Dear Matthew,

Here are this week's Six Picks to keep you connected to the world of performing arts. Find more links like these on our website. Enjoy!

Sam Smith
Friday, Oct. 30, 8 p.m.

Sam Smith will be streaming live from Abbey Road Studio's to celebrate the release of their upcoming album, Love Goes. Smith will be performing old hits as well as new tunes, and doing a Q&A with fans. There will also be special guest performances.

Blackberry Smoke
Friday, Oct 30, 8 p.m.

Pandemic Jam is the second in a series of concerts by Blackberry Smoke. It promises to be a unique live show, professionally produced to bring you as close to a live gig experience as possible! Want to watch the Sam Smith concert? No worries – an on-demand encore rebroadcast is available for 48 hours after the show. (Remember when Blackberry Smoke performed a few short years ago? Great concert!)

Dracula Radio Play
Fri. & Sat., Oct. 30 & 31, 8 p.m.

Based on Bram Stoker's horror classic, this live immersive audio experience will transport audiences to the heart of Transylvania and the decaying, undead world of The Count himself. This fast-paced new immersive audio play, suggested by Orson Welles' radio adaptation, will use new, proprietary technology to create a live 360-degree soundscape of howls, bats, screams, creaky floors, slamming doors and everything that goes bump in the night.

Village Halloween Costume Ball
Saturday, Oct. 31, 2 p.m. - midnight

Theater for the New City's Village Halloween Costume Ball will be presented virtually this year with most of its key traditions preserved. The event will feature new works by more than 100 playwrights and performers, contests, music and a visual art show. Stars and underground notables will perform in Halloween cabarets.

#iVoted
Tuesday, Nov. 3

The #iVoted initiative is partnering with streaming service Mandolin for an election day concert, encouraging people to vote in exchange for access to the massive livestream music event. More than 600 artists will perform during the music festival, which includes performances on Nov. 4, as well.

Day of the Dead - Hudson Museum
Available now

Day of the Dead is a celebration of life and death. It originated in Mexico, but is now celebrated all over Latin America with colorful calaveras (skulls) and calacas (skeletons). UMaine's Hudson Museum has created a video, educational materials, activities, craft ideas and links to lots of info about "Día de los Muertos."

Bonus pick!

Beetlejuice-Inspired Recipes

Available now

Whether you're celebrating in isolation, with friends (virtually or outdoors), or with the quirky new tenants of the house you died in, here are a few original recipes inspired by Broadway's Beetlejuice to ensure a hearty, festive, and spooky Halloween, courtesy of Playbill. The musical may no longer be on Broadway, but you can still rent the movie and tie into the theme. It'll be dreadfully (deadfully?) fun!

Please consider...

We know there are many organizations and individuals out there asking for financial support. The CCA would appreciate your consideration. If you can't help right now, we understand. But when the time comes — and it will come — even if you can't make an outright donation, we hope you'll buy tickets and support live performances at the CCA. Thank you!
