

"They’re a tough team to deal with in tough overtime sit- uations, but we certainly showed them what we have with that goal," said Babineau. "For as long as I was able to play a full 10 minute overtime I could tell they were getting into each other’s heads and it seemed like the more we talked the more we were looking at each other," said Babineau.

"We didn’t get out of it, they just were moving on from the last ball that final ball that connect- ing point," said Babineau.

"They’re a tough team to deal with in tough overtime sit- uations, but we certainly showed them what we have with that goal," noted Babineau. "For as long as I was able to play a full 10 minute overtime I could tell they were getting into each other’s heads and it seemed like the more we talked the more we were looking at each other," said Babineau.

"We didn’t get out of it, they just were moving on from the last ball that final ball that connect- ing point," said Babineau.

"They’re a tough team to deal with in tough overtime sit- uations, but we certainly showed them what we have with that goal," said Babineau. "For as long as I was able to play a full 10 minute overtime I could tell they were getting into each other’s heads and it seemed like the more we talked the more we were looking at each other," said Babineau.
FOOTBALL SCORES

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Team</th>
<th>Score</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Albany</td>
<td>16</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Maine</td>
<td>20</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>James Madison</td>
<td>42</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>UNH</td>
<td>30</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Towson</td>
<td>17</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Dartmouth</td>
<td>20</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Delaware</td>
<td>17</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>William and Mary</td>
<td>24</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Villanova</td>
<td>0</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Richmond</td>
<td>23</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>URI</td>
<td>3</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Stony Brook</td>
<td>14</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

UPCOMING SPORTS

Thursday, Oct. 20
- Soccer vs. Albany 7 p.m.
- Field Hockey vs. UMass Lowell 5 p.m.

Friday, Oct. 21
- Field Hockey vs. Albany 3 p.m.
- Men and Women’s Swimming vs URI TBA
- Men’s Hockey vs Miami University (OH) 7:35 p.m.

Saturday, Oct. 22
- Football vs URI 12 p.m.
- Men and Women’s Swimming vs Bryant 3 p.m.
- Men’s Hockey vs Miami University (OH) 7 p.m.

SPORTS

FOOTBALL STANDINGS

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Team</th>
<th>Overall</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>James Madison</td>
<td>6-1</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Stony Brook</td>
<td>4-2</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Richmond</td>
<td>6-1</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Villanova</td>
<td>5-2</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>UNH</td>
<td>4-3</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Maine</td>
<td>3-3</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Albany</td>
<td>4-2</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

FOOTBALL STANDINGS

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Team</th>
<th>Overall</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>James Madison</td>
<td>6-1</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Stony Brook</td>
<td>4-2</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Richmond</td>
<td>6-1</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Villanova</td>
<td>5-2</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>UNH</td>
<td>4-3</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Maine</td>
<td>3-3</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Albany</td>
<td>4-2</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

MEN’S HOCKEY STANDINGS

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Team</th>
<th>Overall</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Merrimack</td>
<td>6-1</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Clarkson</td>
<td>4-2</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>UNH</td>
<td>6-5-3</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>St. Lawrence</td>
<td>6-1</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bentley</td>
<td>4-2</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Northeastern</td>
<td>6-5-3</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Colgate</td>
<td>4-2</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Quinnipiac</td>
<td>4-2</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Maine</td>
<td>4-2</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Notre Dame</td>
<td>3-1</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Minnesota Duluth</td>
<td>3-1</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

SOCCER STANDINGS

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Team</th>
<th>Overall</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Hartford</td>
<td>10-4-1</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Stony Brook</td>
<td>7-7-2</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>UNH</td>
<td>6-5-3</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Albany</td>
<td>6-7-1</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Maine</td>
<td>6-7-1</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>UMass Lowell</td>
<td>4-8-2</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Vermont</td>
<td>6-5-3</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

EVEN OR更多 MY HUMAN SHAVES OFF HIS FACE FUR, HE’S FUNNY LIKE THAT.

- TUCK adopted 05-04-11

ADOPT

A PERSON IS THE BEST THING TO HAPPEN TO A SHELTER PET

Be nice to animals!
Maine fell to Merrimack in Homecoming Game

Maine defeats Merrimack 13-14.

The University of Maine (4-6) returned home after their away weekend trip against the Merrimack Warriors (5-5) in their Hockey East conference match-ups.

In the second period, forward Riley Read scored the first goal of the game assisted by first-year forward货架 Ethan St. Pierre and second-year forward Evan Tironese. This put Maine ahead 1-0 after twenty minutes of play. This was the first goal of the season for Read, the first goal of the season for St. Pierre, and the first goal of the season for Tironese.

In the third period, Maine fell behind 3-1 after Merrimack scored twice from third-year forward Calvin Griffin, with an assist from freshman Evan Clancy.

Maine once again was able to find the back of the net after two minutes of play in the final period. Forward Kyle Johnson made a move to the middle of the ice, when third-year forward Trevor Scanzoni took the puck behind the net. Johnson came around the back of the net and was able to score the game-tying goal four minutes into the final period.

Maine now is 2-0-1 in their last three games, and four of their last five games against the Warriors.

The Eagles will return home to Chestnut Hill, Mass., to face Quinnipiac.

Read the rest at mainecampus.com
Professional sports this week

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>NFL (AMERICAN)</th>
<th>OVERALL</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>EAST</td>
<td>Patriots</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>WEST</td>
<td>Bills</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>NORTH</td>
<td>Steelers</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>SOUTH</td>
<td>Ravens</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Titans</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>NFL (NATIONAL)</th>
<th>OVERALL</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>EAST</td>
<td>Cowboys</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>WEST</td>
<td>Eagles</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>NORTH</td>
<td>Vikings</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>SOUTH</td>
<td>Packers</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>NHL (AMERICAN)</th>
<th>OVERALL</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>OVERALL</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>NFL (NATIONAL)</th>
<th>OVERALL</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Atlantic</td>
<td>Panthers</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Lightning</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Metropolitan</td>
<td>Penguins</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Flyers</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Capitals</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>NHL (NORTH AMERICAN)</th>
<th>OVERALL</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>OVERALL</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>NFL (NATIONAL)</th>
<th>OVERALL</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Atlantic</td>
<td>Blues</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Avalanche</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Metropolitan</td>
<td>Stars</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Oilers</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Sharks</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Coyotes</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Upcoming Games:
- NFL:
  - Monday, Oct. 17: Jets @ Cardinals
  - Thursday, Oct. 20: Bears @ Packers
  - Sunday, Oct. 23: Giants @ Rams
- NFL (NATIONAL):
  - Monday, Oct. 17: Jets @ Cardinals
  - Thursday, Oct. 20: Bears @ Packers
  - Sunday, Oct. 23: Giants @ Rams

Professional sports this week

GET TWICE AS MANY EGGS IN YOUR BASKET.

Low fees can mean higher returns for you.
Start now at TIAA.org/results

TIAA
INVESTING | ADVICE | BANKING | RETIREMENT

CREATED TO SERVE.

1Our assumption of 4.5% is 10% with a 0% rate of return, over a 10-year time period, with fees at a constant 0.5%. Fees on a mutual fund investment average 0.20%. This is a hypothetical illustration. These returns are for illustrative purposes only and do not reflect actual (past) performance, which will fluctuate.

TIAA-CREF Individual & Institutional Services, LLC. TIAA-CREF products are subject to market and other risks. 021699