$749 60

The family on the farm has been quite large throughout the year. We commenced the year with eighteen paupers, and have twelve on the farm at the present time. Average number for the year is about fifteen.

Melissa Harris died within the year.

The persons supported mostly on the farm during the year are: Mrs. Chandler, Adaline Cushman, Sophronia Bewley, Charles Bernette, Stanton Estes, wife and children, Sylvia Brown, Mrs. Cole and five children, John Orr, Allen Moody, Mrs. Clark, Susan Smith, Betsey Orr, Horace Walker and boy, and Harrison Haskell.

Mr. Wilbur and wife, the overseers of the farm, have taken very good care of the family under their charge, all have been clothed and well fed, and good economy has been used in the management of the farm generally.

WILLARD BAILEY, Constables.

THOMAS LANE, F. A. MILLETT, SUPERVISOR'S REPORT.

The Report of the Supervisor of Schools is herewith submitted.

DISTRICT NO. 1.

Joshua Shackford, Jr., Agent.

Summer Term. Miss Nellie Stanton, teacher. Visited this term at its commencement, when it appeared to good advantage, and was no doubt successfully conducted.

Winter Term. Mr. Edwin Cobb, teacher. Mr. C. has had considerable experience in teaching in this town, and has always done good work. This term's work was no exception.

DISTRICT NO. 2.

No school-house and no school.

DISTRICT NO. 3.

Daniel Hutchinson, Agent.

Summer Term. Miss Annie A. Keene, teacher. This was Miss Keene's first experience in teaching, and was very creditable. Should she follow the profession she will be one of our most popular teachers.

Winter Term. Charles S. Libby, of Lewiston, teacher. Mr. L. also taught a term of High School in the fall. Both terms were eminently successful.

DISTRICT NO. 4.

Warren Mills, Agent.

Summer Term. Miss Arbina Jenness, Casco, teacher. We think Miss J. gave very general satisfaction to the district.

Winter Term. Sumner T. Rowe, teacher. A combination of circumstances conspired to make this term somewhat less successful than we had predicted at its commencement. But we are not to be understood as censuring the teacher as responsible for these circumstances.

DISTRICT NO. 5.

John Colomy, Agent.

No summer term.

Winter Term. Mr. Webster, of Gray, teacher. We received no notice of the close of this school, but from indications at its beginning, judge its success to have been about average.

DISTRICT NO. 6.

Elvin Pulsifer, Agent.

Summer and Winter Terms. Miss Rosa V. Gilbert, teacher. Miss Gilbert possesses fine talent for an instructor. We should say that the summer term was superior in some respects to the winter, while both were far above the average in merit. We regard Miss G. as a very faithful and competent teacher.

DISTRICT NO. 8.

Lucius Hackett, Agent.

Summer Term. Miss Hettie Bearce, of Minot, teacher, Upper Department. Miss Fannie Hackett, teacher, Lower Department. A good degree of interest was manifested in these schools, and a very commendable degree of success attended the efforts of both teachers. Miss Bearce is one of our most valuable teachers.

Winter Term. Same teachers.

DISTRICT NO. 9.

David R. Everett, Agent.

Summer Term. Miss Ella R. Doten, of Minot, teacher. Miss Doten kept a really excellent school.

Winter Term. Irving M. Everett, teacher. Mr. E. succeeded to a very satisfactory degree in this school.

DISTRICT NO. 10.

Charles Cobb, Agent.

Summer Term. Miss Flora Rogers, of New Gloucester, teacher. We believe Miss R. put forth her best endeavors for the advancement of her pupils, but some slight misunderstanding between pupils and teacher at the beginning detracted somewhat from the interest of what might otherwise have been a highly prosperous term.

Winter Term. R. J. Everett, teacher. Mr. E. is an experienced and efficient teacher, whose services were highly successful and appreciated as such by the district.

DISTRICT NO. 11.

Daniel Mathews, Agent.

Summer Term. Miss Flora Garland, teacher. Miss G. has had much experience as a teacher in our town, and with uniform success. She is conscientious in her work, and spares no labor for the good of the scholars under her charge.

Winter Term. Same teacher. Both terms were eminently successful.

DISTRICT NO. 13.

Ephraim B. Gammon, Agent.

Summer Term. Miss Nellie Stanton, teacher. Miss S. is a young teacher, but she did a good term's work, and to the satisfaction of all concerned.

