

Earth and Climate Sciences

Recent Posts

SECS faculty and students remember friend and colleague Roger LeBaron Hooke

Published: March 26, 2021

Zealandia Switch may be the missing link in understanding ice age climates

Published: March 15, 2021

Kreutz consults on 'Arctic Adventure' exhibit at Boston Museum of Science

Published: December 18, 2020

Experts contribute to Maine's plan for climate action

Published: December 07, 2020

Chinese glaciers melting at 'shocking' pace, scientists say

Published: December 01, 2020

SECS faculty and students remember friend and colleague Roger LeBaron Hooke

March 26, 2021 | News

University of Maine scientists admired and appreciated colleague Roger LeBaron Hooke, a giant in the fields of glaciology and geomorphology who died March 10, 2021, at age 82. Dr. Roger Hooke Obituary-1

Share this:

School of Earth and Climate Sciences
5790 Bryand Global Sciences Center
Orono, ME 04469-5790

Tel: 207.581.2152
Fax: 207.581.2202
linda.cappuccio@maine.edu

