Report of Municipal Officers

It is a great handicap to the tax payers of Newport to be forced to pay old outstanding bonds during this depression and we think how easily it could have been handled when money and work were plentiful. Nevertheless, it must be paid and by the fine cooperation of all the citizens of this town, we have our debt way below our debt limit.

How proud we were that our Newport standing, shown by our reducing the town debt, and by the small outstanding tax record, caused our bonds to sell immediately when placed on the market.

Let us keep this in mind when we recommend appropriations this next town meeting day. Let us remember that unpaid taxes are causing many towns to lose their charter. The greater part of the towns so affected lost their charter by too high taxes for the individuals who had to pay them.

Appropriations that will allow a fair tax that can be paid are more valuable to the town than larger appropriations that are expended but not paid. This is the cause of the failure of most towns to keep out of debt.

We want the citizens to watch the comparative balance sheet.

As long as we reduce the bond issue $4,000.00 yearly and have cash assets to handle our temporary tax anticipation notes, we can't fail to get completely out of debt.

We wish any citizen who does not understand any part of the balance sheet, would call and talk it over.

Our road building program under W P A is progressing well and we must continue until all country roads are constructed to make them passable the year round.

The ordinance committee elected last March are presenting copies of the future town laws that have been approved by the County Attorney, County Commissioners, and the Selectmen, and these laws will become effective, if approved by vote, this year. Any new ordinances can be handled in future town meetings.

We wish to thank all our citizens who, by their fine co-operation, made it possible to reduce our town debt $4,271.00 this year.

PAUL V. WITHAM
CLIFFORD H. WEYMOUTH
LYNDON W. TITCOMB

Selectmen.

The Budget Committee met at the Selectmen's office, Tues. evening, Feb. 21, at 7:30 P. M., P. V. Witham elected chairman and S. L. Banton, secretary of meeting.

The committee considered the appropriation for 1939 very carefully, keeping in mind three important facts. First-Necessity, 2nd.-Not to increase the tax rate during these depressing times, 3rd. Recommending a budget that would allow the same reduction of $4,000.00 on the town debt.

If the voters will not exceed $500.00 above the amount recommended by the Budget Committee, the same tax rate can be maintained.

Owing to the reduction in appropriation for Highways and Bridges, the Committee recommend that the three selectmen be elected as Road Commissioners to serve without extra compensation.

REPORT OF LIBRARIAN OF NEWPORT PUBLIC LIBRARY

The year just ended shows the circulation of books to have been 14,418.

As in all libraries, fiction holds the largest place in the reading of the people but the call for non-fiction is on the increase.

This past year the library has been extensively used by the grade schools as well as the high school.

We have classified and added to our shelves 203 volumes and withdrawn 152 as useless, having a total of 4,762 volumes in the library on Feb. 1, 1939. Of the volumes added, over thirty have been given to the library; also we have received many magazines for circulation.

P. E. Cary gave to the library book-marks on which are printed the library hours; a look at our books shows us that they are being used by the public. All these gifts are greatly appreciated.

The library has been open for reading and the circulation of books every Wednesday afternoon and Saturday evening of the year.

MYRTLE DAY, Librarian

REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

To the Superintending School Committee and Citizens of the Town of Newport:

I submit to you my third annual report of the progress and conditions of your schools, and I am going to deviate a little from the general method of writing reports. I hope you will approve of the change as I think you can get a much better idea of the situation.

Elementary Schools

There have been four changes in the Elementary teaching force during the past year; Phoebe Hilton replaced Electa Sinford at the Coburn School; Madeline Bell replaced Flora Clucky in East Newport Primary; Grace Fickett replaced Kathleen Kelley in grade two; and Ann Fickett replaced Carolyn Pressey in grade five.

All teachers except one are normal graduates.

Three teachers, Miss Chase, Miss Pressey and Miss O'Brien attended summer school during the past year.

Maurice Tasker took advantage of the Teacher Exchange Plan and attended Castine Normal for six weeks. Miss June Harris, a student of the Normal School, substituting in his absence.

The Achievement Tests were given to all pupils above the third grade, and, with one exception, they showed pupils in all schools were doing very satisfactory work.

A Prize Speaking Contest for the three rural schools was held at North Newport Grange Hall in January. Pupils in grades five to eight participated. Another was held in the Town Hall for the pupils in the village. Both contests were very successful.

A half year of Science is now taught in grade six and a full year in grade eight. This is following the lead of the more progressive schools.

Due to the congestion in Miss Tuck's room, the first grade pupils have been attending school during the forenoon session, and the sub-primary pupils the afternoon session. This plan seems to be working out very well. We have had the best of cooperation from the parents and the children seem to be making just as much progress as they did with the two session plan.

