

Diversity and Inclusion

Home Staff Programs/Events Newsletter Our Centers ODI Series

OFFICE FOR DIVERSITY & INCLUSION
Lecture Series

The Office for Diversity and Inclusion lecture series hopes to encourage the University of Maine to be intersectional and inclusive citizens. The series provides a space for faculty, staff, and students to explore their knowledge of policies and systems that complicate and challenge equity. The series hopes to engage our community to consider intersecting perspectives and to broaden the basis for critical thought, and understanding. The ODI Lecture Series speakers address topics at the intersections of diversity, equity & inclusion. All lectures are done virtually. If you are interested in presenting a topic, leading a workshop or creating space for dialogue around a topic/s, please reach out to the Director for Diversity and Inclusion, Anila Karunakar, at anila.karunakar@maine.edu.

For more information about topics and to sign up, click this image to register for one or more of our ODI Lecture Series events!
