I have furnished the schools in town with new readers and spellers, also histories and geographies.

The grammars in use are not an up-to-date book. I recommend a change.

The arithmetics are in bad condition, it will be necessary to have new ones. If the town continues to furnish free text-books we must make an appropriation this year.

Respectfully submitted,

J. H. COWAN,

Superintendent of Schools.

Glenburn, February 26, 1902.