High School

There have been three changes in the teaching force; Frederick Folsom replaced Frank Eaton Jr. as Sub-Master; Laura Merrill replaces Elsie Smith as teacher of Home Economics; and Lester Felt replaced George Findlin as teacher of Agriculture.

The curriculum has been revised in order to better provide for pupils who are not planning to attend college. Courses in Salesmanship and Public Speaking have been added.

With the help of the P. T. A. a room is being fitted up for a work shop for the Agriculture Department.

We have had the largest number of tuition pupils enrolled this year of any. They have been a great help financially.

Three members of the faculty, Mr. Clement, Mr. Folsom, and Miss Merrill attended U. of M. Summer School last summer.

Repairs

The desks at both the Coburn and Hubbard Schools were rearranged to make them more comfortable, and the stove moved from the front of the room, which is a decided improvement.

Some of the desks in the second grade room were exchanged for some in the rural schools making the seating arrangement more comfortable in all the rooms.

In the Village building only necessary repairs could be made as funds were not available.

A little of the repair money was used for fixing the shop for the Agricultural Department.

The exterior of the grade building should be painted and curtains furnished for some of the windows.

Repairs should be made on the floors of the Laboratory and the Home Economics Rooms.

Extensive repairs should be made on the high school building and some of the rooms should be painted to make them lighter. The Library and the Principal's office should be interchanged as that would provide for better library facilities.

Textbooks

Some changes have been made in the textbooks during the past year. New Hygiene books have been purchased for grades five and six, also new Science books for grade eight.

The English books in the village schools have been partially replaced.

There is hardly any limit to the purchasing of textbooks that would be helpful were funds available. We can only do a little at a time. What we need most is to keep our textbooks modern and up to date and to provide as much reference and library material as possible.

All children from the fourth grade up should be furnished with individual dictionaries.

Medical Inspection

Newport has been fortunate in having free medical inspection for the grade pupils in the village. The funds were provided by the State for experimental purposes, and I think the plan is to continue the inspection for a period of years.

It is hardly fair for the grade pupils to have the inspection and those in the rural schools not to have it, and I would recommend making an appropriation that all school children in town might have the advantage of the inspection.

Report of Public Health Nurse

Last year the town appropriated one hundred thirty-nine dollars for public health nursing and that entitled Newport to one hundred thirty-nine hours of work. The following is a report of the work done:

With the help of the P. T. A., two hundred seven pupils were given the Schick test. Sixty-seven children were inspected and the following defects were found: Teeth 37, glands 11, throat 21, skin 3, heart 1, nutrition 4, other defects 5.

The nurse made eighteen home visits, gave eight interviews regarding health, and made four class room health talks. This required thirty-eight hours of work, and there are one hundred and one hours due the town before June 30th.

Parent-Teachers' Association

The schools have received a great deal of help from the P. T. A. since it was organized and I hope it is serving the purpose of keeping the parents a little more closely informed about the work of the schools.

The Association has raised money to purchase library material and has voted to sponsor the fitting up of a room for a work shop. Two rummage sales have been held and the money used to purchase material. A great deal of the repair work is being done by the boys with the help of Mr. Harris. The shop, when completed, ought to help in attracting tuition pupils.

A Longer School Year

We say that Newport has thirty four weeks of school year in the grades, but do you stop to think that the pupils hardly get thirty-three weeks of actual time in school. The reason for this being the number of holidays, and the time taken to attend Teachers' Conventions. Nor do we have as many holidays in Newport as they do in schools of some near-by towns where schools are not in session Washington's Birthday, Columbus Day and New Year's Day.

When only the three R's were taught, we didn't need as long a school year. Today we are trying to teach not only the three R's but a great many other things such as music, drawing, safety, character education, etc. all of which are valuable, but which take time, and I hope that the Budget will be approved so that next year we may lengthen the school year at least one week.

Tuition Bills

All tuition bills with the exception of two which were due the town in 1936 have been collected.

Every bill due the town since that date has been collected. In checking on pupils who would pay tuition the present Chairman of the School Committee has been most helpful.

Music

We were glad to welcome back again Miss Thorne our music teacher of former years. Miss Thorne seems to have entirely recovered her health and is working with her usual vigor and interest for the improvement of the music in the schools.

Finances

I think we should all appreciate the fact that the business situation throughout the country is better at the present time than it was last year at this time, and I hope you will feel like increasing the appropriation for schools again this year.

The Maine School Bulletin shows that only three towns in Penobscot County have a lower school tax rate than Newport and those are the small towns of Edinburg, Greenfield and Woodville. Their municipal rates are much higher than Newport's.

