The University of Maine's Fogler Library is offering a free online course in best practices for managing your personal finances during the COVID-19 pandemic this Tuesday, June 16 at 1 p.m.

New Ventures Maine, a part of the University of Maine at Augusta, will detail how to develop a household budget and other presenters will discuss the impact of the pandemic on retirement funds as well as what it means to be financially literate. More information about the webinar and a link to the required pre-registration can be found here.

For those who cannot attend the workshop, the Fogler Library has compiled online resources related to managing your personal finances during COVID-19 and its economic fallout here.
