WHEN

2 When A "Rambling Rose" Goes Rambling Home Again

By DARL MAC BOYLE
MURIEL POLLOCK
and SAM COSLOW

Moderato

A pretty rose that blossomed in a gar - den — A spot where hap - py lit - tle song birds nest — Has grown
The bees and but - ter - flies all sip the hon - ey — Of blossoms when the garden's bloom is fair — But just wea - ry of it all She has heard the cit - y's call And wan - der'd from the ones who love her best like our "Ram - bling Rose" Af - ter all their sweet - ness goes They learn to know the mean - ing of des - pair —

— She does - n't know the price that she must pay — Be fore it's just too late won't some - one say — — For those a - lone at home, please won't you try — To warn her when you see her pass - ing by —

CHORUS

"Ram-ling Rose" your bloom shows you need sun - shine — "Ram bling Rose" my heart knows you are blue — When I see you ram-ble by I would gamble that you sigh For the plac-es and fa-cies that your hap-py child-hood knew "Ram-ling Rose" think of those who are lone - ly — Do they yearn your re-turn all in vain — Does the white light's glare com-pare With the smile that's wait-ing

there when a "Ram-ling Rose" goes ram-ling home a - gain.

SHOW ME HOW.

Chorus

CREAMER and LAYTON.

Show me how ——— you made me love you — Show me

how ——— you won my heart ——— I know one thing — that you must have done some thing — To make me yearn for you when we're a - part ——— All day long ———