I think that you will agree with me that the boys and girls in Newport are deserving of just as good educational advantages as those of any town.

It is well to remember that the more the high school costs the higher tuition rate we can charge, and the more money we have to spend, the better school we can maintain.

I am submitting the following budget for your consideration.

Conclusion

I have enjoyed my three years stay in Newport and have tried with the funds available to improve your schools as much as possible. I know they are better equipped and better organized than formerly, but we have by no means reached perfection, and there is yet much to do. In conclusion I want to thank all who have helped to make the schools a success.

REPORT OF HIGH SCHOOL PRINCIPAL

To the Superintendent of Schools:

I take pleasure in submitting my second annual report as principal of Newport High School.

The registration at Newport High School this year is:

Only a small number of those who are taking Home Economics and Agricultural courses are listed here under these courses, as many do not take the full course for four years. The Home Economics Department especially is being used to its capacity this year with one course being open to boys.

Altho Palmyra students again are able to attend M. C. I. at Pittsfield, it is interesting to note that nearly all of those who transferred to us last year, returned again this year. The number of tuition students has increased to about one-third of the total enrollment, which speaks well for the reputation of the school, and aids financially.

In order to keep pace with the ever increasing modernization and improvement of civilization, a constant forward look must be maintained especially in the field of education, that the school may be kept on a high plane of usefulness. The success of our country tomorrow, depends on the success of our schools today. These too often slip into a rut and cripple their value in the job of turning out efficient citizens. However, I am pleased to present in this report many improvements which, I believe, will enable Newport High School to keep its place with the more progressive schools of the state.

The assuming of responsibility, working out of committee projects, giving of oral reports, and discussion of current affairs, have all been given a prominent part in both curricula and extra-curricula activities. Pupils today know far more about life and are better prepared for it by actually practicing it in high school. A course in Public Speaking and Dramatics has been installed this year and is to be offered every two years. This not only aids self-expression but also provides a valuable hobby. The course in Guidance, offered to a few juniors and seniors for one semester last year, was opened to sophomores this year, and its popularity has been shown by the fact that a third of the school is enrolled in the course. Its aim is to teach pupils to do better the things they will do anyway. It helps one to get the most out of school, to act properly and to plan for future life. Following the trend away from the non-useful to the more practical subjects, a course in Salesmanship has also been added. While still preparing adequately for college the curriculum also provides for more emphasis on helping the majority of students who are unable to go farther to school.

In addition to the regular course in guidance, a freshman guidance club meets this year once a week for the purpose of orientation to high school life. All students have personal interviews to help them choose subjects and to help them make plans for the future. Students today are becoming more conscious of the necessity for education and the office is always open to those with individual problems.

A rotating schedule has been successfully adopted this year in which classes meet four times every week for hour periods. This enables more individual help in class as well as overcoming the monotonous routine of the same class coming the same time every day.

The extra-curricula program has been broadened still more this year. Meeting once a week now are the English Club, Debating Club, Speech Club, Future Farmers Club, Home Makers' Club, Journalism Club, Freshman Guidance Club, Boys' Athletic Club, Girls' Athletic Club, Girls', Boys', Mixed, and Freshman Girls, Glee Clubs, and Orchestra. In addition to the sixteen points required for graduation through subjects, one extra point must be earned by extra-curricula activities. This insures the benefit of extra-curricula work for many students who otherwise would not bother with it. The one quarter of a point each year may be secured by belonging to one club also through varsity and intramural athletics, thus invoking a hardship on no one. I feel that special recognition was given our program of extra-curricula work when we were invited to present it at the State Teachers' Convention in Bangor last fall before the meeting of High School Principals of larger High Schools in the state. I was extremely proud to represent Newport High School in presenting an explanation of our work here along this line. Developing from the address given there, the Kennebec Valley Schoolmasters' Club were also anxious to hear of our work in Newport High School and again I was pleased to present our extra-curricular program to interested schoolmen.

The efficient operation of our activities and of our school as a whole depend greatly upon our student council which meets bi-weekly and interestedly assumes the responsibility for making regulations and sponsoring activities. It is the most powerful student organization, enables student self-government, and gives practical value in the democratic form of government.

In Athletics we are sponsoring varsity football, boys' and girls' basketball, baseball, track, and softball. Our intramural basketball league consisting of five teams composed of boys who do not make the varsity squad, is functioning again this year. The teams are coached and games refereed by varsity players, thus giving the latter vital practice and enabling two-thirds of our boys to benefit from athletics in some form. The intramural idea has also been adapted to the girls. Last fall both boys and girls had a separate program. The boys played softball, tennis, volleyball, track, basketball, and touch football. Besides uncovering much varsity material, this actively provides for a worthwhile hobby.

