Dear Matthew,

Here are this week's Six Picks to keep you connected to the world of performing arts. Find more links like these on our website. Enjoy!

Elton John Friday, July 31, 3 p.m.

A combination of two evenings at Madison Square Garden, Elton's favorite venue, a band 15-strong with long-time members and newcomers alike, a star-studded line-up of guest artists (Billy Joel, Mary J. Blige, Ronan Keating, Bryan Adams, Anastacia, Kiki Dee), AND a set list of hits from every corner of his amazing career. Love it!

Taming of the Shrew - LIVE LOCAL EVENT! July 31- Aug. 2

Ten Bucks Theatre Company presents "Shakespeare Under the Stars" with performances of William Shakespeare's The Taming of the Shrew at Fort Knox in Prospect. Much more than a hilarious comedy, Shakespeare's play gives us insight into what lengths we'll go to for love and legacy.

Broadway Revival of Present Laughter Friday, July 31, 9 p.m.

Kevin Kline's Tony Award-winning performance in Noël Coward's Present Laughter, which follows a self-obsessed actor caught between fawning ingénues, crazed playwrights, secret trysts, and unexpected twists.

Met Stars Live in Concert:
Renée Fleming
Sat., Aug. 1, 1 p.m.

This weekend, see Renée Fleming, “the most sheerly beautiful soprano voice on the planet” (Telegraph, London), in a performance from the Music Room of the Dumbarton Oaks estate in Washington, D.C. The great American diva sings an exciting program of favorite arias and lesser-known gems, accompanied by Robert Ainsley. Tickets are $20.

Judy Collins
Watch now!

Judy Collins burst onto the music scene in the 1960s and has not stopped since. Along with Shawn Colvin, Steve Earle, and Jimmy Webb, Collins leads a candid conversation about singer-songwriters and is joined by Alan Cumming to discuss musical theater icon Stephen Sondheim, who penned “Send In the Clowns”—arguably the biggest hit of Collins’s career.

'In My Room' with Cam
Watch anytime

She’s been to Bangor twice. Now the hard-to-pigeonhole singer-songwriter Cam delivers an upbeat rendition of her latest single “Classic” as part of Rolling Stone’s In My Room performance series. She’s joined by Nashville indie artist John Tucker, who performs his track “Rewind.”

Hope you enjoy checking out these events. Happy August!
