TOWN FARM.

The affairs of the farm have been in charge of Henry Pulsifer and lady the past year, at a salary of $275. This is their first year at the farm. We were well pleased with the appearance of things, and we think they are entitled to much credit for the manner in which they have conducted the business under their charge, especially for their kind treatment of those under their care.

The number of paupers at the farm at commencement of the year were seven, viz.: Mary Fairbanks, Joseph Cummings, Richard M. Frost, Wm. Dicker, Wm. T. Frost and his wife and child. Wm. Dicker died April 19th, 1876; Joseph Cummings died Sept. 11th, 1876; Richard Frost died Feb. 10th, 1877; Wm. Frost and family left Aug. 14th. Thomas Paine came to the farm Sept. 23d; Theodate Morton came Sept. 25th, 1876, and died Feb. 3d, 1877; Nancy Eastman came Dec. 8th, and left Jan. 5th, 1877. Shepherd Davis and wife have received support at the farm to the amount of $23.80, which amount we have received from Hallowell, as per Treasurer's report. One hundred and eighteen transient paupers and tramps have also received relief at the farm, varying from one night to twenty-five days.

Expenditures for family supplies, meal for stock, &c., $657 08
Income of farm, 494 56

Balance against the farm, $162 52

SCHOOLS.

The Superintending School Committee of Winthrop submit their report for the year ending March 12th, 1877:

All the schools under the supervision of the Town Committee have been visited twice each term by one or more members of the Committee. Not a single instance of insubordination has occurred.

Mr. A. Bosserman having resigned at the commencement of the year, Mr. D. C. Robbins was appointed to fill the vacancy.

The whole number of scholars in town is 696; the number in districts out of the village is 336; being an increase of 13 in the Village District, and a decrease of 35 in districts out of the village.

DISTRICT No. 1.

Summer Term—10 weeks; whole number of scholars, 43; number in school, 17; average number, 14. Taught by Miss May Norcross, an efficient and experienced teacher. The discipline was excellent, and progress very satisfactory.

Fall Term—10 weeks; whole number in school, 16; average number, 12. Taught by Irving Norcross. The order was good. The teacher was thorough; all his explanations were clear and satisfactory. It was a profitable school.

Winter Term—10 weeks; number of scholars in school, 13; average number, 12. Taught by Miss May Norcross, with success similar to that of the Summer Term.

DISTRICT No. 2.

Summer Term—14 weeks; whole number of scholars, 69; number in school, 35; average number, 22. Owing to sickness among the scholars, the number present at the close was small. Miss Wheeler governs admirably, with but little effort. The examination was a success.

Winter Term—11 weeks; whole number in school, 33; average number, 27. Taught by Mr. Irving Norcross, an experienced and well qualified teacher. The order was good, the instruction was thorough, and the scholars made good progress.

DISTRICT No. 3.

Summer Term—13 weeks; whole number of scholars in district, 63; number in school, 32; average number, 27; taught by Miss Alice T. Bearce. Miss Bearce brought to her work good qualifications. In the discharge of her duties she was earnest and persevering. Though mild in discipline, she secured the good will of her scholars, and the term was, on the whole, a success.

Winter Term—11 weeks; number in school, 36; average number, 31.
Taught by Mr. F. A. Smith. Teacher and scholars cooperated harmoniously, with excellent results. The examination at the close was well sustained;
reading especially commended. Mr. Smith has proved himself a skilful teacher and a good disciplinarian; his services are highly appreciated.

DISTRICT No. 5.

Summer Term—8 weeks; whole number of scholars, 38; number of scholars in school, 21; average number, 17. Taught by Miss Clara J. Lindsay of Monmouth.

Fall Term—8 weeks; number of scholars in school, 20; average number,
17. Taught also by Miss Lindsay, whose patience and perseverance produced fair results, both terms,—although good order was not so well maintained as was desirable.

Winter Term—10 weeks; number of scholars in school, 11; average number, 9. Taught by Francis Hoyt, who, notwithstanding his limited experience, did his work well. The scholars were well drilled in all the branches taught, except reading, which did not receive all that attention which its importance demands.

DISTRICT No. 6.

Summer Term—12 weeks; whole number of scholars, 49; number in school, 26; average number, 23. Taught by Miss Emma O. Heath of Hartford, Maine. This was one of the best schools we ever visited. Miss Heath is pre-eminently a first-class teacher. Excellent order was maintained, and the improvement was all that could be desired.

Winter Term—12 weeks; whole number of scholars in school, 37; average number, 35. Taught also by Miss Heath, with great success and entire satisfaction.

DISTRICT No. 7.

Summer Term—10 weeks; whole number of scholars, 29; number in school, 15; average number, 10. Taught by Miss Nellie Norcross. This was Miss Norcross's first attempt at teaching, and considering her age she did very well. Her scholars were quite small, and made fair progress.

Winter Term—10 weeks; number of scholars in school, 11; average number, 7. Taught by Mr. E. W. Larrabee of Gardiner, Maine, who tried hard to interest and instruct his scholars. Mr. Larrabee never taught school before, and manifested considerable diffidence, but succeeded quite well, and kept a fair school.

DISTRICT No. 8.

Summer Term—8 weeks; whole number of scholars, 9; number of scholars in school, 9; average number, 9. Taught by Miss Abbie A. Hoyt, who was faithful and painstaking. The progress was all that could be expected for so small a school.

Fall Term—8 weeks; number of scholars in school, 7; average number, 6.
Taught also by Miss Hoyt. Condition of the school highly satisfactory;
marked improvement in spelling.
DISTRICT No. 9.

