I have examined the accounts of the various town officers, which appear to have been carefully kept throughout the year, and find vouchers or other evidence of payment on file for all orders drawn on the treasurer. The treasurer’s account shows that all orders drawn on him have been paid and the amount of cash in treasury agrees with the amount as shown on his report.

REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

SUPERINTENDING SCHOOL COMMITTEE

C. H. Davis, Term expires March, 1931
A. J. Guptill, Term expires March, 1932
Foster Harrington, Term expires March, 1933

To the Members of the Superintending School Committee and the Citizens of Winter Harbor:

I herewith present my sixth annual report of the condition, progress and needs of the schools of Winter Harbor.

Since the last report the schools have been running smoothly and efficiently. A general summary of the whole situation would show a corps of trained, efficient and hard-working teachers, working with a group of cooperative students with fair facilities and good housing conditions. The results obtained are, as would be expected, good, and a comparison of your school system with any other system similar as to number of teachers and facilities would show your schools to be among the most efficient.

Many of the textbooks have been changed during the past few years and changes contemplated for the next two years will result in there being up-to-date texts in all courses.

No modern course can be taught, however, from a single textbook. A course in history, for instance, ought to have, in addition to the basal text, a group of single copies, or two or three copies each, of a large number of different kinds of histories and historical magazines, to which the student can be sent to gather material to supplement that of the basal textbook.

For instance, in a magazine you may read an article about India and become interested in knowing more about that subject. In order to learn more about it you must go to a number of other books to get all the information you wish. In order for a history text to cover, let's say, the Modern Period, from 1700 to 1930, it must be very brief on each topic, not much more, in fact, than an outline with references to available material. Thus a well-selected library of books and magazines easily available to the students is absolutely essential in presenting a subject as fully as should be done.

Altho at present there seems no room that can be used as a library room, it would undoubtedly be a good investment to put about $75.00 a year into library books until such time as the school has a sufficient complement of reference works.

Major repairs this year have consisted of replacing the blackboards in the main room of the high school with slate and renovating the toilets of the high school building. Minor repairs have been made as needed.

It is gratifying to know that from the graduating class of 1930, eleven students are continuing their education and, from reports so far received, all doing good work. Five of these eleven students are in colleges, five at business college and one at preparatory school. Such a large percentage of a graduating class going to higher schools is unusual and shows an excellent morale, an unusual appreciation of the value of education.

In closing this report, I wish to express to the school committee, teachers, students and parents my appreciation of your cooperation and support.

Respectfully submitted,

Arthur E. Urann,
Superintendent of Schools.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE FLANDER’S BAY NURSING SERVICE, 1930

MAINE PUBLIC HEALTH ASSOCIATION

To the citizens of the town I hereby submit the annual report of the nursing activities of the Flander’s Bay Nursing Service. This service comprises Winter Harbor, Gouldsboro, East Sullivan and Sorrento and is affiliated with and under the direct supervision of the Maine Public Health Association in Augusta.

The personnel of the executive committee remains the same as in the past four years. Mr. Fletcher Wood, chairman; Mr. Charles Small, treasurer; Mrs. Rubie Tracy, secretary; while local representatives of all the towns serve on the nursing committee.

The major part of this service is supported by the contributions of the summer residents; the rest depends on the town appropriations, Christmas Seal Sale, and on fees collected by the nurse. It has been demonstrated that nursing care is given regardless of the ability of the patient to pay.

Analysis of Service

Bedside Care

498 visits made to 138 patients (55 of these were made to one chronic patient and 32 were made to two active tuberculosis cases) the rest of the bedside cases include assistance at 24 confinement cases with 45 visits of after care to those mothers. These visits also include pneumonia, fractures, cancer, cerebral hemorrhage and emergencies.

Instruction

260 visits of instruction in infant welfare, prenatal, tuberculosis, surgical, medical, and home treatments.

Investigation

66 visits of investigation including communicable, tuberculosis, prenatal, sanitation, and social service.

Conference and Clinics

Five Well Baby and Preschool conferences and clinics were held. 155 adults attended and 95 babies and preschool children received examination or inspection, with medical advice or treatment by the attending physicians. Through the courtesy of the Maine Sea Coast Mission it was made possible for five children (accompanied by the nurse) to attend and receive treatment at the tonsil and adenoid clinic held in Bar Harbor Hospital, these children were taken across the bay in the Sea Coast Mission boat, the Sunbeam, and returned by the same means to their homes the day following the operations.

School Inspection

73 visits were made to the 19 schoolrooms. 812 full inspections were given 524 children. The inspections show 402 defects with 363 corrections, defective teeth taking the lead. 420 audiometer (hearing) tests were given. 10 were found with hearing defects and were referred to the physician.
It is very gratifying to note the number of corrections made during the year. In one school at the spring inspection, 24 pupils had defects that could be corrected and at the fall inspection it was found that 20 of these pupils had the corrections made during the summer months.

In order that parents might know the results of the school inspection, 339 notices were sent to parents stating defects found and 153 follow-up visits were made. 45 Sanitary inspections of school buildings were made and 45 talks on health were given to schoolrooms. 48 examinations were made by physicians, and 24 pupils as a result were excluded with symptoms of skin disease and mumps.

In the interests of preventing children from having diphtheria, 21 inoculations by a physician were given of Toxin-Anti-Toxin one week apart. The nurse assisted the physician with this preventive health measure. The town was fortunate this year in being one of the towns to be offered a Tuberculin Test Clinic. It is to be regretted that more parents did not take advantage of this opportunity to determine whether their child reacted to this test. It is generally accepted by specialists that the test, if positive shows that there is present a tuberculosis infection which may or may not be active. If test shows a positive reaction diagnosis may further be established by X-ray and physical examination. It is certainly important to know early if infection is present, so that we may, by simple home hygienic measures prevent the years of misery which follow when once a patient develops an active case of tuberculosis. The test is a simple skin test, the solution being placed on outer layer of skin. No pain or discomfort results. The children explain it best by saying, “it tickles.”

134 individuals were taken to clinics, physicians, hospital, sanatorium, dentist or oculist. All school defects were referred to physicians.

Three staff meetings were attended, two committee meetings, one Red Cross meeting and four visits of supervision were made by the nurse director.
May Day (Child Health Week) Activities

Two lectures on Sex Hygiene, with films were given, one for the boys and one for the girls, by Dr. Wm. Holt from the State Department of Health in Augusta. 150 individuals throughout the territory attended these lectures. Transportation arrangements were made by the nurse and interested citizens. Miss Abbie M. Buck, Child Health Director, gave interesting talks in all the schools, also being speaker at a Child Health Program held in West Bay on May Day.

In conclusion, the nurse wishes to extend thanks to the Maine Public Health Association for assistance and advice in solving problems, the State Department of Health for cooperation with May Day program, the Maine Sea Coast Mission, the physicians who assisted us so much this past year and to all interested friends who helped by their encouragement and cooperation to make the Public Health program a success.

Respectfully submitted,

MINERVA A. HOLT, R. N.,

Flander's Bay Nursing Service.
