Like Maine's public universities, other organizations in the state have uniquely pivoted to protect public health and meet the needs that have emerged in our shared fight against COVID-19.

On Tuesday, June 16 at 1 p.m., the University of Maine Graduate and Professional Center will host a free webinar featuring the efforts of LL Bean, from boxing food for Good Shepherd Food Bank to producing PPE with support from the Innovation Team at UMaine. Leaders from the company, including its Chief Operations & People Officer as well as VPs of Sourcing, Customer Satisfaction, and Fulfillment/Manufacturing/Logistics, will discuss the decision-making process, the manufacturing transition, corporate social responsibility and the impacts to employee morale.