Summer Term—5 weeks; whole number of scholars, 36; number of scholars in school, 4; average number, 3. Taught by Miss Abbina Doyle. Owing to considerable dissatisfaction by some members of the district, and on account of the small number attending, this school was discontinued at the end of five weeks. Miss Doyle did all she could, and the school made fair progress.

Winter Term—14 weeks; whole number in school, 12; average number, 9. Taught by Mr. Clarence E. Haywood. The absence of several scholars during the last part of the term, marred the examination somewhat. The examination was all that could be expected under the circumstances. We regard Mr. Haywood as a good and faithful teacher.

DISTRICT No. 10.

Summer Term—7 weeks; whole number of scholars, 12; number in school, 7. Taught by Miss Carrie Tinkham, whose success was fair considering this was her first effort in teaching.

Fall Term—7 weeks; whole number in school, 7; average number, 6. Taught by Lincoln H. Titus of Monmouth, Me. This was his first school. He entered upon his work with earnestness and a determination to succeed. The results were good for so small a school.

The Committee beg leave to say, in closing, that we think, as a whole, our schools occupy a position considerably in advance of former years. There is evidently an increasing conviction among our people that the true policy is to employ able and well-qualified teachers, and give them a fair compensation for their services. Your Committee are unanimous in the opinion that this conviction is founded in reason, common sense, and the fitness of things, and is in perfect harmony with all observation and experience. We do not mean to insinuate that we have not heretofore had able and competent teachers for our schools; but, possessing the common attributes of our nature, it would be wonderful, in some instances at least, if they had not embraced the popular idea that "men and women should work according to their pay."

The increasing interest of parents of scholars as manifested by their presence in the school room, is a very encouraging omen. Parents cannot expect their children to have an interest in their schools if they have none themselves. Parents should take an interest in the studies which their children pursue, talk with them about their lessons, and encourage them by all possible means. They will thus do them positive and lasting good.

Several of our school houses need repairs. Those in Districts No. 5 and 8 are hardly fit to represent the intelligence of those excellent communities. Your Committee think a change should be made in the reading books now used, as it can be done with slight expense, and the good resulting therefrom will be apparent to all when they consider that those now in use have been used constantly for the last nine or ten years.

L. T. CARLTON,
J. C. PRESCOTT,
D. C. ROBBINS,
Superintending School Committee.

Winthrop, March 12, 1877.
SCHOOL DISTRICT NO. 4.

The Directors of the Village Schools submit to the town the following abstract of their District Report for the School Year 1876-7.

The whole number of scholars in the district, 360; the largest number in school any term, 202; the average attendance in all the schools, for the year, 178.

The necessity for using the full amount of the school money allowed by law for that purpose, in making extraordinary repairs on the school house, together with the amount required to procure insurance on the building for the next four years, left us without sufficient funds for a Winter term. There have been, therefore, but two terms of school in each grade during the year—a Summer term of ten weeks, and a Fall term of twelve weeks.

Since it became the settled policy of the town and district not to accept the provisions of the "Free High School Act," the Directors have found it necessary to make some other provisions for the more advanced scholars in the district, which they have done by raising the grade of the several schools, thus furnishing a two years' additional course of study in the Grammar School—which, in consequence, they have determined to designate as the High School, and to change the names of the several other grades to Grammar, Intermediate, and Primary.

PRIMARY SCHOOL.

Miss JULIET M. STANLEY, Teacher.

Summer Term—Whole number, 58; average attendance, 49.
Fall Term—Whole number, 64; average attendance, 54.

This school has been under the care of the present teacher for several years, and is an excellent school. The scholars get the right kind of care and training, and make rapid progress in the elements of learning. Special commendation is due Miss Stanley for her success in teaching the children to read.

INTERMEDIATE SCHOOL.

Miss MARY A. J. BRAGDON, Teacher for Summer Term.
Miss MAY NORCROSS, Teacher for Fall Term.

Summer Term—Whole number, 57; average attendance, 53.
Fall Term—Whole number, 53; average attendance, 47.

Miss Bragdon labored earnestly to make the Summer Term a profitable one, and the scholars, for the most part, made very commendable improvement in their several studies.

Miss Norcross came to the school with considerable experience in teaching, and with the reputation of being a good teacher, and successful in the management and government of her scholars. We think she fully sustained her good reputation in all these respects, in her connection with this school.

GRAMMAR SCHOOL.

Miss HELENA T. PRESCOTT, Teacher.

Summer Term—Whole number, 49; average attendance, 38.

Fall Term—Whole number, 44; average attendance, 41.

There are some elements in this school which tend to make it less satisfactory than either of the others. Most of the dull, backward scholars get into this school at an age when they should be in the High School, and many of them never get out of it while they continue to attend school, remaining always a drag upon any class with which they are associated. Now a large proportion of these pupils are backward because they are idle and lazy, and such pupils are very apt to be vicious and bad to manage. They are blots on the good conduct and appearance of the school, as well as a drag upon its advancement.

Miss Prescott knows what a good school is, and how to keep one. Her earnest efforts to improve the condition of this school were crowned with marked success. Most of the scholars who continued in the school—and only a very few, unwilling to submit to the spur and bit, left—made excellent improvement in their studies, and in their ideas of becoming deportment.

HIGH SCHOOL.

Miss LUella F. BEALE, Teacher.

Summer Term—Whole number, 44; average attendance, 40.

Fall Term—Whole number, 41; average attendance, 36.

Miss Beale has been the teacher in this school for several years, and under her efficient and persevering labors the school has attained to a high degree of excellence. The scholars, almost without exception, are regular and punctual in their attendance, orderly in deportment, and zealous in the pursuit of knowledge.

The parents in the district are manifesting an increasing interest in the schools from year to year, which will surely contribute to their continued advancement.