DISTRICT NO. 14.

Oren Schillinger, Agent.

Summer Term. Miss Emma Hayes, teacher. Miss H.'s acquirements deserve a larger field than was found here, and though quite successful her efforts would be better appreciated in a larger and more advanced school.

Winter Term. Mr. Elmer Everett, teacher. This term was of average merit. Mr. E. is a young teacher and will profit by experience.

DISTRICT NO. 15.

E. C. Faunce, Agent.

Summer Term. Miss Rose Doughty, teacher. The experience of this term was such as to reflect credit upon the teacher in her first term's work.
Winter Term. Mr. E. C. Faunce, teacher. Mr. F. is too well known in town as a highly successful instructor to require comment upon his work in this school.

DISTRICT NO. 16.

EDWARD HANSCOM, Agent.

No summer term.

Winter Term. George N. Cobb, teacher. Though one of our young teachers, Mr. C. displayed ability both as an instructor and disciplinarian superior to many older and more experienced teachers. This term was highly satisfactory.

DISTRICT NO. 17.

WM. E. BLAIR, Agent.

No summer term.

Winter Term. Mrs. Louisa Cobb, of Casco, teacher. We received no notice of the close of the school, but at the commencement everything betokened a good term's work.

DISTRICT NO. 18.

R. H. STARBIRD, Agent.

No summer term.

Winter Term. Miss L. T. Hutchinson, of Gray, teacher. We made but one visit to this school, and that at the opening of the session. Indications then were very favorable.

DISTRICT NO. 20.

O. B. DWINAL, Agent.

Teachers for the year:

High School.—F. O. Stanley, Principal; Mrs. F. O. Stanley, Assistant.

Grammar School.—Miss Sarah Bucknam.

Primary School.—Miss Ada B. Garland, and Mrs. M. Perkins.

Of these teachers it is needless to speak individually, as they have all been employed in the same schools for a long time past, and the fact that they are retained in these positions speaks for itself as to their capabilities and success.
DISTRICT NO. 21.

DAVID FARR, Agent.

Both Terms. Miss Emma Brown, teacher. Miss B. did good work both terms.

DISTRICT NO. 22.

HENRY EMMERY, Agent.

Summer Term. Miss Mabel L. Dunn, of Auburn, teacher. Miss D. achieved ample success in this school, and we think gave entire satisfaction to the district and all concerned.

Winter Term. B. F. Lunt, of Minot, teacher. We are not able to report so favorable a term as could be wished, though we by no means regard the teacher as entirely responsible for all that transpired.

DISTRICT NO. 24.

WARDSWORTH STROUT, Agent.

Both Terms. Miss Belle Tenney, Casco, teacher. The schools in this district have been quite satisfactory, and good work accomplished.

DISTRICT NO. 25.

NELSON TENNEY, Agent.

Fall Term. Miss Flora Garland, teacher. Miss G. met with her usual success.

Winter Term. Miss Bertie Phillips, teacher. Miss P. certainly did an excellent term's work, and the examination showed a good degree of advancement by the pupils.

DISTRICT NO. 27.

WILLIAM POOLE, Agent.

Summer Term. Miss Dollie Brown, teacher. The school gave a very good account of itself at its closing examination.

Winter Term. K. J. Denning, teacher. Mr. D. labored to good advantage with this school, and his efforts were highly appreciated both by district and supervisor.
Amount of money raised by taxation, $2,000 00
Amount of money received from Mill tax, 917 37
Amount of money received from Bank tax, 645 42

No. of Districts and parts of Districts, 24.

No. of children between the ages of 4 and 21 years on the first day of April last, 825.

In closing our report we are able to say that on the whole the schools have been rather above the average. There have been few failures on the part of teachers to meet the reasonable requirements of the positions they have occupied, while many have acquitted themselves with great credit. We wish to suggest to the citizens of the town the advisability of choosing a committee of three, instead of a supervisor, to look after the school interests of the town. Three capable, active men, who would be willing to sacrifice somewhat for the common good, might accomplish much toward raising the condition of our schools, which one person can hardly do. We also wish to suggest the practical utility of abolishing the District system. Also, the inauguration of a system of competitive examination of teachers. There is an imperative demand for a change of some of the text-books now in use, especially the Readers. We trust these things may receive that candid consideration of our citizens which their importance demands.

J. M. LIBBY,
Superior of Schools of Poland.
