Dear Matthew,

Here are this week's Six Picks to keep you connected to the world of performing arts. Find more links like these on our website. Enjoy!

Met Stars Live in Concert Sat., July 18 at 1 p.m.

A new pay-per-view concert series featuring some of opera's most extraordinary voices. With the intimacy of the At-Home Gala and the production value of the Live in HD series, this 12-part series will take the Met's on-line programming to a new level. The series kicks off with superstar tenor Jonas Kaufmann.

Summer Evenings by The Chamber Music Society of Lincoln Center

Sunday, July 19 at 5 p.m. - available for one week

From the CMS Archive, enjoy this cello, piano and clarinet concert, featuring works by Gabrieli, Beethoven and Rachmaninov.

Ryedale Festival Online July 19-26

Eight days of live music from Yorkshire, England, venues. Superb musicians will be making the journey to perform in three beautiful Ryedale venues. No audience will be physically present. Instead, the festival will film and live stream their concerts straight to your home.

Project Sing Out

Monday, July 20, 7 p.m.

This live streamed event will feature musical performances, spoken word and special appearances from a variety of Broadway and TV's biggest names in an effort to raise funds to support arts education, specifically in low-income communities and communities of color.

Summer Variety Hour Live!

Monday, July 20, 9:15 p.m.

The Muny, a 102-year old venue in St. Louis, is creating a free live-streamed series featuring footage from past summer shows, plus new songs and dances. See clips from The Little Mermaid, Oklahoma!, South Pacific, Jersey Boys, Spamalot, Aida, Singin' in the Rain, and more!

And So Say All of Us

Watch anytime!

52 seminal international choreographers link together on a dance chain letter honoring Joseph V. Melillo. Commissioned by Brooklyn Academy of Music.

The Maine Arts Commission is conducting a statewide audience outlook survey to gauge comfort in returning to performing arts venues and live presentations.