The Hiking Club for girls, tennis club, winter sports club, boys' and girls' bowling clubs, and "N" club, meet during out-of-school hours.

Assembles have been held weekly this year, each class presenting two and most of the clubs one. Including speakers, movies, rallies, music, plays and patriotic observances, these do much to unify the school.

The home rooms meet every morning for fifteen minutes for devotions, announcements and discussions of routine school matters, current events and problems of both school and life.

The social life of the school centers around socials and four larger dances during the year. Many of the clubs often hold evening meetings.

Pingpong, checkers, boxing, banquets, plays, prize speaking, field trips and an increased number of prizes and medals, up-to-date magazines, a weekly school paper and an "annual", all aid in rounding out the school program.

Through the efforts of the Parent Teachers' Association, several new books have been added to the library and much progress has been made on our agricultural workshop.

N. Y. A. has been secured for twenty-one needy students enabling the accomplishment of many things about the building not otherwise possible. Refinishing of desks and chairs is but one of the notable projects. These workers also serve as librarians, assistant janitors, and laboratory assistants.

The program of teachers' meetings inaugurated last year has been carried out again, providing valuable aid in administration and better understanding of school aims and activities.

A college bookcase has been established in the principal's office where information regarding colleges, prep schools, hospitals, trade schools, business schools, normal schools and music schools may be found.

Through the generosity of our merchants, twenty-eight new warm up suits have been secured. Considerable new additional equipment, including new suits for the boys' basketball team, has been bought, while much equipment on hand has been reconditioned.

Cramped as we are for space in our present facilities we cannot conduct a visitors' day, but this year the P. T. A. during American Education Week was devoted to demonstration of high school work, while our commencement program last spring was organized around the interpretation of the extra-curricula program.

I hope the foregoing report indicates that we are not allowing our poor building facilities to discourage us in providing a good school program. However, our dark uninviting building with agriculture and music crowded into one room, poor shop facilities, small library and few books, antiquated basements, one stairway, basement class rooms, and unhealthy conditions for athletes to use for dressing rooms and no showers, cannot but be depressing. Machinery for the shop, books for the library and a dressing room containing a shower, would increase the efficiency a great deal. But how much more valuable training we can provide for our students with a modern six-year high school building including a gym, auditorium, shop, and adequate laboratory, library and class room space. Why should Newport take a back seat in providing educational facilities?

I have enjoyed my year and a half at Newport and do appreciate the cooperation of students, faculty, superintendent, school committee, and other citizens in the effort to train our future voters.

Respectfully submitted,

STANLEY L. CLEMENT

REPORT OF MUSIC SUPERVISOR

To the Superintending School Committee and Superintendent of Schools, I present this brief report:

There has been a decided change for the better in the Grade Schools in the village during the past few weeks, which has been gratifying to the teachers as well as to the Supervisor. However, the music in all grades is far below the regular grade rating. This has been due in a great degree to the lack of instruction in the second grade, which has kept each grade a year below its grade work. With the placing of a teacher in the second grade who is a most thorough and conscientious teacher, this, heretofore bad gap will be bridged over, and these children will go into the third grade ready to do third grade work which Miss Smith will carry thru.

To have the music done well in the schools, each teacher should be able to do her own work, especially in the lower grades. No teacher can do as good work in these grades in some other teacher's room as in her own room. Too often there are interruptions which cancel the music in the room in which some exchange teacher is supposed to be.

It does not matter as much in the 7th and 8th grades. In fact, I prefer a good 7th grade Music teacher to carry on thru the 8th grade. She knows what each one can do. She is used to them and they know what she expects of them. They can work on without losing time in adapting themselves to a new teacher and also keep their interest. This can be very successfully carried out another year in Newport by exchange classes between Miss Chase and Mr. McLaughlin.

The High School Orchestra is small and not well balanced. Last June's graduation reduced the orchestra, especially in it's violin section with no violins entering to take their places.

To keep a High School Orchestra, there must be a constant building up in the grades. However a new start is being made in the grades and in two years there will be a fair sized orchestra with a variety of instruments.

With the Orchestra, Girls' and Boys' Glee Clubs and Mixed Glee Clubs, we shall doubtless have a Festival in the spring and I hope to be able to take both Girls' and Boys' Glee Clubs to the Eastern State Festival. This is an experience which will be of lasting value to them.

There is much interest in some of the rural schools which make it a great pleasure to visit them; and I regret that time cannot be spent to develop class instrumental work for some of these groups.

Teachers who can play some orchestral or band instrument can do wonders for these rural schools in helping these children to be ready to join High School instrumental organizations wherever they may attend school.
