The University of Maine System is offering existing and incoming students a chance to improve their resiliency skills and earn an industry-recognized digital badge of proficiency that employers use to assess candidate skill sets.

Initiated by the Career Services offices at Maine's public universities, the free offer to earn a 21st Century skill Resilience Badge comes in response to lost student employment and internship opportunities as a result of COVID-19. Participating students will have an opportunity to learn and practice a skill increasingly valued by employers and can share their badge on resumes and LinkedIn profiles.
