Can I get assistance from Special Collections?

April 24, 2020 | FAQ, Remote Work

Special Collections staff are continuing to support researchers and answer reference questions related to our archives. We can assist in navigating our online collections and identifying relevant resources in national archives databases. While staff time and access are limited, for time-sensitive requests that are equivalent in length to an article or chapter of a book, we are continuing to provide document scans to support your distance research.

Contact Special Collections to discuss your research needs at 207.581.1798 or um.library.spc@maine.edu.
