

The University of Maine

DigitalCommons@UMaine

Maine Sheet Music Collection

Public domain (may be downloaded in full)

1902

Rockhaven Waltz

Franz Hoffmann

Composer

Follow this and additional works at: <https://digitalcommons.library.umaine.edu/mmb-me>

Recommended Citation

Hoffmann, Franz, "Rockhaven Waltz" (1902). Maine Sheet Music Collection. Score 411.
<https://digitalcommons.library.umaine.edu/mmb-me/411>

This Book is brought to you for free and open access by DigitalCommons@UMaine. It has been accepted for inclusion in Maine Sheet Music Collection by an authorized administrator of DigitalCommons@UMaine. For more information, please contact um.library.technical.services@maine.edu.

used by permission of GOSWICK & SHEPARD publishers

ROCKHAVEN WALTZ

By FRANZ HOFFMANN

5

Published for Orchestra

Bagaduce Music
Lending Library

Blue Hill, Maine.

Donor:

Rockhaven Waltz.

FRANZ HOFFMANN.

INTROD.

mp

Waltz.

mp

mf

f

mp

Fine.

Copyright, 1902, by R.A.RICE.

International Copyright.

Kas Me.
001819
Hoff

ADD THIS BOOK TO YOUR LIBRARY

ROCKHAVEN

BY CHARLES CLARK MUNN

Author of "Pocket Island" and "Uncle Terry"

Illustrated by Frank T. Merrill Fine laid paper Gilt top Decorated cover
Price $1.50

R. MUNN'S latest book was an immediate success. It has all the "heart interest" of "Uncle Terry" and all its poetic appreciation of nature, while being far stronger in plot and more extended and powerful in its character drawing. In "Jess Hutton" a character is created that will attract and hold both old and young as few characters in American fiction have done.

"Rockhaven" is another of these delightful books of home life in the country which is already having a wide sale. Everybody who likes the good old-fashioned love story should read it. — The Club Woman.

A charm of Mr. Munn's style is its simplicity. He writes about New England country life in the easy, pleasurable way that Samuel Lover, for instance, used to write about Irish life. He knows the Maine coast and the Maine folk, and he lets his reader into little stories about them that are full of good humor, while yet neither making fun of them nor patronizing them. — Providence News.

Friends of "Uncle Terry," and they are numerous, will enjoy meeting Jess Hutton, the hero of "Rockhaven," the latest novel of Charles Clark Munn. Jess is a delightfully refreshing old fellow; in fact, all the people of Rockhaven, a little island off the New England coast, are charming, and we should be glad to see more of them. It is a book that the reader will hesitate to lay aside until it is finished. — Boston Transcript.

The book is clean and sweet, with only dark shades enough to bring out the lights, and is far above the average of present day novels. — Western Christian Advocate.

In this story Mr. Munn has added to the qualities he first revealed in "Pocket Island" and later in "Uncle Terry." The present story works out, perhaps, a more complete love story than either of the others, but the author's strength still remains mostly with the sea-coast characters and fishermen. In delineating New England traits and speech Mr. Munn is at his best, and his best is wholesome and entertaining. — The Outlook.

It is a very strong story, and will beyond doubt have as many readers as had the story of "Uncle Terry." Faithful in delineation of humble people as Mr. Munn's stories are, they never leave a bad flavor behind them. — Buffalo Commercial.

"Rockhaven" is a thoroughly clean book. It leaves no bad taste in the mouth, no regret or pain in the heart of the readers; and its naturalness appeals straight to the experience of every one who knows our New England people. — Boston Courier.

This is in every respect a first-class novel. We write this because we have read it with pleasure and profit. Whoever reads it will coincide with our judgment. The book compels such a judgment from every reader. It will bear a second reading with greater profit, and this can be said of only a few books. Jess Hutton is a great character, true as steel and loyal as love. You will like him, you cannot help it, and he stands a real man in your life thoughts. — Troy Northern Budget.

For sale by all booksellers, or sent postpaid on receipt of $1.50 by the publishers

LEE AND SHEPARD BOSTON